TRAFFIC CONGESTION.

Mayor Curley and Representative Walter B. Grant of South Boston held a conference upon the 9th instant, relative to traffic congestion at Andrew square. Representative Grant pointed out to the Mayor the serious situation which exists at Andrew square and the Mayor directed an immediate investigation into conditions there.

Mayor Curley also promised immediate action, and sent a communication to Public Works Commissioner Rourke requesting that bids be called for on the resurfacing of Old Colony avenue with macadam, so that trucks and automobiles, that now use Dorchester avenue may use Old Colony avenue. This would relieve some of the danger that now exists at Andrew square.

The serious congestion at Andrew square has been brought to the attention of Boston Elevated officials and to the police captain of Station 6. Despite the fact that a number of accidents have occurred, there has been no effort made to solve the serious problem except by public-spirited citizens.

The South Boston Citizens' Association threatens to take the matter up with the Police Commissioner if some action is not taken to have officers on duty there, especially during the rush hours.

Fire Department officials are interested in the movement and have suggested methods that would relieve the traffic congestion, but none of the suggestions have been adopted.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendation of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (High Pressure Fire Service).

Upon April 7 the Mayor approved a contract with the C. & R. Construction Company for laying high pressure fire pipe in Bedford, West, Beach, Weylston streets, Temple place, South, High, Oliver, Franklin, Hawley, Broad, Kilby, Water and Beverly streets. Bids for the work, opened April 4, were as follows:

V. Grande, $117,999.50; Frank Drinkwater Company, $130,554.25; C. & R. Construction Company, $133,348; Antony Cefalo, $139,336; A. G. Tomasello & Son, $144,182.50; Louis De Sisto, $150,606; Anthony Baruffaldi Company, $155,740.25.

Incident to the award of the contract Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department made the following statement:

"The proposals of the two lowest bidders are rejected for the reason that, in many of the streets under this contract, and at the crossings on Washington street, the work to be done is very difficult and will be very expensive, involving continuous contact with dense traffic. The lowest bidder, V. Grande, is so far below the second and third lowest bidders that it would appear that the work could only be done at a loss, or at best at the actual cost without any profit, and not to the best interests of the city and the public. The second lowest bidder, F. Drinkwater Company, is not to be considered on account of his inability to handle a job of this magnitude."

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Reconstruction and Repair of Streets).

Upon April 7 the Mayor approved a contract with the Warren Brothers Company for laying bitulithic pavement in Massachusetts avenue, from Huntington avenue across Beacon street, Back Bay. Bids for the work, opened April 3, were as follows:

Warren Brothers Company, bitulithic, $46,909.50; Samuel J. Tomasello, bitulithic, $48,440.50; Alco Contracting Company, sheet asphalt, $48,903.50; bitulithic, $48,903.50; Rowe Contracting Company, sheet asphalt, $44,119.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewerage Works).

Upon April 10 the Mayor approved a contract with De Cristoforo & Brothers Company for sewerage works in Patterson street, from Brook street to Codman street; and Fairfax street, from Carruth street, about 400 feet north-easterly, Dorchester. Bids for the work, opened April 9, were as follows:

Charles Bevilacqua, $3,480; De Cristoforo & Brothers Company, $3,505.55; John Williams & Co., $3,536.50; C. Russo, $3,606.55; R. Zoppo, $4,037.50; Samuel J. Tomasello, $4,293.90; Michael De Russo, $6,621.35.

Incident to the award of this contract Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department made the following statement:

"The proposal of the lowest bidder, Charles Bevilacqua, has not been accepted on account of his lack of experience to do the work required in this contract."

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Street Cleaning and Oiling Service).

Upon April 8 the Mayor approved a contract with the B. E. Grant Company for furnishing combination motor street sprinkling and flushing trucks. This work will continue from April 15, 1923, until October 1, 1923. Bids for the work were as follows:

B. E. Grant Company, $32 a day.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Upon April 10 the Mayor approved a contract with the C. & R. Construction Company for erecting and completing addition to the Julia Ward Howe School, Roxbury. Bids for the work, opened March 30, were as follows:

C. & R. Construction Company, $120,500; Frank J. Low, $129,550; Leighton-Mitchell Company, $134,985; J. E. Locatelli Company, $139,901; A. Piotti Company, $142,877; John Bowen Company, $144,000; Joseph Rugo, $147,400.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon April 6 the Mayor approved a contract with the Bruce Marvin Chemical Company for furnishing soap to the Park Department. Bids for the supply, opened April 2, were as follows:

One-half Ounce Molded Cakes, One Thousand Cakes to Box.—Bruce Marvin Chemical Company, $3.69 per box; Norton Tallow Company, $3.75 per box; Wilson & Co., $3.90 per box; The Palmolive Company, $3.90 per box; Armour & Co., $4 per box; Procter & Gamble Distributing Company, $6 per box, Ivory, unwrapped.

Total.—Bruce Marvin Chemical Company, $2,952; Norton Tallow Company, $3,000; Wilson & Co., $3,120; The Palmolive Company, $3,120; Armour & Co., $3,200; Procter & Gamble Distributing Company, $4,800.

Upon April 9 the Mayor approved a contract with J. P. O'Connell & Co. for furnishing approximately 380,000 sewer bricks to the Public Works Department. Bids for the supply, opened March 28, were as follows:

J. P. O'Connell & Co., $27 per M.

Upon April 11 the Mayor approved a contract with the Hazard Manufacturing Company for furnishing lead-covered cable to the Fire Department. Bids for the supply, opened April 4, were as follows:

Ferrin, 34.45 cents per foot; Hazard Manufacturing Company, 32 cents per foot; Safety Insulated Wire and Cable Company, 33.55 cents per foot; Standard Underground Cable Company, 36.8 cents per foot; American Steel and Wire Company, 37 cents per foot.

Seventeen Thousand Two Hundred Fifty Feet, Ten-Conductor.—F. M. Ferrin, 26.81 cents per foot; Hazard Manufacturing Company, 26.25 cents per foot; Safety Insulated Wire and Cable Company, 26.4 cents per foot; Standard Underground Cable Company, 30.3 cents per foot; American Steel and Wire Company, 29 cents per foot.

Twenty-nine Thousand Feet, Six-Conductor.—F. M. Ferrin, 19.5 cents per foot; Hazard Manufacturing Company, 19.5

cents per foot; Safety Insulated Wire and Cable Company, 19.5 cents per foot; Standard Underground Cable Company, 21.9 cents per foot; American Steel and Wire Company, 20 cents per foot.

Two Thousand Feet, Four-Conductor.—F. M. Ferrin, 13.425 cents per foot; Hazard Manufacturing Company, 13.75 cents per foot; Safety Insulated Wire and Cable Company, 14 cents per foot; Standard Underground Cable Company, 15.5 cents per foot; American Steel and Wire Company, 14.5 cents per foot.

Total.—F. M. Ferrin, $14,923.28; Hazard Manufacturing Company, $14,522.12; Safety Insulating Wire and Cable Company, $14,787.95; Standard Underground Cable Company, $16,561.35; American Steel and Wire Company, $15,791.50.

Discount, Ten Days.—Hazard Manufacturing Company, 1 per cent; Safety Insulating Wire and Cable Company, 1 per cent; Standard Underground Cable Company, 1/2 per cent; American Steel and Wire Company, 1 per cent.

* Awarded contract.

Upon April 11 the Mayor approved a contract with Joseph E. Greene, Inc., for furnishing electric lamps to the various city departments. Bids for the supply, opened April 3, were as follows:

Tungsten, Discount from Prevailing Standard List Prices.—Joseph E. Greene, Inc., 36 per cent; F. S. Hardy & Co., 32 per cent.

Nitrogen, Discount from Present List Prices.—Joseph E. Greene, Inc. (standard packages), 36 per cent; F. S. Hardy & Co., 32 per cent.

Carbon, Discount from Prevailing Standard List Prices.—Joseph E. Greene, Inc., 40 per cent; F. S. Hardy & Co., 40 per cent.

Total.—Joseph E. Greene, Inc., $2,500; F. S. Hardy & Co., $3,500.

Discount, Ten Days.—Joseph E. Greene, Inc., 2 per cent. Alternate bids, Edison Mazda lamps, 29 per cent; standard packages, 19 per cent, broken packages, F. S. Hardy & Co., 2 per cent.

Incident to the award of this contract Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department made the following statement:

"Permission is respectfully requested to award the contract to Joseph E. Greene, Inc., who offers us the best discounts off standard list price, as indicated on the attached cost sheet."

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

BOSTON SANATORIUM.

Upon April 6 the Mayor approved a contract with Pierce & Cox for installing heating in the building 48 Rutland street, South End, which is to be used for the out-patient department of the Boston Sanatorium. Bids for the work, were as follows:

Pierce & Cox, $2,997; boiler, 3,200 square feet; total radiation, 1,769 square feet.

J. P. Dwyer Company, $3,796; boiler, 2,900 square feet; total radiation, 1,295 square feet.

Massachusetts Sprinkler, Power and Sanitary Engineering Company, $2,225; boiler, 2,200 square feet; total radiation, 1,168 square feet.

Incident to the award of this contract Secretary James J. Minot made the following statement:

"Although each bidder was given the same data, it would appear from the letter furnished that the Massachusetts Sprinkler, Power and Sanitary Engineering Company did not mention all the requirements which the others did in their bid, as, for example, the foundation for the boiler, extension of chimney.

"The trustees have voted that it would be for the best interest of the city that the bid of Messrs. Pierce & Cox for two thousand nine hundred ninety-seven ($2,997) be accepted.

"These bids were obtained without advertising, in order to save time, because, at the present time, the out-patient department is closed. The building occupied by the out-patient department has been sold, and is being torn down. It is, of course, very essential that the new out-patient department be finished in the shortest possible time."

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon April 7 the Mayor approved a contract with the W. A. Murtfeldt Company for building artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works, was as follows:

Boston, April 5, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to W. A. Murtfeldt Company, 77 Summer street, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand ($1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon April 10 the Mayor approved a contract with Peter Martiniello for building artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works was as follows:

Boston, April 9, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Peter Martiniello, 28 Battery street, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon April 11 the Mayor approved a contract with the Warren Brothers Company for building artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works was as follows:

Boston, April 10, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Warren Brothers Company, 9 Cambridge street, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon April 6 the Mayor approved a contract with the J. W. Maguire Company for flushing and sprinkler machines. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department, was as follows:

Boston, April 4, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising the same, to J. Maguire Company for furnishing: Three 5-ton Pierce Arrow chassis, equipped with 1,500-gallon Hyass flusher and sprinkler, also horizontal hydraulic hoist, and 10 cubic yard dumping body, including cab, wind shield, non skid chains, painting as desired, and freight to Boston, delivered at yard of Public Works Department, Street Cleaning and Oiling Service at $31,485. We have tried these flushing and sprinkler machines and as they have proven most satisfactory, we are standardizing on same, and for this reason the permission is requested.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon April 6 the Mayor approved a contract with the E. F. Mahady Company for furnishing special chemical apparatus for the Thorndike Memorial Building, Boston City Hospital. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

Boston, April 4, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to E. F. Mahady Company for furnishing to the Boston City Hospital special chemical apparatus, etc., to be used as equipment in the new Thorndike Memorial Building, total amount of contract being $14,160.43.

Prices were secured by this office from the various firms engaged in furnishing this particular equipment, and said bids were referred to the Boston City Hospital for recommendation. The Hospital Department has made recommentation as per above and it has my approval, and for this reason the permission asked for is requested.

Very truly yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon April 6 the Mayor approved a contract with the Linscott Motor Company for furnishing four chasses to the Water Service, Public Works Department. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, April 5, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising the same, to the Linscott Motor Company for furnishing four Reo speed wagon chasses equipped with open cab and special open express body at a price of $1,595 each, complete, delivered, same to be for the Water Service, Public Works Department.

The above is the one that is best suited for their requirements, and I therefore trust the permission will be granted.

Yours respectfully,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon April 8 the Mayor approved a contract with the Linscott Motor Company for furnishing and delivering four Reo trucks to the Water Service, Public Works Department. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, April 6, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without advertising for same, to the Linscott Motor Company for furnishing and delivering to the Water Service, Public Works Department, 710 Albany street, four 14-ton Reo trucks equipped with seat, open cab, wind shield and special express body at a price of $1,595 each. The division engineer of the Water Service has informed this department that the Reo trucks now in operation are giving entire satisfaction and that they are meeting the requirements of the department in every particular. For this reason the permission asked for above is requested.

Yours respectfully,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon April 8 the Mayor approved a contract with Payne Dean, Ltd., for furnishing a Reo truck for the Water Service, Public Works Department. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, April 6, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract to Payne Dean, Ltd., Stamford, Conn., for installing a Reo truck to be furnished the City of Boston Water Service, one valve closing mechanism without the diaphragm pump as follows: One special Dean transmission; one vertical key drive, together with chain drives and all necessary parts, leaving the truck in perfect operating condition, and provided with two valve keys of different lengths at a price of $2,500. Extra for automatic shut-off and counter, $150. The Water Service at the present time has this particular apparatus in operation to be used in the case of breaks in the Water Service, and which has proved to be of inestimable value and for this reason the above request is asked for.

Yours respectfully,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

An addition, in the amount of $3,382.62, on contract with Archdeacon & Sullivan, for work at the R. G. Shaw District School, West Roxbury. For applying two coats of dampproofing to exterior walls, $190; drainage of boiler room, $1,740; changing from common sand struck brick to Barrington brick for exterior walls of building, $1,458.62;—$3,388.62; original contract, $47,000; total additions, $3,843.62; contract as standing, $50,843.62.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has approved, upon the request of Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works, the following construction work:

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch earthen pipe, in Norfolk Street Playground, between 400 feet southwest of Elizabeth street and a point 725 feet southwest, in the Dorchester District, at an estimated cost of $5,215.

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch earthen pipe, in Astoria street and Norfolk Street Playground, between 253 feet southwest of Elizabeth street and a point 880 feet southwesterly in the Dorchester District, at an estimated cost of $6,300.

CLARA BARTON TREE.

An American linden was planted on the Common upon the Oliver Wendell Holmes Mall upon the 12th instant in memory of Clara Barton, founder of the American Red Cross and of the National First Aid Association.

Mayor Curley presided and Stephen L. Barton, her nephew, covered the roots of the young tree with earth. Representatives from the First Aid Association, from City Hall and from the Grand Army were present and united in praising the woman through whose efforts the Red Cross emblem was brought to the United States.

Mayor Curley criticised the legislators. "May it serve as an inspiration to the Massachusetts Legislature," he said, "and may it give them a humanizing spirit. May it lead them to serious thought and consideration regarding all toilers, and, in years to come, may children find shelter beneath its branches on warm summer days."

Mr. Barton briefly reviewed the life of his aunt, mentioning that she served in the Civil War and in the Franco-Prussian War.

He showed the Red Cross that she wore during the last-named conflict, adding that he treasured it so much that he never allowed anyone to take it away from his sight. In closing he expressed the hope that the tree would be a "standing inspiration to coming generations."

George W. Pratt, Department Commander of the Massachusetts G. A. R., told how his comrades valued the memory of Clara Barton, and Roscoe G. Wells, president of the National First Aid Association, thanked those who had co-operated in the celebration. Mrs. Ella Long, a former president of the Women's Relief Corps, hoped that children would read in the libraries books dealing with Clara Barton, the American Florence Nightingale.

Others who were present included Col. Charles Sumner Young of the tree-planting committee; Mrs. Mary Wells, national secretary of the First Aid Association; Park Commissioner James B. Shea and Deputy Park Commissioner William P. Long.

Thursday was termed by the First Aid Association Clara Barton day throughout the country, and trees in many cities were planted. Clara Barton was born in Oxford and died eleven years ago.

CLAIMS.

The Mayor has approved, with the indorsement of the Corporation Counsel, the following claims:

Dominick Ventura, 79 Chelsea street, East Boston, in the amount of $5, as refund of fee for license to sell ice cream and fruit at said address, the said fee having been paid twice.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 28.

I. FIRE ALARM SIGNALS.

The following changes and additions relative to fire alarm signals are made. These signals will be posted in a conspicuous place in company quarters for the information of all members of the company.

General Alarms.

For response and covering on seventh, general alarms, the city is divided into nine (9) sections and each section given special assignments and a special number. For such alarms the signal will be a preliminary of fifteen (15) blows, followed by the section alarm number and then by the box number, struck two rounds on tappers and gongs.

Example: General alarm for fire in East Boston, Box 631.

Special Signal for Company Units.

For the purpose of dispatching company units to a particular box the following signal will be struck two rounds on tappers, only:

For engine companies: Four blows

For ladder companies: Five blows

For rescue companies: Six blows

For tower companies: Seven blows

The company number and the box number to follow the apparatus designating signal in each case:

Example: Call for Engine 11 to respond to Box 62:

Example: Call for Ladder 12 to respond to Box 1562:

Special Telephone Signal.

When no response is received to a telephone call from the fire alarm office four (4) blows may be struck three times on tappers, thus (---).

On receipt of this signal company commanders will try to communicate with the office, first by the station phone and failing to do so then by some telephone adjacent to station.

All previous orders inconsistent with the foregoing are hereby revoked.

II. ASSIGNMENTS.

The following assignments of new members on probation are hereby announced to take effect at 9 a. m., Friday, April 13, 1923:

Thomas J. Clark, to Engine 5.

Frank E. Williams, to Engine 30.

IV. PROMOTION.

The following promotion is hereby announced to take effect at 9 a. m., Friday, April 13, 1923:

Hoseman Francis H. Campbell of Engine 34 to be assistant engineer.

V. MAY FIRST.

May 1 is the anniversary date of City of Boston. At the request of the Director of Public Celebrations flags will be flown on that date from all houses of the department equipped with flags and flag poles.

VI. SPEED OF APPARATUS.

The attention of the department is called to the matter of speed of motor apparatus responding to and returning from alarms of fire.

The Fire Commissioner desires that all necessary precautions be taken to avoid accidents and the rights of the public must be respected.

The speed of apparatus in the congested sections of the city is limited to not more than twenty miles per hour. In the outlying sections the speed is limited to twenty-five miles per hour at any time, regardless of apparent favorable conditions.

Returning from alarms of fire apparatus will be driven at a moderate rate of speed with due regard for the rules of the road.

Deputy and district chiefs will see that these rules are strictly obeyed.

By order of the Fire Commissioner.

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

LAND-TAKING IN BACK BAY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a taking of land for sewerage works in Public Alley No. 931, Back Bay.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston known as Boston Proper and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Eugene N. Foss, bounded:

Northwest by Boylston street, eight and 43-100 feet; northeast by land hereinafter described as taken from said Foss and from Alonzo B. Davidson, by two measurements, one hundred thirty-five and 14-100 feet on a curve of twenty-two hundred eighty-one and 79-100 feet radius and one hundred forty-six and 43-100 feet; southeast by Peterborough street, eight and 28-100 feet; and southwest by other land of said Foss, by two measurements, one hundred forty-four and 30-100 feet and one hundred thirty-seven and 31-100 feet on a curve of twenty-two hundred seventy-three and 79-100 feet radius; containing twenty-two hundred and fifty-three square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Eugene N. Foss, bounded:

Northwest by Boylston street, eight and 42-100 feet; northeast by other land of said Foss, by two measurements, one hundred thirty-two and 97-100 feet on a curve of twenty-two hundred eighty-nine and 79-100 feet radius and five and 76-100 feet; southeast by land hereinafter described as taken from Alonzo B. Davidson, eight and 28-100 feet; and southwest by land hereinafter described as taken from said Foss, by two measurements, three and 62-100 feet and one hundred thirty-five and 14-100 feet; containing eleven hundred and ten square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Alonzo B. Davidson, bounded:

Northwest by land hereinafter described as taken from Eugene N. Foss, eight and 28-100 feet; northeast by other land of said Davidson, one hundred forty-two and 80-100 feet; southeast by Peterborough street, eight and 28-100 feet; and southwest by land hereinafter described as taken from Eugene N. Foss, one hundred forty-two and 80-100 feet; containing eleven hundred forty-two square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: Two hundred eighty-one linear feet 18-inch by 15-inch concrete sanitary sewer and 281 linear feet 3-foot by 3-foot concrete surface drain, in the above described premises, between Public Alley No. 931, between Boylston and Peterborough streets.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the improvement ordered herein.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of abutting land on the southwesterly side of Public Alley No. 931, between Boylston street and Peterborough street, will receive benefit or advantage, other than the general advantage to the community, from the improvement herein.

Amount.
Eugene N. Foss, lot 3..... $562

SALE OF RAINSFORD ISLAND.

Mayor Curley announces that Rainsford Island, formerly the location of the Suffolk School for Boys, is about to be sold by the city at an upset price of not less than its assessed valuation of $40,000.

Institutions Commissioner David J. Johnson has been authorized by the Mayor to advertise for bids.

PATRIOTS' DAY.

The annual reproduction of the historic rides of Paul Revere and William Dawes from Boston to Lexington will be carried out as usual this year on April 19, under the direction of a committee representing the seven towns and cities through which the riders travel, acting in co-operation with the City of Boston.

William Carroll Hill of the Boston Public Celebration Association is chairman of the general committee of arrangements with E. B. Mero as secretary.

In each community there will be a local program arranged to focus on the arrival and departure of the horseback rider and the cavalry escort. Each rider will be in costume to represent the original rider of 1775 and will have as escort a detail of state cavalry. The rider impersonating Revere will start from North square at 10 a. m., after brief preliminary exercises. "Dawes" will start at the same time from Eliot square, Roxbury.

Going by different routes, following the course of the original riders, "Revere" through Charlestown, Medford and Somerville; and "Dawes" through Brookline and Cambridge, the two riders will meet at Arlington and then proceed within a short distance of each other to the end of the journey at Lexington Green, where the local committee will welcome them.

Cambridge will adopt its program to the convention of the Spanish War Veterans, which will be in session in that city on the holiday. Medford proposes to extend its program to include other sections of the city than Medford square, where stands the original Captain Hall house at which Paul Revere was entertained in '75. Arlington plans a popular pilgrimage to spots of historic interest, with the culminating feature the reception to the two riders at the Town Hall at noon. Somerville will greet the rider at the top of Winter Hill. Brookline exercises will take place at the Edward Devotion School on Harvard street. The Lexington program will start early and continue all day as usual, with an afternoon parade.

The director of public celebrations for Boston, J. Philip O'Connell, is planning to have a special message adapted to the day dropped all along the route of both riders from a squadron of airplanes from the Massachusetts National Guard. The same message will be officially borne by each rider and delivered to the local officials in each town and city.

The Patriots' Day Committee for Boston comprises: William Carroll Hill, chairman; E. B. Mero, secretary; John B. Archibald, Frank Chouteau Brown, Edward L. Curran, Merle R. Griffith, John J. Keenan, Wilfred P. Kelly, Frank Leveroni, John J. Morgan, James H. Phelan, John J. Sawtelle, John A. Scanga, Louis Watson; Arlington, R. Walter Hilliard; Brookline, Edward W. Baker; Cambridge, T. Harrison Cummings; Lexington, Maj. Alfred Pierce; Medford, Joseph C. Smith; Somerville, Waldo D. Phelps.

MICHELANGELO STREET

The name of the public way known as Angelo street, leading from Charter street, North End, has been changed to Michelangelo street.

THE NORTH END HEALTH UNIT.

Mrs. Harriet J. Bradbury, sister of the late George R. White, Boston's notable philanthropist, will determine what location shall be chosen for the North End health unit, to be erected from the income of the White fund.

Mayor Curley, in reply to the various agencies which have attempted to prevent the erection of the building at the site of the old harbor police station, Battery and Commercial streets, declared that it is the intent of all concerned to select the most appropriate site, and that Mrs. Bradbury's report would undoubtedly be accepted as absolutely free from prejudice.

"So far as the Board of Trustees is concerned, of which I am chairman, it has been our sole purpose to act in accordance with the best interests of the district," Mayor Curley declared. "The site of the old police station would have light on all four sides. It would represent a net saving of at least $50,000 because the city owns the property. To buy in the congested section would mean the immediate expenditure of $150,000 to $200,000."

NEW FIRE ALARM SYSTEM.

Declaring that the Boston fire alarm headquarters are at present in a congested and dangerous position officials of the Fire and Park Departments, and representatives of the fire underwriters appeared before the Legislative Committee on Metropolitan Affairs upon the 9th instant and urged favorable action upon the petition of Mayor Curley to permit the construction of a new fire alarm system headquarters in the Back Bay Fens.

The proponents presented a unanimous appeal and placed a strong case before the committee. The Park Commissioners stated that when the plan was first proposed, they strenuously opposed it, on the ground that no buildings should be erected on park land. They said, however, that after careful consideration they changed their attitude, on the ground that public convenience necessitates the construction of the building in the Fens and that the building will in no way harm the park.

Joseph P. Lyons, assistant corporation counsel of Boston, conducted the hearing for the proponents, and at the close of the presentation of the case said the city would not object to having two amendments added to the bill, first, that the building and grounds be limited to an area of 20,000 square feet; second, that the actual site of the Fens be selected by the Mayor, the Fire Commissioner and the Board of Park Commissioners, instead of by the Mayor and City Council as originally provided.

Mr. Lyons said that the present building on Bristol street is in a congested and dangerous district, because of the surrounding wood-working establishments and tenement houses, and that in the event of a serious fire the entire system would be eliminated. He said the building must be located in a central position, isolated from all other buildings, and that the only available site in the city is in the Fens.

Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn stated the equipment in the present fire alarm office, in the Headquarters Building, Bristol street, is practically all in use, and there is no room for the installation of additional apparatus. Since the system is being extended all the time to give proper fire protection to new sections of the city, as well as to improve conditions in the older sections, it is necessary to increase the number of circuits, and such increase requires a much larger office equipment than is possible in the present location. The time has come when it is imperative, for the safety of the City of Boston, that a new office be built.

In considering the selection of a site for the proposed building it is of the utmost importance that one be selected that will always be free from conflagration hazard and other dangers incident to congested areas. The National Board of Fire Underwriters has, for years, condemned the location of the present office. Surrounded as it is by wood-working establishments, lumber yards, tenement houses, etc., the present fire alarm office is in imminent danger at any moment of being totally destroyed.

The chief engineer of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, who probably has more practical knowledge of the necessities of the Fire Department than any other engineer in the country, after a thorough investigation of the fire-fighting facilities of the City of Boston, recommended "That fire alarm headquarters be removed to a fireproof building, especially constructed to reduce as far as possible all liability to interruption of service and so located as to be free from exposure."

While the necessity of a site free from fire hazard is of prime importance, yet another very important element must be kept in view, that is a location not too far removed from the congested value districts and also the probable future growth of the city. There is no location in the city proper free from conflagration, with the exception of Boston Common and Public Gardens, and for many well-known reasons these have never been considered.

The only open space affording the necessary protection from all hazards and at the same time meeting the other necessary requirements seems to be the Fens.

It is the consensus of opinion among fire engineers and other expert authorities, and most cities are following this opinion, that park sites are the only suitable sites for fire alarm offices.

In New York City three new fire alarm headquarters have been erected, and two more are being planned to be erected on park sites. In Manhattan Borough a new building has been erected right in the center of Central Park. In the Brooklyn Borough one has been erected in Prospect Park, and in the Bronx Borough one has been erected in the Bronx Park. Some of the other cities which have adopted a similar policy are San Francisco, fire alarm office in Jefferson Park; Oakland, fire alarm office in Lake Merritt Park.

In Chicago plans have been drawn to establish a fire alarm office in Humboldt Park; in Richmond a new office is under construction in Munroe Park; in Los Angeles plans have been drawn for a new fire alarm office in LaFayette Park. In Detroit the fire alarm office is on park property in the rear of City Hall.

The proposition for a new station is not a new one by any means, for it has been under consideration for several years. It is very generally agreed that the present office is located in a very hazardous district. In 1913 serious consideration was given to the subject and the committee on Municipal and Metropolitan Affairs of the Chamber of Commerce, after exhaustive investigation, submitted a lengthy report to the Executive Committee and Board of Directors of the Chamber in which they made the following statements:

"The present headquarters building on Bristol street, in which the existing fire alarm service is housed, is in a district wholly unsuited for the purpose. It was very apparent to the members of the committee, who made a personal visit to the headquarters and inspected its surroundings, that the station should be placed in an isolated location where it will be free as possible from fire hazard."

In 1911 a special fire hazard commission appointed by the Mayor stated:

"We are strongly of the opinion that as soon as it is possible to do so, a one-story and basement structure of absolute fireproof construction, for the exclusive use of the fire alarm operating service, should be built in a location where freedom from future exposure hazard is assured."

The recommendation of the location in the Fens is not based on economy. The recommendation was made after consultations with representatives of the National and local Boards of Fire Underwriters, and the only consideration was absolute safety for service. The Fens is the only site that gives protection so necessary to this important service.

The proposed building is comparatively small and would be entirely in keeping with its surroundings. It is in no sense a desire to encroach on park property. In common with all good citizens the protection of park property from utilitarian projects is desired. This proposition is an exceptional one wherein the safety of the lives and property of the people is involved.

Chief John O. Taber said it is necessary in all military organizations to safeguard the center of supplies, and the signal service is the essential section of the department to receive notification of fires. He said the present system is in such condition that he can put it out of commission in five minutes and leave the city without any fire alarm service. The present location is looking fifty years to the future, he said.

Superintendent of Fire Alarm George L. Fickett said the fire underwriters have condemned the system as obsolete. Fire alarm boxes have been increased 70 per cent in the past few years, so that all the circuits are loaded to capacity. Fifty per cent of the boxes are located north of Massachusetts avenue, he said, and for that reason a location near that section is desirable, and the Fens is the most accessible to existing conduits.

James B. Shea, chairman of the Park Commissioners and Charles A. Coolidge of the commission were in favor of the change as was Franklin H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Board of Fire Protection, who stated that Los Angeles and Boston are the only two large cities of the country not having adequate systems and Los Angeles is now planning to place their station in a park.

Claude L. Allen, representing the national and Boston Board of Fire Underwriters, also favored the change as a greater protection to the city and the metropolitan district.

PLAYGROUND EXTENSION.

Work upon the extension of the William J. Barry Playground, near Chelsea street, Charlestown, and in proximity to the Mystic river, is to be started at an early day and when completed it will be one of the most modern playgrounds in the city. The playground will extend from the branch of the Mystic river to Medford street along Medford street to the Berry & Ferguson Wharf and northeasterly by the river.

The increase in size of the playground to twice its present area was made possible by the passage of an order in the City Council for a loan of $200,000, Mayor Curley sending in the order.

This was the result of the presentation of a petition, signed by 2,000 Charlestown residents, to Mayor Curley by Representative John J. McCarthy of Ward 4, who was supported by many interested in athletics in Charlestown.

Mayor Curley presented the pen with which he signed the loan order to Representative McCarthy, affixed to a letter of congratulation which the Mayor had framed.

THE BUDGET MESSAGE.

Mayor Curley sent the following message to the City Council in submitting the annual budget, upon the 9th instant:

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
April 9, 1923.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to submit herewith budget for the year 1923-24 in full segregated form in substitution for the budget submitted on February 24, 1923.

The increases in the appropriation for Fire Department, Police Department and Public Works Department, while exceedingly large, are imperatively necessary.

The Fire Department today is 85 per cent motorized. Complete motorization, in my opinion, is necessary before the two-platoon system becomes operative, and to completely motorize the department this year requires an expenditure of $300,000.

The increase in motor vehicles, with the corresponding increase in accidents and deaths, in the opinion of the Police Commissioner, makes necessary the addition of at least fifty men to the Police Department to serve largely as traffic officers.

The adoption of the City of Boston Employees' Retirement Act, which became operative upon February of the current year, made necessary the organization of the Pension Bureau, for which provision in the budget is, this year, for the first time necessary.

The establishment of the Boston Conservation Bureau, designed to conserve public health, limb and life, is recognized as a most useful and necessary departure and an appropriation is recommended for its maintenance.

Conditions such as obtained during the past winter, injurious to business and the traveling public, due to excessive snowfall and lack of proper equipment for the removal of the same, should not so far as the latter element are concerned, be permitted to again occur.

To guard against this contingency the sum of $200,000 is recommended for the purchase of equipment for snow removal and other mechanical requirements of the Public Works Department.

The substitution of motor vehicles for horse-drawn vehicles in the Fire Department has been conducted with such expedition that in a majority of the fire stations and police patrol stations no attempt has been made to comply with the requirements of the building laws, the result being that gasoline-propelled apparatus is located in buildings that are unsuited for motor vehicles.

To remedy this condition and place the quarters of the firemen throughout the city in a condition which will make it possible without undue delay before the expenditure and installation of the two-platoon system in 1924, it will be necessary to expend at least some $350,000 for improvement of quarters.

Provision has been made in the budget for an increase of $200,000 in the amount of the annual appropriation for street construction and repair. While it is pleasing to be able to make this meager addition to the sum annually set aside for street construction and repair, it is in no way commensurate with the requirements of the street program that should be adopted for the benefit of the city and its people. The present street area of Boston is in excess of some 680 miles, nearly two thirds of which mileage is unsuited for motor traffic. The present cost of construction would make necessary the expenditure of some $600,000 to place the streets of Boston in suitable condition, and unless aid is received through the adoption of the gasoline tax and the distribution of the proceeds of the same, it will be necessary at some time in the immediate future, either for the present or some succeeding administration, to recommend and make available a sum at least three times as great as is now annually expended to provide for present needs in the matter of public highways.

It is desirable that the budget receive early consideration by your honorable body, and I respectfully recommend adoption.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

DEDICATION OF ARCHBISHOP WILLIAMS BUILDING.

The Archbishop John J. Williams Municipal Building, Shawmut avenue and West Brookline street, was dedicated upon Sunday, 8th instant.

Hon. Patrick J. Melody, Senator of the district, presided. An excellent concert program was provided by the Boston Public School Symphony Orchestra, led by Prof. John A. O'Shea. Chairman Melody gave a history of the achievements in the district which culminated in the completion of the handsome structure.

Rev. William B. Finigan, rector of the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, where the late Archbishop Williams spent many years of his ministry, gave the invocation and paid a tribute to the ideals of the celebrated prelate in whose honor the building was named. The presentation of the key was by the architect, J. H. Schweinfurth, who, with Michael Soretto, the builder, were seated upon the platform.

Solo vocal numbers were given by Miss Elizabeth Monroe, Mrs. Helen Countie Galvin and John J. Shaughnessy, tenor. The assembly hall is named in memory of Maj. Henry L. Higginson.

The oration was by Mayor Curley, who lauded the lofty ideals, sacrifices, and even the heartaches of the venerable archbishop of Boston, John J. Williams, who not only contributed his services to his country during the Civil War, but whose whole life among the people of Boston was an inspiration to all to seek after the higher and finer things of life. The achievements in our city, the Mayor said, are but the embodiments of the visions Archbishop Williams sought to attain.

He paid a singular tribute to the architect, Mr. Schweinfurth, and to the builder, Mr. Soretto, men who twenty years ago, while engaged in laboring pursuits, had a vision and embraced every opportunity which our city has to offer, till now they are at the top of the ladder of success in their respective lines of industry.

Mayor Curley urged his hearers to avail themselves of every educational opportunity. He drew his lesson from the wonderful thirst for knowledge Abraham Lincoln had. He recommended the young people to build up within them sound minds, not neglecting the all-important gift of good health, through exercises in the gymnasium offered by the city.

He denounced socialism, and contrasted the liberty and freedom offered by the American flag with what other governments had to give its people.

The program of exercises was as follows:

Orchestral concert, 2.30 to 3 o'clock. Boston Public School Symphony Orchestra, Prof. John A. O'Shea, Conducting.
Opening address, Hon. Patrick J. Melody, Master of Ceremonies.
Invocation, Rev. William B. Finigan.
Selection, Orchestra.
Tenor solo, John J. Shaughnessy.
Presentation of key, By the architect, J. H. Schweinfurth.
Address, Hon. James M. Curley, Mayor of Boston.
Soprano solo, Mrs. Helen Countie Galvin.
Selection, Orchestra.
Vocal solo, Miss Elizabeth Monroe.
"Star-Spangled Banner." Orchestra and audience.
Miss Margie Mack, accompanist.

REPORT ON FIRE ALARMS.

Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn has filed with the Mayor a report relative to the number of fire alarms in Boston and advising that General Order No. 37, of May 3, 1922, has been re-issued:

CITY OF BOSTON,

FIRE DEPARTMENT, April 6, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR:—As a result of the instructions contained in your letter of March 30, 1923, concerning the number of alarms for fires in Boston recently I submit the following report:

General Order No. 37 (May 3, 1922) was reissued, and copies forwarded to the Police Commissioner, requesting that he instruct the officers of his department to be extra vigilant in watching for grass and rubbish fires, not only for the purpose of seeing that persons had the proper permits, but to be on the lookout for mischievous children and careless adults who caused many of these fires. The general orders referred to contain regulations governing the setting of fires in the open air, a copy of which I am inclosing for your honor's information.

The next step was to call the attention of the railroads to the law requiring all steam engines to be equipped with spark arresters, and to keep the roadbeds clear of dry leaves, brush, rubbish, etc. I have received assurances of the co-operation of the railroads in this matter.

We are now draughting a circular on fire prevention to be distributed among the school children, along the lines suggested in your Honor's letter. We hope to be able to have this circular printed in two or three of the foreign languages so that the children may take them to homes where the parents are unfamiliar with the English tongue, and thus reach people in congested sections of the city where many serious fires occur.

Yours very truly,

THEODORE A. GLYNN,
Fire Commissioner.

General Order No. 37.

GRASS AND RUBBISH FIRES.

1. After conferring with the chief of department and the Bureau of Fire Prevention and Intelligence relative to the unprecedented number of needless grass fires which have recently occurred, it was considered essential, for the protection of lives and property in the city, to adopt the following rules and regulations which, if conscientiously followed, will minimize and possibly eliminate the fire hazard almost entirely caused by carelessness.

2. District chiefs and commanding officers are hereby ordered to refrain from issuing any further permits for the burning of grass, leaves, or rubbish, out of doors, and to withhold all such permits heretofore issued but not delivered until further notice.

3. Hereafter, the following rules are laid down for the guidance of district chiefs and commanding officers:

a. Under no condition shall a permit be issued to other than a responsible adult person.

b. The applicant for a permit must have premises equipped with a garden or fire hose attached to a faucet, ready for immediate use. Watering pots should also be at hand.

c. Ground in the immediate vicinity of the fire must be thoroughly wet down before fire is lighted, and kept wet down while fire is burning.

d. The use of kerosene or other inflammable liquids in starting fire is strictly prohibited.

e. In the discretion of district chiefs and commanding officers very small amounts of rubbish may be permitted to be burned in a metal receptacle or stone inclosure, on condition that sufficient buckets or pails of water are on hand to thoroughly extinguish burning embers when leaving.

f. Fires must at all times be under the personal supervision of the applicant or other adult person acting under his direction, who shall remain at the location of fire until same is thoroughly extinguished.

g. No heap of rubbish shall be lighted the dimensions of which exceed 3 feet high by 3 feet wide at any one time.

h. No rubbish permits shall be issued for or used on the 17th of June, 4th of July, or any other day celebrated as such.

4. The public is notified that the setting of fires in the open air without a permit from the Fire Commissioner is in violation of the laws of the Commonwealth and the Revised Ordinances of the City of Boston, and subject to a penalty.

5. All permits for the burning of leaves, grass, brush, garden or other rubbish issued by the Fire Commissioner previous to the date of this order are hereby declared null and void, provided, however, that such permits shall remain in force and effect if all the conditions above enumerated are complied with.

By order of the Acting Fire Commissioner.

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

THE PATRIOT'S DAY PARADE.

Mayor Curley has received a letter from the Finance Committee of the Patriot's Day Parade Committee of the state requesting a donation for the purpose of engaging musicians and to defray the expenses incident to such demonstration.

The following is the Mayor's reply:

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
April 7, 1923.

COL. HENRY L. KINCAIDE, Massachusetts Trust Company, 55 Federal Street, Boston, Mass.:

MY DEAR COLONEL KINCAIDE,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication with reference to the contribution of funds for the observance of Patriot's Day, and replying thereto I beg to state that it has been the custom of the City of Boston, ever since the observance was established nearly a century ago, to annually appropriate money for a proper patriotic recognition of this day.

The belated action of the State is most commendable but all of the residents of the state should be afforded an opportunity to contribute, through a State appropriation for the proper observance of the holiday, rather than making a private patriotic observance of what should be a public patriotic observance.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Collins, Mr. Forrest B. Hall, Mr. Gordon Scott, Mr. Henry W. Bird, Mr. E. Decker, Mr. Henry Daley, Mr. Joseph M. Sullivan, Mr. Henry Schaefer, Hon. Thomas C. O'Brien, Hon. Charles S. Sullivan.

Mayor Curley delivered the following address of welcome:

We are fortunate in having with us Commander-in-Chief Judge James W. Willett of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The City of Boston in 1916 had the supreme pleasure to act as host for the Grand Army of the Republic. They visited our city at a time when the nation was awaiting a message that would unify the American people for the preservation of the government which through their service and sacrifice became possible.

I look forward as Mayor of Boston hopeful and praying that next year we may again have opportunity to entertain as guests of the city the splendid aggregation of patriotic Americans over which you, sir, preside, an organization that for more than a half a century has been of the highest character of idealism and the noblest and purest and best character of patriotism in the life of America; an organization numbering among the union soldiers nearly three millions of men whose ranks today are thinned, answering the call of the Supreme Commander at the rate of one every four minutes. As their numbers diminish the love and affection which every believer in free government should hold for them goes out to the surviving members of the greatest aggregation of fighting men any nation ever possessed, the Grand Army of the Republic.

So, sir, with a realization of what you have given to America and with some conception of what America and the world has received as a result of your contribution, we welcome you here and trust it will be possible to come here next year and send out from the heart of America a message that will make possible a return of that supreme idealism that your body made manifest in this nation in 1917 and through which more than any other cause may be traced the winning of the World War.

The world needs another message from the Grand Army of the Republic. I thank Almighty God we have here today a man eminently qualified to render that message, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, Judge James W. Willett.

Commander-in-Chief Judge James W. Willett spoke as follows:

Mr. Mayor.—As Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic and in their behalf, I accept your kindly greetings and message of welcome. I do not understand that a suitable subject is required or expected of me at this time. The pleasure is mine, I assure you, as compared to yours, at being present. After a long journey I reached your city yesterday at 11 a. m. At 1 p. m. with my chief-of-staff, Mr. Healey of your city, we went to Providence, Rhode Island, where we spent the afternoon and evening with the Grand Army of the Republic of that vicinity. This is the gait at which they compel the Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic to travel. This is the gait that I have traveled practically since last November. I am here at your door after having made the circuit of the entire Pacific Coast, from Puget Sound to Coronado Beach, from New Orleans to Chicago and Central Iowa. I have been traveling cautiously since the first day of March. The distance, I am told, of ten thousand miles has been traveled by me. I have addressed directly or indirectly—addresses were from the rear end of the passenger coach of a going train through the Pacific Coast—I presume an approximate audience of twenty to twenty-five thousand people. I have not throttled my tongue. It is said when one bridle his tongue it will keep him out of mischief, but I see in the present time and age so many things to talk about that there are some things that I have assumed to see and speak upon. One of these things I will touch upon today and it is the seeming disregard for human life and the lack of law obedience.

To my mind we are going through one of the most trying times in the history of this nation. I mean not because of fights without, because we fear not them, but because of more or less internal strife. The indifference and the disregard of certain elements of our nation for law obedience makes me at times shudder for the future unless it is curbed. Among these are the disputes between capital and labor, which I insist should not be. There should be a system of arbitration between capital and labor, between the operator and the laborer, so that we would not have a recurrence of the disturbances and dastardly secess that have taken place throughout the land within the last twelve months due to the coal strike.

There has been and is now a dangerous and vicious institution known as the I. W. W., which on the Western Coast is interpreted "I won't work," and the other organization of disregard, neglect and dastardly organization is known as the Ku Klux Klan. At certain points on the Western Coast the Ku Klux Klan have a foothold and I occupied the position of being scourged in the newspapers, of being waited upon by committees and told that I must not refer to them in the derisive way in which I have, but I have kept on.

I speak my mind wherever I go. At Indianapolis, about a year ago, the Grand Army of the Republic went upon record as condemning the use even of the term Ku Klux Klan which originated in the reform that took place after peace was declared after the late insurrection which we do not call the War of the Rebellion and which down south of the Mason and Dixon line they call the War between the States. While down there I told them that I will compromise with them and call it a Civil War, that it was a Civil War. The Ku Klux Klan originated at the close of the Civil War for the purpose of keeping down the negro. That was the organization and the intent of that organization at that time. We all know as it is passed into history the dastardly deeds that were done in the name of that Klan in the years following the close of the Civil War. Then when the Grand Army of the Republic had that matter under consideration two years ago at Indianapolis they condemned it and directed the Klan to come out in the open and I have advocated that proposition during the past two years. I do not hesitate to do so now. I have said in Philadelphia, in Washington and in other large cities of the Eastern and Middle Western States and will continue to do so as long as I am permitted to speak to the public.

I have asked and I ask now and will again, today and tomorrow when I meet my comrades that they pick their flint and take the necessary steps to establish counter patriotic organizations that will overcome this association which is unfortunately spreading throughout the land so that it can be overcome. In this fight we have the support of the American Legion. I know some of my personal friends who belong to the Klan. I have appealed to them personally and I have charged them with being misguided. Everywhere I have gone I have appealed to them and they have told me that they are the only 100 per cent American patriotic society in the good old U. S. A. today, and I denied it and I deny it now and say to the Ku Klux Klan that there is no opportunity, time and place for you in a visible form of government in the United States of America, but we will not tolerate the Ku Klux Klan, and in the interest of good government and for the best interests of our citizenship it will not be tolerated. I can say this, that, if the Ku Klux Klan want to rate themselves as a patriotic body in order to have the people judge them by their words and their acts, let them drop the hood and mask, come out in the open so that they can be seen and look you in the face so they can say, "My dear sir, your action in this community belies the position you occupy," and have this done in the open for the interests of good government.

I am interested in the organization of patriotism and the influence of patriotic societies for the betterment of the whole nation and the entire people. They cannot say I am doing it for my own personal interest. I am a descendant of a double line of Revolutionary people and am entitled to the position as a son of the American Revolution descended from a Huguenot. I am not a Catholic, I am not a Hebrew, and I am not colored. These are the people they are fighting. But when the racial issue is raised in America against the Catholic because of his religion, against the Jew because of his race, and against the negro because of his color, they are striking at a vital fundamental of our government for the retention and support of which every red-blooded American as a matter of duty must stand with the Catholic, with the Jew and with the negro.

Mayor Curley was a guest of the Grand Army of the Republic at the annual convention in Faneuil Hall, upon Tuesday, 10th instant. He was received with the customary honors of the Grand Army. The Mayor paid his respects to the veteran delegates and the officers of the department, and expressed his satisfaction at being permitted to greet the Commander-in-Chief Judge James W. Willett and his staff. He took occasion to invite the Grand Army of the Republic to hold the national encampment of 1924 in Boston. The invitation was enthusiastically received.

THE CITY POPULATION.

Boston population July 1 next will be 770,400 according to an estimate made by the Census Bureau of the Department of Commerce.

The estimated population in 1921 and 1922 was 757,634 and 764,017, respectively. The estimates are based on calculations derived from the 1920 and 1910 federal census returns, which show that the Boston population in 1920 was 748,060 and in 1910, 686,092.

REPORT OF FIRE COMMISSIONER GLYNN.

I submit below a report of the activities of the Fire Department for the month of March, 1923:

High Pressure Station No. 1 was in operation during the month for four hours and six minutes, the pumps having been started in response to fifteen alarms.

High Pressure Station No. 2 was in operation during the month for five hours, the pumps having been started in response to fourteen alarms.

Plans have been drawn and a site in the Fens has been selected for a new fire alarm office. For many years the present location of the fire alarm office has been a matter of grave concern. It is now located in the headquarters building, Bristol street, adjacent to buildings of old construction, woodworking establishments, lumber yards and tenement houses. After consultation with officers of the national and local boards of fire underwriters and officials of this department a site was selected in the Fens, where the building would be isolated from all hazard. If permission is granted by the Legislature to use this site it is proposed to erect a building which will be in keeping with the surroundings, and which will, in fact, add to the beauty of the location.

The question of fire patrols in motion picture houses was taken under consideration. At a conference attended by your Honor, the Building Commissioner, representatives of the License Division of your office, representatives of the Fire Department, and theatrical representatives, it was suggested that in theaters where the seating capacity does not exceed 800 there shall be one fire patrol, and in theaters having a capacity of more than 800, two persons shall act in the capacity of fire patrol. Further action is being taken to develop this suggestion.

The Wire Division issued 1,493 permits for interior electrical construction, and forty-four grants for underground conduits were passed and plans for the same approved. Fees amounting to $5,122.93 were collected by this division during the month. Eleven fires due to electrical causes were inspected.

During the month the Repair Shop mechanics performed 458 repair jobs on motor and horse drawn apparatus in the shop, and the emergency crews performed 105 repair jobs outside the shops. The emergency crews responded to 243 calls. In addition to the work on apparatus 463 miscellaneous jobs were performed by repair shop mechanics. Three hundred and twenty inspections of motor vehicles and equipment were made by the engineer of motor apparatus. The condition and maintenance of the various fire stations have been under constant supervision, and repairs, painting, etc., have been effected where needed.

During the month the department responded to 568 alarms of fire, of which 236 were box alarms, 311 were still alarms, and 21 were automatic. A large majority of these alarms were due to fires in dry grass, rubbish and brush. In order to effect a reduction in the number of fires from this cause stringent regulations were put in force governing the conditions under which permits for fire in the open air would be issued. The Police Department agreed to cooperate in the exercise of increased vigilance to prevent fires by malicious children and careless adults. The matters of fires being caused by sparks from locomotives was called to the attention of the executives of the railroad companies operating in and around Boston, and they have agreed to see that the law concerning the installation of spark arresters is complied with. In accordance with your Honor's instructions a circular is being drawn up for distribution among the school children. This circular will deal with the causes of fires and the prevention of fire.

On March 28, 1923, in response to a request from the chief of the Hull Fire Department, Engine Company 12, with two pieces of apparatus, Engine Company 46, with two pieces of apparatus, a district chief and the engineer of motor apparatus, were dispatched to Nantasket Beach to aid in extinguishing a serious fire which was raging at Paragon Park and the immediate neighborhood. Our apparatus went over the road and performed excellent service, assisting very materially in subduing the fire. The above companies were absent from the city approximately ten hours, and on their return immediately went into service in their respective stations. The apparatus was thoroughly inspected on its return and found to be in first class condition.

The Fire Alarm Branch and the Fire Prevention Bureau performed their duties in a satisfactory manner during the month.

Yours very truly,

THEODORE A. GLYNN,
Fire Commissioner.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the laying out and construction of Woodbine road, as a highway, from Centre street to Welch road, under the name of Woodbrier road, West Roxbury.

A highway named Woodbrier road is hereby laid out from Centre street to Welch road, and ordered constructed.

For the making of the aforesaid improvement an easement for street purposes is taken in the following described land exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto.

A rectangular parcel of land, now or formerly owned by Thomas F. Welch, lying between the southeasterly line of Woodbine road and Welch road, containing forty hundred and eighty-five square feet more or less.

The land, owners unknown, running southeasterly from Centre street for a distance of about six hundred feet, now known as Woodbine road.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid described land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

The said highway is bounded and described as follows:

Northwest by Centre street, by two measurements, nineteen and 62-100 feet and twenty-two and 1-100 feet; northeast by the northeasterly line of said Woodbrier road as hereby laid out, by two measurements, six hundred and 43-100 feet and ninety-three and 92-100 feet; southeast by Welch road, forty and 44-100 feet; and southwest by the southwesterly line of said Woodbrier road as hereby laid out, by two measurements, one hundred one and 89-100 feet and five hundred ninety-one and 15-100 feet.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of abutting land on both sides of Woodbrier road, between Centre street and Welch road, will receive benefit or advantage, other than the general advantage to the community, from the improvement herein ordered, each of the particular lots within said limits to the amount respectively set against it herein:

THE POPULATION OF BOSTON.

Mayor Curley addressed the following letter relative to the population of Boston upon the 7th instant:

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
April 7, 1923.

MR. JOHN KOREN, Chairman Statistics Department, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR MR. KOREN.—The press reports Boston as eighth among American cities with a population of 770,400. If my memory serves me right, the last figures obtained showed Boston in excess of 850,000. I would appreciate your taking this matter up at once with a view to correcting it and also submit to me such data as you may have in your possession, with reference to the position Boston would hold in the event of a Greater Boston being established, which would take in the cities and towns within fifteen miles of the State House. In my opinion the greater city would have a population that would put Boston in third place, being only surpassed by New York and Chicago.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Schoolhouse Commissioners to take by eminent domain, upon request of the Board of Street Commissioners, an addition to the lot on which the new intermediate school is to be erected, a certain piece or parcel of land in the William E. Endicott District, Dorchester, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on Blue Hill avenue 300 feet from a tangent point on Blue Hill avenue at the corner of Harvard street and Blue Hill avenue, thence southwesterly by line of Blue Hill avenue 50 feet, thence northwesterly by land of Marcus and Horne 228 feet to Harvard street; thence northeasterly by line of Harvard street 50 feet to land of the City of Boston; thence southeasterly by land of said city 228 feet to the point of beginning; and contains 11,110 square feet of land.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Schoolhouse Commissioners to take by eminent domain, upon request of the Board of Street Commissioners, an addition to the yard of the Martha A. Baker School, for the purpose of erecting thereon an elementary school, a certain piece or parcel of land in the Edmund P. Tileston District, Dorchester, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on Walk Hill street at the southwesterly corner of land of the City of Boston occupied by the Martha A. Baker School, thence northeasterly by land of city 220 feet to Hazleton street, thence southeasterly by line of Hazleton street 182 feet to land of Miller; thence southwesterly by land of Miller 227 feet to Walk Hill street; thence northwesterly by line of Walk Hill street 190 feet to the point of beginning; and contains 40,683 square feet of land.

THE POPULATION OF BOSTON.

Mayor Curley received the following report from John Koren, Chairman of the Statistics Department, with reference to the population of Boston, upon the 9th instant.

"The census dictum that Boston, being credited with only 770,400 population in 1923, has dropped to eighth place among our cities is simply an inference from the incredible allegation that from April 15, 1910, to January 1, 1920, the increase in population in Boston was only 11.55 per cent, which would make it the lowest ten-year rate of increase in the whole century of Boston's existence. In the previous ten years, 1900-10, the increase was 19.56 per cent, which is approximately a normal rate.

The Boston Statistics Department has repeatedly and conclusively shown that the 1920 enumeration in Boston (748,060), which was not handled by the trained state organization that had taken preceding censuses, fell short of the actual total 802,898, as claimed by the department for 1921, pages 224-226, and same publication for 1922, pages 222-223, also Boston Statistics, 1922, pages 7-11.

After careful investigation of the statistical records of the Health, School and Police Departments and the United States Immigration Bureau for the period 1910-20, also noting the increasing demand for houses and apartments beyond the supply, etc., it is evident that the rate of increase in Boston's population was not at the low average shown by the 1920 census of 1.15 per cent per year, but 1.96 per cent.

Therefore the population estimate of the census as of January 1, 1923, namely, 770,400, should be given as 837,026. On the basis of this estimate Boston ranks sixth among the large cities as to population within her very much restricted area, as will be seen from the tabulation below.

If to Boston's population be added that of the cities and towns contiguous, that is, forming one continuous urban community, the total population would be 1,440,226, covering an area of 135.40 square miles. In other words, Boston would then be only second to Philadelphia in point of population. Finally, if one should include in Boston's population all the inhabitants living within Greater Boston, which consists, by common consent, of forty cities and towns, see annexed tabulation, the whole urban complex within fifteen miles of the State House has a population of 1,800,837 on January 1, 1923.

THE MARCH FIRE RECORD.

Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn has filed with the Mayor a report of the fires to which the department responded during the month of March, 1923.

The total number of alarms was 568, consisting of 236 box alarms; 311 still alarms, and 21 automatic alarms. The estimated loss amounted to $141,660.

BOSTON CONSERVATION BUREAU.

The success of the first "Municipal Mass Meeting" for city officials and employees, which was arranged and conducted by the Conservation Bureau the afternoon of March 4, was such as to justify more meetings of the same nature for other employees of the city who were not able to be present at the first meeting.

Therefore his Honor Mayor Curley has approved two more meetings with practically the same program, at both of which he will personally deliver a message.

In order to meet the convenience of the men and women concerned, one meeting will be held on a Sunday afternoon and one will be on a week day evening. A third meeting will be arranged later if there appears to be sufficient interest.

Admission to all the meetings will be by tickets, and for employees of the city exclusively. Tickets for each meeting will be of a different color and only tickets of the proper color will be honored for admission to the meetings.

The dates for the meetings now scheduled are as follows:

Tuesday evening, eight o'clock, April 24.

Sunday afternoon, three o'clock, April 29.

Each "Municipal Mass Meeting" will be held in the new Archbishop John J. Williams Municipal Building, corner of West Brookline street and Shawmut avenue, South End, which has a fine auditorium, seating nearly a thousand people, named Henry L. Higginson Hall.

The program will be practically the same at both meetings, and will be of the same type as the series of indoor "Conservation Rallies" being conducted by the Bureau in various sections of the city for the general public; but the city meetings will include other material especially applicable to those who work for the municipality.

At each meeting there will be a special message from the Mayor, delivered in person. An attractive screen program will include city motion pictures, organ recital, singing by the audience, pithy "silent talks" in the screen applicable to national and local conditions of the day, and the same atmosphere that impressed those who were at the first meeting.

The purpose of this series of meetings is not merely the entertainment of the men and women present. The purpose is constructive and educational in an acceptable way, to the advantage of the city as a whole as well as the advantage of the particular individuals present.

CONSERVATION RALLIES IN APRIL.

The schedule of free public "Conservation Rallies," conducted by the Conservation Bureau during the month of April, is as follows:

Sunday, April 8, 3 p. m., Public Library Lecture Hall.

Tuesday, April 10, 8 p. m., Roxbury School Center.

Thursday, April 12, 8 p. m., Public Library Lecture Hall.

Thursday, April 12, 8 p. m., Municipal Building, West Brookline street.

Sunday, April 22, 3.30 p. m., Public Library Lecture Hall.

Tuesday, April 24, 8 p. m., Municipal Building, West Brookline street, second "Municipal Mass Meeting" for city employees.

Friday, April 27, 8 p. m., Charlestown High School Center.

Sunday, April 29, 3 p. m., Municipal Building, West Brookline street, third "Municipal Mass Meeting" for city employees.

The programs for the neighborhood meetings will include information relative to community and individual health preservation, various forms of municipal service, the spring clean-up campaign, necessity for carefulness on the part of pedestrians and drivers, the latter subject being presented mainly by the new motion picture film entitled "Why are We Careless?" which was produced by the joint efforts of the city and the Boston Elevated Railway Trustees, with the co-operation of the Massachusetts Safety Council and under the supervision of the Conservation Bureau.

Each program is intended to call attention to the good things in Boston and help men and women to think and act along constructive lines for the welfare of the city.

Community singing, including songs concerning Boston, a silent talk on the screen concerning citizenship or other worth while subject, and usually a ten-minute address, are included in the program of each conservation rally.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a taking of land for sewerage works in Nikisch avenue, West Roxbury.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Nikisch avenue, bounded:

Northeast by Beech street, six feet; southeast by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes March 23, 1915, seven hundred eighty-nine and 9-100 feet; southwest by West Roxbury Parkway, six and 89-100 feet, and northwest by another part of Nikisch avenue seven hundred eighty-five and 62-100 feet; containing forty-seven hundred twenty-four square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: One hundred ninety-seven linear feet of 2 feet 3-inch circular concrete surface drain, 93 linear feet of 24-inch pipe, 200 linear feet of 18-inch pipe, 200 linear feet of 15-inch pipe, and 114 linear feet of 12-inch pipe surface drain.

No betterments are to be assessed for the making of the improvement ordered herein.

The Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a taking of land for sewerage works in Moloney street, West Roxbury.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury and are bounded as follows: A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Moloney street, bounded:

Northeast by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown (Montgomery street) eight feet; southeast by another part of Moloney street, one hundred thirty-nine feet; southwest by the same, eight feet; and northwest by the same, one hundred thirty-nine feet; containing eleven hundred and twelve square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Montgomery street, bounded:

Southwest by land hereinbefore described as taken from owners unknown (Montgomery street) eight feet; northwest by another part of Montgomery street, eleven feet; northeast by easement taken for sewerage purposes by the City of Boston in Montgomery street, August 16, 1922, eight feet; and southeast by another part of Montgomery street, eleven feet; containing eighty-eight square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: one hundred fifty linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer, in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Moloney street, leading southwesterly from Montgomery street for a distance of about one hundred thirty-nine feet and part of the private way known as Montgomery street, adjoining Moloney street.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the improvement ordered herein.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lot of abutting land on the northwest side of Moloney street, now or formerly owned by Frances A. Halsted, and the lot of abutting land on the southeast side of Moloney street, now or formerly owned by Mary M. Rogers, will receive benefit or advantage, other than the general advantage to the community, from the improvement ordered herein, each of the particular lots to the amount respectively set against it herein:

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.General Order No. 266.

The resignation of Patrolman Frank P. Fitzpatrick of Division 9 having been presented it is hereby accepted, to take effect Saturday, April 7, 1923, at 7:45 o'clock a. m.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 267.

The resignation of Patrolman Edward F. Barrett of Division 18 having been presented it is hereby accepted, to take effect Monday, April 9, 1923, at 5:45 p. m., seven days' notice waived.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 268.

The commanding officer of Division 8 has called to my attention a meritorious piece of police work performed by Patrolmen John J. Cashman and William E. J. Driscoll of that division.

On April 1, 1923, Patrolmen Cashman and Driscoll were called into a house on Commercial street where two men were lying in an unconscious condition caused by the escape of illuminating gas from an open jet in a gas radiator in the room where they were sleeping. The officers immediately opened all the windows and applied the Schaefer or prone method of resuscitation (continuing it in the ambulance) with such success that one of the men had recovered consciousness and the other, though not conscious, was breathing freely by the time they reached the hospital, where the doctors said their chances of recovery were good. Report has since been received that these men have been dismissed from the hospital as recovered.

I am very much pleased with this excellent police work on the part of Patrolmen Cashman and Driscoll, showing as it does their appreciation and practical understanding of the instructions in the Schaefer method received from this department, and I warmly commend them for the alertness of mind and quickness of action which enabled them to save these two men from almost certain death.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 269.

The following transfer is hereby ordered, to take effect Friday, April 13, 1923, at 7:45 o'clock a. m.:

Patrolman Phillip D. Bullock, from Division 19 to Division 17.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 270.

A trial board consisting of Captains Gallivan, Walkins and Kneeland, having heard by reference complaints against Patrolman Charles F. Reardon of Division 15, charging him with conduct unbecoming an officer in two instances, has reported to the commissioner a finding of not guilty on each complaint. In accordance with which, it is hereby ordered that the complaints against the said Patrolman Charles F. Reardon be dismissed.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 271.

A trial board consisting of Captains Gallivan, Walkins and Kneeland, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Charles F. Reardon of Division 15, charging him with neglect of duty and untruthfulness, reported to the Commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which the said Patrolman Charles F. Reardon was on March 26, 1923, dismissed from the Police Department.

Due notice of such dismissal with the reasons therefor was duly and specifically given in writing on March 26, 1923, to the said Charles F. Reardon.

On the twenty-eighth day of March, 1923, the said Charles F. Reardon, by his attorney, requested in writing a hearing as provided by the General Laws and the Police Commissioner set down Friday, April 6, 1923, at eleven o'clock, a. m., at the office of the Police Commissioner, as the time and place for said hearing and duly notified said Charles F. Reardon, and at the request of the counsel of said Reardon, said hearing was continued to Monday, April 9, 1923, at the same time and place.

Said Charles F. Reardon was present at said time and place with counsel and was heard with his witnesses. Whereupon, after hearing the case, the Police Commissioner found the said Charles F. Reardon guilty as charged, and further found that the said Charles F. Reardon should stand dismissed from the Police Department of the City of Boston.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

BUNKER HILL DAY.

The Charlestown district will enjoy one of the most notable parades in the history of Bunker Hill Day observances is the prediction of Mayor Curley, who announces that two conventions will be held in Boston during that week, the Veterans of Foreign Wars to meet June 15-18 and the National League of Masonic Clubs June 11-16.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will certainly parade in Charlestown, and the Mayor is hopeful of persuading at least a few of the Masonic divisions to remain over another day to take part in the celebration. Grandstands will be erected on the Common, along Tremont street, and probably in Commonwealth avenue for the Masonic parade.

James C. Barry has been chosen as Chief Marshal.

REPORT OF REGISTRY.

City Registrar Edward W. McGlenen has filed with the Mayor an account of the work of the department for the month of March, as follows:

MARCH 5-31, 1923, INCLUSIVE.

Births recorded, 2,440; births indexed, 1,500; parents' slips written, 1,775; marriages recorded, 911; marriage cards written, 1,032; marriage licenses written, 732; deaths recorded, 741; deaths indexed, 1,200; certified copies of births, marriages and deaths issued, 872.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.FIRE DEPARTMENT.

An extension of time has been granted for the completion of contract made with the C. & R. Construction Company for the work at the quarters of Engine Company 7, East street, city proper, for a period of sixty days. The work has been pushed as rapidly as possible under the contract, but due to weather conditions and trouble in getting materials at the work the contractor has been delayed.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewerage Works).

An extension of time has been granted for completion of contract made with Michael D. Russo, for building sewerage works in Public Alley No. 711, between Waltham and Hanson streets, South End, from April 7, 1923, to May 21, 1923, forty-four days. This extension of time is occasioned by the inclement weather.

PERMITS APPROVED.

The Mayor has approved the following petitions received from the Board of Street Commissioners:

Edison Electric Illuminating Company, Brown avenue, Ward 23, erect two poles.

Edison Electric Illuminating Company and New England Telegraph and Telegraph Company, Trenton street, Ward 1, erect three poles.

Edison Electric Illuminating Company, East Sixth street, Ward 10, erect two poles.

Edison Electric Illuminating Company and New England Telegraph and Telegraph Company, Thornton street, Ward 13, erect three poles.

New England Telegraph and Telegraph Company, Trenton street, Ward 1, erect six poles.

New England Telegraph and Telegraph Company, Emmons street, Ward 2, erect three poles.

John C. Hansen, G street, etc., Ward 10, stretch wire.

Donovan Motor Car Company, Cummington street, Ward 8, stretch wires (temporary).

A. W. Grauss, Hereford street, Ward 8, stretch wire.

MINIMUM RATE OF PENSION.

Mayor Curley appeared before the House Committee on Counties upon the 11th instant in support of a bill reported favorably by the Joint Committee on Social Welfare, providing that employees of the city who have seen fifteen years' service shall receive an allowance of $480 a year upon retirement. Under an act passed last year some of the retirement allowances are below this figure and the present bill, Mayor Curley said, is to establish a minimum allowance of $480.

Those who spoke in favor of the bill were: F. J. Dowd, president of the Federation of State, City and Town Employees; Thomas L. Hanna, representing the City Employees' Union; and Albert H. Regan, representing Joint Teamsters' Local 149, affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs and Helpers. There was no opposition.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Schoolhouse Commissioners to take by eminent domain, upon request of the Board of Street Commissioners, an addition to the lot on which the intermediate school is being erected, a certain piece or parcel of land in the Charles Sumner District, West Roxbury, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the southerly corner of Poplar and Florence streets, thence easterly by line of Florence street 120 feet to land of Whittemore; thence southerly by land of Whittemore 208 feet to land of city; thence westerly by land of city 115 feet to Poplar street; thence northerly by line of Poplar street 252 feet to the point of beginning, and contains 24,666 square feet of land.

MOTHERS' PENSIONS.("The National Digest")

Laws authorizing the distribution of mothers' pensions have been adopted in thirty-nine states and in the territories of Alaska and Hawaii. In five other states bills for the same purpose are under consideration with promise of early action. In view of the fact that the earliest laws providing for mothers' pensions were only passed in 1911 the growth of the practice throughout the country is remarkable. In several states such pensions are even distributed to grandmothers, stepmothers and other female relatives, guardians, and even unmarried mothers, while in at least one state, Colorado, even fathers are included in the general phrase "any parent."

The extent to which such pensions are distributed today will come to many people as a surprise. It is significant that this great system of distribution is directed wholly by individual states without federal control or influence. The mothers' pension laws are in striking contrast to those affecting child labor. The laws in force today in thirty-nine states are very similar and are based upon the same general theory. Their main purpose is to prevent the breaking up of the home.

Although mothers' pension laws have been so generally adopted, it is generally conceded that the practice is still in its experimental stage. There is today a surprisingly wide variation in the laws in the various states, and these are, besides, subject to frequent changes. The most enthusiastic supporters of the movement are dissatisfied with the present situation. In all parts of the country they may be said to be feeling their way to a more effective method. In time it is believed the present system will be replaced in large measure by a democratic scheme of social insurance.

There is a wide difference of opinion in various states at present as to the maximum age at which allowance should be made. The allowance of money, again, varies in different parts of the country and is constantly changing. There is, besides, much discussion at present as to who should distribute such pension—whether the work can be most effectively carried on by the state, municipal or private organizations. These problems meanwhile are being worked out in the various states without federal assistance or direction.

The distinction of being the first state to establish mothers' pensions belongs to Missouri, and in fact to Jackson county, in that state, in which Kansas City is situated. A law which became effective in June, 1911, provided that pensions be paid to all mothers "whose husbands are dead or prisoners, when such mothers are poor and have a child, or children under the age of fourteen years." In the same year Illinois passed a funds to parents act. Within a decade similar legislation had been enacted in more than 50 per cent of the states.

The purpose underlying all mothers' pension laws is to afford aid and at the same time keep the home unbroken. In cases where the natural breadwinner of the family is removed and a family has been reduced to want, it was previously the custom to care for dependents in various institutions. A more intelligent and sympathetic plan is to keep children under a mother's care and allow them to develop in a home atmosphere. Under such a system no child is allowed to suffer for want of home influence on account of poverty alone.

One of the most serious problems confronting the movement today is to assure effective and uniform administration of the mothers' pension laws. The laws have been enacted in many states without any attempt at uniformity. Naturally, great inequalities occur. It often happens that not only are the laws of neighboring states in conflict, but even those of different sections of the same state. The enactment of such laws, again, has often been so rapid that the machinery for investigating conditions and distributing the pensions are inefficient. The increase in the cost of living in the past few years has, besides, complicated the situation.

The pension laws vary widely at present in regard to the amount of money granted to a mother for each child. There is a strong sentiment throughout the country, however, everywhere to materially increase such pensions. There is, again, great difference of opinion as to the length of residence of a family and citizenship necessary to qualify for a pension. The maximum age up to which a child may be provided for, varies considerably, although the general tendency is to raise this age limit. There is everywhere a determined movement to increase standards to insure decent family conditions and to keep the children as long as possible under the influence of their homes.

Some surprising statistics have been gathered lately proving the beneficial results of mothers' pensions upon child delinquency and crime. It has been found that about 15 per cent of all delinquent children come from families where the father is dead and the mother is a wage earner. In cases where the mother has received a pension it has been found that less than 2 per cent of the children become delinquents or truants. The mothers' pension law has proved an excellent investment merely considered in a monetary sense, in reducing the cost of running criminal institutions.

At the beginning of the present year the smallest pension paid to mothers in any state for a single child was $10 a month and the highest $25 a month. The average pension, taking the thirty-nine states in which pensions are now paid, is a fraction less than $15 a month for the child which comes under the law. The pension allowed for each additional child also varies from $5 to $15 a month. The average for the entire country is about $8.50. Many of the states fix a maximum sum which any mother may receive, varying from $40 to $60. In several states there is no such restriction, and the amount is left to the discretion of the commissioners.

The maximum age limit for children who thus draw pensions for their mothers is in some cases as low as twelve years and never more than sixteen years. The average for the country will be a trifle over fifteen years. In every state there are residence and dowry restrictions. In some instances such pensions are granted to unmarried mothers. As a rule, the recipient must be widowed, divorced or deserted to qualify to claim such pension.

The laws governing mothers' pensions in New York are considered models of their kind. Pensions are here granted to widows having children under sixteen years of age in cases where the widows have been residents of the city or county for two years prior to the date of application and whose husbands were residents of the state at the time of their death, and were citizens or else had declared intention to become citizens within the period of two years immediately preceding their decease, and whose children were born in the United States. Pensions are also granted to mothers whose husbands are inmates of state institutions. The amount of these pensions may not exceed the sum necessary to keep up a child in an institution. The pensions are administered by the local board of child welfare.

A FINE CIVIC CENTER.

(Boston Transcript.)

The City of Boston and all its people are to be congratulated on the beautiful new municipal building which was dedicated at Shawmut avenue and West Brookline street. It is appropriate that a building which is to be a civic center, a place of public assembly and a scene of recreation for the young, should have been designed on the lines of classic beauty, and should even in its outward form, as will be the case with this structure, serve as an inspiration to the rising generation and to generations yet unborn. Such buildings, with their opportunities for pure and helpful amusements, for community assemblies and for acquaintanceship among citizens, may well be regarded as taking the place of the endless temples and fora which were scattered through ancient Rome.

There was particular appropriateness in the tributes which were paid at the opening ceremony at this building yesterday to two citizens of Boston who now are gone—to Archbishop John J. Williams and to Major Henry L. Higginson, in whose honor the large auditorium of the building is named. Archbishop Williams, born in Boston in 1822, when there were but a handful of Catholics and only two priests of that church in the city, saw the Catholic population increase to upwards of 350,000, and its houses of worship become more numerous than those of any other religious communion. And throughout the long period of his shepherdship of his growing flock here, he retained the earnest affection and confidence of Bostonians of every shade of belief. As a citizen he was worthy of all honor. What Major Henry L. Higginson did for the people of Boston does not need to be told now. The union of the two names at the same ceremony was a happy incident and augury.

HYDE PARK TRANSIT.

Corporation Counsel E. Mark Sullivan advised the Legislative Committee on Ways and Means, upon the 12th instant, that the City of Boston is prepared to take over the street railway lines of the Eastern Massachusetts Company in Hyde Park and lease them to the Boston Elevated in order that the residents of that section of the city may have improved transportation.

He said all parties concerned are now agreed on the procedure, but have not agreed upon the price to be paid. Mr. Sullivan declared the Public Utilities Commission has placed a value of $290,000 on the property and that the city has offered $315,000, but the trustees claim more.

Mr. Sullivan said the question of the price to be paid is to be decided by a jury, drawn either in Suffolk, Middlesex or Norfolk Counties, if the trustees and city representatives cannot agree.

For several years the residents of Hyde Park have been fighting for a single fare, and if the proposed plan becomes effective, one fare will be established.

HONOR TO FATHER LYNCH.

Rev. Dennis J. Lynch of St. Leo's Church, Dorchester, who is the spiritual advisor for more than half the men of the Boston Fire Department, was the guest of officers and men of Engines 7 and 25 and Ladder 8, which are located at the Fort Hill Square Station.

Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn, Chief John O. Taber and Deputy Chief Edward J. Shallow were in charge, and the most surprised man in the city was Rev. Father Lynch when Commissioner Glynn pinned upon his coat a solid gold fire badge.

In order to show their appreciation of Father Lynch's constant assistance, the crews of these three companies appointed a committee consisting of Daniel J. Looney, Engine 7; John Allen, Engine 25, and Edward J. Power, Ladder 8, to devise a way to pay honor.

Among the speakers were Commissioner Glynn, Chief John O. Taber, Father Maurice Flynn of St. Patrick's Church, chaplain for the fire fighters in the Roxbury district; District Chiefs C. J. O'Brien and Albert J. Caulfield and Chief Constable Matthew Cavanaugh of the Boston Fire Department.

INDORSEMENT OF MAYOR.

The wage agreement submitted by Mayor Curley for the employees and employers in the building trades of Boston has been accepted by 1,800 painters of the city.

Four unions had voted to go on strike unless the Building Trades Employers' Association granted their demands for $112½ per hour. The strike was deferred for a week. The vote honoring Mayor Curley's agreement cancels the strike vote.

The wage rate in the Mayor's agreement calls for an immediate increase of 5 cents per hour and an additional increase of 5 cents on July 1. The wage committee of the painters was instructed to get a conference with the employers and sign the agreement. The contract runs for two years.

TOTAL MONEY IN CIRCULATION IN UNITED STATES.

According to United States Treasurer's statement the maximum was in 1920, viz., $6,087,555,000 or $57.20 per capita, declining in 1921 to $53.42 per capita. In 1915 the per capita figures were $35.42 (approx.); in 1910, $33.32; in 1905, $31.01; in 1900, $26.92. In 1920 the amount of all money in circulation and in U. S. Treasury was $7,894,498,000, of which $4,672,821,000 was United States notes and bank-notes and $3,221,676,000 coin and bullion. The life of a $5 note averages about 10 months. The work of keeping the paper currency in good condition is done by the Federal Reserve Banks, which issue new notes to replace all outworn.

PUBLIC DEBT FOR PRESENT YEAR.

Gross funded debt, February 1, 1922, $124,700,951 (including $340,000 issued by State for enlargement of Court House); sinking funds, $43,456,081; other redemption means, $1,331,859; net debt, $79,913,011 (i. e., $4,657,166 less than in 1918), of which total $46,993,817, or 58.81 per cent was City Debt, $31,189,070 or 39.03 per cent Rapid Transit debt (representing 43 per cent investment); $1,432,124 or 1.79 per cent County debt and $298,000 or 0.37 per cent Water debt.

Net debt per capita $96.39 (approx.); net debt exclusive of Rapid Transit debt, $18,723,941 or $58.77 per capita, which is $15.70 less per capita than in 1916. Loans authorized but not issued (within debt limit), $2,662,500; same outside of debt limit, $1,931,000.

In the fiscal year 1921-22, the net City debt was increased by $444,852, the net Rapid Transit debt by $13,080 and the net County debt by $91,153. The net Water debt was decreased by $16,000.

Total debt contracted, $5,469,500; total debt paid, $4,880,900; total increase of gross debt, $588,600; of net debt, $533,086.

Total debt incurred in the ten years 1912 to 1921 inclusive, $51,161,350, of which $19,220,000 or 37.57 per cent was Rapid Transit debt (i. e., investment debt).

Total amount of debt incurred by the City in the 100 years since its incorporation (in 1822), $272,257,638, of which more than half (i. e. 52.74 per cent) was added in the last 25 years, 18.79 per cent in last 10 years. From 1822 to 1870 the amount borrowed was $24,916,010 or a yearly average of $494,017. From 1870 to 1920 the total borrowed was $230,253,427 or a yearly average of $4,605,068. The maximum for a 10-year period was from 1896 to 1905, when the yearly average was $7,188,493. Yearly average for last 10 years, $5,116,135; for last 5 years, $3,606,940.

No other large city has been subjected to such a drastic reduction of debt-incurring power.

Following is a memorandum of the work done by the Bridge and Ferry Division:

BRIDGE SERVICE.

Beacon Street Bridge, over Boston and Albany Railroad.—Some shop drawings have been received and checked for the steel work of this bridge.

Cambridge Street Bridge, Allston.—The steel work is nearly all fabricated and erection will begin around the first of April.

Chelsea Bridge, South.—The contractor for the substructure has done about all that can be done at present. Steel for the superstructure is being fabricated in the shop although not all of it has yet been delivered.

Dartmouth Street Bridge.—A petition has been made to the Public Utilities Commission for a decision as to the necessity for rebuilding and a hearing will be held on the matter in April.

Northern Avenue Bridge.—The contract for the new air compressor has been completed and the machine has been doing considerable work.

Garbage Dumps.—The contract for repairs to the garbage dumps at Fort Hill Wharf, Albany street and South street, is about 90 per cent completed.

The Day Labor Force of the Bridge Service has been engaged in repairing the under plank and sheathing on the southerly side of Beacon Street Bridge, over the Boston and Albany Railroad, patching under plank and top plank on Boylston Street Bridge, Blue Hill Avenue Bridge, and has been engaged in laying top plank on Charlestown Draw Span, Chelsea South Roadway and Summer Street Draw Span; also painted the shelter houses at Summer Street Draw Span and repaired the roadway gates of Dorchester Avenue Draw Span and Warren Bridge Draw Span.

FERRIES.

The contractor for the foundations for the ferry bridges has been making slow progress on account of the weather. The piling has all been driven and some of the forms for the concrete set up.

The contract for the bulkhead at the South Ferry, East Boston side has been completed.

A contract was advertised for putting barrier chains on the ferryboats "John H. Sullivan" and "General Sumner."

Under the contract for the ferry bridges proper some of the steel has been delivered to the shop of the contractor and some fabrication done.

The ferryboat "Noddle Island" collided with an unknown obstruction and did considerable damage to the rudder and steering apparatus. The boat was placed in the dry dock and work started immediately on the repairs. It is expected that the work will be completed shortly.

The day labor force did some electrical work, preparing the ferry houses for the underground wiring that will be required on the East Boston side. The rest of the work was chiefly routine work. The canvass roofs of the ferryboats "Noddle Island" and "General Sumner" were painted to make them water tight.

NO EXCESS IN DANCING.

Mayor Curley has prohibited non-stop dance record competitions in Boston.

VISIT OF CZECHO-SLOVAKIA CHILDREN.

Mayor Curley has appointed a committee to receive the group of thirty-five children from Czechoslovakia when they arrive in Boston, Monday, May 21. The children are now making a tour of the United States as guests of the American Junior Red Cross. They come from the Bakule School in Prague, which has been largely supported by American children of the Junior Red Cross, starting as a phase of the after-war activities of that organization in Europe. The present visit of the group of children is a recognition of the efforts from this country in their aid.

The City of Boston will extend an official welcome at City Hall on Monday, May 21, after which the children will be taken for a ride through the parks and to several points of interest.

The children are to include in their tour of the United States, during April and May, the giving of a public concert in each city visited including Boston, to illustrate some of the interested features of life in their country whose government was inspired by and modeled upon that of the United States, where President Masaryk secured his inspiration. While in Boston the children will come in personal and group contact with school children as well as with other features of our daily life and customs. The children will be the guests of the Junior Red Cross while in the United States and they will be accompanied by Director Bakule and members of the school faculty.

The reception committee appointed by Mayor Curley is as follows:

Chairman, Otto Fleishner; Secretary, Miss E. M. Herlihy; Director, E. B. Mero; Capt. David J. Brickley, Frank Chouteau Brown, Charles Brown, Jeremiah E. Burke, Judge Frederick P. Cabot, E. H. Chandler, Dr. Francis E. Clark, Miss Lotta A. Clark, Rev. Arthur T. Connolly, Miss Frances G. Curtis, Mrs. George S. Derby, Dr. John Dixwell, A. Lincoln Filene, Theodore F. Florian, Allan Forbes, W. Cameron Forbes, Charles R. Foresman, Victor A. Heath, Rev. A. F. Hickey, Mrs. Roland G. Hopkins, Daniel J. Kane, John J. Keenan, Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, Frank Leveroni, Rabbi Harry Levy, Myron P. Lewis, J. Philip O'Connell, William Cardinal O'Connell, Rev. George P. O'Connor, James H. Phelan, Vojtech Preissig, Mrs. William L. Putnam, Mrs. Louis Rosenbaum, Dr. D. D. Scannell, James B. Shea, Mrs. Francis E. Slattery, Frederic J. Snyder, Mrs. James J. Storrow, James J. Storrow, E. Mark Sullivan, Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, Dr. G. W. Tupper, Edward Sohler Welch, and Jasper Whiting.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Mayor Curley appeared before the Legislative Committee on Municipal Finance upon the 14th instant and said that a three-year program for construction of new school buildings in Boston, has been agreed upon, but that $10,500,000 would be sufficient to carry the work through, instead of $11,939,000 requested by the school authorities. Mayor Curley said an agreement was reached at a conference of the City Solicitor, City Auditor and chairman of the School Committee at his office.

PATRIOTS AND PROFESSORS.

MAYOR CURLEY VIGOROUSLY ASSAILS INSTITUTIONS IN COUNTRY WHICH SEEK TO MINIMIZE CONTRIBUTION TO HUMAN PROGRESS BY PILGRIMS AND PURITANS, DURING ADDRESS BEFORE KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS IN CELEBRATION OF PATRIOTS' DAY WITH BANQUET AT COPLEY PLAZA.

In his address he said:

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts through his Excellency the Governor participated for the first time with the City of Boston in the observance of Patriots' Day. This action by his Excellency was both timely and welcome. In view of the deliberate attempts by certain so-called intellectuals to minimize the splendid contribution to human progress made by the Pilgrims and Puritans who served and sacrificed in the settlement of America and the efforts of patriotic men and women of another generation to establish here free government, postmortems as to the frailties of the early settlers and the later sturdy band of men who gave to the world the American Republic, are as distasteful as unnecessary, results alone count.

The character of doctrine disseminated by that vicious un-American organization known as the Loyal Coalition through its leader, the former fake stock jobber and tontorial artist who now styles himself Prof. E. F. Farnsworth, is as dangerous as the mouthings of that historical soldier of fortune, Prof. Alfred Bushnell Hart of Harvard.

The activities of the former are today centered in an attempt to weaken the most important fundamental of our Constitution, the guaranty of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness without regard to race, creed or color; while the energies of the latter are being directed toward weakening the national fiber of America by discrediting the founders of the Republic by mean and unwarranted attacks on the character and conduct of the Puritan and Pilgrim.

It must be apparent to every thoughtful citizen that there is method in these persistent and sinister efforts to destroy the patriotic spirit, shatter the historic pride and weaken the moral fiber of the American nation, by holding up to ridicule and contempt the men who made possible the creation of the American Republic.

Until such time as there has been established in this world a better government than our own no man is justified in condemning the Republic under which we live and whose establishment was the fruitage of the seed sown by the patriotic men and women of earlier days.

In time of war we imprison men for reasonable utterances; and in view of the character and intent of recent deliverances it might not be bad policy to invoke and apply the law in days of peace. The spirit of nationalism which prompted France to sacrifice service and suffering during the World War would have been impossible had the nation been persistently fed on the frailties of Napoleon and his family and had the blood, tears and ruin of his wars been emphasized to the exclusion of the great things accomplished for France by Bonaparte and his armies.

England does not flaunt the moral weaknesses of Nelson who established her naval supremacy in the Napoleonic era, nor does she harp upon the cruelty, outrage and carnage that marked her efforts to subjugate the weak nations she conquered. She never destroys her national illusions; she fosters them. Germany in her system of education taught her people that devotion to the greatness and glory of the Fatherland was the aim and end of it; and not the subordination of her people to the plans and ambitions of a military autocracy. To teach our children that our national heroes are unworthy of our honor is a folly that results make intolerable. To minimize the virtues and emphasize the frailties of our great ones is a species of treason and in time produces national disaster.

The leaders of American life from colonial days down have been singularly free from the moral weaknesses that have marked the characters of many of the great men of England and France; and in the extension of her national domain American arms have been free from the excesses common to European militarism. Wherever the American flag has been raised it was a guaranty of better and nobler conditions and an assurance that equality, opportunity, justice and liberty could live and thrive in its shadow.

What America needs is unity in all the nobler purposes that are American and freedom from the destructive hatreds and inheritances of Europe, that the American nation may be a glorious reality. That is the America the founders and fathers prayed for, fought for and for the realization of which so many died for; and this splendid ideal is not the America desired by the Loyal Coalition, which seeks a condition where the hand of one American is raised against that of his brother because of the accident of birth which is the deciding factors in race and religion; and that is not the America of Professor Hart, whose pen and personality are critical, Pecksniffian, defamatory and unpatriotic. Writing in the New York Times Professor Hart declares "It is clearly established that in the midst of the Puritan communities there was much drunkenness, dissipation, debauchery and uncleanness."

Well! What of it? These evidences of human weakness are to be found in all communities; they are not peculiar to the Puritan. The average Puritan never claimed to be an angel free from sin. Read the daily press of today and you will conclude that the Puritan, while he lacked telephones, motors, trolleys and movies, had a goodly supply of solid virtues and graces that are none too common today.

He loved liberty and independence; he feared God and obeyed the laws; he was not afraid of work and sweat; and when the time came to tell the king of England what he thought he shouldered his musket and went out and did the job without being conscripted and finger-printed, and without getting lessons in patriotism and fighting from college professors, four-minute orators and swivel-chair generals.

The Puritan did a man's share in making this American Republic; what we have and what we are owe to him and his kind; and ordinary patriotism and gratitude should lead us to forget his frailties which were human, and remember only the splendid things he did for the world and humanity.

America is tired of the professor and his pin pricks. Washington, Adams, Hancock, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln and the other heroes of our land were men, great men, men who did big things; they drank the bitterness of defeat and suffering but refused to be discouraged, or dismayed, until America might be free and independent and government of the people, for the people, by the people, might be established on earth and passed on to us.

Let us thank God that from Washington to Lincoln our great ones were human beings, not professors; let us teach our children that the Puritans were men of courage and faith, who accomplished great things; let us remember their virtues which bulked big and forget their weaknesses which merely demonstrated their common humanity; and let us never forget that to them and the leaders we place on the high altars of the Temple of Liberty we owe the homes and happiness, the freedom and felicity, the peace and prosperity we enjoy today.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

BOSTON SANATORIUM.

Upon April 14 the Mayor approved the work of alteration and repair upon the out-patient building of the Boston Sanatorium, 48 Rutland street, South End. A communication from Secretary James J. Minot of the Board of Trustees was as follows:

BOSTON, April 14, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—In order to carry on the alterations and repairs at 48 Rutland street so that the building may be used for the out-patient department, it will be necessary to expend an amount in excess of $1,000. The trustees of the Boston Sanatorium request your approval to do this without advertising.

Yours very truly,

JAMES J. MINOT,
Secretary.

PRINTING DEPARTMENT.

Upon April 17 the Mayor approved a contract with the Lanston Monotype Machine Company for replacing seven monotype casting machines. A communication from Superintendent William J. Casey of the Printing Department was as follows:

BOSTON, April 16, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—Your Honor's permission and approval is respectfully requested to award to the Lanston Monotype Machine Company, without advertising, a contract for replacing seven (7) old monotype casting machines with seven (7) new ones of the latest model and to allow us in exchange for the old ones. The total amount of the contract will be $12,950 plus freight. This item of expense has been provided for in the budget.

The Lanston Monotype Machine Company are the manufacturers and sole selling agents for the Lanston Monotype casting machine. The cost of each new machine is $3,050.

The seven (7) machines which we propose to exchange have been installed in this office for over fifteen years and aside from being antiquated, they are in very poor mechanical condition and their immediate exchange is urgent and necessary.

About April 20 we will commence composition on the police list, which is one of the largest jobs the department executes, and it is hoped that we may be able to arrange to have the new machines installed in time to start this important piece of work.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM J. CASEY,
Superintendent.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon April 14 the Mayor approved a contract with Charles Umana for building artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works, was as follows:

BOSTON, April 12, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—Permission to award contracts for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Charles Umana, 69 Cottage street, East Boston; Michael Dello Russo, 43 Tremont street, city, and David H. Burns, 64 Park street, Arlington, is hereby requested on the ground that these contractors are not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon April 18 the Mayor approved a contract with Jeremiah J. McCarthy for building artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

BOSTON, April 16, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Jeremiah J. McCarthy, 121 Boston street, South Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Bridge Service).

Upon April 14 the Mayor approved the laying of new plankung upon the Summer Street Bridge, over Fort Point channel, city proper. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works, was as follows:

Boston, April 11, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—Authority is requested to lay new under plank and top plank upon Summer Street Bridge, over Fort Point channel, also some stringers, work to be done by the department force of this division, without inviting proposals therefor by advertisement, the estimated cost for labor and material being $5,000. This is regular maintenance work and, in my opinion, can be as advantageously done by day labor methods as any work now necessary.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE.

Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon April 14 the Mayor approved a contract with the Linscott Motor Company for furnishing two Reo speed wagons chasses to the Park Department. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department, was as follows:

Boston, April 13, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Linscott Motor Company for furnishing to the Park Department: Two Reo speed wagons chasses with wind shields attached at a price of $1,355 per chassis, delivered in Boston, $2,710; less allowance on Ford trucks Nos. 14 and 15 at $105 each, $210; total amount of contract, $2,500. These speed wagons best meet the needs of the Park Department, and for this reason I trust the permission requested will be granted.

Yours respectfully,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon April 14 the Mayor approved a contract with the Fitzhenry Guptill Company for furnishing a power sprayer to the Park Department. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department, was as follows:

Boston, April 13, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without advertising, to the Fitzhenry Guptill Company for furnishing to the Park Department: One Standard "A" power sprayer, l. o. b. Boston, $2,250; power sprayer, old Fitzhenry Guptill sprayer, $400; net amount of contract, $1,850. This particular type of sprayer has given the Park Department satisfaction and for this reason the request is made.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Water Service.)

An extension of time has been granted for completion of contract made with William Barrett & Co. for furnishing and laying 42-inch steel pipe and laying 42-inch cast-iron pipe in Beacon street, under the Boston & Albany Railroad tracks, from February 1, 1923, to May 1, 1923. Adverse weather conditions prevented the contractor working during the month of January as he had anticipated.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with the Pitometer Company for a water waste survey of low service system of the city proper and Dorchester districts and of high service system of West Roxbury from February 1 to May 1, 1923. This request is made due to the fact that a break in the 48-inch main in Beacon street at Boston & Albany Railroad Bridge early in December made it inadvisable to allow the contractor to shut down and test the other larger supply mains entering Boston due to the danger of reducing the pressure far below the normal rate to satisfy the needs of the city.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with M. De Sisto Company for relaying and laying water pipes in Seacota street and Butler street, from January 1 to May 15, 1923. Adverse weather conditions prevented the contractor working during the months of January, February and March.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

An extension of time has been granted for the completion of contract made with the J. Slotnik Company for the erection and completion of an assembly hall addition to the William L. Garrison School, Hutchins and Brookledge Streets, Roxbury, until August 21, 1923.

APPEALS FOR NEAR EAST AID.

Mayor Curley has issued the following proclamation for Near East Relief:

"The President of the United States in his proclamation for the relief of the suffering in the Near East has pointed out the almost unbelievable conditions existing among thousands of deported orphans and refugees, the latter old women and little children, who are huddled on the bleak shores of the Aegean Sea, slowly dying of exposure.

"These conditions having been brought to my attention in all their misery, I am moved to make an additional appeal to the citizens of Greater Boston for old clothing to help relieve in a measure some of this great distress.

"I am convinced that the cast-off garments from Greater Boston will save thousands of these needy ones. Any clothing thus received will be distributed by the Near East Relief who are on the ground, designated for that work by Congress. I therefore appeal to the citizens of our city to look through their wardrobes and attics and select such garments as they can spare and bring the same to the fire station nearest their residence. All these stations throughout the various sections of this city will be used as collection depots for the reception of bundles to help this worthy cause.

"I further set forth Monday, the 30th of April, as Bundle Day in Greater Boston for the Near East Relief.

"That the citizens of Greater Boston be generous in their response to this crying appeal is my hope."

PUBLIC LIBRARY MEETING.

A free public meeting with motion pictures, welfare and citizenship information will be held in the Lecture Hall of the Boston Public Library, Sunday afternoon, April 22, at 3.30 o'clock. The meeting will be under the direction of the City of Boston Conservation Bureau.

Besides the visual lecture portion of the program, Judge Frank Leveroni will verbally amplify a motion picture presentation of the opportunities afforded to citizens by municipalities.

Community singing of patriotic and other familiar songs, with song leader and pianist, will be a feature of the program.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION.

Building Commissioner John H. Mahony will attend the Building Officials Conference to be held at Toledo, Ohio, April 24, 1923. This conference includes most of the building commissioners of the United States. The building codes and methods of construction will be fully discussed.

BUILDINGS TO BE RAZED.

The Mayor has approved the request of Building Commissioner John H. Mahony to take down building located at rear of 46 Bennington street, Ward 2. The owner, A. M. Greenblatt of 400 Boylston street, Boston, has been served with a notice but neglects to remove the cause of complaint. The building is in such a condition as to constitute a fire menace and a nuisance.

Also the request of Building Commissioner John H. Mahony to take down building located at 35 Parker street, Ward 3. The owner, William O. Belnap of South Royalton, Vt., has been served with a notice but neglects to remove the cause of complaint. The building is in such a condition as to constitute a fire menace and a nuisance.

Also the request of Building Commissioner John H. Mahony to take down building located at 4 Cambridge Street avenue, Ward 5. The owner, Hannah Lissner of 101 Washington street, Brighton, has been served with a notice but neglects to remove the cause of complaint. The building is in such a condition as to constitute a fire menace and a nuisance.

Also the request of Building Commissioner John H. Mahony to take down building located at rear of 122 Buttonwood street, Ward 11. The owner, George V. Wattendorf of 716 Columbia road, has been served with a notice but neglects to remove the cause of complaint. The building is in such a condition as to constitute a fire menace and a nuisance.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 272.

A trial bond, consisting of Captains Dailey, McConnell and Mason, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman John M. Sullivan of Division 3, charging him with conduct unbecoming an officer, reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which the said Patrolman John M. Sullivan was on April 13, 1923, dismissed from the Police Department.

Due notice of such dismissal with the reason therefor was duly and specifically given in writing on April 13, 1923, to the said John M. Sullivan.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE.

Mayor Curley, Miss Mary A. Barr, acting chairman and Miss Elisabeth M. Herlihy, secretary of the City Planning Board will attend the fifteenth National Conference on City Planning at the Southern Hotel, Baltimore, Md., on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 30-May 2, 1923.

The Baltimore Committee in charge of the conference is: Joseph W. Shirley, chairman; Jefferson C. Grinnalls, assistant chairman, and William W. Emmart, Gustav J. Ruardt, William M. Suero, Henry M. Lucius, William M. Elliott, Ezra B. Whitman, Mrs. Edward Shoemaker and Edward J. Hecker.

It is not necessary to say that City Planning is now universally acknowledged to be a subject of vital interest to the whole civilized world. The rapid and constant increase in the population of cities and the new cities that seem to spring up into full-grown existence almost overnight, make it more emphatic than ever that men must look ahead and keep clear in their minds a definite conception of what a city is likely to be a hundred years hence and then make their plans accordingly.

This does not apply to new cities only. Many old cities of considerable size must be critically examined and planned out to a certain extent afresh before they have grown too large. Many buildings which are of some value must be demolished and all the previous work thrown away where they are an obstruction to the sanitary and economic development of a greater and more perfect city.

All kindred matters will be fully discussed at this conference by the most vigilant and painstaking students of these problems. The volume of proceedings will be a valuable synopsis of the latest thought and will be treasured not only in America but in Europe, Africa, Australia, and in fact, throughout the whole civilized world, but particularly in France and Belgium, where there is much activity in collecting and arranging all manner of books and papers on subjects relating to the building up of towns which have been destroyed during the war or the planning of new towns to take their place.

RUBBER PAVING.

Mayor Curley has practically decided to give rubber pavement a trial upon the four streets bounding the City Hospital, 818 Harrison avenue, South End.

He has requested Chairman John H. L. Noyes of the Street Commission to query London and Paris city officials as to the wearing qualities of rubber paving as proved in those municipalities.

Chairman Noyes has heard it claimed that the world's first rubber-paved street is in Highgate, a London borough, and that the cost of repairs to it since 1879, when it was laid, have been negligible.

BOSTON, THE NORTHEASTERN AIRPORT.

By HON. JAMES M. CURLEY, MAYOR OF BOSTON.

("Aeronautical Digest.")

One of the most prominent landmarks for sailors nearing the northeastern Atlantic Coast, is the Custom House Tower of Boston. This magnificent granite obelisk is indicative of the importance of Boston as a commercial gateway of the United States. It is the trade terminus of New England and points west. As a matter of fact, Boston from the beginning has maintained a strategic position in the commercial life of the country. From it radiate steamship lines to all parts of the world and to it congregate railroad lines representing the various systems of transportation tapping the industrial areas of the East and the agricultural resources of the West.

In consequence of this commercial position, Boston, of necessity, has been called upon to provide enormous railroad terminal facilities with thousands of acres of freight handling yards and two enormous union passenger stations. Moreover, to accommodate its great steamship lines, Boston and the Commonwealth have contributed hundreds of millions of dollars to provide port facilities, including dry docks and wharfage areas of tremendous extent. The largest steamships in the world can find accommodation in Boston's seaport.

The United States Government, because of the strategic location of the city and its sheltering ports, here maintains one of its largest navy yards with shipbuilding plants equipped with the most complete machinery. In addition, for the further utilization of Boston as a seaport, the Cape Cod Canal was built and placed in commission. As an industrial focal point the city is a contributing factor to the prosperity and welfare of the nation.

A new factor now arises which demands the attention of the city authorities, one which presses for an immediate solution. I refer to the new system of transportation depending upon air navigation, or commercial aviation. Facilities must be provided for air terminals in all forward looking communities throughout the country, but more especially in Boston, which is the logical airport for the northeast. As a winter airport for trans-Atlantic travel, Boston is the northernmost gateway.

Not only in the commercial sense is Boston an important city for the concentration of aeronautical activities, but it is a location of paramount importance in the national defense. So much so, that the army has made Boston the headquarters of the First Corps Area under the military defense reorganization of the country. Consequently, the air force officer of the First Corps Area has his headquarters in Boston, and, in time of national emergency, jeopardizing the industrial section of the country, a great concentration of army and navy air service squadrons will take place in and about Boston. In recognition of this fact, the National Aeronautic Association of U. S. A. has placed the headquarters of its First District in Boston, where it can co-operate with the army and navy in assisting in the great work of building up an aerial reserve for both branches of these defensive arms.

Boston is doing its share in providing for the expansion of commercial, military, and naval aviation and has practically completed, in East Boston, what is known as the "Boston Airport," providing landing facilities for airplanes, seaplanes, and lighter-than-air craft.

Civic interest in this matter has been gratifying. The Boston Chamber of Commerce, through its committee on aviation, headed by Col. Edgar S. Correll, chairman, and with W. Irving Bulfinch, George Bramwell Baker, Dr. James W. Williams, Jr., Emory Hazeltine and Porter Adams as members, has contributed to the promotion of this airport enterprise a generous interest, while the business men of the city, and the officers of the National Aeronautic Association, Porter Adams, vice president and governor, Godfrey L. Cabot, governor, and Colonel Correll as chairman of the Membership Committee of the district, have supported the city authorities in bringing to a successful conclusion this highly important undertaking.

We in Boston believe in the economic possibilities of commercial aviation; we appreciate the value of aviation as a factor in the national defense, and are determined to leave no stone unturned in making Boston the great aeronautical center of New England.

STRONG INDOERSEMENT OF SEALER WOOLLEY

Mayor Curley has received the following letter from Hon. Jay R. Benton, Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, in indorsement of the service of City Sealer Charles B. Woolley.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL, BOSTON, April 14, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR SIR,—For some time this department, in co-operation with the State Fuel Administrator, the Commission on the Necessaries of Life, the State Department of Public Health and the sealers of weights and measures of all the cities and towns, has been conducting a campaign against persons guilty of cheating the public by the sale of unburnable coal and by the sale of coal, short weight. The active work of those concerned and the recent passage of the so-called coal bill has practically cleared up the situation. Among those who have co-operated in the very best way has been your Sealer of Weights and Measures, Mr. Woolley, and his several deputies. They have been in almost daily conference with Mr. Bitzer, who has handled the matter for me, and they all have displayed an unusual enthusiasm in their work. By their efforts they have succeeded in protecting the people of your city from being cheated by the sale of fireproof coal and coal by short weight. They have taken many cases into the lower courts, and persons guilty of these offences have been properly punished.

Efficient, fearless public service too often goes unrecognized, and it is for that reason that I take the liberty of sending you this letter of commendation of one of your subordinates and his assistants.

Yours very truly,

JAY R. BENTON,
Attorney General.

PATRIOTS' DAY CEREMONIES.

The City of Boston observance of Patriots' Day this year was along the general lines which have been developed for this holiday during the past several years. The city's program centers about the eighth annual reproduction of the historic "Ride of Paul Revere," the fourth annual reproduction of the historic "Ride of William Dawes, Jr.," and a trip of North End school children from Boston to Lexington.

The day's program was as follows:

- 8.45 a. m.—Flag raising at City Hall by his Honor the Mayor of Boston. Brief exercises participated in by the Committee, with flag escort of High School Cadets bearing four types of Revolutionary flags loaned by Sons of American Revolution. Band and company from Coast Artillery, U. S. Army.
- 9.15 a. m.—Leave City Hall for North square, with military escort.
- 9.30 a. m.—North square.—Exercises, including music by Army Band and singing by audience of patriotic songs. Brief address on significance of the day by Mayor Curley.
- 10 a. m.—North square.—Start of "Ride of Paul Revere." Rider in costume on horseback, impersonating Paul Revere, with cavalry escort.
- 9.30 a. m.—Eliot square, Roxbury. Exercises including community singing, pledge of allegiance to the flag by Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, patriotic address by Head Master Maurice J. O'Brien of the Hough O'Brien School. On arrival of the "Ride," unfurling of the flags accompanied by military salute. Exercises in charge of Commander Albert J. Carey, Post 44, American Legion.
- Committee: Charles L. DeNormande, chairman; Frederick J. Soule, secretary; Francis J. Emery, treasurer; Commander Albert J. Carey, member-at-large; John R. Moulton, Edward F. O'Dowd, Gorham Rogers.
- 10 a. m.—Eliot square.—Start of "Ride of William Dawes, Jr." Rider in costume, on horseback, with cavalry escort.
- 10.15 a. m.—Children of graduating classes of Eliot and Hancock Public Schools leave North End Park to follow the route of Paul Revere's ride to Lexington.

PATRIOTIC MILITARY PARADE.

Under the Auspices of Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

- 10.30 a. m.—Start of parade from Arlington street and Commonwealth avenue. Review at State House by His Excellency Hon. Channing H. Cox, Governor of the Commonwealth. Review at City Hall by his Honor James M. Curley, Mayor of the City of Boston, and the City Council. Chief Marshal, Maj. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards; Chief of Staff, Col. John W. Hyatt. Marching contingents from United States Army, United States Navy, Massachusetts National Guard, war veterans organizations, patriotic societies, students R. O. T. C., Boy Scouts, and others.

TREE PLANTING CEREMONIES.

Under the Auspices of the City of Boston.

- 12 to 12.30 noon. Boston Common, Liberty Mall. Planting of trees provided by the Park Department in honor of distinguished visitors to Boston: M. Georges Clemenceau, World War Premier of France; Rear Admiral William S. Benson, U. S. N., member of the U. S. Shipping Board; Channing Pollock, playwright and thinker; George M. Cohan, actor and playwright; Joseph T. Fanning, B. P. O. E. Lanterns were hung from the belfry of the North Church the night of April 18, following public church services at eight o'clock, according to annual custom. Speaker, the Vice-President of the United States, Hon. Calvin Coolidge.

THE STORY OF PAUL REVERE'S RIDE.

(Written by Himself in 1783.)

"About ten o'clock (p. m.) Dr. Warren sent in great haste for me, and begged that I would immediately set off for Lexington, where Messrs. Hancock and Adams were, and acquaint them of the movement, and that it was thought they were the objects. When I got to Dr. Warren's house [on the site of the present American House] I found he had sent an express by land to Lexington—a Mr. William Dawes.

"The Sunday before, by desire of Dr. Warren, I had been to Lexington, to Messrs. Hancock and Adams, who were at the Rev. Mr. Clark's. I returned at night through Charlestown; there I had agreed with a Colonel Conant, and some other gentlemen, that if the British went out by water, we would show two lanterns in the North Church steeple and if by land, one as a signal; for we were apprehensive it would be difficult to cross the Charles River, or get over by Boston Neck.

"I left Dr. Warren, called upon a friend, and desired him to make the signals. I then went home, took my boots and sirtout, went to the north part of the town, where I kept a boat; two friends rowed me across Charles River a little to the eastward where the Somerset man-of-war lay. It was then young flood, the ship was winding, and the moon rising. They landed me on the Charlestown side. When I got into town I met Colonel Conant and several others; they said they had seen our signals. I told them what was acting, and went to get me a horse; I got a horse of Deacon Larkin.

"I set off upon a very good horse; it was then about 11 o'clock, and very pleasant. In Medford I awaked the captain of the minute men; and after that, I alarmed almost every house, till I got to Lexington.

Prescott's Ride from Lexington to Concord.

"After I had been there about half an hour Mr. Dawes arrived, who came from Boston, over the neck; we set off for Concord, & were overtaken by a young gentleman named Prescott, who belonged to Concord, and was going home; when we had got about half way from Lexington to Concord the other two stopped at a House to awake the man, I kept along, when I got about 200 yards ahead of them; I saw two officers as before, I called to my company to come up, saying there were two of them. In an instant I saw four of them, they rode up to me, with their pistols in their hands, said 'you stop if you go an inch further, you are a dead Man.' Immediately Mr. Prescott came up and we attempted to get thro them, but they kept before us, and swore if we did not turn into that pasture, they would blow our brains out (they had placed themselves opposite to a pair of Barrs and had taken the Barrs down), they forced us in, when we got in, Mr. Prescott said put on. He took to the left, I to the right towards a wood, at the bottom of the Pasture intending, when I gained that, to jump my Horse, & run afoot; just as I reached it, out started six officers, seized my bridle, put their pistols to my Breast ordered me to dismount, which I did."

HOW DAWES RODE TO LEXINGTON.

William Dawes, Jr., a young tanner, was born in the North End in 1745. He was an active patriot with Revere, Doctor Warren and others a small group in watchful waiting for a move of the British against the Americans.

Warning of such a movement was given them by William Jasper an Englishman who had married Ann sister of Robert Newman the sexton of Christ Church. Jasper was a cutler and did work for the soldiers and so heard of the intended expedition.

Revere crossed the river by boat but Dawes made the journey by land. The only way to reach the country north and west of Boston by land previous to 1785 was over Boston Neck by Washington street which continued through Roxbury, Brookline and the towns south to Providence. In Brookline just beyond the village, was a road to the west, Harvard street, which ran through Brighton and crossed the Charles where the Stadium Bridge is located.

Dawes, in his great coat and slouched hat, his usual dress on his rides, would today, after leaving the Dudley Street Terminal, ride through Roxbury street and Eliot square. Then by Tremont street and Huntington avenue reach Brookline square. Turning into Harvard street he would ride by Franklin street, Brighton, to the bridge. Over the river by Boylston street he enters Harvard square. The Concord road, later North avenue, is the Massachusetts avenue of today. By that road he continued through Menotomy, now Arlington, to Lexington, where he arrived shortly after Revere.

During the war Dawes removed with his family to Worcester, where he was assistant commissary of issues at the Magazine.

After the war, from 1781 to 1795, he kept a general store at 13 Dock square, now numbered 21 to 30. He lived on Ann, now No. 24 North street, where stood the "Franklin House" half a century ago. In 1795 he went to live on his farm in Marlboro, where he died 25 February, 1799. His body is buried in the King's Chapel Burial Ground.

EDUCATIONAL PLANS FOR CHILDREN.

Children of the graduating classes of Eliot and Hancock public schools in the North End are taken each Patriots' Day from Boston to Lexington in order that they may come in close personal contact with events and the spirit of Americanism.

Points of historic interest along the ride to Lexington will be observed, and they will participate in the exercises at Somerville, Arlington and Lexington, in the latter town being shown memorials and sites that were part of the creation of the United States.

Children will write essays not exceeding 800 words, preferably from personal observation or knowledge acquired. Writers of two best papers—one boy and one girl, one from each school—will be awarded special City of Boston medals and the papers will be read at exercises in June. Certificates of merit will be awarded to the next four writers, two from each school. The selections will be made as usual by three impartial judges, appointed by the Patriots' Day Committee.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

J. PHILLIP O'CONNELL,

Director of Public Celebrations.

Patriots' Day Committee of the Public Celebration Association: William Carroll Hill, chairman; E. B. Mero, secretary; John B. Archibald, Frank Chouteau Brown, Edward L. Curran, John J. LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a taking of land for sewerage works in Linden street, West Roxbury.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Linden street, bounded:

East by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown, (Bellevue avenue) eight and 49-100 feet; southeast by another part of Linden street, five hundred fifty and 31-100 feet; southwest by Beech street, six feet; and northwest by another part of Linden street, five hundred fifty-six and 42-100 feet; containing thirty-three hundred and twenty square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Bellevue avenue, bounded:

West by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown (Linden street) eight and 49-100 feet; north by another part of Bellevue avenue, sixteen and 15-100 feet; east by the same, six feet; south by the same, twelve and 32-100 feet; and southeast by the same, three and 97-100 feet; containing ninety-seven square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 330 linear feet of 2-foot 3-inch circular concrete surface drain and 310 linear feet of 24-inch pipe surface drain, in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Linden street, from Beech street to Bellevue avenue.

The Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a taking of land for sewerage works in Bellevue avenue, West Roxbury.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Bellevue avenue, bounded:

Southwest by Beech street, eight and 34-100 feet; west by another part of Bellevue avenue, seven hundred ninety-seven and 65-100 feet; northeast by Cornell street, eight and 48-100 feet; east by easements taken by the City of Boston in 1900 and in 1902 for sewerage purposes, seven hundred ninety-seven and 44-100 feet; containing forty-seven hundred and eighty-five square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Bellevue avenue, bounded:

Southwest by Cornell street, eight and 48-100 feet; west by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes in 1898, ten hundred twenty-four and 39-100 feet; north by another part of Bellevue avenue, six feet; and east by the same, ten hundred thirty and 39-100 feet; containing sixty-one hundred and sixty-four square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: Six hundred eighty-one linear feet of 3-foot circular concrete surface drain, 394 linear feet of 24-inch pipe surface drain, 557 linear feet 18-inch pipe surface drain and 218 linear feet 16-inch pipe surface drain, in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Bellevue avenue, from Beech street to Cornell street, and part of said avenue, between Cornell street and Brook street.

The Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

The Mayor has approved an order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a taking of land for sewerage works in Cypress street, West Roxbury.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Cypress street, bounded:

Southwest by Beech street, six feet; northwest by another part of Cypress street, three hundred four and 2-100 feet; east by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown (Bellevue avenue) eight and 49-100 feet; and southeast by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes June 19, 1903, two hundred ninety-seven and 91-100 feet; containing eighteen hundred and six square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Bellevue avenue, bounded:

West by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown (Cypress street) eight and 49-100 feet; northwest by another part of Bellevue avenue, twenty-two and 63-100 feet; east by the same, eight and 49-100 feet; and southeast by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes June 19, 1903, twenty-two and 63-100 feet; containing one hundred and thirty-six square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: Three hundred forty linear feet of 12-inch pipe surface drain, in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Cypress street, from Beech street to Bellevue avenue, and part of the private way known as Bellevue avenue, adjoining Cypress street.

The Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

SERVICE OF CONSERVATION BUREAU.

When the Conservation Bureau was organized the first activity which it took over was the managing of the unit programs consisting largely of educational and instructive films and entertainments which would tend to develop Americanization work. This work has been carried on regularly and the present appropriation is sufficient to continue it until the end of the season.

After M. Douglas Flattery, chairman, was appointed he asked for two special appropriations, one for the purpose of establishing evening diagnostic clinics where the best possible medical skill would be available for a man or woman of moderate means. The Mayor approved of the plan and a meeting was called in the Mayor's office at which the trustees and staffs of all of the principal hospitals were invited to be present. Mr. Flattery explained the proposal and stated that an advisory committee, consisting of Dr. E. H. Bradford, formerly dean of the Harvard Medical School, Dr. Henry Christian, physician-in-chief of the Brigham Hospital and Dr. John H. Cunningham heartily approved the proposal and strongly recommended it. In order to make it as successful as it deserved to be it would be necessary to establish a great central clinic in a location that would be convenient to all citizens and to operate the service at least three evenings a week to begin with. As only men of the greatest experience and highest reputation would be invited to serve on the staff it would be impossible to get such men for more than one evening a week, as all of them would probably have other hospital engagements and the plan was to charge only a nominal fee of $3, which would pay only a small part of the fee usually received by medical men of this class. Therefore it would be necessary to organize three complete teams including clinicians of the various branches of medicine and such laboratory experts as X-ray operators, bacteriologists and serologists. The existing hospitals are not located conveniently enough to give the best service but President Crocker of the John Hancock Life Insurance Company informed Mr. Flattery that his company would probably be pleased to open their building every evening if necessary for this purpose as he felt it would fill a great public want. It is estimated that $50,000 would be required to purchase the necessary apparatus and laboratory supplies and to guarantee a portion of the fees necessary to pay the staff so that the consummation of the plan had to be postponed for a time.

It is worth recording here, however, that Dr. Frederick A. Washburn, director of the Massachusetts General Hospital who was present at the meeting and approved it heartily has initiated a service somewhat similar at the Massachusetts General Hospital and this institution has gone further, because it has asked for authority from the Legislature for permission to increase the height of one of its buildings so as to allow for the installation of 200 beds to be made available for citizens of moderate means who cannot pay the full fees and who do not wish to be pauperized.

The second great project which the Conservation Bureau has considered is to study the cause, prevention and cure of a certain social disease which for hundreds of years has decimated humanity.

Roseman recently stated that he found in his laboratory work on foods that certain bacteria when bred in certain media changed their form and structure and were transformed into a different species. For example a colon bacillus when bred in (say) pea soup remains true to its form as a colon bacillus, but if bred (say) in a beef soup it becomes a typhoid bacillus. This is not accurate but is given in a way of illustration. Anyhow it may be stated that no single research of this kind covering careful, skillful and prolonged bacteriological control of such cases under various forms of treatment, has ever been made, and it is believed that the work now to be carried on by the Conservation Bureau under the direction of a committee of eminent specialists this investigation will result in solving this problem which will be of incalculable benefit to humanity.

At present scientific treatment of women suffering from this disease is impossible because there are a large number of other diseases which to the unskillful diagnostician look the same, but for which the treatment should be entirely different. If the cause of the disease is thoroughly established no more mistakes of diagnosis or treatment need be made by the general practitioner.

The special committee consists of the following physicians and scientists: E. H. Bradford, formerly dean of the Harvard Medical School; W. T. Bovie, Professor of Biophysics at Harvard Medical School; John H. Cunningham, leading urologist; David J. Johnson, Institutions Commissioner, City of Boston; John T. Torrey, Professor of Hygiene, Cornell University; Hans Zinsser, Professor of Bacteriology, Cornell University; M. Douglas Flattery, chairman.

A clinician will be appointed as secretary, and experienced bacteriologists and serologists will be appointed to carry on the laboratory work; $13,000 has been made available for immediate use and an additional $12,000 will be allotted as needed for this work.

Another proposal which has been given a lot of study by the Conservation Bureau is the possibility of establishing a permanent committee consisting of real estate experts, architects, engineers and bankers for the purpose of developing a practical housing program. It is not proposed to involve the city in any expense for this work but it is hoped to show how a building plan can be developed and financed in such a way as to extend housing accommodation and help deserving citizens to own their own homes at a low cost. Sometime ago Mr. Flattery called the following committee together, Charles H. Bowen, vice president of the American Trust Company, Frank Chouteau Brown, Allan Cox, Hector H. Desnoyers, Arthur Willis and James F. Fitzgerald.

Through one of these gentlemen an option was obtained on a large tract of land in Jamaica Plain at a price of five cents a foot. This land was conveniently located and if it were developed and sold in the usual way by building promoters the land alone would cost at least thirty-five cents a foot. Messrs. Brown and Cox drew up a set of plans and in consultation with Mr. Fitzgerald skeleton specifications were drawn up. The plan was to build brick houses of good quality in blocks of twenty-five. Each house was to occupy twenty-five feet frontage by forty feet in depth and was to contain two dwellings, one of five rooms and bath room and the other of four rooms, above and bath room. Each house was to have about 200 square feet for cellar purposes and each lot of land was to contain 3,000 square feet. A 12-foot passageway in the rear of the gardens was to be arranged to give access to two small garages. Standardized plans were to be used so that the architects' fees for one building would only amount to $10. By following this plan a large amount of labor and material would be saved from the ordinary construction. For example, one side only would be required for each house except the end ones, this item alone amounting to a substantial saving. All woodwork, windows, frames, plumbing, hardware, etc., would be standardized and would be purchased at the mill all complete ready to set up, and by purchasing in large quantities a saving of over 40 to 60 per cent would be effected on practically every item except labor. Even in labor there would be a large saving. For instance a steam shovel would be able to dig the cellars of the whole block of houses in less time than it would take hand labor to dig one cellar, and at a small fraction of the cost.

It was also proposed that the allotting of these houses should be made by the special committee and that a set of rules would be drawn up covering such allotment. According to the estimates these houses could be built for less than $6,000 each and it was proposed to ask a first payment of $1,000. Owing to the saving in building it was believed that a mortgage for the remaining $5,000 could be obtained from one of the insurance companies as a $5,000 loan on a building erected on this plan would have a greater margin of security than a $3,000 loan secured by the building purchased in the ordinary way from a speculator. In fact these buildings would be worth $12,000 and as each purchaser would in effect be getting a gift of $6,000 it would require special precautions to avoid favoritism. The following suggestions were made.

1. That no applicant of less than five years' residence in the City of Boston should be considered, and that any man or woman who applied would be given 25 points for five years' residence and one point for each additional year of residence as a citizen of Boston.

2. The applicant must be married.

3. Five points for each child.

4. Ten points for overseas service and ten additional points if such overseas service was voluntary. Of course the first essential was the ability to pay down $1,000 which would show that the applicant either had thrift or had good credit backing amongst friends and acquaintances.

5. Five points for each six months of such service.

One of these dwellings would be very cheap at $100 a month rental compared to the present rentals paid in locations of the same convenience, so that the owner could rent one suite at $50 a month. The two small garages would also be worth $10 a month each. Therefore the owner could live in one suite and by leasing the other suite and both garages could get a revenue of $840 a year gross, besides having his own rent free, worth $600 a year. The carrying charges would be as follows: Interest on $5,000 at 5½ per cent, $275; taxes, $140; insurance, $10; total expenses, $425.

With the expenses $425, this would leave a net profit of $415 yearly. By applying this to the mortgage it would be paid off in about nine years as the interest would be reduced with each payment so that at the end of nine years if conditions were all favorable the purchaser of one of these houses would own his house free and clear of all incumbrances, besides having had rent free for the same period which would be worth at least an additional $600 a year. If he paid his rent toward reducing the mortgage he could pay it off in less than five years.

As each house would have 3,000 square feet of land there would be room for a small garden with chickens or flowers as the owners' taste might dictate; and last but not least the city would be getting a large revenue from these buildings by the increased taxation.

The City Planning Board has had a consultation with Mr. Flattery covering this plan and it is hoped that either the Conservation Bureau or the City Planning Board may develop something of this kind in the near future.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 20.

I. PATRIOTS' DAY PARADE.

Members of the Boston Fire Department who participated in the parade on Patriots' Day, April 19, 1923, reported to Coleman C. Curran of Ladder Company 4, in Park square, at 10 a. m., Thursday, April 19, 1923.

II. EXAMINATION FOR PROMOTION, CAPTAIN TO DISTRICT CHIEF.

The examination for promotion from the rank of captain to that of district chief will be continued on Saturday, April 21, 1923. The examination on this date will consist of the writing of the report which was omitted from the examination on April 11, 1923.

All captains who took the examination on April 11, 1923, are directed to report at Room 15, State House, April 21, 1923, at 10 a. m. for the purpose of finishing the examination. The time required on Saturday, April 21, will be about one hour.

III. WEARING OF UNIFORMS.

The attention of the department is hereby directed to section 426 of the rules and regulations of the department, the conditions of which must be strictly adhered to.

By order of the Fire Commissioner.

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

General Order No. 30.

I. PERMITS FOR FIRES IN THE OPEN AIR.

A new form of permit for setting fires in the open air, i. e., for grass, brush and rubbish, has been printed and is now ready for delivery to the various districts.

This form contains all the rules and regulations prescribed by this department and will henceforth be used when permits are issued for burning grass, rubbish, brush, etc. The books at present used for fires in the open air will be retained by district chiefs for the issuance of permits for tar kettles, etc., only.

II. PATRIOTS' DAY PARADE.

Members of the Boston Fire Department who participated in the parade on Patriots' Day, April 19, 1923, reported to Coleman C. Curran of Ladder Company 4, in Park square, at 10 a. m., Thursday, April 19, 1923.

Uniform sack coats and white gloves were worn by the detail from this department. Medals or ribbons for war service may, if desired, be worn side of the corporation badge.

By order of the Fire Commissioner.

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

PUBLIC LIBRARY EXHIBIT.

The library arranged an exhibition for the week of April 16 to 23, of a large collection of photographs relating to base ball, belonging to Mr. Michael J. McGreevy of Boston.

The collection contained very rare photographs of the game in its beginnings in Boston, portraits of players, group photographs of teams, and interesting views.

MAYOR CURLEY ANSWERS GOOD GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION.

Mayor Curley issued the following statement in reply to the article of the secretary of the Good Government Association in the April number of the "National Municipal Review."

"With the customary disregard for truth, the secretary of the Good Government Association declares that Boston faces radical charter changes. This declaration, made before a single member of the committee to make changes has been appointed, is most unusual, while the argument presented as reason for revision of the charter is illogical.

"Great stress is laid upon the fact that in the election of 1922 but 29.3 per cent of the registered votes were cast, despite the fact that this is not an unusually low percentage as contrasted with the neighboring town of Brookline where in the town election of 1923 the total vote cast was but 29.4 per cent.

"The failure to make mention of the exceedingly large percentage cast in 1921 which was in excess of 77½ per cent of the total registered vote savors of a desire to deceive the limited few who may read the article in question.

"The public as a whole recognizes that under the charter of 1909 not only financial authority but authority with reference to ordinances and the conduct of municipal departments generally was centered in the Mayor and that the Council as at present constituted lacks the power to override the veto of the Mayor either in financial expenditures or amendments to the ordinances and is largely a debating society, which fact apparently the secretary of the Good Government Association has failed to discover but which the public, whom he terms 'gangsters' knows to be a fact.

"The present Mayor of Boston understands both the duties and responsibilities of the office which he occupies and proposes to administer them on a strictly business basis and does not seek either suggestion or advice from paid political parasites of the McCaffrey type.

"The substitution of the district partisan system of election for the present city-wide nonpartisan system would result in the re-establishment of a municipal legislative system under which business administration would be impossible and the vicious system conducted by log-rolling ward heaters controlled either by the Good Government Association or some equally corrupt body would be supreme and would afford opportunity to work not for the public good, but to work the public for their personal profit.

"The present system of government in Boston and the present Council may not be ideal but it is so far superior to any that has previously obtained that it is advisable to carefully consider the possible results in event of a change. The fact that the Good Government Association is confronted for the first time with a City Council with sufficient intelligence and courage to formulate decisions without the advice of the Good Government Association's hirelings can scarcely be considered by intelligent men as a logical argument in favor of the abandonment of a system generally recognized as superior to any now in operation in any municipality in the United States."

CLAIMS.

The Mayor has approved, with the indorsement of the Corporation Counsel, the following claims:

Arthur E. Manning, 1 Mather street, Dorchester, in the amount of $10, as compensation for personal injuries caused by being struck by limb of tree which fell on him at corner of Mather street and Dorchester avenue, Dorchester, December 28, 1922.

Julius P. Frazier, 62 Summer street, city proper, in the amount of $41, as compensation for damage to automobile caused by a city truck, February 12, 1923.

Henry S. McDonnell, 235 East Eagle street, East Boston, in the amount of $100, as compensation for personal injuries caused by a fall on icy sidewalk in front of the Philip Sheridan Schoolhouse, East Boston, January 24, 1923.

George E. Dunlee, 18 Page street, Revere, in the amount of $23, as compensation for clothing taken from him while a patient at the City Hospital, February, 1923.

John J. Byrne, 10 Hancock street, Charlestown, in the amount of $42.50, as compensation for overcoat stolen from him while a patient at the City Hospital, November, 1922.

Cornelius Fitzpatrick, 410 Market street, Brighton, in the amount of $70, as compensation for loss of money while an inmate of the City Hospital.

Arnold Haubrock, 1 Peabody place, Jamaica Plain, in the amount of $125, as compensation for money expended and injuries sustained because of improper treatment at the City Hospital, December, 1922.

Margaret Kelly, 97 St. Alphonsus street, Roxbury, in the amount of $50, as compensation for personal injury caused by being struck by patrol wagon of Division 10 on Tremont street, near Linden Park street, Roxbury, November 18, 1922.

G. J. Galbraith, 73 Waldeck street, Dorchester, in the amount of $175, as compensation for injuries received and damage to automobile caused by police patrol wagon on Melville avenue, corner of Washington street, Dorchester, March 6, 1922.

William J. Stober, petitioner, in the amount of $500, as compensation for damage to property situated at 3 Malhan place, city proper, on account of the Stuart street improvement.

Samuel Williamson, in the amount of $1,000 as full payment for land taken, all rights acquired and all damages occasioned to his estate in Chelsea street, Charlestown, by the widening of said street at the corner of Bunker Hill street.

Harry L. Rice et al., petitioners, in the amount of $15,000, as compensation for damages to property situated at 196 and 198 Eliot street and 33 Carver street, city proper.

SETTLEMENT OF CLAIM.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners for the payment of bill of the Roxbury Construction Company, contractors, in the sum of $7,461.82, for repair of fire damage in the Wendell Phillips School, West End.

A fire occurred in this school building on February 13, 1923. It was impossible at the time to approximate the amount of repair work to be done, and therefore no contract could be made. The School Committee and Superintendent of Schools desired that the building be ready for use at the earliest possible moment, which made it necessary to start the repair work immediately. The Schoolhouse Commissioners considered this case as of extreme emergency.

All of the items for material and labor have been checked and verified by the Schoolhouse Department, and the Mayor has approved the claim in order to comply with the provisions of the city charter and enable the City Auditor to pass the bill for payment.

PERMITS APPROVED.

The Mayor has approved the following petitions received from the Board of Street Commissioners:

William Anderson, 130 Baker street, Ward 23, one car.

James S. Brebner, 20 Tyndale street, Ward 23, one car.

LETTER OF INDORSEMENT.

Mayor Curley is in receipt of the following letter of indorsement from the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 103:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—At the regular meeting of Electrical Workers Local Union No. 103, Boston, held Wednesday evening, April 4, 1923, Wells Memorial Hall, the membership voted unanimously to commend you for your untiring efforts in bringing about a better understanding between the building trades employers and employees and for your work and counsel which averted a possible stoppage of work.

We believe that the people of Boston are fortunate in having such a capable chief executive, able to meet all situations which confront the entire electorate of this municipality and holds the confidence of all concerned.

In behalf of the organization the following committee was appointed to draft a suitable letter to you which is to be spread on the records of our Union.

Very respectfully yours,

FRANK L. KELLEY, President,
FRANK R. SHEEHAN, Secretary,
GEORGE E. CAPELLE, Secretary.

MOTHERS' DAY OBSERVANCES.

Mayor Curley has been pleased to receive definite advices from Mrs. Walter Duncan of the Volunteers of America that Maud Ballington Booth, famous exemplar of Christianity and international patriotism, would positively address the Mother's Day meeting, to be held on Boston Common, upon Sunday, May 3. The Mayor has very heartily indorsed the proposed observance in honor of the nation's mothers, both living and dead, and will deliver an address in honor of the occasion, and preceding a message upon the lesson which the day incorporates, to be delivered by Mrs. Agnes H. Parker, national president, Women's Relief Corps.

An attractive musical entertainment in honor of the mothers will be provided and the observance of Mother's Day in Boston this year will be upon a far more extended scale than has prevailed during the years that have passed.

Governor Cox will be invited to attend or send a representative of the state and a great assemblage at Boston Common is already assured.

LETTER OF THANKS.

Mayor Curley has received the following letter of thanks for planting the Clara Barton memorial tree:

ARLINGTON, MASS., April 14, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—On behalf of the above association we take pleasure in thanking you for the beautiful tribute which you, and through you the citizens of Boston, paid today on Boston Common to the memory of Clara Barton, our founder and president in memoriam.

It may please you to know that you have as well the appreciative thanks of thousands of national first aid graduates from all over the country who reverence the name of Clara Barton and who deeply applauds your splendid action.

We are forwarding to you today under separate cover a certificate of tree registration which this association takes pleasure in presenting to a planter of a Clara Barton memorial tree.

With high regard we beg to remain,

Respectfully yours,

THE NATIONAL FIRST AID ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA,

MARY KENSEL WELLS,
National Secretary.

BRANCH LIBRARIES IN SCHOOL-HOUSES.

Mayor Curley has received the following communication from Librarian Charles F. D. Belden of the Boston Public Library, in indorsement of the Mayor's plan for the establishment of branch libraries in schoolhouses:

PUBLIC LIBRARY,

BOSTON, April 16, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR MR. CURLEY,—Following a joint meeting of the School Committee and the Board of Trustees of the Public Library, held in the trustees' room of the Public Library on Friday, April 13, 1923, I was directed to inform your Honor that the trustees have met with the School Committee in accordance with your desires, and have agreed upon a tentative plan to effect the full purpose you have in mind, the details to be worked out later in connection with new schools to be erected in the City of Boston, especially in those districts where there is at present inadequate library facilities.

Respectfully yours,

CHARLES F. D. BELDEN,
Librarian.

MAYOR'S CIRCULAR.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,

BOSTON, April 11, 1923.

To the Department Heads:

In accordance with the prevailing custom you are hereby directed to grant leave of absence, without loss of pay, to all employees of the city who are delegates to the annual convention of the United Spanish War Veterans, to be held on April 17, 18 and 19, 1923.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

STREET CLEANING.

Mayor Curley has received a letter from Hon. Herbert A. Wilson, Police Commissioner, promising the aid of the department in the cleaning of streets:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

CITY OF BOSTON,
POLICE DEPARTMENT,
April 14, 1923.

DEAR SIR,—I am in receipt of your communication of the 12th instant in which your state that the Commissioner of Public Works, Joseph A. Rourke, has informed you that a sum in excess of $200,000 has been expended in the clean-up campaign inaugurated four weeks ago for the cleaning up of streets and alleys, and note what you say about my sending out a general order to the department relative to co-operating with him in his endeavor to keep these streets and alleys clean.

I shall be glad to co-operate in this work in any way possible, and will send a notice to the department to that effect.

Respectfully yours,

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Police Commissioner.

SHORTER DAYS AT MARKETS.

Mayor Curley has sent to the City Council a proposed change in the ordinance to permit the closing of the Faneuil Hall and Quincy Markets Saturday nights at six o'clock through the months of June, July and August. Seventy-five of the eighty-four tenants approve this change from the old custom of nine o'clock closing, according to the statements of a delegation of marketmen who called upon the Mayor.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION.

Dr. John J. Dowling, superintendent of the Boston City Hospital will attend a meeting of superintendents of the large hospitals in the United States, at New York, April 28.

PORT OF BOSTON.

Best of natural harbors, sheltered, spacious for anchorage, main ship channel 35 feet in depth at low tide, near open sea, area about 6,300 acres; waterfront (i. e., lineal pier space) 40 miles, 6 miles fronting on 30 feet depth at low water. A 45-foot channel from entrance of harbor to President Roads and 40-foot from there to wharves will be dredged in the near future. New Commonwealth Pier No. 5, South Boston, 1,200 feet long, 400 feet wide, accommodating five 600-foot ships at one time, 40 feet depth at mean low water on both sides, with three 2-story fireproof buildings of steel and concrete construction, containing 900,000 square feet of floor space, total cost of this enterprise to State, $4,500,000. Commonwealth Pier No. 6, South Boston (Fish Pier), buildings on same erected by lessee, Boston Fish Market Corporation, cost to State, $1,487,361. New Commonwealth Pier, No. 1, East Boston, 900 feet long, costing State $764,600 for site and about $345,000 for construction. New dry dock at South Boston (probably the largest in world), completed in 1919, 1,200 feet long and 120 wide, costing over $3,000,000 and taken by U.S. Government at total cost of same to State. Islands in Boston Harbor over 3 acres in area, 17, with total area of 965 acres; Long Island the largest, or 215.5 acres. Owned by United States, 392 acres; by City of Boston, 334 acres. Number of wharves, 143, of which 8 are owned by the City. There are 24 foreign steamship lines with regular sailings to and from Boston and 19 coastwise lines (5 to Pacific ports). In 1915 a revision of the harbor lines was made and the project undertaken whereby 600 acres of flats between Governor's Island and Jeffries Pt., E. Boston, will be filled in and used for extensive commercial developments under State control.

In April, 1918, the Government decided to establish its Army Supply Base on a portion of the Commonwealth lands in South Boston. About 57.6 acres were purchased of the State, the price being $1,317,510, quickly followed by the construction of two pier sheds, each 920 feet long, a wharf shed and other buildings, including one of the largest storehouses in the world, built on reinforced concrete, eight stories high, 1,638 feet long, 126 feet wide and with floor space of over 1,650,000 square feet. The total outlay for the plant was $26,000,000.

Total Federal expenditure for improvement of Boston Harbor from 1790 to June 30, 1918, $12,525,981; total expended and provided for by State, $18,364,947 since 1859.

BOSTON PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Total expenditures more than in 1921-22, $9,684,167 ($278,868 more than in 1920-21), exclusive of Water Service (maintained by revenue) but including the following special appropriations: $974,138 (from loan) for sewer construction; $880,464 (from Tax Levy) for reconstructing and repairing streets by contract, $290,711 (from Tax Levy) for street improvements, $63,878 (from Tax Levy) for Washington street, West Roxbury, paving, $158,209 (from Tax Levy) for bridge repairs, etc., $582,783 (from loan) for East Boston Ferry improvements, $95,041 (from loan) for sea wall, etc., Roxbury Canal, $50,000 (from Tax Levy), for granolithic sidewalks, $100,767 (from Tax Levy) for repairs of ferryboats, $322,824 ($279,019 from Tax Levy and $43,805 from loan) for high-pressure fire service, $58,853 (from loan) for Old Harbor improvement, $31,022 (from loan) for bridge construction. For maintenance in 1921 as follows: Paving Service, $1,287,913 ($301,728 less than in 1920); Sanitary Service, $1,536,633 ($28,531 more); Lighting Service, $722,091 ($43 less); Street Cleaning and Oiling Service, $916,061 ($67,536 less); Sewer Service, $607,043 ($9,418 less); Bridge Service, $420,589 ($16,411 less); Ferry Service, $496,836 ($77,918 less); Central Office, $88,308 ($3,066 less). Total for maintenance, $6,075,476 or $447,589 less than in 1920. On February 1, 1922, there were 983 miles of common and intercepting sewers and 16,173 catch-basins, all in charge of the Sewer Service of this department. Gross debt outstanding for all sewer construction, February 1, 1922, $22,474,360 or $495,700 more than in 1921; for bridge construction, $3,789,900 or $108,000 less than in 1921.

BOSTON'S FINANCIAL YEAR.

The financial year begins on February 1 in each year and closes on January 31 of the following calendar year.

NATIVES AND CITIZENS OF BOSTON AND VICINITY HONORED IN HALL OF FAME.

In the American Hall of Fame, New York City, dedicated in 1901, are inscribed on bronze tablets the names of 56 eminent men and 7 distinguished women deemed worthy of the highest honor on account of their services and attainments. Of the 63 individuals thus selected (up to 1920 inclusive) by an electorate of 100 leading Americans, 27 were natives or for some time citizens of Boston or vicinity. The names of the latter are as follows: Chosen in 1900—John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, William Ellery Channing, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Daniel Webster, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Horace Mann, Nathaniel Hawthorne, George Peabody, Samuel Finley Breese Morse, Joseph Story, Asa Gray, Gilbert Stuart—total, 13.

Chosen in 1905—John Quincy Adams, James Russell Lowell, John Greenleaf Whittier—total, 3.

Chosen, in 1910—Edgar Allan Poe, Oliver Wendell Holmes, George Bancroft, John Lothrop Motley, Phillips Brooks—total, 5.

Chosen in 1915—Louis Agassiz, Francis Parkman, Rufus Choate, Charlotte Cushman—total, 4.

Chosen in 1920—William Thomas Green Morton, Alice Freeman Palmer. Five additional names every fifth year are to be selected and inscribed until the year 2,000, when the 150 tablets in the colonnade will be complete.

If those who were natives or residents elsewhere in the State are added to the list, the following 7 names increase the total to 34 for Massachusetts or more than half the whole number, viz.: William Cullen Bryant, Jonathan Edwards, Mark Hopkins, Elias Howe, Eli Whitney, Maria Mitchell, Mary Lyon.

If all New England is included, 4 more names will bring up the total to 38 or 60.3 per cent of whole number chosen, viz.: Roger Williams, Henry Ward Beecher, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Emma Willard.

CITY CHARTER CHANGES.

In 1834, 1885 and 1900 important changes in the original City Charter of 1821 were effected for the purpose of improving the methods and efficiency of the City Government. The revision of 1834 (Chap. 448, Stat. 1834) referred to the voters for acceptance, gave the Mayor a qualified veto over the action of the City Council, also the power of removal of appointed officials, besides providing for his election by a plurality instead of a majority vote. The amendments of 1885 (Chap. 266, Stat. 1885) were not submitted to the voters for approval. They transferred all the executive powers to the Mayor, prohibiting the City Council from interference with the executive and administrative business of the City. This was done in order to end the inefficiency resulting from an excessive number of joint committees, a municipal development conforming to the traditions of the outgrown town government.

The amendments of 1909 (Chap. 486, Stat. 1909) cut down the number and powers of the legislative branch of the government to a minimum, the Board of Aldermen (13 members) and the Common Council (75 members) being abolished. For these was substituted a single City Council of nine members to be elected at large for a 3-year term. The Mayor's position was further strengthened by giving him a 4-year term, subject to recall at end of two years, but requiring a majority of the registered voters to make the recall effective. The Mayor's power over appointments was no longer subject to check by aldermen but by a State board, the Civil Service Commission, and City elections were removed from all connection with national and State politics, no primaries nor caucuses being permitted, all candidates for office to be selected by means of nomination papers. The only question in this Act of 1909 which was submitted to the voters was contained in section 35, i. e., whether Plan 1 or Plan 2 should be adopted, the first providing for a term of two years for Mayor and a City Council of 36 members to be chosen in primaries. Plan 2 was adopted by a majority of 3,894. Charter of 1909 amended later as follows: (1) By Chap. 437, Acts of 1910, exempting loans issued for Rapid Transit construction from the prohibition of the establishing of sinking funds, as contained in sec. 26. (2) Chap. 730, Acts of 1914, fixing date of annual municipal election on the sixth Tuesday after the state election instead of in the following January, as in sec. 32; changing the requirement as to signatures on nomination papers to 3,000 for Mayor and 2,000 for City Council and School Committee instead of 5,000 for all, as in sec. 53, also limiting the number of nomination papers issued to 300 for a candidate for Mayor and 200 for other candidates referring to sec. 54. (3) Chap. 37, Special Acts of 1918, annulling the jurat at end of nomination papers. (4) Chap. 94, Special Acts of 1918, abolishing recall of Mayor, and making him ineligible for re-election, i. e., establishing a single term of four years, but not prohibiting the election of any Mayor for other than consecutive terms. (5) Chap. 288, Acts of 1921, fixing date of the annual municipal election on the first Tuesday after the second Monday in December, also making slight changes as to nominations.

LIQUOR LICENSES AND NATIONAL PROHIBITION.

The national prohibition amendment (i. e., the 18th) to the Constitution, having been ratified by 45 States and becoming effective on January 16, 1920, the legalized trade in intoxicating liquors ceased then. It was supposed to stop about 6 months sooner because of the Federal war regulation providing for prohibition on July 1, 1919, to be effective until the army could be demobilized. But as there was no Massachusetts law forbidding the issuing of licenses after July 1, the Boston Licensing Board issued 702 such for the remainder of the license year with the proviso that the license was no protection against violation of Federal law. After July 1, under Federal law, the only liquor which licensees claimed the right to sell was beer and ale containing not over 2.75 per cent of alcohol. Sales of these lighter beverages continued to October 28, 1919, when Congress enacted a law (Volstead Act) forbidding the sale of any liquor as a beverage containing more than 0.50 per cent alcohol. The validity of this act being widely questioned, the United States Supreme Court upheld it on Jan. 5, 1920, and again on June 7, 1920. The result of this decision was that former applicants for liquor licenses did not apply for them in 1920. The Supreme Court of Mass. later in the year decided that the liquor laws of the State remain in force where not inconsistent with the Volstead Act. The Boston Board therefore issued 146 licenses to druggists and 17 4th-class, permitting sales for non-beverage purposes only. In 1921 there were issued 192 licenses to druggists, 15 4th-class and one 5th-class. On May 17, 1922, Chap. 427, Acts of 1922 (consisting of 27 sections) was approved, providing for the carrying into effect in Mass. of the 18th Federal (i. e., prohibition) amendment. This law is subject to a referendum at State election on November 7, 1922.

By Chapter 392, Acts of 1922, the retailing of non-intoxicating beverages is subjected to license, with fee of not more than one dollar for each year ending April 30.

PUBLIC STREETS IN BOSTON.

Total length of the 2,447 paved (accepted) streets, February 1, 1922, 606.33 miles; total area, 11,459,009 square yards, or 8.47 per cent of the City's total land area. This is exclusive of the private streets (not accepted), numbering about 2,890. 366.10 miles, or 60.38 per cent, are paved with macadam (including 128.03 miles bituminous macadam); 105.66 miles with granite block; 45.50 miles with asphalt; 29.32 miles with gravel; 36.63 miles with asphalt concrete (17.55 m. being bitulithic and 13.71 m. Toplek); 11.69 miles with wood block; 5.42 miles with brick. Old macadam pavement is gradually being replaced with more satisfactory and durable kinds, such as bitulithic, concrete, granite block, etc., $5,138,678 having been expended during the past four years in reconstructing and improving 313 miles of streets and parts of streets. Granolithic side-walks laid in 1921, 97,049 square yards or about 21 miles, averaging 8 feet wide, 50 per cent of cost assessed on estates benefited.

New highway construction completed in period 1918-1921 includes 13 streets in Boston Proper; 34 in Dorchester; 37 in West Roxbury; 14 in Roxbury; 24 in Brighton; 6 in East Boston; 3 in Hyde Park; 4 in South Boston, and 1 in Charlestown, roadway pavement bitulithic, or asphalt surface on concrete, and bituminous macadam. Gross debt outstanding February 1, 1922, for all street construction, including damages, $22,267,141 or $925,700 more than in 1921, this increase due to new loan for Stuart St. construction.

NATIONAL DEBT BECAUSE OF WORLD WAR.

On July 1, 1918, 15 months after entrance of United States into the World War (April 6, 1917) the public debt (less cash in Treasury) had risen to $10,924,281,355, or $103.92 per capita and 4.8 per cent of total estimated wealth of country, viz., $228,000,000,000. On July 1, 1919, the debt reached the maximum of $24,479,302,376 ($229.34 per capita), of which $9,710,525,000 represented loans to eleven of the allied foreign Governments, the five largest being Great Britain ($4,277,000,000), France ($2,997,477,800), Italy ($1,648,034,000), Belgium ($349,214,468) and Russia ($187,729,750).

On July 1, 1921, the debt was $23,427,772,447, or $1,051,529,929 less than on July 1, 1919.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, April 9, 1923.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two o'clock p. m., Com. H. M. senior member, presiding and all the members present.

APPOINTMENT OF CONSTABLES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 9, 1923.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen.—Subject to confirmation by your honorable body, I hereby appoint the following-named persons Constables of the City of Boston for the term of one year, beginning with the first day of May, 1923.

All of the persons named in this list are re-appointments.
Commissions of constables not named herein will expire on April 30, 1923, and such constables are hereby removed from office from and after May 1, 1923, for the good of the service.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

(The list of constables was ordered printed as City Document No. 43.)

Laid over under the law.

APPOINTMENT BY THE MAYOR.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 9, 1923.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen.—Subject to confirmation by your honorable body, I appoint William J. Sullivan, 3 Harvard avenue, Brookline, a Weigher of Beef for the term ending April 30, 1923.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Laid over under the law.

VETO—REINSTATEMENT OF THOMAS HOWE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 2, 1923.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen.—I beg to return herewith, without my approval, the order passed by your honorable body on March 19, 1923, providing for the reinstatement of Thomas Howe, formerly employed in the Public Works Department.

An investigation reveals the fact that this man has not been employed in the city service since February, 1919, and is now seventy-six years of age and that his reinstatement at this time is purely for the purpose of securing a pensionable status. Such action would be a violation of the spirit of the pension legislation and would establish a precedent which might result in a tremendous and unwarranted financial burden on the city.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Placed on file.

FLUSHING OF STREETS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 9, 1923.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen.—I transmit herewith communication from the Commissioner of Public Works, the same being a reply to the order passed by your honorable body on March 26, 1922, relative to having the streets of the city flushed by the high pressure service.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Public Works Department, April 2, 1923.

To the Honorable the Mayor:
In reply to your letter of March 31, including order of the City Council, dated March 26, that your Honor be requested to have the streets of Boston thoroughly flushed by the high pressure service where available, for the purpose of cleaning the streets, etc., in connection with which you desire a report from this office, the following is submitted:

Your Honor, two weeks ago, requested the writer to flush the streets, and arrangements have been made with the Fire Department for co-operation in this respect. But there is no gain from flushing streets at a temperature below 45 degrees, which has not been available recently. The domestic service hydrants were to be utilized, in addition to our flushing trucks and wagons, to accomplish this result.

High pressure hydrants should never be utilized for this purpose. The service is practically entirely in the business district, and its exclusive use for fire purposes is an established policy.

We have been engaged, for the past ten days, with all the force available, in digging out the accumulated snow, ice and dirt in the various streets of the congested districts so as to get conditions suitable for flushing.

It is customary for the street flushing to start on the 15th of April, and a contract has been advertised to provide three trucks for such purpose at that time. The department, last year, purchased three flushing trucks which are available at all times during the year to flush the streets in a much more economical manner than by hose lines. Previous to your Honor's previous administration the city possessed no motor flushing trucks, now considered so essential for the proper cleaning of the streets.

Yours respectfully,

JOSEPH A. ROUKE,

Commissioner of Public Works.
Placed on file.

BATH HOUSE, WORLD WAR MEMORIAL PARK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 9, 1923.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen.—I return herewith, without my approval, the order passed by your honorable body on March 26, 1923, providing for the expenditure of $100,000 for the erection of a bathhouse at World War Memorial Park.

The Park Commission, as a result of study and investigation, are of the opinion that $25,000 would be sufficient to provide the necessary bathing facilities, improvements to ball field, tennis court, track and locker building, and I accordingly recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $75,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated, to be expended by the Park Commission, for bathhouse and other improvements, etc., at World War Memorial Park, East Boston, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City to said amount.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

OFFICERS' SALARIES, COUNTY JAIL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 9, 1923.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen.—In consultation with the sheriff of Suffolk County and the Budget Commission for the City of Boston, an agreement was reached with reference to the salaries of certain employees in the County Department.

In order that they may become operative, it is necessary that the accompanying amendment to the ordinance be adopted and I respectfully request adoption of the same.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

An Ordinance Concerning the Salaries of Officers at the County Jail.

Be it ordained by the City Council as follows: Section six of chapter three of the Revised Ordinances of 1914, as amended by chapter six of the Ordinances of 1916, and chapter one of the Ordinances of 1917, and chapter two of the Ordinances of 1918, and chapter one of the Ordinances of 1919, and chapters three and five of the Ordinances of 1920, is hereby further amended by striking out the whole of said section and inserting in place thereof the following:

Sec. 6. The officers of the County of Suffolk shall be paid the salaries and allowances provided by law.

The maximum salaries of the officers connected with the county jail shall be as follows: The chief officer, three thousand dollars per annum.

The physician appointed by the sheriff, twenty-one hundred dollars per annum.

The chief clerk, twenty-one hundred dollars per annum.

The assistant clerk, nineteen hundred dollars per annum.

The first inside officer, twenty-one hundred dollars per annum.

The steward, nineteen hundred dollars per annum.

The second, third and fourth inside officers two thousand dollars per annum.

All regularly employed officers and necessary assistants, each nineteen hundred dollars per annum.

The watchman-engineer in charge, forty dollars per week.

The watchmen-engineers operating, each thirty-six dollars per week.

The matron, eleven hundred dollars per annum.

The first assistant matron, one thousand dollars per annum.

Assistant matrons, each eight hundred dollars per annum.

Two chaplains, each eight hundred dollars per annum.

One chaplain, three hundred and fifty dollars per annum.

This ordinance shall take effect April 1, 1923.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

GEORGE R. WHITE HEALTH UNIT.

At this point the Mayor, Hon. James M. Curley, entered the chamber and addressed the City Council as follows:

Mayor CURLEY.—Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, I take this opportunity to say just a word to the members of the Council with reference to determination of a site for the first of the George R. White health fund units in Boston. The George R. White Fund trustees have been interested, with reference to a health unit in the North End, in two particular things, first, to secure such a location as might be most accessible in the North End, and second, to secure the location, if possible, without being required to expend any portion of the income of the fund for the purchase of a site. The completion of Police Station 8 made possible the abandonment of the old police station site and building on Commercial street which, because of the fact that there is light on all four sides, seemed to afford a rather attractive site for a health unit and in addition it would make unnecessary the expenditure of any money for the acquirement of the site itself. The matter has been under consideration and the site has been discussed for a period of perhaps seven or eight months. No objection was raised until some four weeks ago. In fact, objection was not raised until after the contract had been awarded. The architect spent some three months on plans, the advertising consumed about four weeks, and after the contract was awarded a protest was received against the site. Examination disclosed the fact—astonishing to me, and probably equally so to every member of the Council—that the residential section in the North End is less than half a mile in length and covers an area of less than a quarter of a square mile. The site of the health unit of the North End unit might be located, it would still be accessible. It has been pointed out that there is possible danger to mothers and children in crossing Hanover street, an extremely busy thoroughfare, and I believe that that objection is very well taken. Last evening I had the pleasure of taking dinner with Mrs. Bradbury, the sister of George R. White, and discussing the entire situation with her. It was her opinion that some other site more accessible to the mothers and children of the North End might be determined upon, and I assured her that, regardless of where the site might be and regardless of cost, so far as I personally was concerned, it was my desire to meet the wishes and the wishes of the people interested in serving the district, and the wishes of those living in the North End. Arrangements were made for a visit to the North End by Mrs. Bradbury today with the manager of the George R. White Fund, Mr. Phelan. They spent two hours going over the North End section of the city, and the opinion expressed by Mrs. Bradbury was that the North End site determined upon by the George R. White Fund committee or trustees was a very desirable one for the location of the health unit. I confess personally that I think there is every indication that within five years, possibly ten years, at the outside, that the fire section of Boston, extending to the center of Hanover street, will probably be taken over by the great encroachments of business along North street today already extending as far as North square, on one side, and on both sides of Hanover street the first floors at least are being taken over by the houses. The probability within ten years there will be no places of habitation on the southern side of Hanover street. So I believe the objection raised by Mrs. White, the health unit for men and women who have given up many years of their lives, many useful hours that they might have devoted to more attractive pursuits, in administering to the needs of that section of the city, are of the opinion that the unit should be located somewhere in the vicinity of the congested area in the neighborhood of Salem street, Prince street, that section, and to this view I subscribe. I believe it might represent an additional expense of perhaps $50,000 to $100,000 for the purchase of a site, but if that expenditure were made, resulting in the removal of some of the unwholesome element properly that still remains there, don't believe it would be an unwise investment. The entire matter will be given consideration. The views of those best informed, the health workers in the district, will be considered as to what would be the most available place for the site. Those who should know most about the matter will be consulted and their views will be considered, and I believe that by next Monday we will be in a position to come here and submit a proposal for devoting such sum as may be necessary to providing a site that will be more accessible and one in which the interest of the entire people of the North End section of Boston will be considered. I do not feel, however, it is just to my associates on the Board of Trustees, that I should permit this occasion to pass without emphasizing the fact that the trustees have a profound appreciation of the great faith reposed in our system of government by George R. White, a faith greater than was ever reposed in any municipal government, in my opinion, in the history of the world. This great benefaction, representing a total valuation in excess of five million dollars, was placed in the hands of a board of trustees, and the Mayor of the City, the President of the City Council, the City Auditor, the President of the Chamber of Commerce, and the President of the Bar Association. It was an unusual demonstration of confidence in our form of government. We believe we owe it to ourselves to see that every provision of the trust, every wish of the beneficiaries in making it, are religiously protected. That was the thought we had in mind when we considered the Station 8 site, protecting the income of the fund and making possible a larger measure of usefulness through the saving that would be effected by the taking over of property for the establishment of the health unit, for which no money would have to be paid. It was felt that such action would make available the money that would otherwise have to be paid for a possible site. However, the wisdom of the best informed prevails, and I think this is sound judgment. I think on next Monday we will be prepared to come in here with a recommendation that you will be justified in accepting. I thank you, and will be pleased to answer any questions anyone may see fit to ask. (Applause.)

Chairman HAGAN—I think this decision of yours regarding the health unit site is a very wise one. I believe the people of the district are very much opposed to the selection of the site that was proposed, as manifested by a petition handed me today from a thousand residents of the district, including twenty-seven physicians. I think your decision is going to meet with the entire approval of those people, and I am sure the good women of the district, working down there as they are for the welfare of the people, will be glad to co-operate with the George R. White trustees at any and all times in the matter.

Mayor CURLY—Thank you.

(Mayor Curly retired from the chamber at this point.)

APPROPRIATION BILL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 9, 1923.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith budget for the year 1923-24 in full segregated form in "sub-section" for the budget submitted on February 24, 1923.

The increases in the appropriations for Fire Department, Police Department and Public Works Department, while exceedingly large, are imperatively necessary.

The Fire Department today is 85 per cent motorized. Complete motorization, in my opinion, is necessary before the two-platoon system becomes operative and to completely motorize the department this year requires an expenditure of $300,000.

The increase in motor vehicles, with the corresponding increase in accidents and deaths, in the opinion of the Police Commissioner, makes necessary the provision of at least fifty men to the Police Department to serve largely as traffic officers.

The adoption of the City of Boston Employees Retirement Act, which became operative upon February of the current year, made necessary the organization of the Pension Bureau for which provision in the budget is this year, for the first time necessary.

The establishment of the Boston Conservation Bureau, designed to conserve public health and life, is recognized as a most useful and necessary departure and an appropriation is recommended for its maintenance.

Conditions such as obtained during the past winter, injurious to business and the traveling public due to excessive snowfall and lack of proper equipment for the removal of the same, should not, so far as the latter element is concerned, be permitted to again occur.

To guard against this contingency the sum of $200,000 is recommended for the purchase of equipment for snow removal and other mechanical requirements of the Public Works Department.

The substitution of motor vehicles for horse-drawn vehicles in the Fire Department has been conducted with such expedition that in a majority of the fire stations and police patrol stations no attempt has been made to comply with the requirements of the building laws, the result being that gasoline propelled apparatus is located in buildings that are unsuited for motor vehicles.

It is desirable to condition and place the quarters of the firemen throughout the city in a condition which will make it possible without any delay before the expiration of installation of the two-platoon system in 1924, it will be necessary to expend at least some $350,000 for improvement of quarters.

Provision has been made in the budget for an increase of $200,000 in the amount of the annual appropriation for street construction and repair. While it is pleasing to be able to make this meagre addition to the sum annually set aside for street construction and repair, it is in no way commensurate with the requirements of the street program that should be adopted for the benefit of the city and its people. The present street area of Boston is in excess of some 630 miles, and two thirds of which mileage is unsuited for motor vehicle traffic. The present cost of construction would make necessary the expenditure of some $6,000,000 to place the streets of Boston in suitable condition and unless aid is received through the adoption of the gasoline tax and the distribution of the proceeds of the same, it will be necessary at some time in the immediate future, either for the present or some succeeding administration, to recommend and make available a sum at least 20 times as great as is now annually expended in order to provide for present needs in the matter of public highways.

It is desirable that the budget receive early consideration by your honorable body, and I respectfully recommend adoption.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLY, Mayor.

APPROPRIATIONS AND TAX ORDERS FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR 1922-23.

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of February, 1923, of performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the City of Boston or the County of Suffolk, or the departments or officers thereof, and to meet their respective obligations for interest on debt, sinking fund requirement, and maturing debt not provided for by sinking fund, the respective sums of money specified in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out be and the same are hereby appropriated for the several departments and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated.

Ordered, That the appropriation for Water Service, current expenses, and the payment to the state under the provisions of chapter 488 of the Acts of 1895, and acts in addition or amendment thereto, and for the interest and debt requirements for loans issued for water purposes, be met by the income of said works and any excess over income from taxes; that the appropriation for Printing Department be met by the department income and excess over income from taxes; that the appropriation for City Record be met by the income from publication and any excess over income from taxes; that the appropriations hereinafter specified be met out of the money remaining in the treasury for the closed business on January 31, 1923, exclusive of the money raised by loan or needed to carry out the requirements of any statute, gift, trust or special appropriation; and that the income of the financial year, beginning February 1, 1923, and taxes to the amount of $29,080,429.22, and that said amount be raised by taxation on the polls and estates in the City of Boston.

Ordered, That all sums of money which form no part of the income of the city, but shall be paid for services rendered or work done by any department or division for any other department or division, or for any person or corporation other than the City of Boston, be paid into the general treasury, and that all contributions made to any appropriation be expended for the objects and purposes directed by the several contributors thereof. Ordered, That all taxes raised to meet the appropriations of the city and all taxes assessed for meeting the city's proportion of the state tax of the year 1923, or any other taxes or assessments payable to the Commonwealth, be due and payable on the fifteenth day of October, 1923; that interest shall be charged on all taxes rendered unpaid after the first day of November, 1923, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 460 of the Acts of 1920, until paid, except the taxes assessed upon share of national banks, which shall bear interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum from the fifteenth day of October, 1923, until paid, and that all interest which shall have come due on taxes shall be added to and be part of such taxes.

Ordered, That except as the appropriation for any purpose or item shall be increased by additional appropriations or by transfers lawfully made, no money shall be expended by any department for any of the purposes or items designated in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out in excess of the amount set down as appropriated for such specific purpose or item; and except as aforesaid, no salaries or wages shall be paid in excess of the rates specified in said tables and schedules.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. GILBODY in the Chair.

BOSTON TAXI CAB RATE.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Police Commissioner be respectfully requested to report to the next meeting of the City Council for the purpose of considering the present high taxi rate in Boston as compared with other cities.

Coun. HAGAN—At the meeting last Monday I presented an order asking for some information bearing upon the high rates for taxi service in Boston compared with such service in other cities of the country, particularly New York and Chicago. At the time that order was presented I had no idea that I was going to start a tempest, and I am sure I had no such intention. I have been asked the question during a series of years, traveling men coming through this district and visiting Boston, and I have been unable to answer it. So, purely out of curiosity, I presented the order asking the Police Commissioner to give up that information. To my surprise I have been informed through the advertising columns of the daily papers that I have made an attack upon the taxi companies of Boston. If taking a single, reasonable question from the proper source of information is making an attack then I have done so, but in no other way has any attack been made on me, because I did not open my mouth at the time the order was presented. It was passed unanimously by the Council under a suspension of the rule and without any debate. Of course I appreciate the shrewd business judgment of the president of a taxicab company who wants to say anything favorable to his company and I take no objection excepting to that, but I do take exception to the charge that I made an attack in public on the taxi companies. I have made no such attack and am not going to do so now. There is no occasion for it. What I am going to do, Mr. Chairman, is to focus the limelight of publicity on conditions in Boston in comparison with other large municipalities, in the Middle West and in New York. It has been astonishing to find how many business people of Boston, men who because of their business connections are compelled to make quick transit from one point to another, and are obliged to call upon taxi service, as shown by numerous letters and telephone communications that I have received, are bothered by the same problem. It certainly must be apparent that it is one of grave importance to the members of this body of men representing we do the citizens of the entire city. In a newspaper article which appeared in one of the Boston papers a price list was submitted, showing the prices of the Boston Taxi Company. It was submitted by the man who wrote the letter with intent to deceive, for it was an unfair list, as it did not state all the facts. I have answered him through the columns of the press, where I saw the communication, and by a personally directed letter to him, asking him to let me know why it is I can travel from the Congress Hotel in Chicago to the Colosseum, a distance equivalent to that from the Parker House here to Mechanics Building, for 30 cents, whereas it costs me to go from the Congress Hotel to the Parker House to Mechanics Building, more than twice as much money; and if I went with two people from the Parker House to Mechanics Building here, it would be 20 cents extra for each passenger, whereas five people can travel in the taxicab in Chicago for the same price, 30 cents. There is no extra charge for extra passengers. We are told that the price is only ten cents here in Boston, but I ask the question, "Why is it that the Checker Company of Chicago will do this work for 30 cents, while for a similar distance in Boston it costs more than twice as much money, besides having to pay extra for extra passengers here in Boston?"

I have recently traveled from Thirty-fourth street to Times square, twelve blocks, for 40 cents, and I could perhaps have gone half a dozen additional blocks for the same price if I wanted to. That I don't know. How is it that I can travel twelve blocks in New York, and a passenger in the New York City car can travel twenty blocks for the same 40 cents while to travel from the Adams House here in Boston just a short distance, up to a store of mine that I have to visit every night, it costs me a passenger 50 cents? You know what a short distance the Adams House is from a point this side of Dover street.

I had a friend with me last Saturday night, and I was making a nightily visit up there to my store, and I said to him, "Jump in." He got into the car. He was simply going up to the Boylston Street Subway entrance, via a block from the Adams House. I didn't know that the driver would charge me anything for that, though he knew me and that he would be willing to take me for nothing, but of mine, but I had to pay him 20 cents extra because that man got into the car. When we got up near Dover street the charge was 40 cents. In New York you can travel a mile under the schedule rate, with as many passengers as you want to pack into the car or out of it, for 40 cents. You can travel three miles for a dollar, and also take as many passengers as you wish. It cost me today to come from Dorchester to the corner of Dover and Washington street a dollar and the distance is considerably less than two miles. Yet they have the audacity to try to convince the public that the Boston public are not paying any more money for taxicab fares than they are paying in other cities. They take that position in spite of the positive evidence to the contrary. I was very much surprised when the information presented to us officially that I offered the order that I did last week and am taking this action today. We have not heard from the Police Commissioner in reply to the order of last week. I have therefore presented this order today, asking the Police Commissioner who has authority in this matter to give us the information that we come in here and give us some information. There may be some good reason why Boston has to pay more for taxicab fares than is paid in other cities. I don't know. I know that the men driving the cars are getting more money than they are getting in Chicago and the other cities, and I know that the companies in New York and Chicago are making more money than our local companies here, because they are going after volumes of business and are getting just as much into a cab in New York or Chicago with two or three friends, and go from point to point about as cheaply as you can take a trolley. I don't know why the taxicab people of Boston are standing in their own light. They do not seem to realize that they can get a good income if they do not stand in their own light. I don't talk a good deal about volume of business, but they don't know the meaning of the phrase. Volume of business means getting business by charging low prices to the public, and by going at it in that way they can make more money than they do now. Since I have started looking into this matter it is astonishing to find how many taxicab companies I have found to it. I found, for example, what I did not know at last week's meeting, that the Chamber of Commerce here for some time been looking into the matter, and getting information from different cities. I asked them if they would let me have the data for my information. I am sure I am getting authentic information in regard to prices charged in other parts of the country. In the meantime I am informed that they give to the Boston public a place to come to Boston, want to do business here. I don't see why there should be any objection to that. Competition is the life of trade. To would like to see the Boston taxicab companies, legitimate concerns, properly financed, are willing to come here with cars, which they can run at a business profit and still give to the Boston public a place as low as that charged in New York, Chicago and other places. I am sure that I personally would welcome that sort of competition for it would mean that the Boston public would want to ask the Police Commissioner that question—whether there is any objection to such companies coming in? While I don't know of any persons or companies which wish to come in here and do business, I believe from the information I have received that there is no objection to other companies desirous of entering this most fertile field, as good as exists in any large city of the country. If there is no objection, I would ask a suspension of the rule for immediate passage of the order. If there is objection, I am perfectly willing to let the order go to the Executive Committee. The rule was suspended and the order was passed.

PROHIBITION OF USE OF TRUCKS.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Street Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to give their most urgent consideration to the advisability of prohibiting all trucks the use of Boylston street, between Tremont street and Copley square, and of Tremont street, between Boylston street and Scollay square, and of Washington street, between Boylston street and Adams square, during the hours from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, speaking briefly to the order in question, the street traffic conditions in Boston have reached an acute stage. Everybody knows that and everybody is trying to find some way to solve the problem. It is most difficult to do so. No matter what is done we tread on somebody's toes, are bound to offend somebody. If we are going to relieve ourselves of the traffic conditions existing here today, if we are going to avoid an absolute, positive impediment to progress, we must do something. To provide parking privileges and parking space somewhere is most essential. Most of the automobiles we see circling around through our streets are the cars of people going around and around the block, while the owner is shopping, at a movie show, or visiting this or that place. There is no opportunity for them to pass so they have to keep moving. It is our duty as representatives of the City of Boston to put our minds on this problem, helping the Street Commissioners and helping his Honor the Mayor, doing our best to get some results. We took the cars of Washington and Tremont streets to relieve congestion, and, having taken the trolley service off the streets, we are left with the cars, a discommoding many of the people of the city, surely we are going to gain nothing, after having taken off the trolley cars, by letting heavy trucks of all kinds fill up those boulevard streets. I have a little photo taken here showing congested conditions at the corner of Washington and Washington streets during Easter week, and I see at the least a half a dozen that quite a percentage of them are heavy trucks. I don't blame the drivers of those trucks, but I blame the city for allowing Washington street in preference to Tremont or to the North Station through Charles, Causeway and Cambridge streets. It is smooth paving all the way along, and they like the nice easy going, like the rest of us. Naturally they pick the smooth paving in preference to taking some rough going. But we must not acquiesce in that, the disadvantage of the entire business district. They can get to the North Station by other routes, going a little out of the way, rather than going directly through Washington street, through Tremont street and Scollay square. Charles street or Cambridge street are not obstructed by automobile traffic to such an extent that we are obliged to take Washington street or Tremont street. The object of the order is to have the Street Commissioners study the problem and see if it is not possible to prohibit the use of these important thoroughfares right in the middle of the city by automobile trucks at certain hours. When you go to New York, you find that they find that automobile trucks on Fifth avenue, and Boylston and Tremont streets as boulevards are in the same class as Fifth avenue in New York. They are found in New York, they are not being allowed to go on Fifth avenue. They are, of course, permitted to cross the avenue in certain sections, but not to travel down through the avenue. I think the trucking and teaming interests will probably take a crack at me for this action. That is the penalty I have to pay here for trying to do our duty, getting the greatest good for the greatest number. In doing that, we have got to have somebody take a crack at me. I have wanted to get used to it. If there is no objection to passage of the order at this time, I would ask a suspension of the rule and that it be put upon its passage.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I don't want to be misunderstood in the position that I maintain concerning the order offered by the councilor opposite, but the thought struck me regarding his remarks, what was he going to do with the trucks if they are not allowed to go on Washington, Tremont and Boylston streets, between the hours mentioned by him? The trucking business is legitimate business, as legitimate as business done in a store, and the truck men, of course, are entitled to the same consideration. I believe they will get it. The order as read appears to me to be a suspension of the rule, which is claimed to be an improvement, without at least believing that it is possible to bring about the change and without having good grounds for thinking that we will be an improvement. I am rather sceptical about the advisability of removing trucks from the street between the points mentioned, between certain points. This asks for a consideration of the advisability of prohibiting trucking. What is meant by trucking? I don't know what the member may have in mind. I don't know what anything but a vehicle to carry passengers operating between Adams square and Milk street between certain hours. That would prohibit newspaper trucks or teaming trucks, passing between particular points during certain hours. I don't know that I would favor that. It is a thing I would want to look into. Secondly, where do they go to? There is no highway in Boston where there is greater congestion of traffic than on Atlantic avenue, where necessarily those coming from that side of the city must turn to. The same thing is true of Charles street and Causeway street. Causeway street now takes traffic that comes down through Tremont street. It has to go in that direction. But if everything is turned away from Washington street and Tremont street, you will be driving very heavy traffic into Causeway street and Charles street at one time, and I don't feel that it is a practical proposition. The trucking industry, according to the papers, is already being legislated against by the city. I don't think we should pay a greater sum for gasoline, and I understand that the trucks are going to be charged the heaviest tax or license or tax. So, while we are limiting them on the one side, we are adding burdens to them on the other. We at least ought to consider both sides of the question. If we are properly treating the trucking interests, by the way, we will benefit the retail stores, by the way, we may attempt to put on them in the way of regulation what we lay on the merchants of Boston, just as much as on the men who own the trucks. I would like to go rather carefully on this proposition. I don't want to be put in the position of not wanting to do something to relieve congestion, and that is not and has not been my attitude.

I can point to my position in attempting to bring that special action on Washington and Charles street which shows that I have some interest in improving traffic conditions in Boston. I have voted all along the line for every purpose of a loan and that called for closing of streets and the removing of congestion in the way of traffic. But we should not compare Boston to New York. There is no comparison whatever. We have here about a mile and a half, I believe, from Charles river to the waterfront, between the points mentioned, and the gentleman opposite, and we have in that zone, I have mentioned, Adams avenue, Washington street and Tremont street, the only three arteries going north and south, which has put New York in a position of running parallel, radial highways, a great number, from Avenue A to 12th avenue. I agree, I don't know New York as well as the gentleman opposite (Coun. Moriarty), there only occasionally, while he goes frequently, and when I am going around there I either walk or use the five-cent fare. I have found out from the gentleman how to get a little the best of the transportation problem by having five people ride in a taxi for thirty cents, and perhaps I can try that out sometime. I don't want to be wise beyond my wit. I may be able to take advantage of later. But, in all seriousness, I cannot vote for this order at the present time. I am against suspension of the rule, because I have a very big proposition. I was willing to vote for the gentleman's taxi order, because it is a matter that does not call for as great care in handling as this matter. This is a proposition that may do a great injustice and, therefore, I would like to have it referred to some committee. I don't feel whether this is a proper and logical thing to do, but we can vote for it. But let us not act hurriedly. I do want information before I can vote on this. I would therefore like to have it referred to a committee for consideration.

Coun. LANE—Mr. President, I agree with Coun. Watson that we should not suspend the rule at this time on an order of this kind. I think there is a great deal of truth in what Coun. Watson has said; and I also feel that if we are going to investigate this matter through the Street Commission, that we should investigate the pleasure of the citizens. The pleasure are the ones which have most to do with the blocking of traffic downtown, and most of the cars are from outside of Boston. Only last week I was walking up Atlantic and wealth avenue, and from Gloucester street to Massachusetts avenue and beyond, for several blocks in the afternoon, there was a steady, solid line of cars coming down the avenue, evidently mostly out-of-town cars, many of them going toward Cambridge. Those cars come in town every day, people use them to go shopping, and they are filling up the streets, certainly, think if the Street Commissioners, in planning to take action in this matter they must keep the pleasure cars west of Charles street. There will then be a chance for the business cars to do some business and not block traffic. I believe the pleasure cars are the ones causing the congestion. I believe there is at least three times as much trouble from the pleasure cars on Charles, Boylston and Tremont streets as there is from the trucks in those hours.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, I stated in my remarks that from the suspension of the rule provided there was no objection. I am perfectly willing to have the order referred to some committee. I simply wish to have strict consideration given to it. I simply wish to have the Street Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, requested to give their most urgent consideration to the advisability of prohibiting all trucks the use of these streets in Boston between certain points at certain hours. We would be led to believe that the best results are going to be obtained by doing nothing or going on just as we are. That thought does not appeal to me at all. I think we ought to do something, and that is the something I propose. I believe the wisest solution. I would not want the gentleman opposite to think for a moment that I am here trying to impede or throw my obstruction in the way of successful operation of business in Boston. Merchants can get their merchandise up to until ten or eleven o'clock in the morning and it is not a big matter. It can be done when they make up their minds that it must be done. I simply think some serious consideration should be given to the matter. I don't care to be an alarmist, but we are getting to a point where we are having many bad automobile accidents in Boston to adults and children. The accidents reported would have been as suggested by Coun. Lane, that might be one solution, but it would appear to be at first blush as if we were simply saying to the people who live outside of Boston, "You have to come in here and you cannot come in here and spend any money with us." Now, the people who come here in their cars, passenger automobiles for the purpose of doing business, or for pleasure or other things, where they are spending money in Boston, are helping Boston along financially to that extent, and it is a matter we must live. Surely we don't want to prevent that. I certainly don't want to do anything that would be injurious to the business of the truck men, but I think it is a question that will relieve this congestion, and sitting here week in and week out and having no solution of the problem proposed, following but do nothing, and it is a question of the wise way of handling the problem. I am perfectly willing to have it referred to any committee for every possible thought and consideration.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I did not intend to say anything, but the councilor who last spoke has in his last few words practically put it up to the City Council that they are responsible for the traffic conditions in Boston. He says that we sit here week after week and do nothing, and I feel that it is not up to us to do anything. It is the general public that we have the control of the streets, when the charter accepted some fourteen years ago took everything away from this body. We are not talking here. It may be that the commission have already made some investigation. Perhaps without even sending this to a committee or passing on it, they have sent out men to get the benefits of some investigation they have made. Possibly they will enlighten us from what they have learned of traffic conditions which do not seem to be the right way to go about this, if we are honest in our contention, is to send for the chairman of the Street Commission and ask him some questions, and let him report. We might find out that there have been investigations, and we may be able to enlighten ourselves through the chairman of the commission which does not seem to be the right way of our city. But to leave it that we have control, or to lead the citizens of Boston to believe that we have control, when we have absolutely no control, is a mistake. Even if there should be a decision to try to keep the trucks off the streets, it would not please with our province to do it. I think it is a big problem, and it is out not to jump into it haphazard at the present time. I feel before voting upon it that I would like to have some investigation, and I also believe that possibly the Street Commissioners have made an investigation and may be able to give us the information we desire.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, I would ask to change the wording of the order so as to ask the Street Commissioners to come to the next meeting of the Council. I intend to co-operate with the members of the body in getting the results that I believe are all aiming at. I don't feel that I am interested in the matter any more than any other gentleman here. We are all equally interested. When I said we were doing nothing I did not mean that to apply to the City Council of Boston. I meant that the city was doing nothing. I believe that if the City Council of Boston have little authority it is because frequently they do not want to take the responsibility and assume the authority that they have. The Council can make themselves a much more important body as citizens of Boston than they have ever been, if they care to do so. However, if there is no objection will have the order changed so as to read "that the Street Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to appear at the next meeting of the City Council," and so forth.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. Chairman, I think we might refer the order to the Executive Committee today and send for the chairman of the Street Commissioners.

Coun. HAGAN—I didn't know that we would have time to do that. I have no objection to having it referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. Chairman, I would like to say just a word in connection with the order introduced by Coun. Hagan. I believe he has the right idea. While I don't agree with his order entirely, that traffic in so far as it pertains to heavy trucking should be taken from the streets, he is right between the hours of ten and five, still I think there is a possibility that heavy trucking might be removed from the streets he refers to during the busiest hours of the day, say around the noon hour, between half-past eleven and half-past one, and in the late afternoon or evening hours, from half-past four to half-past five. I think the heavy trucks at least in connection with relieving traffic congestion. I believe we should have some study made of it. I don't have any authority with a view to relieving the situation, if they will but do so—the Street Commission. I am in favor of having the Street Commission appear before the City Council. I think the study has been made of plans that might remedy the situation. But I want to agree with Coun. Hagan in so far as saying that I think it is right to have the Council see that any passenger cars, so called, coming into our streets during any hours of the day, could be considered in any sense of the term pleasure cars, because they are not any pleasure in coming through this section of the city at those hours of the day. So I think if any cars are going to be removed it cannot be the passenger cars or pleasure cars, so called, but must be the heavy trucks. I think they can very readily regulate their business so that they can avoid coming in and out of the busiest streets in this section during the busiest hours of the day.

Chairman GILBOY—If there is no objection the Chair will refer the order to the Executive Committee.

The order stood referred to the Executive Committee.

BATHING PRIVILEGES, NORTH END PARK.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Park Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to appear at the next meeting of the City Council and explain the bathing privileges of the North End Park have been prohibited, and if conditions there can be remedied so that the people can continue to enjoy the beach and bathing privileges.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, the order in question calls upon the Park Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, to appear at the next meeting, or at some meeting of the City Council, and explain why the bathing privileges at North End Park have been or are to be prohibited. I read an account in the daily papers to the effect that the present bathing facilities would not be available for the people of this district this summer. I understand that there are about 8,000 people a day, young people and children particularly, who patronize this park in the summer time. The reason for the discontinuance of the bathing facilities is because of the polluted condition of the water. A newspaper article I read gave me to understand that the sanitary arrangements at the Navy Yard, and the sewage, were run into the harbor. I believe the Federal Government is thoroughly well equipped with sanitary engineers and can remedy the situation. They are spending money of the people's money to protect the health of the people in different directions, and I believe if proper pressure was brought to bear on the Federal authorities, with co-operation on the part of city officials, the sewage from the Navy Yard could be diverted into the sewerage system of the city and not into the harbor. It would cost some money, but again that would be offset the value of the bathing facilities, the healthful advantages resulting to thousands of people in that congested district by the continuance of the harbor, and an expenditure of money that would result in that would be a wonderful investment in health and in lives of the people of this city. I believe, Mr. Chairman, the every effort should be made by the city officials and by the federal authorities to relieve that condition, arising from the unsanitary conditions from the Navy Yard, and that the use of the North End Park for bathing purposes should not be prohibited. I am sure that if this happened over in my district, in Dorchester, or if it happened in Coun. Moriarty's district, in South Boston, the Strandway, and bathing was to be dispensed with on the second day of the summer in arms about it. I certainly hope everything possible will be done to preserve this advantage and comfort to the people of the North End section of the city. I believe that the people will comfort of this sort that they have. Of course, every member of the body is just as anxious as I am to see that this North End Park kept in proper condition for bathing and for the use of the people this summer, the same as the other summers, and I anticipate receiving the hearty co-operation of every member of the body with result in I know just what the situation is, but certainly it is possible to do something to relieve present conditions.

Coun. HEALEY—Mr. Chairman, at the meeting in the Mayor's office the other day it was decided that something must be done, and a program of action was decided upon. The Park Commissioner, Mr. Moriarty, who is here with us today, was then present. It was then decided that the people of the North End should have continuous bathing; but they will not be able to have the beach bathing there they have had in the past because of the contaminated condition of the water. It was decided that bathing accommodations could be afforded by tanks, with chlorinated water, necessary because of the filthy condition of the water. The situation there is simply one that must be faced. The Health Department and the Park Department have been investigating the matter for two years. The chairman of the Park Department is present today and undoubtedly will be able to give information to those who may wish it, but the Council will understand the situation if there is any doubt about it. The administration believe in bathing facilities, and afford in the North End, and is willing to appropriate the money so that the thousands of mothers and little children in that section will have these facilities. It is not possible, however, to have beach bathing, because of the fact that the water is foul. If in order, I would suggest that in our Executive Committee meeting the chairman of the Park Department be requested to explain the improvements that are anticipated in North End bathing facilities.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, I am perfectly willing to have the order referred to the Executive Committee. I would like to have the members of the Council understand that the sentiment of the people of the North End is that the water be kept clean, no tank bathing, and if beach bathing is to be made available it must be through proper sanitary arrangements, including the expenditure of a substantial sum of money, to overcome the unsanitary conditions that now pollute the harbor waters. What should be done is to divert the sewage from the Navy Yard at the beach into the regular sewerage system of the city.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

REASONS FOR TAKING LAND, EAST BOSTON.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the chairman of the Schoolhouse Commission, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to appear before the City Council, at some future meeting, and give the reasons for the taking of East Boston for the playground at the Strandway in East Boston for the building of schools thereon.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, I think as far back as the year 1890, there has always been a disposition on the part of city officials, no matter who or under what administration, to make a grab at public parks and playgrounds. I am in favor of putting up public buildings. The fact that the city owns the land is the appealing thought; the fact that it was established for health purposes and for the benefit of certain communities in that regard is lost sight of. Economy seems to be the watchword. I am absolutely opposed to this sort of false economy. This Council has worked here for four years to get an appropriation through, removing the obstacles and impediments to the establishment of a playground at Eagle Hill in East Boston. The people of the district were working for that end as hard as, even harder than, any member of this Council. It was finally obtained. That is, something was done; not as much as some would have desired, but something was established. I now understand that the School Committee are going to take the site for a school building, and they say they won't have to buy some land elsewhere, equally suitable—and in that event the playground is lost. The city established a playground on Cottage street in the Italian section. It seems to me to be needed there now as much as it was ever needed. I have been informed—that there is disposition on the part of the School Committee to establish a school building there—again with the idea of saving some money for the city, but it is saving money unwisely.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman will yield for a moment, I would suggest that the order be referred to the City properly worded. The School Committee has nothing to do with taking the land for that purpose.

Coun. HAGAN—The Schoolhouse Commission.

Coun. WATSON—Well, it says "the School Committee." I think the wording of the order should be changed.

Coun. HAGAN—The gentleman is right. The Schoolhouse Commission is the body I intended to refer the order to, and I have authority. That slipped my mind for the moment. In New York, Mr. Chairman, there has been this same disposition on the part of the city authorities to take the land and install public buildings there. The people of New York have fought that with all their might, in order to keep that breathing space free for the use of the great metropolis. We here in Boston all know if it were not for the arduous and continual work of the Boston Common School Society to keep a City Hall, and probably other buildings, up there. We would have one or two police stations, a fire house, other things, today established on the site of the great metropolis. Common Society stands there with guns loaded and have prevented city officials in the past, as I hope they will do in the future, from taking any land for anything but the people of Boston. I see a disposition now, showing that same attitude, simply because it involves the saving of a little bit of money, to establish fire headquarters on the Fenix. I am going to oppose it with every ounce of energy I possess, for once they get their little finger in, in only one opening edge, other city officials will come in and want to use different parts of the park system, so that by and by we cannot point with pride, as we do today, to our fine park system. Now all that the start to be made. I appreciate the fact that the fire headquarters ought to be in an isolated place, somewhere, not too far distant, and away from the playground. But there are other places outside of the public parks where that condition exists. I am opposed today and at all times to the taking of any public park, devoted to the public use as a breathing space, for the building of public buildings. I believe that from the very moment a child is born, he has a right to a spot for the community it should not be disturbed by use for any other purpose. I ask, of course, that the wording of the order be changed so that it refer to the chairman of the Schoolhouse Commission rather than of the School Committee.

The amendment was adopted, and the question came on the passage of the order as amended.

Coun. HEALEY—Mr. Chairman I feel that there is certainly a misunderstanding on the part of the gentleman as to what is intended in this matter. While I might consider myself perhaps as more or less the father of the project over the years, I have not cared to discuss it until now. It has been approved by the Schoolhouse Commission, the Park Department, the School Committee, the Mayor. These officials, together with the people of the section, are strongly in favor of the taking and the proposed playground, from curtailing the present recreational opportunities of the people of the section, it is proposed in connection with the project to afford a playground for the women and children of the district, facilities that are not now given, and to also afford additional playground facilities elsewhere in the city and in the suburbs. I believe the Mayor of the city of Boston is in favor of the proposed transfer of these lands in East Boston from the Park Department to the School Committee, and I believe that the City of Boston, it being understood in connection with the transfer that the School Committee shall appropriate of this order is simply to give two new playgrounds to the mothers and children, to the exclusion of the grown-ups, and the money used for the purchase of the ground for school purposes will be devoted to the acquisition of other playgrounds for the grown-ups. What we are trying to do here in East Boston is just as clear as east of Boston. The question of the most crowded sections of the city. If you go to the Cottage Street Playground, now called William Amerena Playground, of 190,000 square feet of land, you find a little space of not more than one tenth set apart for the mothers and children, and the rest devoted to the use of the grown-up men and boys. Yet in that city, where there are perhaps 3,400 adults and perhaps four times that number of children. In the upper part of the district, Eagle Hill, we intend to cut that down to the street level, and 20,000 or 30,000 feet will be used for school purposes and the rest will be prohibited to the grown-ups and be used for the mothers and children. The $50,000 already appropriated will be used to obtain the land for a park for the grown-ups. The whole thing is so up to date, so logical, and so in accordance with the best interests of the people that I ought to explain the nigger in the wood pile. A man in East Boston who is rather notorious for his vindictive and malicious character, and for his rations of public men, has been accused of having an option on a piece of property over there which it had been proposed to use for school purposes, but the school authorities refused to take it for such purposes. It happens to be the only lot left that could be used for ball playgrounds, and the Eagle Hill Playground is given over for school purposes. Some men in East Boston who have had their political ambitions unsatisfied and who have felt the sting of the man's tongue have been hined into a kitchen cabinet, a scullery cabinet, and as a result the local papers are opposed to the new playground idea proposed by Healey, because the subject of the man who has hurt their feelings at some time may sell land to the city. I do not say that the honorable councilors from Dorchester and South Boston know that fact because I don't think they do. Two representative members of the Legion over there are in favor of the project, as are the Veterans of Foreign Wars, through whom the park will be named William Amerena Playground. The local clergy are in favor of the transfer, and at public meetings upon the subject the majority have been recorded in favor of the transfer. I accept of course, the lesson read to me that I should not undignify myself by appearing here as a councilor for East Boston, and I should come to my full stature and announce that I am a councilor at large. Mr. Chairman, perhaps some time I shall be able to measure up to the height and breadth of the country to which I have preceded me. I am yet young politically. Later, however, following in their footsteps, I may be able to attain to the high niche which they occupy, reaching my old time. But, talking practically, a man who comes from East Boston, while elected at large, is supposed to look after the interests of that district. I don't suppose anybody could deny, as a matter of logic and reason, that a man coming from East Boston, who lives in East Boston, understands what that district needs much better than another member, even although he may have received a large vote from and be well known in the district. I repeat, Mr. Chairman, that the broad statement I have made, and a broad statement which is true, that East Boston is wholeheartedly in favor of this movement. Let it be understood that the objections to the movement are men whose susceptibilities have been wounded by the tongue of that man to whom I have referred, who he supposed to have an option on certain land; and it also be understood that, if you boast of the fact that you have served the public for many years in this council, you are going to try to keep the modern administration of park departments. Bear well in mind the thought that Boston should be abreast of New York and other cities of the United States, and that we should do so it must supply parks primarily for the use of mothers and children; secondarily, but of equal importance, parks for the grown-ups. But the plan in East Boston at the present time do not offer the advantages they should offer for the mothers and children. I trust that the loudness of my voice will be taken as an indication of critical feeling or animosity toward the other two councilors. We develop that vigor of utterance in the hustlings of East Boston. We want your assistance, and we want it badly, because, unfortunately, the men who oppose this plan in East Boston are well known and take it upon themselves to speak for the people while the people in the crowded sections of a district like East Boston are loath to come to the City Council and express themselves as either in favor of or against a proposition. We know, however, the feeling of the people of East Boston in regard to this matter, and they are practically united in favor of this project. Their representative must have the confidence of the people, and when he speaks I trust that the courtesy of the Council will be accorded to him, and the honor also of admitting that he speaks as one who understands the soul of his district. I think I do understand the soul of the district, because of living there all my life. If another man speaking here suggested to me that he lived among and understood the wishes and ideas of the people of Dorchester, South Boston or Roxbury, I would feel that he understood the needs of his district and I would respect as a councilor his feelings in the matter. Of course, we are elected at large, and as a result of East Boston I trust that the Council will not go on record as being opposed to the transfer proposed from the Park to the Schoolhouse Department, because you may say that it is not really a transfer but involves an improvement of the park system of East Boston.

(At request of Coun. Watson the Clerk read the order.)

Coun. WATSON—Mr. Chairman, the question of locality seems to be the foundation of all the trouble this afternoon, according to the gentleman who has preceded me, and I am inclined to think, the way we are all talking, that we have been bitten by a talk-fest bug. I cannot see any harm in the order and I don't know as Mr. Healey sees any harm in the order. It merely asks for information. As for going on record, in a matter of favoring or opposing the proposed plan over there, as set forth in the bill before the Legislature, that is a question for us to determine later. If we have no authority, as I understand it, we have no authority. The Legislature will take its own action on the matter and with that, of course, we have no power to interfere. I think the order offered by Coun. Hagan is harmless, and consequently I shall vote for it, and I am willing today to vote for a suspension of the rule so that it may be put upon its passage. I don't think Mr. Healey objects.

Coun. HEALEY—Not a bit.

The rule was suspended and the order was passed.

PARKMAN FUND ORDER TAKEN FROM COMMITTEE.

It was voted, on motion of Coun. MORIARTY, to take the message of Mayor and order, concerning the Common and "Zoo" from the Committee on Parkman Fund, and refer the same to the Executive Committee.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

Coun. GILBODY called up Nos. 1, 2 and 3, unfinished business, viz:

Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor on April 2, 1923, viz:

1. Catherine M. McMahon, Edward W. Pierce, 2d, Richard S. Kendall and Richard P. Dooley, to be Weighers of Coal.

2. Francis M. Campbell, to be a Weigher of Coal, a Weigher of Goods and a Weigher of Boilers and Heavy Machinery.

3. Michael J. McGrath, to be a Weigher of Goods.

The question came on confirmation. Coun. Moriarty and Walsh. Whole number of ballots cast, 9; yeas 9, nays 0, and the appointments were confirmed.

IMPROVEMENTS, VARIOUS PLAY-GROUNDS.

Coun. GILBODY called up No. 4, unfinished business, viz:

4. Ordered, That the sum of $60,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated for improvements, etc., William Estis, William E. Carter and John J. Connolly Playgrounds, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be and hereby is authorized to issue bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

On March 26, 1923, the foregoing order was read and passed, yeas 9.

The order was given its final reading and passed, yeas 9, nays 0.

RECESS TAKEN.

The Council voted at 4.30 p. m., on motion of Coun. GILBODY, to take a recess subject to the call of the President. The members of the Council reassembled in the chamber and were called to order by the President at 5.35 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. WATSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following, viz:

1. Reports on petitions (referred today) for permits for children under fifteen years of age to appear at various places of amusement—that permits be granted, viz:

Ruth I. Byrne, Colney-Plaza, Mass. 4.
Marie Raymond, South Boston Municipal Hall, May 4.

Report accepted; permits granted on the usual conditions.

2. Report on communication from Street Commissioners (referred March 19) concerning hearings on petitions for storage and sale of gasoline—that the same be placed on file. Report accepted; communication placed on file.

3. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) for loan of $15,000 for bathhouse and other improvements at World War Memorial Park—that the order ought to pass. The report was accepted and the order was given its first reading and passed, yeas 7, nays 0.

The order will take its final reading not less than fourteen days from date.

4. Report on message of Mayor, communication from the Board of Park Commissioners, Parkman Fund March 5, and taken from said committee today) for appropriation of $52,000 for the acquisition of the Fens and Zoological Garden—that the order ought to pass. Report accepted; order passed, yeas 7, nays 0.

5. Report on order (referred today) concerning prohibition of bathing and swimming in North End Park—that the order ought to pass. Report accepted; order passed.

6. Report on order (referred today) concerning prohibition of use of trucks on certain streets between the hours of 10 a. m. and 5 p. m.—that the order ought to pass. Report accepted; order passed.

7. Report on message of Mayor and ordinance (referred today) concerning salaries of officers at County Jail—that the ordinance ought to pass.

The order was accepted and the order was passed.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. Chairman, in view of the fact that I was not in the room at the time the vote was taken on that particular proposition, move that we reconsider the vote whereby the ordinance was adopted. Chairman HAGAN—I would say for the benefit of Coun. Donoghue, while he was not in the room (in executive session) his vote was counted, because we knew what his position was.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Yes, I understand that my vote was counted in executive committee, but I want to protest against the thing in open Council, so that there will at least be a record showing how we stand on the proposition and in the Executive Committee there isn't any public record. For that reason, I move a reconsideration of the vote whereby the ordinance was passed by the Council. If it has been passed, I simply wish to say in that connection that before we give increases in salary to county employees we ought to know what the policy of the administration is going to be toward the city employees. I am particularly interested, not in county employees but in city employees, the employees of the City of Boston. I am particularly interested in any increase in salaries are given to county employees we should at least wait until we get out what our policy is going to be in the budget toward the city employees. Every member of the Council knows what the increases are going to be for city employees this year, because the fact that an ordinance coming just came to us today, and at the same meeting we have received this communication, dealing with this matter, which, at the instigation of the sheriff, I presume, was read with the aid of His Honor the Mayor, and we pass it the very day that it comes to the body—an unprecedented procedure, in my opinion. I have never yet heard of an ordinance coming before the Council which was not referred before action to the Committee on Ordinances. I suppose, because of the fact that the Council has not yet organized, the presiding officer referred the matter to the Executive Committee, so that we might take some action upon it if we had to do so. I don't think the same policy would have been to refer the matter to the Committee on Ordinances, the same as we refer matters concerning appropriations to the Committee on Appropriations. I suppose some member of the Council to act as chairman of that committee if there is any great amount of business before it. I think, before passing this ordinance, that the better the ordinance, we should at least know where we stand in the matter of increases for the city employees. While we do stand in the matter of increasing salaries for city laborers? Does anybody know? Not a member of the Council, in my opinion, knows whether or not there is an increase in the budget this year for city laborers. We have heard some talk from the Budget Commissioner to the effect that those on so-called step rates are going to receive no increase, but what member of the Council knows what employees are on step rates? Nobody here knows who is or who is not on the so-called departmental rates, but step rate schedules as they see fit to do so. Who is deserving of increases, if not the city laborers? In my opinion, the city laborers are the ones who need increases most, and I think before we talk increases for people who are not employees of the City of Boston, who are county employees, we should consider the interests of the citizens of Boston, those who have elected us to this Council, and that we should know what the policy of the administration is going to be toward increases for them, if there are to be any. I certainly hope the motion to reconsider will prevail.

The passage of the ordinance was declared reconsidered. Coun. Glibody doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

Reconsideration prevailed, yeas 4, nays 2.
Yeas—Coun. Donoghue, Hagan, Healey, Watson—4.

Nays—Coun. Glibody, Lane—2.
Coun. WATSON—Mr. Chairman, I voted for reconsideration in order to give a chance to the gentleman to make a statement. What the question comes on passage I shall vote for the ordinance.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. Chairman, I now move the matter be referred to the Committee on Ordinances, when appointed. I am not particularly prejudiced against this ordinance, outside of the fact that I have a natural prejudice against increasing salaries for those who are not citizens of Boston, not employees of the City of Boston, until we have done something for the employees of the City of Boston. I believe that primarily we should try to increase the salaries and better the conditions of Boston residents and Boston citizens. As I said in opening, I am not particularly opposed to this proposition. I do believe, however, that there should be no great haste in passing the ordinance, that it should wait until such time as we know what the policy of the administration is going to be toward increases in the pay of city employees. For that reason I move that the Committee on Ordinances be appointed, realizing that it can be taken at any time on motion of any member of the Council from that committee and acted upon. But I do not believe it should be acted upon until we know at least what is in the budget for our own city employees.

The question came on the motion to refer the ordinance to the Committee on Ordinances. The Chair being in doubt asked for the yeas and nays.

Motion to refer to the Committee on Ordinances was lost, yeas 3, nays 4.

Yeas—Coun. Donoghue, Hagan, Healey—3.

Nays—Coun. Glibody, Lane, Moriarty, Watson—4.

Coun. LANE—Mr. President, I now move the passage of the ordinance.

The question came, on the passage of the ordinance.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. Chairman, I want to voice my protest, at least as one member of this Council, in opposition to the passage of this ordinance at this time. It is a rather peculiar thing, to my mind, to see an ordinance such as this rushed in here today and passed by the Council the day it is sent in without any one knowing what the policy of the administration is going to be toward the increase in salaries of city employees, if any. I don't believe it has will be done to anyone by referring this matter to the Committee on Ordinances until such time as we know what increases are going to be provided for our own city employees. To me it is most peculiar thing to have this ordinance passed by the votes of the members of this Council without one word practically having been said in its behalf. I have heard no argument whatever advanced showing why this ordinance should prevail at this time, and to my mind it would seem a significant outstanding question for the Boston City Council to act upon an ordinance of this kind, on the same afternoon when it is submitted, passing it immediately after making increases in salaries for city employees, some of whom may not be residents of the City of Boston, without one word having been spoken in its behalf.

The ordinance was declared rejected. Coun. Lane doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

The ordinance was declared passed, yeas 5, nays 2.

Yeas—Coun. Glibody, Healey, Lane, Moriarty, Watson—5.

Nays—Coun. Donoghue, Hagan—2.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. Chairman, I rise to a point of information. Does it require a majority vote or a two thirds vote of the members of the Council to pass an ordinance?

Chairman HAGAN—A majority vote. Five having voted in the affirmative and two in the negative, the ordinance is adopted.

8. Report on communication from justice of the East Boston Court (referred today), determining salary of probation officer—recommending passage of the following, viz.:

Ordered, That the salary of Dennis J. Keller, probation officer of the East Boston District Court of the City of Boston, be fixed at the rate of $2,500 per annum, to date from February 1, 1923.

Report accepted; order passed.

NAMING OF SQUARES, EAST BOSTON.

Coun. MORIARTY, for Coun. BRICKLEY, offered the following:

Ordered, That the plot of land located at the junction of Monmouth, White and Brook streets, East Boston, now known as Monmouth square, be changed to Agnes Queenan square, in honor of said army nurse who made the supreme sacrifice during the late World War.

Ordered, That the plot of land located at the junction of Trenton, Prescott and East Eagle streets, East Boston, be named William A. Tryder square, in honor of said soldier, who made the supreme sacrifice during the late World War.

Ordered, That the plot of land located at the junction of White, Trenton and Putnam streets, East Boston, be named James J. Flynn square, in honor of said sailor, who made the supreme sacrifice during the late World War.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. WATSON moved a general reconsideration on all business transacted at the meeting, hoping that the same would not prevail. Lost.

Adjourned at 5.52 p. m., on motion of Coun. DONOGHUE, to meet on Monday, April 16, at two o'clock p. m.

SETTLEMENT OF BOSTON.

Boston was settled in the latter part of August, 1630, by Puritan colonists under Governor John Winthrop. The name of the original settlement was changed to Boston from Trimountaine by order of the Court of Assistants on September 7 (O. S.), 1630. This date was moved forward by the New Style calendar in 1752 to Sept. 17, the recognized date of the founding of Boston. The name, Trimountaine, had been given because of the three peaks of the most prominent hill, afterward called Beacon Hill, much higher than now. By the Indians the place was called Shawmut. The name, Boston, was derived from the English town of Boston in Lincolnshire, the home of some of the leading colonists and promoters of the enterprise.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of 50 or 60 persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about 400 persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity. Plymouth and Salem being governed by a Governor and Council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident Governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on Oct. 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as Governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following, and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as Governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott 15 years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving 12 years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed 82 years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

POPULATION OF OTHER NEW ENGLAND CITIES (BY RANK).

Providence, 237,595; Worcester, 179,754; New Haven, 162,519; Bridgeport, 143,533; Hartford, 138,036; Springfield, 129,563; New Bedford, 121,217; Fall River, 120,485; Lowell, 112,759; Cambridge, 109,694; Lynn, 99,148; Lawrence, 94,270; Somerville, 93,091; Waterbury, Conn., 91,410; Manchester, N. H., 78,384; Portland, 69,272; Brockton, 66,254; Pawtucket, R. I., 64,248; Holyoke, 60,203; New Britain, Conn., 59,316; Haverhill, 53,884. The 24 cities not included here have less than 50,000 population.

VOTES ON REFERENDA AT STATE ELECTION.

On acceptance of Two-platoon System, i. e., the division into day and night forces of Fire Dept.: Yes, 59,704; No, 90,524; majority against, 30,820; blanks, 22,640. On election of a City Council of fifteen members by districts instead of at large: Yes, 56,324; No, 79,353; majority against, 23,029; Blanks, 37,191. On approval of Act to regulate the manufacture and sale of beer, cider and light wines (Chap. 630, Acts of 1920), which provides that all beverages containing not less than one-half of 1 per cent and not over 2½ per cent of alcohol by weight at 60 degrees (Fahr.) shall be deemed not intoxicating: Yes, 87,300; No, 63,651; majority for approval, 23,649; blanks, 21,917. (In the year 1920.)

ABSENTEE VOTING AT STATE ELECTIONS.

By Chapter 289, General Acts of 1919, any registered voter absent from home at election time may vote by mailing an "official absent voting ballot" previously applied for and obtained from the Election Commissioners, to the latter so as to be received before the polls close. Said ballot must be marked by the voter privately but within the observation of an official authorized to administer oaths, and of no other person, in a municipality which is separated by at least two municipalities from that in which he is registered. The voter must make affidavit before said official, enclose ballot in official envelope and mail same on or before day of election.

Of 865 Absentee ballots mailed to Election Dept., on or before Nov. 2, 1920, 570 were counted, 10 were rejected and 288 were uncounted because not received until after closing of polls.

VOTE FOR MAYOR AND OTHER OFFICIALS AT LAST ELECTION.

Total registered voters, 207,590 or 131,610 men, and 75,980 women, said total being 3,924 more than in 1920; names checked, 162,132, or 78.1 per cent of all registered, which is higher by two per cent than in 1917, at the last mayoral election.

Vote for Mayor, James M. Curley, 74,261; John R. Murphy, 71,791; Charles S. Baxter, 4,268; Charles S. O'Connor, 10,844; all others, 22. Totals, 161,186. Of the 11 City Council candidates voted for John A. Donoghue was re-elected, receiving 53,466 votes; William J. Walsh became a new member with the leading vote of 57,466 and George F. Gilbody another, with a vote of 55,136. Of the two School Committee candidates, Frances G. Curtis was re-elected, with 79,139 votes. Vote on referendum: "Shall Licenses be Granted for the Sale of Certain Non-Intoxicating Beverages in this City?"—Yes, 86,474; No, 46,094; Blanks, 29,564. Per cent of registered voters who voted on referendum, 63.86.

INCREASE IN ELECTION PRECINCTS.

In accordance with Chap. 636, Acts of 1920, the Election Commissioners made a new division of the 26 wards, increasing the number of precincts from 221 to 274. This change was necessary because of the addition of women voters to the electorate, the intention of the law being to keep the precincts equalized, i. e., with 1,000 voters in each.

Wds. 7, 8, 21 and 23 now have thirteen precincts instead of nine; Wds. 14, 17, 19, 20, 22 and 25 have twelve; Wds. 13, 15, 16, 18 and 24 contain eleven; Wds. 10, 11 and 12, ten; Wds. 1, 6, 9 and 26, nine; Wd. 2, eight; Wds. 3, 4 and 5, seven. Only six wards remain unchanged, viz., Wds. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 9.

ESTIMATED POPULATION OF BOSTON.

After making proper deductions for decreased immigration and additions for increasing excess of births (as compared with the 5-year period 1910-1915) the estimate for July 1, 1922, is 832,678, showing an average annual net increase of 1.49 per cent or 994½ per month. Figuring on this basis, the population should be 862,488 on Jan. 1, 1923 (the year of the next census), if there are no annexations, restricted immigration to be in effect up to 1925.

POPULATION BY GEOGRAPHICAL DISTRICTS, UNITED STATES CENSUS.

East Boston (i. e., Wds. 1 and 2, including the island) 63,051 or 2,629 less than in 1915; Charlestown (Wds. 3 and 4) 34,272 or 5,329 less; Boston Proper (Wds. 5, 6, 7 and 8 and northern corner of Wds. 12 and 13) 170,637 or 25,663 decrease; South Boston (Wds. 9, 10 and northern part of Wd. 11 to Howell St.) 64,144 or 5,601 decrease; Roxbury (most of Wds. 12, 13, 14, 15 and all of Wd. 16) 135,024 or 7,341 increase; Dorchester (most of Wd. 11, Wds. 17, 18, 19, 20, 21 and part of 24) 157,932 or 19,813 increase; West Roxbury (including Jamaica Plain and Roslindale, i. e., Wds. 22 and 23) 63,190 or 7,119 increase; Brighton (Wds. 25 and 26) 41,724 or 6,942 increase; Hyde Park (most of Wd. 24) 18,086 or 628 increase. According to these unprecedented census returns, the five districts constituting the most densely inhabited part of Boston (i. e., from the northern boundary to Franklin Park, including Roxbury and South Boston) showed a net decrease from 1915 to 1920 amounting in total to 31,881, while the other four districts showed an increase of only 34,502. In the preceding five years, 1910-1915, the same five districts increased by 16,373 and the other four by 58,481, a total increase (omitting the 15,936 gained by annexation of Hyde Park in 1912) of 58,918, or more than 22 times the increase from 1915 to 1920 as shown by last U. S. Census.

ASSESSED VALUATION AND TAX RATE.

Valuation April 1, 1922, $1,677,861,774, or increase over 1921 of $82,114,831; of real estate alone, $1,501,615,100, or $80-, 635,500 more than in 1921; of personality, $176,246,674, or increase of $1,479,331 over 1921. Tax rate for 1922 same as for 1921, viz., $24.70 per $1,000 of valuation, divided thus: City tax, $20.37; County tax, $1.49; State tax, $2.84.

UNITED STATES INTERNAL REVENUE AND CUSTOMS RECEIPTS.

In 1906, Internal Revenue, $249,102,700 and Customs, $300,251,800; in 1911, Internal Revenue, $322,526,300 and Customs, $314,497,000; in 1916, Internal Revenue, $512,723,200 and Customs, $213,185,800; in 1921, Internal Revenue, $4,595,000,700 and Customs, $308,564,300. Increase in 15 years, Customs Receipts, 2.77 per cent; Internal Revenue, 1.745 per cent, the latter unprecedented increase due to income and war taxes.

MEETING OF MAYORS' CLUB.

Mayor Curley, President of the Mayors' Club of Massachusetts, presided at the regular monthly meeting of the club at Young's Hotel, Boston, upon Saturday, April 28.

Frank A. Goodwin, Esq., Registrar of Motor Vehicles, addressed the members upon the subject of "Safety upon Public Thoroughfares," and Dr. John A. Ceconi spoke upon the activities in Boston relative to the Schick test.

There were exhibited attractive moving pictures relative to the service of the Health Department and also regarding ways and means for the prevention of accidents upon the public streets, presented by E. B. Mero, Director of the Boston Conservation Bureau. John J. Shaughnessey of the Mayor's office contributed a number of songs.

ADDRESS OF HIS HONOR JAMES M. CURLEY, MAYOR OF BOSTON,

UPON THE TAXATION OF SHARES OF NATIONAL BANKS, BEFORE THE MEMBERS OF THE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE, APRIL 26, 1923.

The object of the bill filed by the City of Boston is to consummate the joint plan of the Commonwealth and the City of Boston to preserve the right to continue the existence of the law which provides for the taxing of national bank shares at the local property rates, and to secure the right to validate the taxes on such shares which were assessed at the local property rates in the six years 1917-22, inclusive.

That was the purpose which the Governor, Mayor Peters and myself had in mind when representatives of the state and the city were sent to Washington to plead with Congress for a bill which would permit our Legislature to pass an act providing full validation of past taxes on the bank shares, and also provide for taxation in the future at the property rate.

The Kellogg Bill passed the United States Senate, partly through the efforts of both of our Senators. A representative of the Massachusetts Tax Commissioner's office, counsel for the City of Boston and myself went to Washington to urge the passage of the bill. The Governor made personal appeals to the Massachusetts Congressmen in its behalf. I made similar appeal, and when the Kellogg Bill passed the Senate it seemed that our joint efforts would be crowned with success. The Kellogg Bill gave us all we wanted. Its provisions enabled the Massachusetts Legislature to pass an act providing complete validation of bank taxes paid from 1917 to 1922, inclusive, and providing also for future taxes at the local property rates.

It was a great disappointment when the House refused to pass the Kellogg Bill. It was of more importance to the Commonwealth than it was to the City of Boston, for the return of past taxes would cause greater loss to the state than to the city. The amount of such taxes retained by the Commonwealth since the passage of the income tax law of 1916 is $4,043,193.86, as compared with $2,696,802.19 retained by the City of Boston. Moreover, the Commonwealth was, in a special sense, the guardian of the interests of the other municipalities, as such cities and towns had no special representatives in Washington as the City of Boston had. The other cities and towns have retained $6,939,894.62, a sum large enough to merit the solicitude for their interests which the state's chief executive had shown in the Kellogg Bill.

But the Commonwealth and the City of Boston attacked the problem again, and, as a result of the united efforts of their special representatives who were sent on to Washington and the splendid co-operation of our Senators and representatives in Congress, we procured the passage of a bill which became law on March 4, 1923, which enables the Legislature to provide for future taxation on national bank shares at the local property rate, and, so I am informed, permits it to provide for complete validation of the taxes on such shares collected since 1916.

Now we have a bill which affords a means of protecting the general taxpayers, and this is the result of the co-operation of the representatives of the Commonwealth and of the City of Boston. I am an optimist, and therefore I think that same character of co-operation will continue until the Legislature provides the legislation we need, despite the opposition of the greatest money power in the state, viz., the national banks and their confederates. When I speak of the general taxpayers I mean the owners of homes, business buildings, of every kind of real estate, and of every kind of tangible personal property such as horses, wagons, automobiles, cattle, machinery and stocks of goods, ware and merchandise, which are taxable at the local property rates. This class of taxpayers will have to furnish every dollar that will be returned to the banks; it will have to furnish a dollar for every dollar the bank taxes are reduced; and as I know you desire to protect them I am confident that you will pass the city's bill.

What I desire to emphasize, with all the vigor I possess, is that I am opposed to any plan which would give back the taxes already collected from the national banks or which would reduce their taxes hereafter. These banks have not suffered as a result of the income tax law of 1916. The income tax law furnishes the ground of their complaint of discrimination. The income tax law has not injured them. It has provided more revenue than the old system of taxing stocks, bonds and notes on their capital value, and to that extent it has helped to reduce the amount of taxes that would otherwise fall upon other classes of property. These banks have prospered to an unusual degree since the income tax law was passed, and they can well afford to pay taxes at the property rate, as they paid for fifty years before the income tax law was passed. On the other hand, the general taxpayers cannot pay more taxes. They have suffered through the whole period since 1916, especially since we entered the great war. Many of them have suffered in silence, because they were too proud to make their wants public, but my position has enabled me to obtain information that others have not access to, and I tell you that many of this class have gone through a period of physical suffering and mental torture. I have heard the appeals for extension of time for the payment of taxes. I have heard people beg that their homes be not sold because of their inability to raise the money to pay the taxes. You and I have heard the piteous appeals from tenants for relief against high rents, and remember this, these tenants are taxpayers, for the landlord passes the tax on to the tenant who pays these taxes in higher rents.

You may ask me how I know the general taxpayers will be taxed more heavily if the national banks prevent validation and secure reduction of taxes for the future. I will tell you. The scale of public expenditures, state, county, city or town, is not going to be reduced, because the public has been educated up to higher and better standards of municipal life, and they will not accept lower standards. They are constantly demanding more, not less, in respect to the paving of streets, the construction of sewers, the establishment of parks, playgrounds, health protection, more schools, fewer pupils per teacher, higher salaries for the teacher's profession, more efficient fire apparatus, more police protection, more hospitals, better care of the poor, and so on through the whole gamut of things required to make life more tolerable for the great masses of the people. That means, then, that if we return taxes to the banks or reduce their taxes we must find money to meet the deficiency. Will you raise the income tax to meet it? You will not. Every time that has been attempted it has failed. Then I say inevitably it will fall upon the general taxpayers, the home owners, the owners of other kinds of real property, the owners of every kind of tangible personal property.

One word more and I am done. You have probably seen the announcement by the national banks of their legislative program which appeared in the Boston press on the 7th of this month. The program was to secure validation only to one third of the taxes paid in the last six years and to secure a reduction for the future of about two thirds by legislation putting them on the taxing basis of domestic business corporations. They called on the trust companies, the private bankers, the bond and investment companies and the savings banks to aid them. I hope this combination will not be made. I hope it will fail of its purpose if it is made. It would be a sad day for Massachusetts if the money powers of the state united to extort new taxes from the general taxpayers in order to lighten the burdens of a far more prosperous class. There is no surer way to make Bolsheviks than that. If such a combination is made I hope you will stand firm for the protection of the average citizen. He is the under dog in this contest and I feel certain you will see that he gets a fair show. Because of my faith in your regard for fair play I leave this measure in your hands with confidence in the result of your deliberation.

NATIONAL BUILDING CONFERENCE.

John H. Mahony, Building Commissioner, is a delegate at the sessions of the National Building Conference, which were held during the present week at the Hotel Secor, Toledo, Ohio.

About fifty metropolitan cities of the United States were represented at the conference by over 100 delegates.

Owing to the great demand for garages the delegates considered plans to secure a standard building code for garages in all the States. Conclusions reached, it is said, will probably influence the new housing regulations and building codes in many cities.

Lawrence Veillier of New York presented a paper, "Should All Building Departments Be Abolished?" as his subject. Frank Burton, Detroit, Commissioner of Buildings, also presented a paper, "The Arrangement of a Building Code."

NAVY YARD WAGE CHANGE.

Gratifying information was received from Washington upon the 27th instant that the Navy Department, because of the nation-wide protests, announce that the Navy Yard wage change plan for May 1, 1923, will be recalled and revised.

SPRING CLEANING.

Boston's spring clean-up has started. It will continue until May 15. It is a time when all householders may discard all unused material in cellars and garrets, deposit it upon the sidewalks, neatly bundled or barreled, for carting away by the augmented street force.

The city has put seventy-five single carts, 180 double carts and ninety-seven trucks to work, also 300 World War veterans who are temporarily on the pay rolls. If certain districts prove to be more piled than usual, more help will be employed. All rubbish should be put on the sidewalk on the day of regular collection, or the day before. If old mattresses are to be included they should be rolled and securely tied. Old furniture will be accepted, but the advice is that it be chopped up for kindling wood. Under no circumstances shall refuse be dumped into the gutter, and all inflammable material that is likely to be blown about should be boxed, barreled or securely tied.

A large group of public-spirited men and women are enlisted in this movement, associated in the Women's Municipal League, the Boston Clean-Up Committee and the Bureau of Conservation. All meetings held by these organizations have been enthusiastic. It was by their influence that the city departments cleaned up the streets and alleys long before the snow and ice had a chance to melt, as in other years.

Mayor Curley has given all possible co-operation and will see to it that the work progresses without interruption, and to the limit of the city's capacity.

A public meeting was held at the Library lecture room upon the 26th instant. Five-minute addresses were made by Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn, Health Commissioner Francis X. Mahoney and Public Works Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke.

THE COMMUNITY BUILDING PLAN.

Mayor Curley is hopeful of enlisting the aid of banking and insurance interests in a plan for erecting a considerable colony of one and two family homes in some outlying section of the city, to be sold on an easy-payment basis to citizens of Boston. The Mayor believes the housing shortage and widespread acute differences between landlord and tenant make some such undertaking imperative.

Chairman M. Douglas Flattery of the Mayor's Conservation Bureau, an energetic promoter of social welfare work in many directions, is the moving spirit behind this latest idea.

The committee considering the matter is understood to have secured an option on a large plot of Jamaica Plain land, the sale price of which is about 5 cents per foot.

If insurance companies, co-operative banks, saving institutions and other such enterprises can be induced to take a $5,000 mortgage on the houses, which it would cost an average of $3,000 apiece to construct—the buyer to pay $1,000 down and the remainder in easy instalments—the committee will proceed to arrange for plans for standardized construction.

Large sums could be saved on each individual home if they were built on this quantity production basis, it is calculated; a committee statement of the plan advises that, if an individual undertook the financing and construction of such homes as the committee has in mind, they could not be built for much less than $12,000 each.

To avoid favoritism that would ensue among citizens to secure such houses on this basis, after their completion, the committee outlines in its statement some restrictions—such as that no application from a person not a resident of Boston for at least five years would be considered; that applicant must be married, and, preferably, have a family of children; that men or women among citizens who took active part overseas in the World War be given first preference.

A Cleveland woman philanthropist has successfully financed such a scheme as this, it is pointed out; President Wood of the American Woolen Company has developed a similar scheme in Shawshen Village, outside Lawrence, for the benefit of the company's Lawrence mill foremen and other executives.

CLAIMS.

The Mayor has approved, with the indorsement of the Corporation Counsel, the following claims:

Francis Sternberg, in the amount of $100, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in sidewalk in front of 78 Green street, September 15, 1922.

Jeanette Bayley, in the amount of $200, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in railroad bridge sidewalk on Shawmut avenue, August 22, 1921.

Sarah Goldman, in the amount of $175, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in street at corner of Washington and Franklin streets, April 26, 1922.

Sarah Bayley, in the amount of $200, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in railroad bridge sidewalk on Shawmut avenue, August 22, 1921.

Fannie Gordon, in the amount of $150, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in sidewalk at 9 Tremont row, October 30, 1922.

Ida Newman, in the amount of $150, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in sidewalk at 53 Spring street, August 23, 1922.

Susan Curley, in the amount of $350, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in sidewalk at 50 Dock square, August 5, 1922.

Harry Bornstein et al., in the amount of $200, as compensation for damage to property at 24 and 26 Salem street, March 9, 1921.

Teresa Maffei, in the amount of $400, as compensation for damage to property at 184 and 186 Sumner street, September 12, 1922.

Perlie E. Clement, 67 Farquhar street, West Roxbury, has accepted the sum of $60 as full payment for land taken from, and all damages to his estate on Farquhar street by the extension of street.

Harriet L. Holcombe has accepted the sum of $7,785 for land taken from, and damages occasioned to her estate on Chelsea street by the relocation and construction of street.

REJECTION OF CLAIMS.

Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, the Corporation Counsel, states the Law Department has disapproved one hundred and seventeen claims against the city; in seventy-nine of which no amounts were specified, and the other thirty-eight aggregated $9,489.84; and are classified as follows:

Against the Collecting Department, three, in one of which no amount was specified, and the other two amounted to $31.05; against the Fire Department, four, in one of which no amount was specified, and the other three amounted to $89.45; against the Fuel Distribution Department, one, in which no amount was specified; against the Hospital Department, one, in which no amount was specified; against the Park and Recreation Department, one, amounting to $43.55; against the Police Department, five, in two of which no amounts were specified, and the other three amounted to $243.35; against the Public Buildings Department, one, amounting to $92.50; against the Public Works Department, ninety-nine, in seventy-two of which no amounts were specified and the other twenty-seven amounted to $8,914.94; against the Schoolhouse Department, two, in one of which no amount was specified and the other one amounted to $75.

All these claims have been disapproved for the reason that there appeared to be no legal liability on the part of the city.

PLANT ELMS IN PARK.

In connection with Arbor Day activities this year the Park Department is planning to plant 100 English elms on what is called the Greeting, Franklin Park, near the Zoo pathways.

Chairman Shea has also announced that the new motor drive through Franklin Park will follow generally the course of the present circuit drive—which road is 26 to 34 feet in width and of crushed stone macadam.

Forty feet will be the width of the motor drive and its surface will be either sheet asphalt or bitulithic. It is now thought it cannot be completed before August 1.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewerage Works).

Upon April 20 the Mayor approved a contract with R. Zoppo, the lowest bidder, for sewerage works in Dana avenue, from existing sewer 130 feet southeast of Washington street about 510 feet southeasterly, Hyde Park, and Ruskin road, from 420 feet southeast of Wood avenue about 80 feet southeasterly, Hyde Park. Bids for the work, opened April 17, were as follows:

R. Zoppo, $4,243.50; John Williams & Co., $5,038; Vozzella & Caponi, $5,188; M. D. Russo, $5,207; M. De Matteo, $5,408; S. J. Tomasello, $5,452.50.

Upon April 20 the Mayor approved a contract with John Williams & Co., the lowest bidder, for sewerage works in Stowe road, from Doane avenue 290 feet southwesterly, Dorchester, and Astoria street and outlet in George H. Walker Playground and private land, Dorchester. Bids for the work, opened April 17, were as follows:

John Williams & Co., $7,933; Vozzella & Caponi, $7,981.75; DeCristoforo & Brothers Company, $8,311.75; R. Zoppo, $9,049.25; M. DeSisto Company, $9,408.25; S. J. Tomasello, $9,714.25; C. Russo, $9,766.75.

Upon April 26 the Mayor approved a contract with the C. & R. Construction Company for sewerage works in Farragut road extension and outlet in private land, South Boston. Bids for the work, opened April 16, were as follows:

John P. Cavanagh Company, $36,300; C. & R. Construction Company, $37,935; William Barrett & Co., $40,085; V. Grande, $40,725; A. Baruffaldi Company, $43,360; Bryne & Co., $43,477.

Incident to the award of this contract Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department made the following statement: "The proposal of the lowest bidder has been rejected for the reason that the bidder does not possess sufficient experience in sewer work to handle this job successfully at the price bid."

Upon April 26 the Mayor approved a contract with William Barrett & Co. for sewerage works in Bedford street, between Harrison avenue and Washington street, city. Bids, opened April 20, were as follows:

William Barrett & Co., $8,811; V. Grande, $9,133; C. & R. Construction Company, $10,852; A. Daddario, $11,202; DeCristoforo & Brothers Company, $11,709; A. Baruffaldi Company, $12,512.

Incident to the award of this contract Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department made the following statement: "The lowest bidder has been rejected on account of inexperience, also because the only other job on which he was the lowest bidder—which was awarded to him—was unnecessarily prolonged."

Upon April 26 the Mayor approved a contract with John T. Shea, Jr., for laying and relaying water pipes in Colonial road, Lake street, Undine road, Union and Washington streets, Brighton.

Bids, opened April 23, were as follows: John Williams & Co., $1,155; A. Di Lucci & Co., $1,326; John T. Shea, Jr., $1,844; M. De Sisto Company, $1,872; A. Grande, $2,136; De Cristoforo & Brothers Company, $2,173.

Incident to the award of this contract Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department made the following statement: "The first two bidders neglected to fill in items in their auditor's copies, and for that reason their proposals have been rejected."

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Upon March 13 and March 22 the School Committee approved contracts with the Harding Uniform and Regalia Company and Harrington & Co. for supplying military equipment for the Boston public schools. WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

Upon April 25 the Mayor approved a contract with M. A. Dewell for preparing two copies of the police list. A communication from Joseph G. O'Malley of the Board of Assessors, was as follows:

April 26, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—We desire your permission to make a contract with M. A. Dewell, known as the Dewell Company, in the preparation of two copies of the police list, showing the names, residence, and serial number of each male person over twenty years of age. In order to give a consecutively numbered list it will be necessary to eliminate all females, businesses, vacant dwellings, totaling approximately 260,000 items, and then number the remaining residences consecutively, by wards, of about 250,000 names.

The Dewell Company have done work for this department at various times, are a reliable concern and are familiar with our books. In order to hasten the payment of the poll tax bills it is necessary to speedily complete this work.

From the figures submitted by other concerns competent to do the work, I am unable to find anyone who is willing to do it at a less cost.

The Dewell Company have further agreed to deliver the work, complete, not later than June 9, and, because of this early date and the fact that they have agreed to do it at a less cost than anyone else competent to do the work, we desire your permission to make the contract, without advertising, at a total cost of $7,000.

Respectfully,

BOARD OF ASSESSORS,
by JOSEPH G. O'MALLEY,
Secretary.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Upon April 24 the Mayor approved a contract with the Wedlake-Lamson Company for repairing eight Christie motors. A communication from Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn of the Fire Department was as follows:

Boston, April 23, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I have received a proposal from the Wedlake-Lamson Company, Hoboken, N. J., quoting a figure of seven thousand eight hundred fifty-two (7,852) dollars for repairing eight (8) Christie motors. This price includes transportation charges, new bushings, major and minor parts in order to place the motors in first-class condition.

I request permission to award the contract to the above-named concern, without advertising, for the following reasons:

The prices quoted are cheaper than we can have the work done in local shops.

The Wedlake-Lamson Company succeeded the Front Drive Motor Company, builders of Christie tractors, and is in a position to furnish better service at a much lower price than any other outside concern on this particular work. They have the machinery and forms for doing this work, and are practically the only concern fully equipped for doing it.

Yours very truly,

THEODORE A. GLYNN,
Fire Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon April 18 the Mayor approved a contract with Simpson Brothers Corporation for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in public streets. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works was as follows:

BOSTON, April 18, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Simpson Brothers Corporation, 77 Summer street, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon April 18 the Mayor approved a contract with Domenico Pasquale for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, April 18, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Domenico Pasquale, 8 Bartlett place, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon April 20 the Mayor approved a contract with Ralph Buonopane for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works was as follows:

BOSTON, April 20, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Ralph Buonopane, 44 Dunstable street, Charlestown, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon April 25 the Mayor approved a contract with Giovanni Tesaro for building artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works was as follows:

April 23, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Giovanni Tesaro, 55 Cedar street, Mattapan, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewerage Works).

Upon April 20 the Mayor approved a contract with the Alco Contracting Company, Inc., for building sixteen catch-basins and the necessary sewer connections for the same in Boardman street, East Boston. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, April 17, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request your permission to award a contract, without advertising, to the Alco Contracting Company, Inc., for building sixteen catch-basins and the necessary sewer connections for the same in Boardman street, East Boston, from Saratoga street to the Boston & Maine Railroad, at an estimated cost of $4,100.

This company at the present time has the contract for $25,543 for filling and placing a bituminous macadam on this street, and I think it is for the best interests of the city to award them the building of the necessary catch-basins to provide for surface drainage.

Yours respectfully,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

Additions, amounting to $4,210, on contract with John Bowen Company for the erection and completion of additions and alterations to the Out-Patient Building, ambulance entrance and drive, and subway to Surgical Building, at the Boston City Hospital: Metal furring, lathing and plastering of sections of mezzanine floor and corridor ceilings, large rooms on the second, third and fourth floors and also in the corridors of these floors, including necessary electrical changes, $4,115; two additional trapdoors for access to the pipe space below the first floor, $95. Original contract, $493,000; total additions, $68,564.52; total deduction, $8,238; contract as standing, $553,328.52.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewerage Works).

An addition, amounting to $9,000, on contract with Bryne & Co. for sewerage works in Spring Street brook conduit in Centre street and private land, West Roxbury, on account of increased cost of excavation, concrete, and cleaning conduit due to water used in flooding Billings Field Playground being allowed to flow down over the line of work of the conduit. Original contract, $25,296.45; total addition, $9,000; contract as standing, $34,296.45.

An addition, amounting to $2,100, on contract with Joseph P. McCabe for sewerage works in B and Seventh streets overflow extension, South Boston, on account of excavating material in line of trench in excess of that shown on plan, the excess having been caused by tidal wash of fill placed in the vicinity of the overflow extension since profile was taken. Original contract, $27,052; total addition, $2,100; contract as standing, $29,152.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

An addition, amounting to $13,275.00, on contract with Joseph L. Rugo, for rock excavation at the John L. Motley School. Original contract, $92,000; total additions, $13,275.50; contract as standing, $105,275.50.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

A. Grande has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for laying and relaying water pipes in Billings street, Gould street, Hamilton street, etc. Items ordered: Lay and relay 350 feet 10-inch water main in Caledonian avenue, from Hamilton street to Prospect street, according to prices for the various items in the contract, the estimated cost of additional work being $800.

Antony Baruffaldi Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for building sewerage work in Maverick street, between 500 feet southeast of Jeffries street and Lamson street, East Boston. Items ordered: Cut out and remove old timbers and platform, logs, piles, ironwork, etc., not known to be in the line of work when contract was let—the estimated cost of extra work being $1,158.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has approved, upon request of Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department, the following construction work:

A concrete sanitary sewer and a concrete surface drain in Public Alley No. 931, between Boylston street and Peterborough street, in the Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $10,675.

A sanitary sewer of 12-inch earthen pipe in Dana avenue, between 130 feet southeast of Washington street and a point 510 feet southeasterly, in the Hyde Park district, at an estimated cost of $4,000.

A sanitary sewer of concrete and 15-inch and 24-inch earthen pipe in East Cottage street, between Norfolk avenue and Humphreys street, and in Humphreys street, between East Cottage street and Holden street, in the Dorchester district, at an estimated cost of $65,000.

A sanitary sewer of 12-inch earthen pipe in Dana avenue, between 130 feet southeast of Washington street, and a point 510 feet southeasterly, in the Hyde Park district, at an estimated cost of $1,000.

A sanitary sewer of concrete and earthen pipe in East Cottage street, between Norfolk avenue and Humphreys street, and in Humphreys street, between East Cottage street and Holden street, in the Dorchester district, at an estimated cost of $65,000.

Also to lay granite block paving, grout joints, in Massachusetts avenue, between Commonwealth avenue and Beacon street, with division forces, without inviting proposals, the estimated cost for labor and material being $3,500.

The placing of the ferryboat "Ralph J. Palumbo" on railway, to clean and paint bottom of hull, replace rivets as directed by steamboat inspectors, etc., without inviting proposals, the estimated cost for labor and material being $2,000.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewerage Works).

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with the C. & R. Construction Company for building sewerage works in Western avenue and Everett street, Brighton, from January 27, 1923, to June 2, 1923. This extension of time is occasioned by the severe winter weather.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of contract made with Joseph P. McCabe, 24 East Concord street, Boston, for building sewerage works for B and Seventh streets overflow extension, South Boston, from March 1, 1923, to May 1, 1923—61 days. This extension of time is occasioned by the inclement weather.

LAND-TAKING IN FENS.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Schoolhouse Commissioners for the taking of land by eminent domain, upon request of the Board of Street Commissioners, to take, for a Trade School for Girls, a certain piece or parcel of land with building thereon in the Prince District, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point at the southwesterly corner of Hemenway street and Public Alley No. 901, thence southwesterly by line of Hemenway street 125 feet to the Back Bay Fens; thence northwesterly by said Fens 97 feet; thence northeasterly by said Fens 125 feet to line of alley; thence southeasterly by line of said alley 97 feet to the point of beginning; and contains 12,000 square feet of land. Be all said measurements, more or less.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a taking of land for sewerage works in Cedar street, West Roxbury.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings, or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Cedar street, bounded:

Southeast by Washington street, six feet; southwest by another part of Cedar street, two hundred seventy-seven and 38-100 feet; west by land herein-after described as taken from owners unknown (Bellevue avenue), eight and 48-100 feet; and northeast by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes in Cedar street, July 17, 1903, two hundred eighty-three and 32-100 feet; containing thirteen hundred and eighty-two square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Bellevue avenue, bounded:

East by land hereinbefore described as taken from owners unknown (Cedar street), eight and 48-100 feet; southwest by another part of Bellevue avenue, thirty-one and 11-100 feet; west by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes in Bellevue avenue in 1902, eight and 48-100 feet; and northeast by easement taken by the City of Boston for sewerage purposes, July 17, 1903, thirty-one and 11-100 feet; containing one hundred eighty-seven square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 200 linear feet of 12-inch and 110 linear feet of 10-inch pipe surface drain, in the above-described premises, being part of the private way known as Cedar street, from Washington street to Bellevue avenue, and part of the private way known as Bellevue avenue, adjoining Cedar street.

The Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

GRANITE FOR PAVING.

Instead of laying a bitulithic surface on Massachusetts avenue, between Columbus avenue and Beacon street, Mayor Curley has instructed Public Works Commissioner Rourke to begin paving the thoroughfare with granite blocks. The stretch between Commonwealth avenue and Beacon street, now in very bad shape, will be paved immediately at a cost of $6,000 or $7,000.

INVITES MOTHERS' CONGRESS.

Mayor Curley has sent the following invitation by telegraph to the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers Associations, meeting at Louisville, Ky., to meet in Boston in 1924:

Boston, April 24, 1923.

National Congress Mothers and Parent-Teachers Associations, Seelbach Hotel, Louisville, Ky.:

May I supplement the invitation which the Massachusetts delegation has presented to your body to hold your 1924 convention in Boston, with a personal invitation from the citizens of Boston, through me? Boston, which is noted for its hospitality, will be delighted to welcome you in 1924 and we trust you will be our guests.

JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor.

MUNICIPAL ANNIVERSARY.

The 101st anniversary of the incorporation of the City of Boston, the "Civic New Year" of the municipality, will occur upon May 1. In recognition of this event the Director of Public Celebrations, J. Philip O'Connell, has issued a statement of the desirability of the city-wide display of the city flag on that day by schools, clubs, business houses and wherever there is a flag staff, which will allow the flag of the city to fly alongside the flag of the nation.

This plan of a general display of the city flag was introduced as a feature of the centennial celebration of the city one year ago, and it is now proposed that it be the yearly method of noting the city's birthday. Arrangements have been made by which dealers and makers of flags will be able to supply copies of the Boston flag in different sizes.

PAVING COSTS SHARED.

Pending the passage of a new operating act by the Massachusetts Legislature, the City of Boston and the Boston Elevated Railway Company are now sharing equally, by agreement, the cost of paving between the Elevated tracks and the so-called "brow" area, which extends 15 inches beyond each outer track.

A bill is now before the Massachusetts Legislature which would place again with the Elevated the entire cost of paving those areas, as was provided for in the former operating act which expired a year ago.

TREE PLANTING.

The Park and Public Works Department employees are preparing to plant 350 oaks and elms upon Boston thoroughfares where granolithic sidewalks have killed off old trees, by direction of the Mayor.

The larger thoroughfares in which these trees will be planted on Arbor Day are Huntington avenue, south side, from Massachusetts avenue to the Brookline line; Blue Hill avenue, south side, from Talbot avenue to the Milton line, and in Centre street as it passes through Jamaica Plain and West Roxbury.

BOSTON'S MUNICIPAL YEAR.

The municipal year begins on the first Monday in February, which fell on February 5, in 1923.

HEARING ON NATIONAL BANK TAX.

The national bank tax situation was considered by the House Ways and Means Committee at Room 245, State House, on Thursday, April 26, at 10.30 a. m.

The Attorney-General's recommendation and the bill filed by the City of Boston were both considered. Many cities and towns in the Commonwealth were represented at the hearing, for no more important matter affecting their interests has arisen in this generation.

Mayor Curley issued the following statement:

"I take this opportunity to inform the great mass of taxpayers of the situation so that they may know how severely they will be injured if the national banks succeed with their legislative program.

"Taxes on national bank shares have been collected in the sum of $14,370,720 in this Commonwealth in the six years 1917-1922, inclusive. The assessments were made on the basis of the rates applicable to real estate in the cities and towns, in accordance with the system that had existed for over fifty years. The First National Bank of Boston brought suit to recover the whole amount of the taxes paid to the City of Boston for 1917 and has repeated this process every year since 1917; and many other suits have been brought by other banks in Boston and several other municipalities. None of these cases has yet been decided. Realizing the danger in the situation, the Commonwealth and the City of Boston sought a bill from Congress and one was passed and became law on March 4, 1923. That bill enables us to tax the shares at the local property rate hereafter, provided we tax private bankers at the same rate. We think it also enables us to validate the taxes on such shares which were assessed in the last six years, providing we back tax the private bankers. Both of these things are attempted in a bill filed by the city with the House Committee on Ways and Means. Our purpose is to retain the taxes collected and tax in the future at the property rates. In no other way can the interests of the general taxpayers be preserved.

"On the other hand, the national banks, as announced in the Boston press of April 7, will ask the Legislature to validate the past taxes to the extent of one fourth to one third of the amounts paid, so that the remainder would have to be returned to the banks by the Commonwealth and by the cities and towns which received portions of the bank taxes in the last six years. The banks also will ask that the law be changed so that hereafter they will pay only about one third of the amounts they would have to pay if the present law stands, which taxes the shares at the local property rate. If they succeed every dollar returned to them will fall on real estate or tangible personal property and this will mean more taxes on every dwelling house and every piece of business property in every city and town in the state. The portion returned by the Commonwealth will be assessed through the state tax and no municipality will be able to escape its share of the burden.

"In the manifesto of April 7 the national banks invite the co-operation of the trust companies, the savings banks, the bond houses, the investment companies, and the private bankers in the execution of the national bank's plan. In other words, they seek to array the money power of the state against the people in the attempt to reduce bank taxes and throw the resulting burden on every owner of a home or other real estate in the Commonwealth.

"The national banks say that the city seeks to revolutionize the tax laws of the state. It does not. It seeks to keep the present law in force respecting the taxation of shares in trust companies, national banks and savings banks and to change the law in one respect only, viz., to tax private bankers in the same way national banks are taxed. It would be folly for the trust companies and savings banks to join with the national banks in order to array the entire money power against the people and I trust they will not stoop to such folly. I know of no better way to make Bolsheviks than to have the money power unite in compelling a transfer of their taxes to all the owners of real estate and tangible personal property in the state.

"Every owner of a dwelling, or of other real estate, or of tangible personal property of any kind, should appeal at once to his senator and representative to appear before the Ways and Means Committee on Thursday, April 26, to favor the city's bill and to oppose the measures advocated by the national banks. Otherwise, they may find that hereafter they will be paying taxes which the national banks, far more prosperous than the plain citizens are, ought in good conscience to pay."

FIREMEN CLEANING UP.

Regular and extra fire inspectors of the Boston Fire Department are undertaking a clean-up campaign in Boston.

The inspectors are instructed to examine cellars and yards of stores and tenement houses containing three or more suites, with the object of removing all kinds of rubbish. The work will start at once and continue until May 15.

LAND-TAKING IN ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Schoolhouse Commissioners for the taking of land by eminent domain upon request of the Board of Street Commissioners to take, for the purpose of erecting thereon two new Roxbury High School buildings, a certain piece or parcel of land in the Lewis District bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at the southwesterly corner of Warren and Townsend streets, thence southwesterly by Warren street 365 feet to land of Baptist Church; thence northwesterly by land of said church, Smith, Williams and Rockman streets 978 feet to line of Humboldt avenue; thence northeasterly by line of said avenue 40 feet to land of Harris; thence southeasterly by land of Harris 105 feet to land of Williams; thence northeasterly by land of Harris 107 feet to land of Kupferman; thence southeasterly by land of Kupferman and Andrews 123 feet to land of Williams; thence northeasterly by land of Andrews 117 feet to line of Townsend street; thence easterly by said line of Townsend street 750 feet to the point of beginning; and contains 256,177 square feet of land. Be all said measurements more or less.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 274.

The resignation of Patrolman Leo M. Molinari of Division 18 having been presented, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Friday, April 20, 1923, at 7.45 a. m. Seven days' notice waived.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 275.

General Order No. 882, under date of April 23, 1921, is hereby revoked, and the following general order is hereby issued to take effect as of Monday, April 16, 1923, at twelve o'clock p. m., midnight:

The following-named persons are authorized by the justices of the Superior Court to take bail in criminal cases in the respective police division assigned to them and in no other division:

Police Divisions 1 and 8—James J. Bacigalupo, 211 Salem street, Boston; Peter P. Porter, 213 Endicott street, Boston; Frank P. Fralli, 385 Hanover street, Boston.

Police Divisions 2 and 20—Ernest Martini, 294 Hanover street, Boston; Charles T. Sexton, 8 Myrtle street, Boston.

Police Division 3—Samuel J. Witkin, 47 Joy street, Boston; Harris C. Porter, 39 McLean street, Boston.

Police Division 4—Alphonso Sancinito, 21 Corning street, Boston; Isaac Gordon, 492 Tremont street, Boston.

Police Division 5—William Rozman, 521 Harrison avenue, Boston; Joseph E. Ferreira, 1672 Washington street, Boston.

Police Division 6—James F. Goggin, 358 West Broadway, South Boston; Joseph A. Hopkins, 364 West Broadway, South Boston.

Police Division 7—Gerald J. McCarthy, 699 Bennington street, East Boston.

Police Division 9—Herbert F. Lynch (to move from Division 6 to Division 9); Fred E. Cruft, 21 Montrose street, Roxbury.

Police Division 10—Moses H. Libby, 2 Centre street, Roxbury; Thomas H. King, 81 Roxbury street, Roxbury.

Hotel, Boston; Arthur G. Chisholm, Commonwealth Hotel, Boston; John P. Manning, Jr., 38 Wellesley park, Dorchester.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 276.

For the time being the justices of the Superior Court will appoint no bail commissioner to serve Police Division 15, inasmuch as the clerk of the Municipal Court of the Charlestown District has assured the justices of the Superior Court that he will take all bails when requested to do so.

Officers in charge of divisions will bear in mind that in Boston, in addition to the bail commissioners named in General Order No 275, a justice of the Supreme Judicial or of the Superior or of a district court, the clerk or an assistant clerk of the Superior Court for Criminal Business in the County of Suffolk, and a special commissioner appointed by either the Supreme Judicial or the Superior Court, a clerk and an assistant clerk of a district court, and a master in chancery, are authorized to take bail in criminal cases.

If bail is taken by a clerk or assistant clerk acting as such clerk or assistant clerk while his court is in session or during the hours when his office is required to be open, the attention of such clerk or assistant clerk should be called to General Laws, chapter 218, section 18, which forbids his taking any fee or compensation in addition to his salary for making out said papers or for admitting a prisoner to bail.

All persons authorized to take bail must exhibit proper credentials of authority to the officer in charge of the station house before a prisoner can be bailed by such persons, and no preference shall be given to any person authorized to take bail except upon request of the person seeking bail.

No persons authorized to take bail shall be allowed by the officer in charge of the station to loiter in any station house or police building, and such persons shall not remain after the bail matter for which they were called has been completed.

All former lists of persons authorized to take bail now in use in any police building shall be destroyed. Cards of officials authorized to take bail shall not be kept for distribution in any building used for police purposes. Cards with names, addresses and telephone numbers of all persons now authorized to take bail, with the exception of justices of courts, will be furnished to the department.

When all of the bail commissioners named by justices of the Superior Court for a specified police division fail to respond when called to said division for purposes of bail, a special report covering all of the facts relating to the same shall be made out in duplicate and sent to the Superintendent of Police by the commanding officer of that division.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

ILLNESS INCREASED IN MARCH.

Mayor Curley received the following communication from Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, Health Commissioner, showing the activities of the department during the month of March:

Boston, April 21, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Pursuant to instructions contained in your letter of March 13, 1922, the following statement of activities of the Health Department for the month of March, 1923, is respectfully submitted:

Although communicable diseases tended to monopolize the attention of the Medical Division during March, it was found possible to make over 2,500 visits to babies in connection with child welfare work. The full effect of inability to maintain proper isolation of those sick with communicable diseases during the winter, because of the shortage of fuel to heat extra rooms, is manifesting itself now; and it seems probable that the number of cases of diseases like scarlet fever and measles will not reach their maximum for another month.

A change was made during the month in the method of handling cases of social diseases reported to the Boston Health Department by the State Department of Public Health. Henceforth such reports will on receipt be turned over at once to the special investigator, who will be furnished such assistance as may be asked for, instead of turning these cases over first to the medical inspectors.

March showed an increase in most of the reported cases of communicable diseases, except influenza and lobar pneumonia.

Influenza decreased markedly, from 112 to 54; and lobar pneumonia cases decreased from 247 to 169.

Whooping cough cases increased from 319 cases in February to 448 cases in March, and as compared with March, 1922, when there were only 52 cases, there was an increase of 396.

Scarlet fever cases reported still run high, many cases being reported from Jamaica Plain and West Roxbury, and there was an increase also in deaths from this disease.

Six cases of typhoid fever were reported during the month, which is rather unusual at this period of the year, though there is no apparent connection between any of the cases.

Diphtheria, measles and mumps all show an increase over February, 1923, but this may be due partly to the fact that February was a short month of twenty-eight days.

Routine examinations totaled 4,470, of which 3,840 were in duplicate and 630 in quadruplicate. In addition to these there were 573 medical K. L. examinations made in connection with Schick work and 13 virulence tests.

No special work was done, except two blood examinations from the same patient were made for Felix-Weil reaction which proved positive.

Swimming pool and rat examinations were expected to be resumed during the coming month.

The annual spring clean-up campaign has been started, although somewhat delayed and hampered by bad weather conditions. It is expected that this early start will result in improved conditions within a short time, though regular disposition and collection of house wastes has been prevented by the blocking of streets and alleys by snow and ice.

All persons licensed for the keeping of live fowl were notified during the month of the expiration in March of the permits. The relicensing of these persons is being carried out.

About one third of the licenses for the sale of wood and denatured alcohol, approximating 200, have been examined for renewal.

A fire which destroyed an East Boston poultry slaughter house was the cause of a condemnation of over 1,700 pounds of poultry.

Compared with February, increases were noted in reported cases of diphtheria, measles, scarlet fever, typhoid fever, whooping cough and pulmonary tuberculosis; decreases were shown in reported cases of influenza and lobar pneumonia.

Increases appeared in deaths from measles, scarlet fever and pulmonary tuberculosis; decreases appeared in deaths from whooping cough, lobar pneumonia and influenza. Total deaths from all causes show an increase in March, as did also deaths of infants. This comparison with March and February, however, is based on twenty-eight days in the latter as against thirty-one days in March.

One clerk was temporarily employed during the month to serve for three months in connection with the relicensing of milk dealers.

Respectfully,

FRANCIS X. MAHONEY,
Health Commissioner.

NATIONAL BANK TAX HEARING.

Mayor Curley headed representatives of approximately fifty cities and towns at the hearing given by the Legislative Committee on Ways and Means in the auditorium of the State House on the recommendation of Attorney-General Benton for meeting the complicated situation arising from the alleged unfair and unequal taxation of the shares of national banks in Massachusetts, upon the 26th instant.

Practically all of the municipalities and towns were given opportunity to voice their views in favor of the bill filed by the City of Boston and aiming to validate several millions of dollars in back taxes collected and, in nearly every instance, spent, by means of raising the taxes on private bankers and other moneyed capital in competition with the national banks.

Mayor Curley was the first speaker and said that if the money capital—the national, savings, trust and other bankers—combined against the plan he proposed he would have Pinkerton detectives watching their activities. The Mayor also said that he never would consent to any compromise on the bank tax so long as the city had any money with which to fight.

The full text of Mayor Curley's address will be found on page 511 of this issue of the City Record.

Hon. John A. Sullivan, special counsel of the City of Boston, declared:

"The purpose of the city's bill is two-fold. It provides for the validation of the taxes assessed on shares of national banks in the six years 1917 to 1922, inclusive, and it provides for the maintenance of the existing law under which such shares are taxed on their fair cash value at the proper rates of the various municipalities. The only change proposed in the present taxation law is that provided in the bill for the taxation, retroactively, of the capital employed in the banking business by individuals and firms and the taxation of such individuals and firms in the future; and in both cases at the local property rates.

"We would not have attempted to tax the capital of firms and individuals engaged in the banking business if we had not been compelled to do it as the result of the suits which have been brought by the national banks to recover taxes paid by them in the last six years, and as a result of the announced purpose of the national banks to secure a taxing system which hereafter would reduce by two-thirds the amount of taxes they would otherwise be required to pay. I will take up later the question of the justice of changing the taxation system respecting firms and individuals engaged in the banking business.

"We think the provisions of the city's bill are justified because of the necessities of the situation and that the bill if enacted will not work injustice to any class of taxpayers in the Commonwealth. The national banks brought suit to recover taxes on the ground that the provisions of the income tax law of 1916 resulted in discrimination against them. If it did discriminate against them, and we do not concede that it did, the discrimination was not substantial and did not in fact injure them. On the contrary, because of the increased revenue to the state resulting from the operation of the income tax law, the burden of taxation resting upon the national banks was reduced and not increased. Moreover, there are no serious competitors of the national banks in Massachusetts except the trust companies. The latter are taxed on substantially the same basis as the national banks. Both are taxed on the fair cash value of their stock, the national banks at the local property rate and the trust companies at the state rate. These rates vary, the state rates, at times, being higher than the local rates and at other times being lower.

"The national banks have not claimed that the tax on trust companies operates as a discrimination against them. If they complain now I feel certain there would be no objection on the part of the cities and towns to the application of the state rate to both national banks and trust companies. Boston is willing to have such a change made. In fact, we would welcome it as the state rate this year is higher than the Boston rate and is likely to be higher hereafter.

"The national banks complain that private bankers are taxed on income from the capital employed in their business and that this discriminates against them. But the city's bill takes care of that discrimination by putting the private bankers on the same plane of taxation as the national banks for the six years last passed as well as for the future. They also complain that the individual who buys bonds for his personal investment is a competitor of the national banks and that he is taxed only on the income of the bonds he is favored and the banks are discriminated against. I shall not occupy any time in dealing with the question of competition between such private individuals and the national banks. To me, the claim seems too absurd for argument.

"Let us consider whether the national banks can more easily bear the burden of taxation now under consideration than the general taxpayers. For fifty years the national banks paid taxes at the local property rates, without difficulty, and without complaint save in a single instance in which the court held the complaint was unfounded. The income tax law of 1916 made no break in the continuity of their prosperity. On the contrary it seems to have ushered in a new era of prosperity. In various lines of business there was no uniformity of success, for while some concerns prospered greatly, others met with failure, whereas the national banks grew steadily more prosperous.

"I have not the figures for the year 1922 before me but the figures for the five years 1917 to 1921, inclusive, show that there was not a single failure by a national bank in Massachusetts, whereas business failures in this state in the same period were 3,332 in number and the liabilities were $56,369,083 in amount. In the period 1917 to 1922, inclusive, the national banks of Massachusetts increased their capital from $53,385,000 to $63,795,000; they increased their surplus from $48,006,000 to $58,550,000; they increased their dividends from $19,220,000 to $28,675,000; and they increased their deposits, from $597,895,000 to $833,366,000.

"The First National Bank of Boston originated the complaint of discrimination alleged to have resulted from the operation of the income tax law. What of their ability to bear their share of the burden? On April 1, 1917, their capital was $5,000,000; on April 2, 1917, it was increased to $7,500,000 and on April 15, 1920, it was increased to $15,600,000. The par value of the stock was $100 per share. The dividends paid were $16 in 1916; $18 in 1917; $20 in 1918; $20 in 1919; $18 in 1920 and $16 in each of the years 1921 and 1922. The reduction of the dividend rate to $16 in the last two years was undoubtedly due to the doubling of the capital stock in 1920. These dividends were paid by the bank to the shareholders after all expenses and taxes, federal and state, had been paid and considerable sums had been carried to the amount of surplus and undivided profits. The dividends to the shareholders were not subject to either federal or state taxes.

"The two banks that are most heavily interested from the standpoint of the amount of taxes paid are the First National Bank of Boston and the National Shawmut Bank of Boston. The percentages of the total taxes on all national banks in the state which were paid by these two banks combined were 37 per cent in 1917; 46 per cent in 1918; 49 per cent in 1919; 51 per cent in 1920; 45 per cent in 1921 and 49 per cent in 1922. To say that both these banks prospered greatly since the year 1916 is but to state what is generally known. In order to accommodate the overflow of certain parts of their business they had independent corporations created, the First National Corporation having been created by the First National Bank of Boston and the Shawmut Corporation having been created by the National Shawmut Bank of Boston.

"The National Shawmut Bank has recently completed a large and expensive addition to its banking house and the First National Bank is in progress of erecting a new, large and very expensive banking house. The great prosperity of these two banks has been apparent to everyone and there can be no doubt of their ability to sustain the tax burdens which we say they ought to bear, yet they will be the chief beneficiaries of the failure to validate past taxes and of the reduction of future taxes.

"On the other hand, the owner of a dwelling house who resides therein and the owner of buildings which are let to tenants as well as the owner of tangible personal property, have had great difficulty in raising money to pay their taxes in the last six years. The war and the conditions which resulted from it have made life exceedingly hard for this class of property owners and yet they are the ones who would have their taxes increased in order to make up the deficiency that must inevitably result from any concessions in taxes made to the national banks."

The idea of John Jones, who buys a $1,000 bond to put in his safe for an investment, being a competitor in moneyed capital with the national banks, Mr. Sullivan characterized as fit for a farce comedy.

The scale of public expenditures has risen by the will of the people, said Mr. Sullivan, and the public shows no spirit of cutting down.

Therefore, he said, to let up on the national bank tax will mean heavier burdens on the "people in ordinary walks of life." Mr. Sullivan said the national banks have prospered and are in good condition to meet their expenses and pay dividends.

"We do not think," said Mr. Sullivan, "that this back taxing of private bankers would be a serious matter for them. I think it would be only a small part of their capital that would be subjected to this tax. If they're engaged in the banker's business it's their misfortune and there is no reason why they should not pay the same tax as national banks. Some question has been raised on making the tax retroactive but that principle is not new. It is well established and recognized by the Massachusetts Legislature. Recently the Legislature taxed us retroactively on the state income tax.

Philip Nichols, representing the city of Fall River, said that city favors continuing the same method of taxing national bank shares and opposes any refunding of the back taxes "until a decision by the court of last resort." Mr. Nichols said that the complaint of the banks was purely technical. To the majority of banks it never occurred that they had been over-taxed. "I feel," he said, "that where the justice of the bill is favorable we are bound to receive consideration from the courts."

Frank Piper, president of the Fall River aldermen, said Mayor Curley expressed Fall River's view exactly. He recorded two aldermen and three representatives as in favor of the Curley bill.

Thomas F. Quinn, town counsel of Natick; Edward Clark, for Framingham; Mayor Daniel W. Mahoney of Lawrence; Horace P. Farnum, city solicitor of Peabody; James W. Santry, town counsel of Swampscott; H. Hustis Newton, city solicitor of Everett; Joseph W. Bartlett, city solicitor of Newton; J. E. Harahan, city solicitor of Brockton; Winfield Temple, city solicitor of Marlboro; Cambridge, Hingham, Amesbury were recorded for the Curley bill.

Mr. Sullivan read a list of city and town officials who had been obliged to leave but wished him to record them for the bill. Some thirty municipalities were represented on this list, including Somerville, Quincy and Lynn.

THE BUILDING OUTLOOK.

("The Modern City.")

Prospective programs for building, both public and private, are being arranged and with open war their construction activities assume an impetus of an almost unparalleled extent. The building activity is not confined to any particular section of the country, but seems to be in evidence in nearly every large city and smaller town throughout the country. Even during the winter months builders and contractors have not been idle. In fact, in recent years there has developed a tendency to keep busy, and much work of a character which in former years was suspended on the approach of cold weather has been successfully and satisfactorily carried on during the winter months.

Times are always as good as we make them.

Good business suggests keeping busy. It is better to be working twelve months a year than six or seven. That is particularly true in the building industry, because lively times in the building industry mean steady movement of a lot of materials other than those usually recognized as the basic ones.

And the basic ones like cement, lumber, steel, sand and gravel or stone are heavy and bulky. If everyone waits to fill his requirements for these materials until the railroads are choked with seasonal traffic, everyone will be wanting the same things at the same time and somebody will get left.

Don't add to the peak loads of the railroads by helping to make the peak higher. Whatever you are going to use in the building material line, buy and ship now while the railroads have some flexibility of facilities that will not be in evidence later.

Many of the large contractors throughout the country are apparently acting upon these suggestions, as the number of orders placed for materials of various kinds are of unprecedented volume. According to reports from those interested in the building industry, the year 1923 is to be the greatest year of construction activity in the history of America. Conservative estimates place the probable new building expenditures in all lines for this year at $5,000,000,000.

It requires some thought to enable one to realize what the expenditure of this enormous amount of money means. Tables prepared by an Architectural Forum from compilation of replies from 1,767 architects indicate that the amount mentioned is not an imaginary sum. It indicates that construction expenditures for 1923 will exceed those of 1922, which was a record year for building, by more than one billion dollars.

Dividing the total estimate in general groups, it is seen that plans for schools, colleges and similar public structures lead the list with $870,034,000. Apartments are next with $662,885,000, and industrial buildings are third with $548,037,000. An interesting comparison is shown in the total for dwellings, which is $414,132,000, almost as great as the total for offices and also for hotels.

Similar activity of vast proportions is planned by railroads. Actual figures for 31 roads, controlling 40 per cent of all truckage in America, call for the expenditure of $387,000,000. Estimates by the "Railway Age" place the total cost of all rail improvements and construction at approximately $900,000,000 during 1923.

Economic experts, studying the construction field, declare the basis for this unprecedented activity lies in the actual lengthening of the so-called "building season." Building operations in 1922 reached unexpected heights during the fall and winter with little abatement. In many localities contractors completed work which in other years would have been carried over and, in midwinter, accepted new contracts for prompt delivery. The result has been far heavier orders for steel, cement, trim and other building materials from the very start of the year 1923 than at any time in the history of the country.

Contractors, realizing the advantage of maintaining their forces of workmen intact from season to season, have carried work right along except in the extremely cold sections and have ordered additional material for immediate delivery which they will store until ready for use on new contracts.

MASSACHUSETTS CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

The Massachusetts Civil Service Commission announce examinations for desirable positions open in the Boston and Metropolitan districts as follows:

SEALERS, DEPUTY SEALERS OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES, MAY 11, 1923.

This examination is for the service of the state, all cities in the state, and such towns as are classified under civil service. The salaries range from $800 to $1,600 per year.

The sealer of weights and measures is required to enforce the laws pertaining to weighing and measuring devices and to the giving of false or insufficient weight or measure; to the licensing of hawkers, peddlers, and transient vendors; to wholesale milk containers, cranberry barrels and crates, standard boxes for farm produce, berry baskets, and other containers used as measures; to the weights of bread and to the labeling of loaves of other than standard unit weight.

It is also his duty to test all weighing or measuring devices used for buying or selling; for public weighing, or for hire or reward, and to seal or condemn them in accordance with the results of his tests; also to investigate complaints and to prosecute violations of law when the evidence warrants such action. Pamphlets including the General Laws relating to weights, measures, licenses, etc., and a Sealers' Manual, containing instructions for the inspection, testing and sealing of weighing and measuring devices, may be obtained upon request to the Director of Standards, 194 State House, after application for examination has been filed.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 4; simple arithmetic, including simple percentage, decimals, and the metric system, 2; report, 1; technical questions aimed to test applicants' knowledge of (a) the law governing the inspection of weights and measures, (b) the construction and types of mechanical weighing and measuring apparatus, (c) ability to present cases in court, (d) general knowledge of the duties of the position, 3; total, 10.

Successful applicants will also be required to file a certificate from a reputable physician as to their physical fitness for the position.

DENTISTS, MAY 16, 1923.

This examination is for the service of the state, all cities in the state, and such towns as are classified under civil service. From the eligible list established as a result of this examination, names will be certified to fill vacancies in institutions, schools, and other positions as they occur. The salaries range from $1,000 to $1,400 per year. There is a vacancy in the Northampton School Department at a salary of $85 a month.

Applicants are required to be registered to practice dentistry under the Board of Dental Examiners, Department of Civil Service and Registration.

The examination will consist of the filing of a statement of training and experience. The mark given on experience will be combined with the mark given applicants by the State Board of Dental Examiners, and an average will be taken to determine their standing on the list.

Successful applicants will also be given a physical examination.

JANITORS, MAY 25, 1923.

This examination will be held for the service of the state and all cities and such towns in the state as are classified under civil service. There are several vacancies at the present time.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Experience, 5; special questions on the duties of the position, 5; total, 10. Applicants are required to obtain a mark of at least 50 per cent in practical questions. Successful applicants will also be given a physical examination.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.*General Order No. 31.I. PROMOTION.

The following promotion which took effect at 9 a. m. Friday, January 26, 1923, is hereby announced:

John J. Crehan of Water Tower Company 2 to aide-to-the commissioner.

II. CHANGES IN LOCATION OF FIRE ALARM BOXES.

Fire alarm box locations have been changed as follows:

Box 2616.—Location changes from Belgrade avenue and Rexhame street, to Belgrade and Colberg avenues.

Box 2621.—Beech and Newburg streets, to Beech street and Colberg avenue.

Commanding officers will see that these changes are made on assignment cards and box location cards.

III. CHANGE IN NAME OF STREET.

On April 6, 1923, the Board of Street Commissioners voted to change the name of Angelo street, city proper, off Charter street, to Michelangelo street. This change was approved by his Honor the Mayor on April 10, 1923, and is published herewith for the information of the department.

IV. CORRECTIONS.

The following corrections in General Order No. 28, c. s., are hereby announced:

The assignment of Michael J. Goggin to Engine 52 should read to "Engine 24."

The transfer of Hoseman Arthur I. Roake from Engine 52 to Engine 24 is canceled.

By order of the Fire Commissioner.

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

*General Order No. 32.I. CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN.

Deputy chiefs will instruct district chiefs in their respective divisions to detail the regular inspectors, and all such additional inspectors as are needed, to inspect cellars and yards of stores and tenement houses containing three or more suites with a view to the removal of all kinds of rubbish. The work will start at once and continue until May 15, inclusive.

District chiefs will report daily through proper channels the number of inspections made and the number of conditions remedied during this period up to and including May 15. These reports need not include the street and number of buildings inspected.

Reinspections should be made in all cases where conditions are found that are a hazard, and in only such cases as are found not remedied on reinspection shall a Form 5 be forwarded by the district chief.

At the end of the clean-up period, May 15, a consolidated report shall be sent in by district chiefs to deputy chiefs showing the total number of inspections made and conditions remedied. The reports of the inspectors to the district chiefs shall be kept by the district chiefs until May 15, for the purpose of making the daily report and the consolidated report referred to above.

It is imperative that every effort be made to make as many inspections and correct as many rubbish conditions as possible wherever found.

II. DAMAGE TO PROPERTY.

If private property has been damaged by fire apparatus or by firemen in the performance of their duty, and a citizen calls at a fire station in regard to repairs or compensation for such damage, he should be directed to the Committee on Claims, Clerk of Committees' Office, City Hall. This is the only manner in which action can be obtained in a claim for damages. Under the law the money appropriated for the Fire Department can be spent for Fire Department purposes only, and for this reason all claims must be passed on by the Committee on Claims.

Under no conditions should a citizen be informed that the Fire Department will repair the damage or compensate the person for the damage. Remuneration for the damage depends entirely on the action of the Committee on Claims.

III. NEAR EAST RELIEF.

In connection with the proclamation of his Honor the Mayor the fire stations of this department will serve as receiving stations on April 30, 1923, for used garments, etc., donated by citizens for the Near East Relief. Following is an extract from the proclamation of Mayor Curley setting April 30 as "Bundle Day":

"The President of the United States in his proclamation for the relief of the suffering in the Near East has pointed out the almost unbelievable conditions existing among thousands of deported orphans and refugees, the latter old women and little children, who are huddled on the bleak shores of the Aegean Sea, slowly dying of exposure.

"These conditions having been brought to my attention in all their misery, I am moved to make an additional appeal to the citizens of Greater Boston for old clothing to help relieve in a measure some of this great distress.

"I am convinced that the cast-off garments from Greater Boston will save thousands of these needy ones. Any clothing thus received will be distributed by the Near East Relief who are on the ground, designated for that work by Congress. I therefore appeal to the citizens of our city to look through their wardrobes and attics and select such garments as they can spare and bring the same to the fire station nearest their residence. All these stations throughout the various sections of this city will be used as collection depots for the reception of bundles to help this worthy cause.

"I further set forth Monday, the 30th of April, as Bundle Day in Greater Boston for the Near East Relief.

"That the citizens of Greater Boston be generous in their response to this crying appeal is my hope."

Bundles will be received at fire stations between the hours of 8 a. m. and 9 p. m. To aid in this work three older Boy Scouts will be assigned to each station on April 30 to handle all bundles, and in case of some donors telephoning in to call for bundles. On or about April 26 one of the Boy Scouts will post a yellow "Bundle Station" sign in a conspicuous place on the outside of each station. On May 1 local trucks will come and take the bundles away to the central depository for final shipment to the destitute wards in the Near East.

Commanding officers and all members of the department are urged to co-operate in every way in aiding this movement, and to render all possible assistance to the men and boys who will be assigned to this work.

IV. DRIVING OF APPARATUS.

It has been brought to the attention of the Fire Commissioner that rule No. 269 of the Rules and Regulations of the Department is not being observed by some of the commanding officers. This rule was adopted for the purpose of giving all members who had qualified as chauffeurs experience in operating motor fire apparatus.

Commanding officers will see that this rule is strictly followed, and district and deputy chiefs will report to the Commissioner any cases where it is disregarded.

V. FIRE HATS.

Numerous requests have been received in the past few months for repairing and replacing fire hats which have been run over due to the carelessness of the members of the department in allowing these hats to fall off the apparatus. These hats cost the city $6.25 each, and when one is run over it is practically destroyed and unfit for further use. Hereafter all cases where fire hats are run over will be thoroughly investigated and the responsibility for the carelessness placed on the proper person.

On recent visits to certain fire stations the Fire Commissioner observed fire hats reposing on the tops of radiators. This is a practice indulged, no doubt, in many fire stations, for during the winter months many requests were received to repair leaky fire hats. Upon examination these hats were found dried up and the leather cracked as a result of the practice above described. Company commanders will see to it that all fire hats are kept in the places provided, secured in a proper manner, so that they will not be exposed to excessive heat or be liable to fall from the apparatus and be damaged.

By order of the Fire Commissioner.

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

THE ELEVATED REFUND.

Mayor Curley is rather sanguine that the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company will be able to make a refund of $1,000,000 to the State of Massachusetts about July 1, of which the City of Boston will be paid about $700,000.

This would be the second payment by the Elevated on account of the $4,000,000 loan by the state in 1918, of which Boston's assessed share was about $2,900,000. Of this amount, $372,000 has been returned to the city.

NEW PAVING.

Mayor Curley has instructed Commissioner Rourke of the Public Works Department to begin paving Massachusetts avenue between Columbus avenue and Beacon street with granite blocks instead of laying a bitulithic surface. The cost will be about $6,000 to $7,000.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, April 16, 1923.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two o'clock p. m. Coun. HAGAN, senior member, presiding, and all the members present.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE MAYOR.

The following were received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 16, 1923.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—Subject to confirmation by your honorable body, I make the following appointments of minor officers paid by fees for the term of one year beginning with the first day of May, 1923. The appointments of all such officers not named herein are hereby revoked from and after April 30, 1923.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.
Laid over under the law.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 16, 1923.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—Subject to confirmation by your honorable body, I appoint the following-named persons to the position of Constable of the City of Boston for the term of one year beginning with the first day of May, 1923: George H. Murray, 134 Boston street, Dorchester; Joseph J. O'Mara, 21 Winfield street, South Boston; Caesar L. Donnaruma, 12 Austin street, Charlestown.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.
Laid over under the law.

CLOSING OF CITY MARKETS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 16, 1923.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—A petition has been received, signed by seventy-two of the eighty-four lessees of Quincy and Faneuil Hall Markets, requesting that the hour for closing be changed from 9 p. m. on Saturday during July, August and August, to 6 p. m., and since this early closing is in keeping with the trend of thought generally with reference to a shorter work day, I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying amendment to the ordinances.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

An Ordinance Concerning the Closing of Faneuil Hall Markets.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 2 of chapter 22 of the revised ordinances of 1914 is hereby amended in clause 12, line 14, by striking out the numeral nine (9), and substituting in place thereof numeral six (6), so that the said section, as amended, shall read as follows:

The lessee shall have the demised premises, on all week days except legal holidays, opened from March 1 to April 1, at 6.30 o'clock a. m.; from April 1 to May 1, at 6 o'clock a. m.; from May 1 to September 20, at 5.30 o'clock a. m.; from September 20 to October 1, at 6 o'clock a. m.; from October 1 to December 1, at 6.30 o'clock a. m.; from December 1 to March 1, at 7 o'clock a. m.; and kept open until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, provided, however, that on the day of the observance of Patriot's day, Memorial day, Independence day and Labor day, when Monday or Saturday, and on the day of the celebration of the battle of Bunker Hill, he shall have such premises opened as above, and kept open until 9 o'clock in the morning, and on all other Saturdays he shall have them opened as above and kept open until 6 o'clock in the evening; or have them opened and closed at such other hours as the City Council may from time to time order.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

MONEY FOR PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 16, 1923.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the appended communication from the Public Library Trustees of the City of Boston, and recommend the adoption of the accompanying order, providing an appropriation in the amount of $50,000 for book stocks and such additional improvements as in the opinion of the trustees are necessary at the Central Library.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Library Department, April 11, 1923.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—At a regular meeting of the Board of Trustees held on Friday, April 6, I was requested to call to your attention the urgent necessity of providing for the two upper floors of steel stacks in the Blagden street annex of the Central Library building for which provision was not made when the building was erected in 1917. The need of additional stack room is necessary in order that some relief may be given to those departments that have outgrown the space appropriated to them. According to the best estimates that can be obtained, which have been submitted to the trustees, the two floors of new stacks, the light and heat installation, and the necessary painting of walls and ceilings, will cost $42,000. This figure does not include any estimate for the services of an architect to supervise the above construction. It is reasonable to assume, however, that the entire work can be satisfactorily completed for a sum not to exceed $50,000. The estimates received for steel construction are based on the understanding that the work is to be done within six months from the time the estimates were given.

I earnestly join with the Board in urging upon you the importance of an appropriation for the above purpose.

Respectfully yours,
CHARLES F. D. BELDEN,
Librarian.

Ordered, That the sum of $50,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated to be expended by the trustees of the Public Library for the equipping and furnishing of the Ceiling of the Central Library, in addition, and that to meet said appropriation, the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the basis of the amount of the bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

APPROPRIATION FOR PUBLICITY BUREAU.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 16, 1923.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen, The Commercial and Industrial and Publicity Bureau having nearly exhausted the amount available under the law which a department is permitted to expend in anticipation of taxes, I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $20,000 be appropriated, to be expended, under the direction of the Mayor, by the Commercial and Industrial and Publicity Bureau in the prosecution of its duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

SALARY INCREASES, SEALERS OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 16, 1923.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen, The responsibilities of and the work performed by the Weights and Measures Department are entirely out of proportion to the salaries received and I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying amendment to the ordinances providing for an increase of $500 in the annual salary of the Sealer of Weights and measures, and an increase of $100 in the maximum for the deputy sealers.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston.
In the year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-Three.
An Ordinance Concerning the Salaries of the Sealers of Weights and Measures.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 1. Chapter three of the Revised Ordinances of 1914 is hereby amended, to be read, by striking out the clause establishing the salaries of the sealers of weights and measures and inserting in place thereof the following clause: "The sealer of weights and measures, thirty-five hundred dollars, and the twelve deputy sealers of weights and measures each such salary, not exceeding two thousand dollars and not less than sixteen hundred dollars, as may be fixed by the sealer of weights and measures with the approval of the Mayor."

Sec. 2. This ordinance shall take effect beginning with the first day of April, 1923.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

PETITIONS REFERRED.

The following petitions were received and referred to the committees named, viz.:

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along both sides of Beale street, from Dorchester avenue to the railroad, Ward 20, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

ROPING OFF CENTRE STREET.

Coun. MORIARTY offered an order—That the City Messenger be requested to rope off Centre street, Jamaica Plain, from Walden street to a point about one hundred yards beyond Gay Head street on the occasion of the O'Connell Post, American Legion, road race on April 19, 1923, the expense attending the same to be charged to the appropriation for Incidental Expenses, City Council.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

CITY PLANNING ORDINANCE.

The Council voted, on motion of Coun. MORIARTY, to take the measure of the Mayor and the ordinance concerning the City Planning Board (referred April 2) from the Committee on Ordinances and refer the same to the Executive Committee.

PENSION FOR MRS. D. J. BURNETT.

Coun. MORIARTY offered an order—That the sum of $600 per annum be paid to Mrs. Dennis J. Burnett, widow of Dennis J. Burnett of the Boston Fire Department, who died of injuries incurred in performance of his duty, said sum to be paid to her as long as she remains single and widowed.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. WATSON in the chair.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENT.

Coun. WATSON called up No. 2, unfinished business, viz.:

2. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor April 9, 1923, of William J. Raulinaitis to be a member of the Board of Public Works.

The question came on confirmation. Committee—Coun. Hagan and Brickley. Whole number of the order, cast 6, yeas 6, and the appointment was confirmed.

PLANS FOR CONGRESS STREET BRIDGE.

Coun. WATSON called up No. 3, unfinished business, viz.:

3. Ordered, That the sum of $30,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated, to be expended by the Commissioner of Public Works, for Congress Street Bridge, plans etc., for building, and the same to meet said expenditure the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City to said amount.

On April 2, 1923, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 9.

The order was given its final reading and passed, yeas 9, nays 0.

INFORMATION CONCERNING TAX EXEMPTION.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be respectfully requested to obtain from the New York authorities whatever information he can upon the plan which they are considering of tax exemption for a period of years on all new dwellings that are built to provide homes for those of modest means.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, understanding that the New York Legislature have written some statute law relieving the condition existing there, as here, and making an endeavor to provide modest homes for those of modest means, desiring tenement property, small home property, I thought it would be a good idea if we should try to examine into the matter and find how much progress has been made in New York. It seems to me that the Mayor is in a better position to do this perhaps than any of us here individually. The object of the order is simply to get what information we can and see if we can use that information. Various committees have been appointed in New York by the State and State to consider the problem; they have gone into it in a very exhaustive way, and I think the results must be such as to engage the attention of each and every one of us. I have no objection to this coming to the Executive Committee if anybody cares to have it referred; but if there is no objection, I will ask that the rule be suspended, that the order be read upon its passage.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, in connection with this order it comes to my mind that some time during the previous administration an order of a similar nature was introduced into the Legislature, which was later submitted to the Corporation Council, asking whether or not it would be legal to do this, under the action of the Constitutional Convention accepted by the body allowing cities and towns to provide money for their citizens for this sort of thing. The opinion that came back from the Corporation Council was that it was not legal to the effect that they could not engage in that business. I took occasion then to disagree with the opinion as rendered by the Corporation Council. But, however, I see that in this order we have practically run up against the same condition that prevailed then. I think before we go ahead sending for information from the New York authorities such as New York—where they are broadminded enough through the interpretation of their courts to agree that there should be this sort of legislation—should find out what the Constitutional Convention has under this administration, whether or not in the opinion of the present Corporation Council that the Corporation Council Convention will allow cities and towns to provide homes for their citizens, as is here proposed. I would like to have the order referred to the Executive Committee, in order that we can talk it over and see whether or not we should pass it. I believe the councilor introducing the order will be in with the Mayor, that he should be going ahead and sending for facts from other municipalities, find out if the thing is legal in this municipality. The fact that it is legal there does not necessarily mean that it is legal here. Until we know something about that, it seems to me it is useless for us to go ahead seeking information from any other municipality which has taken a broader view of the subject than has been taken here in our own city.

Chairman WATSON—It might be well for the Council to read the order. Perhaps it may enlighten the members.

The Clerk read the order.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, Coun. Donoghue evidently misinterpreted or misunderstood the nature of the order. I am talking about the action of a municipality providing buildings or homes. This does not call for anything of that nature. The order here you see simply deals with tax exemption on homes that are built by private people, the exemption to be for a period of two, three or five years, as an incentive to the putting up of homes and perhaps letting the tenement at a proper rental, because of the fact that a man can save some money on taxes. That is the nature of this order. I would like to state this, and I would like me, to confuse the two issues, because I believe they are distinctly different in their character and scope. I admit that I have heard since presented the order that the New York Supreme Court has ruled that the New York law, with reference to tax exemption, is constitutional, therefore, as we can write and privilege, and I think was a little bit uncertain about. I knew that the matter had been referred to the New York Supreme Court for decision. That decision, I think, has been handed down within the last few hours.

Chairman WATSON—I would like to call Coun. Hagan's attention to this, that the facts concerning the order are these: A single justice passed upon the question and claimed that it was unconstitutional to have tax exemptions on property, as suggested by the order. That is the nature of the appeal to the Court of Appeals, which is similar to our Supreme Court in Massachusetts and that court decided that it was constitutional to have tax exemption. That is merely a matter of record.

Coun. DONOGHUE—While I admit that I misunderstood the nature of the order introduced, Mr. Chairman, I now understand that the order is for tax exemption on homes and I am now correctly, Coun. McLaughlin, who previously served in this Council, introduced an order also under the previous administration, that homes be exempt from taxation for a period of ten years. That order was declared not legal by the Corporation Council of this city. So we are frankly in the same position in relation to the order now being introduced by Coun. Hagan as we were with reference to the other order. I think before we go ahead on this matter we had better get the opinion of our Law Department, want their opinion on the matter is. If they render an opinion that it is constitutional and lawful, I am heartily in favor of the order; but, of course, if they say it is not legal, I will not think we ought to go ahead passing orders which the Corporation Council might say would not apply to this locality, because Boston is the city we are interested in and irrespective of what other municipalities may have done, if those in authority here, in so far as legal questions are concerned, declare that in their opinion the order is legal here in Boston, then I think we are stopped.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I am perfectly willing to change the tenor of my motion. Instead of the order being referred to the Executive Committee, I would like to have it referred to the Law Department, and let it come back in here with a report from them at some later period for consideration by this body. I want to say, however, with all due respect to the Corporation Council and the Law Department here, who may render an opinion which is adverse, to the effect that this order is not legal, that I will not consider our Law Department the court of last resort, by any means. Before accepting their decision as final and lying down under it, I should like to have the constitutionality of the whole idea tested out by some higher authority.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

PARKING STATION, BOSTON COMMON.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor request either the City Planning Board or the Street Commission to make a recommendation that he may prefer, to consider the advisability and the practicality of establishing a municipal owned and controlled parking station under Boston street, between Washington and State streets, so that the surface of the Common would not be changed or disturbed, and for the purpose of relieving the congestion of the Common.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, again I am perfectly willing to have this order referred to the Executive Committee, or if there is no objection I will ask for its immediate passage. A similar order was presented here two or three years ago. It had no effect at that time and the probabilities are that this order will have no effect now. A new administration has come into power. The personnel of the Street Commission is different from what it was, so I am taking a chance that perhaps there may be some new light, and perhaps somewhat brighter light, on this question of the traffic conditions of Boston are in a most chaotic condition. Something must be done. All minds must center on this problem, and we must endeavor to solve it as best we can. I don't know that this is practical. I don't know that it is possible of accomplishment. The only thing I know about this order is that I will have the Boston Common Association on my neck. I am sure that I have no intention or desire to disturb one blade of grass on the surface of the Common or to change one flexion one particle. But I do think that there might be an underground garage, as it were, or parking station under the parade ground, from Boylston street to the State street, and the suggestion with reference to that is at least worthy of serious consideration in trying to solve this question. I am sure that we should be willing to stay to stay, and we must provide some parking accommodations for them. The cars that are parked on Charles street are now lined up, filling both sides of the street. The whole space is practically filled up today. Every day people are coming along and trying to find some place to park their cars, and are unable to do so. Certainly people have come in here in the past and have been offered to them in the line of parking, to the utmost. Conditions there at present can, of course, be greatly improved because the present use of the automobiles now use very little cars in parking them. It may be that 200 cars more could be put in practically the same space if they were put closer together than they are now. I am now offering a suggestion to the municipal authorities in the way of providing parking space that will be available to the citizens of the city. I think that parking stations, municipally owned and controlled, they might be made self-sustaining and would help solve the problem. If the idea is practical, I think we should have it.

Chairman WATSON—I should like to have that go to the Executive Committee, because I have made some inquiries, and from what I know I don't think the order would permit a garage underground, as suggested.

Coun. HAGAN.—I have no objection to reference to the Executive Committee.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

EDMUND B. ABBOTT SQUARE.

Coun. LANE offered an order.—That the Park Commissioners be requested, through the Honorable Mayor, to name the space at the junction of Commonwealth and Harvard avenues, Allston, Edmund B. Abbott square, in memory of said Abbott, who died in the United States service during the World War, and that said place be suitably marked with signs.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

ROPING OF STREETS, MARATHON RACE.

Coun. LANE offered an order.—That the City Messenger be hereby authorized to rope off the highway streets for the marathon race on April 10, 1923, the expense attending the same to be charged to the appropriation for City Council, Flags, Ropes and Stakes.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

RECESS TAKEN.

The Council voted at 3.09 p. m., on motion of Coun. HAGAN, to take a recess subject to the call of the President.

The members of the Council reassembled in the chamber and were called to order by the President at 6.10 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. WATSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following, viz.:

1. Report of petition of Arthur McGrath (referred today) for retirement under the provisions of chapter 765, Acts of 1914—recommending the passage of the following ordinance.

Ordered, That the Retirement Board for Laborers be hereby authorized and requested to retire, under the provisions of chapter 765 of the Acts of 1914, amended by chapter 63 of the Special Acts of 1915, Arthur McGrath, employed in the labor service of the City of Boston, in the Public Works Department.

Report accepted; order passed.

2. Reports on petitions (referred today) for permits for children under fifteen years of age to appear at various places of amusement that permits be granted, viz.:

Mary Campbell, Jordan Hall, May 8.

Mary C. Murphy, South Boston Municipal Building, May 15.

Marion Hennessey, Roslindale Municipal Building, May 23.

Reports severally accepted; permits granted on the usual conditions.

3. Report on message of Mayor and ordinance (referred today) concerning the City Planning Board—that the ordinance ought to pass.

Report accepted; ordinance passed.

4. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) for appropriation of $20,000 for the Commercial, Industrial and Publicity Bureau—that the order ought to pass.

The report was declared accepted and the order passed.

Later Coun. LANE said: Mr. Chairman, I would move a reconsideration of our action upon that matter, and if that prevails I am going to move to lay it on the table. I will give my reasons.

(Reconsideration prevailed.)

Coun. LANE, Mr. President, I move that this order be laid on the table. This Commission on Commerce, Industry and Publicity has been in existence every time since Mayor Curley came into office, and I cannot recall it has accomplished. It has cost a great deal of money so far and now they are asking for $20,000 more. It is a nice long name—Commerce, Industry and Publicity. C. I. P., cash-in-pipe. I think it is really a lead-pipe chain, two men getting $5,000 each and you cannot find them in when you go down there. The busy fellow in the office is Joshua Jones, who is apparently on the job all the time. The others we are hearing from all the time, when they come up here asking for money, but the rest of them we don't know where they are. I would like to hear something more from those people before I am willing to vote $20,000 more for them. I move that the matter be laid on the table.

The Council voted to lay the matter on the table.

5. Report on message of Mayor and ordinance (referred today) concerning salaries of sealers of weights and measures—recommending passage of ordinance in the following new draft, viz.:

An Ordinance Concerning the Salaries of the Sealers of Weights and Measures.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 1. Chapter three of the Revised Ordinances of 1914 is hereby amended in section five by striking out the clause relating to the salaries of the sealers of weights and measures and inserting in place thereof the following clause: "The sealer of weights and measures shall receive no more than $1,000 per annum, and the twelve deputy sealers of weights and measures each such salary, not exceeding twenty-two hundred dollars and not less than sixteen hundred dollars, as may be fixed by the sealer of weights and measures with the approval of the Mayor.

Sec. 2. This ordinance shall take effect beginning with the first day of April, 1923.

Report accepted; ordinance passed.

6. Report on order (referred March 19) to have the Mayor petition the Legislature for authority to borrow five million dollars to meet the exigencies of the housing situation—recommending the passage of the following, viz.:

Ordered, That this Honorable Mayor be requested to petition the Legislature for authority to borrow five million dollars, outside the debt limit, to meet the present acute emergency in the housing situation, and for such other legislation as may help to relieve the shortage of tenement houses in the City of Boston.

The report accepted and the order was passed, yeas 4, nays 3, the vote being:

Yeas—Coun. Donoghue, Healey, Walsh, Watson—4.

Nays—Coun. Gilbody, Hagan, Lane—3.

$500,000 HIGHWAY LOAN.

Coun. DONOGHUE.—Mr. President, I move that we take from the Committee on Finance the order for a loan of $500,000 for highways, making of, filed February 19, 1923.

The question came on taking the order from the Committee on Finance.

Coun. GILBODY.—Mr. President, I am going to vote against this motion, as I have previously in this Council. I think it is a bad precedent. I think we all want to afford relief to the streets in the laying districts, and in order to do so we ought to follow the matter up. I think we ought to follow the action that has been followed for years. The action proposed by this order is in line with the action that has been taken for years. This is not a reform movement that the Council has been trying to initiate. It has been the practice here for years and years to make this appropriation in this manner. There is no reason why the Commission should not be allowed to lay out the streets proposed to be laid out. We have heard from the very able chairman of the Street Commission on the matter, and I think he has given us a very able and clear understanding of it. Much better than we can hope to get in any other direction.

Therefore, I am going to oppose the motion.

Coun. DONOGHUE.—Mr. President, I want to say that I asked to have the order recalled so that the Council might vote either for or against it today, because the fact that it is laid out by the Council it will automatically go into effect after April 20, 1923. The list that was submitted by the chairman of the Street Commission was not correct, because of the fact that he submitted a list of streets to the Council, some of which have been laid out for more than two years and others of which, in my opinion, they have no intention of laying out. I believe if the Street Commission are going to lay out new highways, they ought to have some plan whereby the highways to be laid out, some of which, in my mind there is no fairer plan than one which would include the laying out of old existing streets which have been laid out for a number of years. I believe some of those streets should be laid out previous to the laying out of streets upon which there is hardly a single dwelling house erected. There is very many instances where some of the other streets are laid out in the interests of the developers of real estate. I believe that the people who have paid taxes for years and who have erected homes on old streets, as would call them, are entitled to have those streets put into condition before the laying out of any new highways. There are a great many streets which might termed streets which have never been accepted by the Street Commission, where practically every inch of the ground has been laid out for years and the streets year to year have never been accepted by any administration. Of course, that sort of thing all takes time. I appreciate that fact, but I believe that some of the people who have invested possibly their life savings in a dwelling on some of our older streets might have a right to have their streets laid out. I believe that the sewer and street improvements put through on the street, before any other tracts of land are up and new streets made of them. I believe we ought to have an appropriation sent in here by the Street Commissioners for every individual street that they are going to lay out. What harm will it do to submit to the Council a list of streets that, in their opinion, are proper streets to lay out, and allow this Council, which under the charter has the power of appropriation, to retain that power? We have heard it said from time to time that we haven't any power, that our powers are delegated to self-appointed officials or officials appointed by the Mayor, who are not answerable to the power we should exert. Why should we, as members of this Council, uphold procedure that each of us individually believes is wrong? We should exert the power of appropriation should rest with this Council, and the Street Commissioners should know in this matter what streets are going to be laid out. I have heard it said that we should impose upon the Street Commission to ask them to submit to us a plan of streets they intend to lay out, and then let us decide whether or not we will lay out those particular streets ought to be laid out. If we do, let us appropriate the money for them. I wish to say that, as a member of the Council, I am against an appropriation which will simply deal with new streets in some parts of the city to the neglect of streets in the older parts of the city, streets which have been built up and which should be laid out. I think a great injustice has been done. I cannot believe in laying out streets in preference to the laying out of old streets, which were done to all intents and purposes have been streets for years. I hope the Council will take from the Committee on Finance will prevail.

The Council voted to take the order from the Committee on Finance, yeas 5, nays 2.

Yeas—Coun. Donoghue, Hagan, Healey, Lane, Watson—5.

Nays—Coun. Gilbody, Walsh—2.

Coun. DONOGHUE, Mr. President, the order having been taken from the Committee on Finance, I believe we should now bring the matter to a head, deciding whether or not we believe in this policy which has been going on for years in the Council of providing, say, a million dollars, or whatever it may be for the laying out of sewers and a million dollars for the laying out of highways, and then being entirely ignorant of what is proposed to be done. We are continually being confronted with the question that I have raised, and we see it here today. We have had a communication from the Mayor's office stating that the City Planning Board is a most important body. Now, what is the object of the City Planning Board? Is it to plan, to know just what they intend to do along the line of making certain improvements in the City of Boston? I believe any business administration must be carried out in a carefully planned manner. I am going to support the order to appropriate a lump sum of $500,000 and simply give it to the Street Commission to do with as they see fit. I am going to support the order to give it to the Street Commission to do with as they see fit, irrespective of the wishes of the Council, because after we have passed the order, as we have in years gone by, no member of the Council is ever consulted as to what is the need for any particular district in which he resides or as to what is the urgency of requests coming from different sections of the city. I believe that the order should be handled by having the Street Commission submit to us the amount they need to lay out in particular streets, or highways, and I thought being that they should first lay out the streets which have practically been streets for a long time, which have not been accepted by the city for years, where people have erected homes and all sorts of things to the consideration of every member of this Council. We have not received the information along that line that we should have received in years gone by, but that has no reason why we should not get it in the future. We all know many cases, as individual members of the Council, of streets that have not been laid out for years and years, and that in that way, while new streets have been brought in, cut through vacant lots of land and improved with new sewers, granite sidewalks and that sort of thing, while the older streets on which people have lived for years and invested their life savings have remained in their original condition or years. A widening of them, as we have just passed through brings out the need of improvement of those streets to my mind indeed. When we have a sewer under a street that has not been improved gets into deplorable shape, deplorable condition. I think it is a rank injustice to the people who have built their homes on some of these older streets that the Council should have no preference in the matter of street improvements for years and years gone by, and as far as I am able to do so the order I am going to support. I am going to receive preference in the days to come, I hope when the matter comes to a vote that the order will be defeated. Then, if the Street Commission want to lay out any streets let them submit to the Council their plan, showing the streets they want to lay out. That is the only way in which to do business. I am in the line, and I am going to support the Council, let us vote money to lay out the streets that they recommend. I don't want to be in the position of apparently dictating to the Street Commission what streets they are to lay out. There is no other way out of it. We have the authority. The power is in the Council. Are we going to refuse to exercise the power to lay out some one else may exercise them for us? Are we going to say to the Street Commission, "We don't know what the people want, and you do?" I don't believe that is the way in which the Council will be a candidate for election to the body would state on a public platform that there is any problem connected with the laying out of streets. I have heard of departments that he does not know something about and that he is not qualified to pass upon. I hope the order will be defeated.

President HAGAN in the chair.

Coun. WATSON.—Mr. President, I think the gentleman errs in one particular. He says we have the power to decide what streets shall be laid out. As I understand it, we only have power to say what streets will or will not be laid out. We can do only in a negative way, not in an affirmative way, on this.

Coun. HEALEY.—Mr. President, I think this matter is so important that I wish to have my opinion stated as a matter of record. I think every member of the Council is entitled to have his opinion stated in regard to the laying out of certain public streets, but I think we all feel also that the desire of the Council to know exactly what the Mayor is doing is a most reasonable one. It strikes me that it is a very reasonable request to make of any department, and that it is following out the law to the letter. If I may say so, also, it is carrying out the idea of segregated budget in city administration. When the city is appropriating half a million dollars for an order providing a loan for the making of highways, I certainly think the desire of any member of the Council to know specifically how the money is to be expended is a very reasonable and logical one. When the Street Commissioner made his statement, it was informed that it was the desire of the Council that information merely be furnished to the Council, which body did not intend to have direction or supervision in the matter; and to deny the Council information when he knew that the Council did not desire direction or supervision does not seem to be the desire of any government. I shall vote to defeat that order, not because I am opposed to the expenditure of the money, but rather that, as a representative of the people, I am unwilling to vote unless I know where and how it is going to be expended. Therefore, I think, for the sake of the integrity and standing of the City Council, the order should be defeated.

The question came on the passage of the order, and the Clerk was directed to call the roll.

Coun. WATSON.—Mr. President, I think we ought to have a full Council meeting on this.

President HAGAN.—It is not our fault that all the members are here. If the matter were not acted upon by us today it will go into effect before the next meeting. It is not our fault.

Coun. WATSON.—Mr. President, I don't want to prolong the session any longer. There is merit in what all of the previous councilors have said, I will agree, but in view of the fact that a great deal is important in the matter, and that we are out and construction of highways under this act will have to be done pretty quickly in order to have it finished up before the fall, I think on this particular occasion we should pass the order today and hereafter call upon the Street Commissioners for more explicit information concerning the expenditure of the money. I don't think we are warranted on this occasion in defeating the order. I think we ought to pass it today and later, hereafter, form some plan to receive the information may be given to us. I thought the chairman of the Street Commission gave us some information, but he was not quite prepared to give us the full information we desired, perhaps because of his newness in the office. But that will follow. I hope the order will pass. If you will ask me the name of one street mentioned in the order by the Street Commission that is going to be laid out, I couldn't tell you now, and undoubtedly there are fifty streets over there that have been interested in a great many things that have not been acted upon favorably by the Street Commission. So perhaps I am just as much in the way as anybody else. I don't think the cause of nonaction. But I feel that, because of the good to the vast majority, we ought to pass it today, and I trust that both Coun. Healey and Donoghue will see the thing my way. I think that we can bring about the reforms suggested by both of them, and undoubtedly the Council will all act together on this proposition.

Coun. HEALEY.—Mr. President, I think there is a whole lot of merit in what has been said along that line. I don't want to be looked upon as a man who is or as one who would place any impediment in the way of the administration of the city. I may have been a little hasty in saying that the Council ought to be satisfied. I think that an agreement might be arrived at, and I think perhaps the councilor who has just taken his seat might secure for us from the Street Commission a list of the streets on which this money is going to be used. The order, however, goes into effect after April 20.

President HAGAN.—May I suggest to the Council if they will pardon the interruption that the order must be either defeated or passed today. If defeated today there is no objection to Coun. Watson or anybody else reintroducing the order before we adjourn tonight, and it can then come up on a future calendar for action. So the matter will not be killed.

Coun. WATSON.—Mr. President, my feeling is the same concerning that proposition as it is in regard to this order. I say that fourteen days' delay means something. It means a lot in the matter of laying out and starting up a new highway. I think they are now getting ready to advertise on these streets. They have to be advertised a certain time and contractors will have to bid on them, and before you know it will be the middle of June and a number of streets may have to lay over for a year. I think the wisest course is to pass the order today, and let the Council follow up the reform suggested by the three gentlemen.

Coun. HEALEY.—I might say, Mr. President, that I know some of the streets on the list submitted by the chairman of the Street Commission have been advertised, although the money is not yet available. I know that they have been advertised by every administration. For the sake of the integrity of the Council and whatever little power the Council may still retain, I think we ought to insist, however, on respect, on a fair and decent answer to our requests for information. I don't think there is a member of the body who would deprive the City of Boston of the expenditure of this money for the fitting up of streets. I don't think that is the issue involved. The issue involved is this, that when a request is made of the Street Commission by the City Council, that request ought to be honored, that it should be answered in detail. So long as the Council has the right to initiate laws, I think for the honor of the Council we ought to stand in our own defense, and that we must be heard and recognized. I do not want to take away from the prerogatives of an elder member by doing the thing myself, but I do think that perhaps Coun. Watson or some other member might reintroduce the order if it fails of passage here today, and I feel that a large task must be read for the sake of the standing of the Council.

Coun. GILBODY.—Mr. President, I don't believe there was any malice or any such intent on the part of anybody concerned in this order to show disrespect to the Council. I think the chairman of the commission was a very intelligent, helpful, and sincere synopsis of the situation when he appeared here on the day he did. Gentlemen who have had more experience in municipal affairs here than some of us have had and who understand the situation feel that it is impossible for the Street Commission to present to the Council a list of the streets which they propose to accept at a certain given time. The money is appropriated for future use, always, and the chairman told the Council just what the situation was from his point of view. The previous chairman of the commission did not take that point of view, but came over to the Council and submitted a list of streets, that he presumably copied or obtained from some source. I don't believe the arguments offered have been of such a nature as to lead us to hold this up at this particular time. In West Roxbury, Dorchester and in numerous other sections of the city, I don't believe the arguments offered have been of such a nature as to lead us to hold this up at this particular time. In West Roxbury, Dorchester and in numerous other sections of the city, I don't believe the arguments offered have been of such a nature as to lead us to hold this up at this particular time. In West Roxbury, Dorchester and in numerous other sections of the city, I don't believe the arguments offered have been of such a nature as to lead us to hold this up at this particular time.

Coun. DONOGHUE.—Mr. President, I simply want to say after listening to the argument of the councilors who have stood down, that the present condition does not apply to the new streets to be laid out at some time in the future. It applies, as I have said, to streets that are at all intents and in numerous other sections of the city, I don't believe the arguments offered have been of such a nature as to lead us to hold this up at this particular time. In West Roxbury, Dorchester and in numerous other sections of the city, I don't believe the arguments offered have been of such a nature as to lead us to hold this up at this particular time.

Coun. HEALEY says that the dignity of the Council—if we have any dignity left—certainly should be upheld by ourselves. When we ask the Street Commissioners to submit to us a concrete plan of what they intend to do in the matter of laying out new highways, it ought to be submitted by us. There ought to be no ifs, ands or buts about it. What great mental work is required in furnishing us information as to the streets they intend to lay out? They know them now. The councilor's own argument shows that they know them, when they have already advertised certain streets. They intend to lay out those streets, and they intend to lay them out on the list in the order in which they intend to lay them out. You know as well as I do that they have the information in detail, which could be submitted to us in the form of a list of streets, and in detail instead of in the form of general information, and which should be done when there is $300,000 to be laid out for the new streets in the city. We certainly should not be expected to vote on that amount without having the information which we have a right to expect, knowing which streets are to be laid out first. I think it will be a very simple matter for the Street Commission to submit to this Council the list of streets that they are even now advertising. We are not asking them for any information we should not receive. It is only fairness to the Council that they submit the list of streets they intend to lay out. I am not asking them to submit a list of the streets that they may be interested in later. We are merely asking for a list of streets that in their judgment they feel should be laid out, and laid out first. I hope the order will be defeated.

The order was defeated, yeas 3, nays 4: Yeas—Coun. Gilbody, Walsh, Watson—3; Nays—Coun. Donoghue, Hagan, Healey, Lane—4.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. GILBODY moved a general reconsideration on all business transacted at the meeting, hoping that the same would not prevail. Lost.

ADJOURNMENT.

The Board adjourned at 6.40 o'clock p. m.

Attest: THORNTON D. APOLLONIO,

Secretary.

City of Boston,
Street Laying-Out Department,
April 16, 1923.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The following report is respectfully submitted in response to the inclosed order of the City Council, requesting information as to the probable cost of widening Ashland street to a uniform width from Roslindale square to Mattapan square.

Ashland street, in the West Roxbury district, and Oakland street, in the Dorchester district, together form a continuous cross town thoroughfare between the points referred to, and it is assumed that the Council, in the adoption of this order, had in mind the widening of both these streets.

Some years ago a section of Oakland street—the part lying between Richmond road and what is now Rexford street—was established at an 80-foot width by a decree of the Superior Court abolishing the old railroad grade crossing, and subsequently, in 1914, the city carried the 80-foot construction down to Mattapan square. Substantially, one half of Oakland street has been widened and constructed to 80 feet. To complete the widening of the remaining portion, that is, the part lying between Richmond road and Harvard street, would cost approximately $200,000 and to widen and construct Ashland street, for its entire length, to the same width, would involve an expenditure of approximately $400,000.

In addition, it is estimated that it would cost $55,000 to widen the railroad bridge where Ashland street crosses the railroad, to divide tracks between Hyde Park avenue and Rowe street, and if it were deemed necessary to reconstruct this bridge, $100,000 would be required for that purpose.

The Board would respectfully submit, therefore, a total of $700,000 as an estimate of the probable cost of widening Ashland street and Oakland street to a uniform width of 80 feet as suggested in the order of the City Council.

Respectfully,

JOHN H. L. NOYES,

Chairman.

TRANSFER FOR PARK IMPROVEMENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 23, 1923.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the chairman of the Park Commission, requesting the transfer of $33,000 from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund for various improvements in the park system, and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, April 18, 1923.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—By vote of the Board of Park Commissioners, you are respectfully asked to make a request on the City Council for the transfer of the sum of $33,000 from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund to the Park Department for the following purposes:

1 tiger	1,100
Total	$6,645

Tree Culture:
For trees in Boston Common, the Fens, Franklin Park, Belmont and Central squares, East Boston, Thomas Park, South Boston, Franklin and Blackstone squares, South End

The balance, $21,355, to be expended on permanent road surface on the Olmsted and Franklin Park

Total

$33,000

Very respectfully yours,

JAMES B. SHEA,

Chairman.

Ordered, That the sum of $33,000 be and hereby is appropriated from the income of the Parkman Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commission for the maintenance and improvement of the Common and parks in existence on January 12, 1887, as follows:

Purchase of animals	$6,645

LOAN FOR LAYING OUT OF HIGHWAYS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 23, 1923.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—On February 23, 1923, I submitted to your honorable body a loan order for $500,000 for the laying out of highways. On March 26, in accordance with your request, a list of streets considered for improvement to the estimated amount of $597,500 was submitted by the chairman of the Street Commission. The statements made while this order was under consideration apparently indicate a desire on the part of some members of the Council either to dictate the particular streets to be laid out or to demand that the Street Commissioners apportion the money in advance and follow the apportionment submitted without deviation.

I am unwilling to believe that upon further consideration the majority of the Council wish to put themselves in this attitude, and I accordingly recommend the passage of the accompanying loan order for $500,000 without attempting at this time to attack the legality or soundness of their position.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $500,000 be and hereby is appropriated for Highways, making of, under the provisions of chapter 393 of the Acts of 1906, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be and he is authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount. Referred to the Executive Committee.

AGE LIMIT, FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 23, 1923.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I have forwarded your order adopted under date of April 2, 1923, to the Fire Commissioner and beg to submit herewith report received which would indicate that the maximum for service in the Boston Fire Department is in line with the standard established in many of the larger American cities.

I beg to state further, that the question of revision of standard was considered by the predecessor of the present Fire Commissioner, Hon. John R. Murphy, and was rejected by him on the grounds that in the opinion of the officers of the Fire Department the requirements of the service are such that the maximum age limit now in operation is necessary to promote efficiency in the department.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Placed on file.

PETITIONS REFERRED.

The following petitions were received and referred to the committees named, viz:

Approved and ordered paid.

Coun. DONOGHUE in the chair.

INCREASE FOR LABORERS, ETC.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be respectfully informed that the members of the Council on the belief that the mechanics and laborers in the city service should have received some increase in their wage scale to commensurate with the merited increase as so freely granted to the salaried employees of the city, and in this belief, and in an endeavor to deal justly by all grades of city employees, we respectfully ask the Mayor to grant a 50-cent increase in day wages of the city laborers and elevator employees, and that an increase of like amount be granted to all mechanics.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, this order was drafted a few days ago after a study here of budget conditions, noting the advances in salaries that had been made to Junior city employees, clerks and others on the regular annual salary basis, and noting particularly a pretty general advance to all county employees. The common sense seemed to be forgotten, omitted from all consideration, were the laboring man and the mechanic in the city's service.

Obviously they have had more to interest themselves in their behalf, and the result is that there was no increase whatsoever granted to them. Now, I understand the position of his Honor the Mayor in this matter. The conference today has plainly shown that, and I am only sorry that I cannot agree with his conclusions. I believe that two wrongs never yet made a right, and that when a wrong is found it should be corrected. An analysis and study of the budget has convinced me beyond a question of doubt that money enough can be saved from the budget, or rather utilized in some other form than as outlined in the items of the budget, to do justice to these men. It is my conviction that the city will function to the satisfaction of the citizens. Certainly, Mr. Chairman, justice can and should be done to those men who are being dealt with unjustly at the present time. A great deal of stress seems to be laid on the fact that during the war period the laborers and the mechanics got some rather radical wage advances. It is true that during that period people who were receiving a mere pittance which hardly enabled them to live were increased in their wage scale, largely through the intervention of members of this body, or rather of this body as a whole, who so voted. Because of that fact, it is now being laid against them that their increases have been larger in proportion, in percentage, than the increases granted to the regular salaried employees. That is an unfair comparison. Mr. Chairman, a right comparison that does not go over a proper period of time is always an unfair comparison. If we make a comparison of the increases in wage scale of the salaried employees and laborers on a per diem basis over three or perhaps four years, it is true that the percentage of increase to the laborers is more pronounced than to the others. But why not take three or four years. Why not be fair to ourselves and fair to the city employees, and take a period of ten or twelve years. How much then what the percentage of increase has been? In 1907 the city laborers were receiving $2.25 a day, and they did not receive an advance for a period of three years. Then they were increased to $2.50 a day, I believe, in 1913; and after a vigorous fight on the part of this Council some few years ago they were advanced 50 cents more, to $3 a day. The advance outlined in the budget of that year, during the former administration of Mayor Curley, was 25 cents and, of course, the Council could not increase that. But on the strength of a letter from the Mayor at that time, he stating that he would not veto if the Council wanted to take the responsibility in this matter, the Council, for their credit, as it said, grasped the responsibility and made the increase 50 cents. So, over a period of a dozen or fifteen years, the city laborer advanced $1 a day, from $2 to $3 a day. During the stressful war period, when commodities were at such a price that living costs were beyond the capacity of most people to meet, the Mayor advanced 50 cents a day, in the first year of his administration, and another 50 cents last year. So in the past few years the laborers have received measurable advances, but over a period of ten or twelve years there has been no comparison of the amount of their advances to the advances granted to the salaried employees either of the city or county. I do not care to enter into any controversy with his Honor the Mayor or indeed, any member of the Council on this matter. I have tried to be as respectful as I could in my use of the English language in writing this order. I have simply asked the Mayor to endeavor to grant this increase, and I believe we can show the Mayor, if we diligently analyze the budget under consideration, where he can grant this increase without interfering with the functioning of any city department and without giving the city any less service than has been performed in the past year by city departments. I want to avoid any controversy. I am not trying to drive anybody into a hole, nor do I want to get there myself. I honestly believe that simple justice demands that these people receive this consideration from this body. If the Mayor sees fit to veto the order, the responsibility is his, and the burden be his to assume. It is beyond our power and beyond our control. But the members of this body have power to exercise their own rights, their own freedom of thought, their own expression of opinion on matters of this sort. I want to see this Council, not only in this case, but in other cases, exercise some of the authority that they have under the law and assume responsibility—which I personally am willing to assume in this particular case—for their own action.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Mr. Chairman, I would ask that the credit be referred to the Executive Committee and that we request the Mayor to appear before us personally. I suppose you have no objection to its going to the Executive Committee, Coun. Hagan?

Coun. HAGAN—Not at all.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee with the understanding that his Honor the Mayor should be requested to appear before the committee.

WATER FRONT PARK, EAST BOSTON.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the City Planning Board, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to investigate and report to the City Council what opportunity, if any, can be developed by the city to provide a water front park for the Ward 2 section of East Boston.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

CAR SHELTER, DUDLEY AND STOUGHTON STREETS.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor, on behalf of the people of the Uphams Corner section of Dorchester, be respectfully requested to petition the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway to provide a shelter at the car stop at the junction of Dudley and Stoughton streets, Dorchester.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

NEW STREET, DORCHESTER.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Street Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to make a study and report to the Mayor and City Council as to the advisability and practicality of opening new street to relieve traffic conditions in the district from Edward Everett square to Uphams Corner.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, this order and various orders of a similar nature are presented here at the wish of the citizens committee connected with the Uphams Corner Improvement Association. In the interest of improvements that they would like to see made in that particular district, I am now offering orders calling to the attention of various officials having the matter in charge contemplated improvements which are deemed desirable.

The order was passed under a suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING OF COLUMBIA ROAD.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to resurface Columbia road, teaming side, from Uphams Corner to Blue Hill avenue, and to advise the City Council if this work can be done this summer.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

COLUMBIA ROAD, ONE-WAY STREET.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Street Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to study the advisability, and if advisable, to designate Columbia road, from Hancock street to Blue Hill avenue, as a one-way street.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

SIGNS AT INTERSECTING STREETS.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Street Commissioners, or whatever department they may have charge of the matter, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to put up street signs at intersecting streets where none now exist, as at Summer street and Washington street, Temple street and Washington street, West street and Washington street, Dartmouth street and Boylston street, Chapel street and Boylston street, Marlborough street and Arlington street, Federal street and Milk street, and other intersecting streets throughout the city where no street signs are now existing.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, the difficulty of strangers finding their way through the streets of Boston is more pronounced than it is in other cities. For example, if you are in New York and see that you are at Thirty-Fourth street, you know that the next street is Thirty-fifth. But in Boston, at a Temple place the stranger does not know the name of the next street. He may be looking for West street and does not know where it is. Therefore, I think the Street Commissioners ought to have signs up at these intersecting streets. I have only designated certain streets where the signs are omitted. Unquestionably there are other streets located in the city where the same condition exists. The idea is to have them make a study and place the signs.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I simply want to ask the gentleman if the intersecting streets mentioned by him in his order are without signs at the present time.

Coun. HAGAN—I have not personally examined all these streets, but I am led to believe that such is the case by an editorial in that I saw one of the Boston daily papers. Somebody had investigated this matter and made a report, and I copied from the report some of these streets. Personally, I have not had an opportunity to investigate, but I assume that somebody had done so.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I am willing to make an order for or not, but I do not know whether there are signs in some of these places or not, and so I vote for the order with that qualification. I like to have things somewhat definitely defined. I think it ought to be more specific, ought to be able to tell us from his own knowledge whether these corners are equipped with signs or not.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, an editorial in one of the Boston papers mentioned these streets as being without signs. Somebody has evidently made it his business to investigate and come going around and seeing the corners. I have taken it for granted that the information supplied is correct. This is from the Boston Herald, and I copied it, stating that it was something that needed attention. If it is brought to the attention of the Street Commissioners, an examination can be made, and if the situation should be corrected, they will be able to do so. If any of these streets referred to have signs at the intersections, the Street Commissioners, of course, will not put up additional signs. Mr. President, the only reason why I raised the question is that I did not want to be put in the position of voting for something that looked to me as correction of a condition where the signs are already put, and did not exist. I am perfectly willing to vote for the order, with the qualification stated.

The order was passed.

"WHITE WAY," WASHINGTON AND TREMONT STREETS.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to install boulevard type of lamps to make a so-called "White Way" district, similar to what is now in use on Boylston street, on Washington street, between Dover street and Dock square, and on Tremont street, between Boylston street and Scollay square.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, the object of the order is, if possible, to get a better lighting system on our two principal streets in downtown Boston, Washington and Tremont streets. We have installed this boulevard of White-Way system of lighting wisely and sensibly. I think, in East Boston and in South Boston, where the night time on these streets, when properly lighted by this new and modern system. Boston has always suffered in comparison with western cities. Small western cities now, to some extent, are able to palatize, have a far better lighting system, with lights in clusters of five. It is astonishing to see the way some of the middle western and far western towns are lighted, always having an adequate lighting system in their business section. I noticed last Saturday night, Mr. Chairman, a condition that I think none of us would approve of. The City of Boston, in a spirit of economy, unquestionably, has been depending upon window lighting by the merchants on our downtown streets, particularly on Washington street, and they are very negligent in the number of lamps which it has installed. How many of us know how many lamps there are in the city? In the retail district, on the easterly side of Washington street, from Hayward place to Summer street? Ordinarily in the evening, when the windows are well lighted, and the sidewalks, the sidewalks and the streets are lightsome; but it so happens that when Saturday night comes these merchants pull their curtains, their window shades, and there are no window lights. Therefore, the public are denied the benefit of that private lighting which will cost them nothing, which they do obtain on other nights when the windows are lighted. The same condition prevails on Sunday night, and two of our big department stores, at least, I believe, more, Messrs. H. and R. H. White Company, make it a practice to draw down their window curtains Saturday night and to keep them drawn until Monday morning. I had occasion to go to the last Saturday night, getting away from a delayed dinner after eleven o'clock in the Adams House, well contented with my situation. I had this order drafted at the time, but even I, thoroughly familiar with the locality, had not realized how bad the situation was. There is a lamp at the corner of Hayward place and Washington street; there is not a lamp in front of the large block occupied by R. H. White company or the next block between Washington and Tremont streets. In other words, there is a lamp at the corner of Hayward place, and the next street lamp is at the corner of Avon street. There are practically two city blocks with a lamp at each end. Upon Boylston street those lamps I have referred to have been set up at intervals of not more than twelve or eighteen feet apart. I should say, after you leave Avon street, passing the entire establishment of Jordan Marsh, with its large Washington street frontage, at the address of the old City Hall location, there is only a single lamp at each end of the block—one at Avon street and one at Summer street—about halfway between. I think that is all inviting to visitors coming to Boston. I believe the heart of our Boston business district, what at present at least is the heart of the business district, is not the best lighted section of the city, and it is almost the worst lighted section. Visitors coming to Boston naturally live in the hotels in that immediate district. They see that condition there when they do not get over to see the better lighted conditions in South Boston or other sections of the city. They do see the center of metropolitan Boston, and they see existing there conditions that I am referring to. I think it is thoroughly bad, and it is a just cause for a false economy on the part of city officials. I am anxious to see if something cannot be done, and hence the introduction of this order. I would like to see it passed today under a suspension of the rule.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I want to say that I am going to rise in opposition to this order. I feel that it is not one that I should not pass. I feel that if they are going to put in any new boulevard lights they should put them in the residential section. As the council has already been here, I think the East Boston district and into the South Boston district, and I think they have meant a very great improvement in the residential districts. I have many other outlying districts where the people are out later at night than they are in the downtown districts, in my home district, for instance, and I think it is just as the police protection as there is in the downtown districts. If the residential sections are given these lights, it will mean a protection to people who are living in Boston 365 days a year, not merely appealing to the class who come in here sightseeing. I am not so much interested in the visitor who comes in here as I am in those who live here. In so far as lighting up the downtown district is concerned if the business people in this business district desire to have their lights lighted up, let them call on visitors may look into the windows and see what they have to offer, let them pay for it. I hope, if there is to be more money for the city lights, it will be made in the Dorchester, Roxbury, West Roxbury and other parts of the city, that has gas lamps at the present time, residential districts, where people would want to have a man's hand come out to carry a lantern in order to find it. In so far as our downtown district is concerned, I think it is the heart of the business district, and there is practically nobody on our downtown streets. But an hour after that our own people are going to their homes in their own residential districts, after taking the subway street cars, in the Roxbury and other parts of our downtown sections, and they are getting there there is practically no light at all. So, if there is to be more money spent for lighting up the city, I think it is better to rather than the downtown district. I am going to vote against the order.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, my reasons for hesitating to vote for this order are several. For instance, if Coun. Hagan will agree, as I believe he is, in his attempt to increase the laborers' pay 50 cents a day, we will be sure to get in many ways in order to find the money with which to do it. Every additional unnecessary expense that we incur from now on lessens by just so much the opportunity for change of increasing the pay of the men in whom the council opposite and my other fellow members are interested. In the first place, we don't know what this equipment will cost. Even if it is on record I should certainly want to know the amount of money necessary to carry out the improvement, and if it would require any substantial amount of money, then I am inclined to vote against it. If we are going to raise money to increase the laborers' pay, next year or next year, we have to make necessary expenses. For that reason I would ask the council if it is agreeable to him to have the order referred to the Executive Committee. I have referred to the council to produce an order to call on the lighting division of the Public Works Department to let us know what it will cost to put in this equipment, and furthermore, what the expense per year. We will then be in a good deal better position to vote "Yes" or "No" after we get the information. The gentleman opposite (Coun. Hagan) is a business man. I am probably not as much of a business man as he. But, from what little I know about business, I think that if we are to make a city that is not positively necessary we should find out what the amount is to be. In other words, we should not recommend spending a sum of money when we don't know what the cost is, and when we do know what the sum is we ought to decide whether the benefit to be received will be equal to the amount paid; that is, it comes to additional expense that will be required for pay roll increases and for necessary improvements, whether or not we can afford to spend that money this year. I think that if the gentleman if he will agree that the order shall go to the Executive Committee, and then he, I or somebody else can introduce a resolution with regard to the proposed improvements, after which we will be able to vote intelligently as to the question.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, I did not anticipate that this comparatively harmless order would meet with any objection. I thought that each member of the council would be in a receptive mood, agreeing in that matter if in nothing else, that the place where we should make the best possible appearance is in the heart of the city, the center of business. I find it difficult to follow the arguments presented by my good friend Coun. Moriarty. I can find nothing in what he has said that seems to offer a legitimate objection to the passage of the order. I think I said in my opening remarks that the fact that the boulevard system of lighting was installed on Broadway, South Boston, and on Meridian street, East Boston, was certainly beneficial to those sections. In fact, introduced into the order for the order for the city, on Meridian street some years ago, if my memory serves me right. I would like to see that system or a better system of lighting on our city streets, in our residential districts, and not altogether, as is now the case, upon the main arteries in those districts. But we have to start somewhere, and that done, and if we start in the heart of the city and work out into the suburbs the probabilities are that we will get a complete improvement system of lighting all over the city due course of time. If, however, you are going to neglect the heart of the city, then the outlying districts are going to continue as they are. I do not think anybody who really seriously wants to make any objection to the retail merchants receiving something in the form of adequate street lighting in the district of the city where the business is going on, as has been said, to reduce their window lighting because of that fact. The boulevard system of lighting on Broadway, between Park square and Copley square, has resulted in no reduction of window lighting on the part of the merchants. It is not an investment. If we will only stop to realize, spending money is not always an investment, but it can be made an investment with the realization of that fact a great deal of the difficulty here in this body, when there is an attempt to get public improvements put through, will be removed. The first thing that is thought of is expense. Let us try to make some investments, and let us try to get tried to point out, money is frequently spent with a lavish hand—and I do not begrudge it—in the hospitals of the city, but why not spend some money on the streets? It will tend to improve conditions and prevent disease? That is what I call an investment. Well, lighted streets are properly considered by other cities and towns as a wise and an investment. People come here in flocks. Many of us have little idea how many visitors there are in Boston in the month of May to the first of September, on their way to the seashore or mountains, sometimes spending two or three or more days in the City of Boston, going to our hotels and patronizing our stores. They do their shopping here and they leave some money here. Do we want to drive them out and throw that business away? They can go to the White Mountains without coming to Boston, can go through Vermont or through other parts of Massachusetts, if they want to do so. Boston is the metropolis of New England, and it is our duty to take responsibility to see, as far as lies in our power, that everything in Boston is carried out on a scale commensurate with the metropolis of New England, and have no objection whatsoever to any order that Coun. Moriarty may present asking for further extension of the lighting system, and I will have Washington and Tremont streets, and will vote for it. I will be with him heart and soul on that matter, and I think the Council will be. So, let him go to his work. I should like to see that that respect, if he thinks that should be done. He will get my vote and my help as far as it is possible to help. But the fact that we are going to try to improve the lighting system in the residential or suburban districts of the city is no real reason why we should deny the same privilege to the heart of the metropolis, and have Washington and Tremont streets. In fact, I have tried in my order to partially meet the objection he made. Originally I intended to have Washington street covered from Haymarket square to Boylston street, but I have had the order worded so as to include the section between Boylston and Dover streets, which is a section that has been sadly neglected by the Transit Commission and by all city officials, as well as by the City Council, for a long period of years. I believe that it is better to try to develop and encourage the natural trend in that direction for a number of years. Street lighting from Boylston street up to Dover street will improve that district, and the values, and that will mean increased taxes to the city. Increased value of property is going to result in the obtaining of increased revenue from year to year, and revenue which we really need. In reply to Coun. Watson's criticism, that we should curtail because we are going to try to improve the lighting system, I am getting him an increased wage scale, I will simply assure the gentleman in all sincerity that, if he agrees to take my advice and investigate the matter, I think that we can prune the budget appropriations for the different departments to the amount of $700,000 without impairing the functioning of any city department. It will simply compel greater efficiency, without a question of doubt, on the part of heads of departments and city employees. We have a right to demand that greater efficiency in the departments where there is remuneration for their services. It will result in the elimination of a great deal of waste by the departments, and it will mean a city department no different, Mr. Chairman, from you and me. When we have an abundance of money in our pockets and feel like millionaires, we are inclined to be wasteful, and very often, too often, perhaps, unwisely. It is so with the head of a department. Give him money enough to operate his department, and he will be inclined to operate the citizens, and tell him that it is all he is going to get, and he will then do his job as it should be done. I have seen him when he has done his job under such circumstances, and he has been decreased $600,000 in a budget appropriation as passed by a former City Council, and that year there was greater efficiency than in any other year before or since, and that year there was a larger unexpended balance turned back into the city treasury than in any other year. I think that is a fact, and I don't think it has been surpassed since. That shows what could be done when they were on the job, determined to be efficient and determined to do their job. Things can be done, gentlemen of the Council: waste can be eliminated, greater efficiency can be created—and don't let us talk about it in that way. Let us get it done, and the mechanic, when we are simply trying to curtail on waste and promote efficiency, if you curtail on waste and promote efficiency, you will have ample money to meet all our demands.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. Chairman, I move that the order be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I want to say that I feel that the downtown district has been very well taken care of. If there is a storm, those streets, even to the alleys, are the first streets to be closed, and they are taken care of. In the outlying sections there are many places today where there are ashes in the middle of the street, where people could not take care of them otherwise and had to dump them in the middle of the street. They are still there, on account of inefficient conditions in the matter of taking care of the streets in some of those sections, as opposed to the business district. Why, out in West Roxbury and other outlying districts there has been snow even out in the middle of the street up to within a very short time ago, and, taking the $200,000 odd that has been spent in clearing away snow, I venture to say that 75 per cent of it was spent in the retail district of the City of Boston. The first street to be dug out after a snow storm is Commonwealth avenue, and then the streets where a shovel or a plow goes after a snow fall is Commonwealth avenue. Now, it is proposed that we shall go at that sort of thing again. The Councilor says that if it is done otherwise there would be any voice raised against this. I want to say that I told him Friday afternoon at the budget hearing that if he introduced this order I would be against it. So we cannot come as a matter of surprise to him today, because I told him Friday afternoon. Where you and I disagree is on the question of where this work shall start. You claim that it should start in the business district, and I claim that it should start in the residential districts. If you claim that the case you would like to refer to residential districts, I don't care what section the work is done in as long as it is a residential section. I don't want to put the section I don't want to hear of of your political thunder at this time. This is introduced because it is good reading. It goes into the City Record and, of course, you may pick abstract from it next December to send out to the voters, showing what you have tried to do. In so far as the introduction of a proper lighting system is concerned, I will give it to our own people, people who live here; and in so far as pleasing people who are going to the White Mountains or to Bar Harbor, I am interested in that so long as it is a class of people, I am interested in the class of people who have not got the money to go to Bar Harbor, to go to Vermont or to go to the White Mountains. I am interested in the rank and file of people in Boston, people who have to stay here 365 days a year, people who when they go home at night really should have better lighting at their doors, not spending money for the benefit of the downtown sections. As far as window lighting is concerned, if you are good to me to do that lighting down here five nights a week, I think these downtown business men ought to do it seven nights a week. If they find it good business to have lights at their windows five nights a week, I don't know why they should shut them off for the other two nights, if they are useful for advertising purposes. I understand that on Saturdays and Sunday nights Jordan's and R. H. White's do not keep their stores lit up. I am not interested in the Jordan Marsh or the R. H. White concern, but I am interested in the fact that, if they saved that amount of money and put it into the pay of their help, I have found out that there has been a great deal of sickness and the State Board of Labor and Industry are sending their inspectors into R. H. White's store because there has been so much sickness among the clerks. If they would spend some of their money for the purpose of making the store a place where inhabitants of our city who have to go to work each day would be better off instead of advertising to attract the eye of the purchaser whom they hope to have spend money there, I think it would be better for the city. My whole contention is that if we are going to start any better lighting system, we should put it into the residential sections—Dorchester, Roxbury, West Roxbury or any of the outlying districts. But I am going to vote against the money being spent at the start-off in the downtown district.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, in trying to follow the arguments of the gentleman who has just spoken, I find that he wants to start an improved lighting system in the suburban districts, rather than in the downtown district, which is the heart of the business district and working out. To my mind that is a good deal like building a building from the roof down, and when the foundation is put the foundation in first. As I have said, I shall be glad to co-operate with him in getting a better or an improved street lighting system in the suburban districts, but that would not be the result of carrying out his thought. Most of those districts today are gas-lighted and, therefore, this system of electric lighting cannot be used in those districts. We would have to work out a system that, over a period of years, and in the meantime why cannot we start in the heart of our metropolis, in the business center, the heart of our inspiration to our residential sections, to set this system in the future in their districts. Exception has been taken because the downtown section of the city is first aid of first treatment from city employees in snow removal and in other matters. The gentleman seems to think that that is done altogether for the visitor to Boston or for the wage earner of Boston. It probably has not entered his mind that there is a vast army of people employed in that district, and every effort must be made so that business may continue to function, getting those people to and from their places of employment and their homes at a reasonable time. If we were to ignore or neglect the downtown section, how would people get to and from work? And if people do not work they do not draw pay. Therefore, the effort is wisely made to see that the metropolitan or business center of the city is cared for first, because that is where the sinews of war come from, the heart of the going in the average home throughout metropolitan Boston. The workers work somewhere outside that district and the people have other business in that district—people who are students of Boston, citizens, voters of Boston, people who work here and who live here. I am not a member of this Council, but I want to make an attack upon any business organization in this community, where that organization is not represented by a delegate here who can voice disapproval or answer back, and I am very sorry that good taste or good judgment does not prompt any member of this Council to make statements he may wish to make without mentioning names, when an attack is being made by the facts, and this attack made on a concern of the size and importance of R. H. White is unwarranted by the facts. There is no concern in the city that is doing any more to promote the health, happiness and prosperity of its employees than the R. H. White Company. There is no concern in the city that broader progress is being made in thought, more desirous of being humanly helpful; and if there have been unfortunate accidents in the store, they have been caused by the fact that the store is large or small, because we all have days when our employees are not quite up to the mark, when they are not in the best of health, or for one thing or another. The percentage in the store referred to is no higher than that in any other store, and why they have been singled out for attack I do not know. It is unfair and unjust. They would have had no opportunity to answer back if I had not seen fit to take up the cudgels for them.

The Council was referred to the Executive Committee.

DEVELOPMENT WORK, ORIENT HEIGHTS PLAYGROUND.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Park Department, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to inform the City Council of the progress of the development contemplated at the Orient Heights Playground, and what would be their advice regarding the development of the present location or some other location for playground purposes in the Orient Heights section.

The rule was suspended and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, upon this order, this playground established by the city at Orient Heights has been one of our unfortunate mistakes, as it now seems, and most of our mistakes in the past. I think that a playground that has never been developed, and in all human probability cannot be developed. It has been, and probably always will be, a failure. I have been in this city long enough to see if we can start the ball rolling to get the Park Department interested in developing another playground for the district in another location, so that we have developed one, which in my opinion is beyond the capacity of any engineering force to ever make it for the use for which it was intended.

Coun. HEALY—Mr. Chairman, I feel as though I ought to side in with the councilor. Unfortunately, some of his orders have had the effect of making the Council look like the City Council, but I think the Council will vote unanimously in favor of this present order. He speaks as a member who has a very good knowledge of the matter, and I follow him in his support of matters benefiting East Boston, particularly in this matter. I believe he wants to do something for the district, and he believes the matter before the Council will most heartily approve of the action proposed by Coun. Hagan in this matter. On this subject Coun. Hagan and his Honor the Mayor are at one, also, and I think that that is an established precedent. I trust that the Council will unanimously vote in favor of the order.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, I wish to make just one little correction in my esteemed colleague's remarks. He says that the fact that his Honor the Mayor and I are in agreement on this order is historic. I want to assure him that I have been in accord with Mayor or Mayor on most measures, in full and complete accord.

The order was passed.

RAISE FOR MECHANICS, LABORERS, ETC.

Coun. GILBODY offered an order—That the Budget Commissioner submit to the Council, before passage of present budget, recommendations showing wherein said budget can be reduced an amount sufficient to raise the wages of every mechanic and laborer employed over the winter of 1914, from $1.00 to Boston 25 cents per day, and also the lower paid clerks.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I am going to say but a few words in regard to the passage of this order before the honorable body, and I think that perhaps I should say a few words in view of the introduction of a previous order bearing upon wages this afternoon, and because of the conference which the body had with his Honor the Mayor. I am not in favor of the belief that we can find a way here to the rescue of the wages of the laborers and the mechanics in every department of the city. Therefore, I ask for a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order, so that we may have available the information we desire before tackling this proposition, so that it may have some teeth and some force. I would say, supplementing my remarks further, that I was going to suggest with reference to this matter what Coun. Brickley has already suggested with reference to the other order, that he invite his Honor the Mayor to address the body. I move a suspension of the rule.

The question came on suspension of the rule. The Mayor, in answer to the question, said that if the councilor opposite would be willing to aid the smaller paid clerks to the order. Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I will bow to the superior judgment of the gentleman opposite at any time.

Coun. WATSON—I would like to add something that would cover them. I have reference to the underpaid clerks, the smaller paid clerks. Many clerks in the departments are not getting much more than the laborers today.

The Chairman DONOGHUE—in view of the fact that there is already before the Executive Committee an order bearing upon this subject, does not the gentleman wish this referred to the committee?

Coun. GILBODY—No, Mr. President, I would like it to have it passed.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, do I understand that Coun. Hagan introduced an order which would give the laborers and mechanics 50 cents a day additional?

Coun. GILBODY—Yes, Mr. President.

Coun. MORIARTY—And that was referred to the Executive Committee?

Coun. GILBODY—Yes, Mr. President.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, here now an order which proposes to increase their pay 25 cents a day, and the gentleman asks for a suspension of the rule. I want to say that I am not in favor of the suspension of the rule for the laborers and mechanics. While I don't care about putting myself or anybody else in a bad light, if Coun. Gilboby insists on putting the rule in effect, I will vote against it, and then I will vote in favor of the 50 cents raise now before the Executive Committee. Certainly I will vote in favor of the suspension of the rule, if the Council passes an order raising the pay 25 cents a day if there is any possibility of their getting 50 cents a day. I heard one of the members over on the side saying that he had passed the half mile stone today, that he was getting so that he did not believe in kidding himself any more. It is about time that we stopped that sort of trying to feed ourselves to kid the poor city laborers. It seems to me that that is apt to be the position we will be in today, if we do not suspend the rule. Now, what the Mayor told us at noon, why do you need to have it told to you again? Just to get it down on paper? Of course, I don't know. I have seen the Mayor at the dinner the Mayor gave us this noon, so there is nothing down on paper. But the Mayor told you that, no matter what your action was, he would give no increase to the city laborers and the city mechanics this year. If you take it out of the budget, he will vote your recommendation to that effect. Now, what is the use of kidding not only yourselves but the fellow who is working for the city? I am willing to go through with anybody, and was willing to go through in 1918 with Mayor Peters, when they came in here for $5 a day. I made the statement on the floor that if there were four fellows who would go through and vote against the budget the entire year, I would be one of them. But we didn't go through, and the laborer got $4 a day, and that is all he is getting now. The Mayor told you his program. I said two weeks ago, the Mayor did not vote for me and, of course, I am unfortunate in that I am not in accord with him. I think I am in accord with him when I think he is right and not in accord with him when I think he is wrong. Now, we have here two more, Coun. Brickle and Coun. Hagan. If he would allow the previous order to lie in executive session and have the Mayor come up here in regard to it, and I understand that the Mayor told some of the members that he would be glad to come here. He didn't tell some of them, but told all of them. Now, I will have to vote against this order at this time and in preference vote for Coun. Hagan's order, if it comes up here for a vote after the executive meeting.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I cannot understand how anybody is kidding himself on this proposition. Coun. Hagan's order distinctly asks for some information, action or evidence from the Mayor. This order of mine is a direct order to the Budget Commissioner, not in conjunction with Coun. Hagan's order at all. The only similarity is in the remarks that Coun. Hagan made. As informed by the parliamentarian of the Council that my order has force and teeth in it, and I ask that it be acted upon independently, no kidding anybody, but I am simply making this request of the Budget Commissioner, so that we may see where it is possible to get the 36 cents a day increase. I was laboring under the apprehension that possibly there may have been some privacy in connection with what was said at the luncheon, and that I would not want to divulge anybody's hand, but I am going to say at this time that I am simply asking this information of the Budget Commissioner, independently of the Mayor, asking the Budget Commissioner to submit to us recommendations showing where we can cut down the appropriations in such a way as to give at least 50 cents a day to every mechanic or laborer in the employ of the city. I fail to see where anybody is being kidded on the proposition, unless some member is kidding some other members of the Council. We can do what it is proposed to do here. One of the members has already made the statement that we can save $700,000. The Budget Commissioner says that if we can save $300,000 he can raise the pay of every laborer and mechanic 25 cents a day. Of course, the councilor who preceded me is better versed in the labor situation than I. But if we can not get 50 cents a day, we might compromise on 25 cents a day. That is always the program of labor organizations, through and through, and that is entirely the purpose of my order, which is entirely independent of the one submitted by Coun. Hagan.

On motion of Coun. Watson the order was referred to the Executive Committee.

ANNUITY FOR MRS. GEORGE R. BANCROFT.

Coun. MORIARTY offered an order—That an annuity of $600 be allowed and paid to Harriet L. Bancroft, widow of George R. Bancroft, a member of the Fire Department who died on account of injuries received in the performance of his duties; such annuity to continue so long as she remains unmarried, and to be charged to the appropriation for Fire Department Pensions and Annuities. Referred to the Executive Committee.

PAYMENT TO PARENTS OF JOHN JOSEPH KELLEY.

Coun. MORIARTY offered an order—That chapter 277 of the Acts of 1923, entitled "An Act Authorizing the City of Boston to Pay a Sum of Money to the Parents of John Joseph Kelley," chapter 277 of the Acts of 1923, be and the same hereto be accepted. Referred to the Executive Committee.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

Coun. DONOGHUE called up unfinished business, No. 1, with the exception of the name of Maurice Zeeman, viz:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 9, 1923, of Constables of the City of Boston for the term of one year beginning May 1, 1923, as contained in Document 43.

The question came on confirmation. Committee—Coun. Watson and Gilbody. Whole number of ballots cast 6, yeas 5, nays 1, and the appointments were confirmed with the exception of Maurice Zeeman. (See later in the session).

Coun. DONOGHUE called up unfinished business, No. 2, viz:

2. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 16, 1923, of minor officers paid by fees for the term of one year beginning May 1, 1923, as contained in Document 47.

The question came on confirmation. Committee—Coun. Gilbody and Walsh. Whole number of ballots cast 6, yeas 6, nays 0, and the appointments were confirmed.

Coun. DONOGHUE called up unfinished business, No. 3, viz:

3. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 9, 1923, of George H. Murray, Joseph J. O'Mara and Casar L. Donnaruma to be Constables.

The question came on confirmation. Committee—Coun. Healey and Brickle. Whole number of ballots cast 6, yeas 5, nays 1, and the appointments were confirmed.

LOAN, WATSON HUR MEMORIAL PARK.

Coun. DONOGHUE called up unfinished business, No. 4, viz:

4. Ordered, That the sums of $75,000 be and the same is hereby appropriated, to be expended by the Park Commission, for bathhouse and other improvements, etc., at World War Memorial Park, East Boston, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City to said amount.

On motion of April 9, 1923, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas seven, nays none. The order was given its final reading and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

RECESS TAKEN.

The Council voted at 4:47 o'clock p. m. on motion of Coun. WALSH to take a recess subject to the call of the President.

The members of the Council reassembled in the chamber and were called to order by the presiding officer at 6:52 o'clock p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. WATSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following, viz:

1. Report on petition of William T. McLoughlin (referred today) to be retired under the provisions of chapter 765, Acts of 1914—recommending the passage of the following, viz:

Ordered, That the Retirement Board for Laborers be and is hereby authorized and requested to retire, under the provisions of chapter 765 of the Acts of 1914, as amended by chapter 63 of the Special Acts of 1915, William T. McLoughlin, employed in the labor service of the City of Boston, in the Public Works Department.

Report accepted; order passed.

2. Reports on petitions (referred today) for permits for children under fifteen years of age to appear at various places of amusement—that permits may be granted, viz:

Oliver M. Barry, Emmet Bungalow Hall, April 20.
Madame Maybelle Lyman, Fine Arts Theatre, April 27-28.

3. Report on order (referred today) for acceptance of act authorizing the City of Boston to pay a sum of money to parents of John Joseph Kelley—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed.

4. Report on message of Mayor, communication received April 16 (for loan of $50,000 for furnishing, etc., for Public Library—that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the order was given its first reading and passed, yeas 7, nays 0.

The order will take its final reading not less than fourteen days from date.

CONFIRMATION OF MAURICE ZEEMAN.

The name of Maurice Zeeman, constable, was taken from the table and his appointment was confirmed, yeas 5, nays 1, the committee on confirmation being Coun. Watson and Walsh.

FRANCIS DANIEL CROWLEY SQUARE.

Coun. HEALEY offered an order—That the space at the junction of Harvard street and Rutherford avenue, Charles street, be named Francis Daniel Crowley square, in memory of said Crowley, who died in the United States service during the World War, and that said space be suitably marked with signs.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

PATRICK MCCARTIN SQUARE.

Coun. BRICKLEY offered an order—That the space at the junction of Mt. Hope and Canterbury streets be named Patrick McCartin square, in memory of said McCartin, who died in the United States service during the World War, and that said space be suitably marked with signs.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

JAMES A. SHAUGHNESSY SQUARE.

Coun. BRICKLEY offered an order—That the space at the junction of Metropolitan avenue and Poplar street be named James A. Shaughnessy square, in memory of said Shaughnessy, who died in the United States service during the World War, and that said space be suitably marked with signs.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. GILBODY offered an order—That under the provisions of chapter 115 of the General Laws, and acts in amendment thereof or in addition thereto, the family relief fund in the list of allowances hereto annexed, for the month of April, 1923, of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families residing in the City of Boston or having a settlement therein, be hereby approved and paid until otherwise ordered, unless the person named shall previously become ineligible to receive said aid.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

ORDERS AFFECTING LABORERS AND MECHANICS.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I would like to inquire as to the standing of some of the orders that were laid on the table.

Chairman HAGAN—They are in the Executive Committee, not before the Council, your order, Coun. Hagan's order, and a resolution which was prepared by Coun. Healey, dealing with the matter of the proposed increase in wages of laborers and mechanics in the employ of the city.

Coun. GILBODY—Well, Mr. President, I am a die-hard on the proposition.

Chairman HAGAN—What do you want?

Coun. GILBODY—I want to have the matter up and try to have passed, if possible, the order that I introduced looking to a 25-cent increase in the pay of laborers and mechanics in the employ of the city. Your order (Coun. Hagan's) having failed of passage today, and probably dying a natural death, I would like to have a vote taken upon my order in the Council today, Mr. President. Nothing has appeared which leads me to think that his Honor the Mayor might not be willing to accept what is suggested in my order, which proposes not a 50-cent per day increase, but a 25-cent per day increase, in the wages of the laborers and mechanics. I would therefore press my argument as I used it in Executive Committee. If we cannot get 50 cents a day for these men, let us try for a quarter.

Chairman HAGAN—Why not allow all these matters to remain until next week in Executive Committee, when we can try to take some action?

Coun. GILBODY—Well, I would like to call my order out of the committee, so that we may try to have some action looking toward an increase in the scale of the wages of the laborers and mechanics. I make that motion.

Coun. Gilbody's motion to recall his order, referred earlier in the session, looking to an increase of 25 cents per day in the wages of laborers and mechanics in the employ of the city, was declared lost. Coun. Gildbody doubted the vote. A show of hands was made, and the motion was declared defeated, three members voting in the affirmative, and three in the negative.

Coun. GILDBODY—Mr. President, there are seven members present, and I further doubt the vote.

Another show of hands was taken, and the motion to take the order from the committee was rejected, three to four.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. WATSON moved a general reconsideration on all business transacted at the meeting, hoping that the same would not prevail. Lost.

Adjourned at seven o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. WATSON, to meet on Monday, April 26, at two o'clock p. m.

CITY OF BOSTON.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

PROPOSALS FOR RECURT GRANITE BLOCK PAVEMENT IN MERCHANTS ROW, FROM STATE STREET TO NORTH STREET; SOUTH MARKET STREET, FROM MERCHANTS ROW TO COMMERCIAL STREET, CITY PROPER.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, office 508, City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for recurt granite block pavement in Merchants row, from State street to North street; South Market street, from Merchants row to Commercial street, city proper. A bond will be required for doing the work of a surety company approved by the Commissioner in the sum of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Forms of proposals may be obtained at Room 508, City Hall Annex. Each proposal should be inclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposals for Recurt Granite Block Pavement, Merchants Row, etc.," and left at Room 508, fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 12 m. on Wednesday, May 9, 1923, with a certified check for two thousand ($2,000) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works,
Boston, April 26, 1923. (April 28.)

DEAR SIR,—I most respectfully submit the following report of the Ninth Annual Building Officials' Conference held in Toledo, Ohio, April 24-27, 1923.

With your approval I visited the above mentioned city arriving at Toledo on Monday afternoon.

The Officials' Conference held its first session on Tuesday, April 24, at 1 a. m. The conference started with an opening address of welcome by Mayor Brough of Toledo.

The following list of subjects was presented for consideration of the conference in the order named:

TUESDAY, April 24, 1923.

Morning Session.

"Floor and Wall Openings, Railings and Toe Boards," by John W. Moore, Superintendent of Buildings, Queens, New York City.

Building Code Committee—United States Department of Commerce—Ira H. Woolson, representative of American Board of Fire Underwriters.

Afternoon Session.

"The Arrangement of a Building Code," by Frank Burton, Commissioner of Buildings, Detroit, Mich.

As most of the cities are undertaking a partial or complete revision of its building code this subject brought forth a continuous discussion by all representatives of the different building departments throughout the country.

WEDNESDAY, April 25, 1923.

Morning Session.

"Recognition in Building Codes of the Principle of Automatic Control of Fire," by Ira G. Hoagland, New York City, secretary National Automatic Sprinkler Association; illustrated by lantern slides.

In this respect Boston is probably one of the leading cities in its requirements for automatic sprinklers as most of the cities have very little specific law requiring sprinklers in different kinds of buildings.

Afternoon Session.

"Incombustible Interior Finish for Frame and Ordinary Construction," by A. R. Small, Chicago, Ill., vice-president Underwriters' Laboratories.

His remarks are incorporated in a pamphlet published by the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association, Washington, D. C.

"Fire Tests on Concrete Blocks," by Leslie H. Allen, Chicago, Ill., assistant manager, Concrete House Division, Portland Cement Association, and chairman of committee of American Concrete Institute, which conducted the tests.

I find that our own city is handling this situation in conformity with the ideas of Mr. Allen.

THURSDAY, April 26, 1923.

Morning Session.

Joint Meeting with the National Lime Association.

"Aims and Objects of the National Lime Association," by W. R. Phillips, manager of the association.

"The Proper Use of Lime in Building Construction," by Tyrrell B. Shertzer, Eastern Division, National Lime Association.

"Sand-Lime Brick," by Warren E. Emley, chemist, United States Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C.

The afternoon session on April 26 was taken up by the election of officers, report of committees and miscellaneous business.

On Friday, April 27, the members of the conference were the guests of the National Lime Association.

The conference was attended by approximately from thirty to forty representatives of the Building Bureaus and Departments throughout the country, extending as far west as Los Angeles, Cal., as far south as St. Augustine, Fla., as far north as Boston, Mass., and as far east as Atlantic City, N. J.

Each of the papers read by the different representatives of the building bureaus and building materials' companies contained very valuable and instructive material and were compiled after an exhaustive study and research by the authors of the papers. They were presented, in all cases, by experts from different parts of the country, and in many cases where the strength of the materials was in question the papers included a copy of the tests of the materials made by the Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C., or by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

The information gained by persons being in contact with these representatives and listening to the managers and representatives of building materials is very useful to those who were in attendance.

The main subject that seemed to be discussed above all others was the necessity for a uniform, instructive and readable building code, whereby owners, architects and engineers could receive information along proper lines to assist them in the preparation of their plans.

I find that the City of Boston in comparison with other cities is far in advance of most of the cities represented and the equal of the best.

The mixing and depositing of concrete for structural purposes, the personal supervision of the driving of wooden piles, and the licensing of all builders seemed to be in advance of any other building code.

In the matter of checking and approving plans we also seemed to be far in advance of most of the cities of the Union.

Yours respectfully,

JOHN H. MAHONEY,
Building Commissioner.

WATER AGREEMENT ENDS.

The agreement entered into by the City of Boston with the Boston Belting Company, under the provisions of which the City of Boston was required to supply gratis three million gallons of water per day, or in lieu of this supply of water to make payment in the sum of $387,666.67, has been terminated by the city as a result of compromise agreement arrived at and based upon recommendation made by the Commissioner of Public Works and Corporation Counsel of Boston.

The Boston Belting Company notified the city that it was their purpose to utilize the water which under the provisions of the agreement made in 1898 the city was required to furnish, and as a result of an investigation made by the Public Works Commissioner it was determined that the actual charge to the city for the use of this amount of water according to figures submitted by Commissioner Goodnow of the Water Division of the Metropolitan District Commission would approximate $50,000 each year, and further that it would be impossible for the Public Works Department of Boston to furnish the required amount.

A conference was held between the representatives of the Boston Belting Company, Commissioner of Public Works Hourke and the Corporation Counsel and Mayor of Boston and as a result of the conference the Boston Belting Company finally agreed to accept $300,000 cash as payment in full for abrogation of contract with the City of Boston. The draft of the necessary papers to consummate the agreement is now being undertaken by the Law Department, this case being commendable not only for the saving to the city of $87,000 in this settlement but for the fact that it is the last of the Stony brook damage cases to be disposed of.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon April 27 the Mayor approved a contract with John McCourt Company for constructing artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

Boston, April 27, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to John McCourt Company, 46 Wait street, Roxbury, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve $1,000.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon April 30 the Mayor approved a contract with John Varnerin for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, April 30, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to John Varnerin, 321 Norfolk avenue, Roxbury, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon April 30 the Mayor approved a contract with the Thermo-Wall Construction Company for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, April 30, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to the Thermo-Wall Construction Company, West Roxbury, Mass., is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

DISCONTINUES HIGHWAYS.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the discontinuance of a part of Winthrop square, city proper, as a highway, on the southwesterly side, between Otis and Devonshire streets, bounded and described as follows:

A part of the highway named Winthrop square is hereby discontinued, on the southwesterly side, between Otis and Devonshire streets. Said part of said highway as hereby discontinued is bounded:

Southwest by the southwesterly line of Winthrop square as it existed previous to this discontinuance, twenty-six feet; northwest by the southeasterly line of Winthrop square as hereby established, three feet; northeast by the southwesterly line of Winthrop square as hereby established, twenty-six feet; and southeast by the northwesterly line of Winthrop square as hereby established, three feet; containing seventy-eight square feet, more or less.

No betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the making of the public improvement consisting of the discontinuance of a part of Winthrop square, city proper, as a highway, on the southwesterly side, between Otis and Devonshire streets, under the order of even date herewith, and awards no damages therefor.

ATLANTIC AVENUE TRAFFIC.

The Board of Street Commissioners held a conference upon the 2d instant, attended by representatives of the Police and Fire Departments, the automobile and the teaming interests, the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange and the Quincy Market Cold Storage and Warehouse Company, relative to complaints concerning an unreasonable use of Atlantic avenue by the Union Freight Railroad Company.

Evidence was presented that freight cars have been standing in Atlantic avenue as long as seven days at a time, and trains so parked as seriously to interfere with the movement of fire apparatus and motor trucks from intersecting streets.

Chairman Noyes directly charged that as a result of a survey by the commission that the railroad company was using the avenue as a freight yard, and announced that the nuisance had been continued so long that public opinion was thoroughly aroused; that if the Street Commissioners did not correct the evil the public would demand that some other authority be forced to act.

Naturally, the leading figure in the conference was Superintendent Connolly, for many years in charge of the operation of the railroad, which is deemed essential in distributing freight from the terminals. He expressed surprise that there should be any particular criticism over the way the freight cars were handled, doubted the correctness of the Street Board's survey and was surprised that the firemen had been delayed because of insufficient openings of trains. He promised to work in co-operation with all municipal departments interested and to discharge within twenty-four hours any engineer or fireman who are discourteous or who fail to abide by the regulations which are well known to them.

Chairman Noyes remarked that the surveys began on April 9 and were conducted twice a day for a week. They showed that from forty-two to eighty-four freight cars were parked in single or double lines, some for five, six and seven days, "thus showing utter disregard of the rights of the public." No argument could possibly be used as a defence of this practice, he said, and there was no reason why Atlantic avenue should not be made a source of benefit to traffic generally. The Board's suggestion was that with the freight cars off Atlantic avenue in the daytime, fast moving automobiles and trucks could use the center portions of the street and the slow-moving vehicles the space nearest the curbs.

George F. Stebbins, who appeared for the truckmen, advised the Board that distressing conditions on Atlantic avenue had continued almost from the time the thoroughfare was laid out. He did not see how the freight line could be operated much differently under present conditions, or could do more than is now done, except by regulations from the Street Commission.

"They have complied in almost every case with the requirements of the truckmen," he said. "Our people are held up constantly. Many streets come into the avenue and there are lines of freight cars and a constant line of traffic. There may be some way in which the road can be operated at night. We must admit that conditions will be far worse in the future. We should like to see some regulations that all persons involved must live up to, but I do not know what the remedy is."

Chief John O. Taber of the Fire Department declared that the department is having serious trouble along Atlantic avenue because of the parked freight cars. A recent alarm from East Boston caused one engine company to be delayed six minutes in going through the avenue. "Just think of this fact," he said, "that a minute in time for the Fire Department may mean the saving of $1,000,000. We are now sending some fire companies to East Boston by way of Chelsea, due to Atlantic avenue congestion."

Hardly had Chief Taber resumed his seat when Superintendent Connolly arose for the first time, asking first about the delay of the firemen on the East Boston alarm. It was the first he knew of it, and he remarked that at the time Eastern avenue was torn up and there was slight congestion. To that remark Chief Taber said the firemen were delayed all the way down the avenue, and asked if the Union Freight men should not try to surmount some of the difficulties to traffic, knowing that the Fire Department is doing all it can. Superintendent Connolly recalled no previous complaint from the Fire Department, and Chief Taber replied that he is on record several times once in particular when State street was completely shut off by the parking of freight cars.

"We are willing to co-operate, and if there is reported to me any particular instance of employees refusing to obey a demand I assure you said employees will not work for us twenty-four hours afterwards," Superintendent Connolly remarked with some heat.

"The whole trouble is between Rowe's wharf and Clinton street," the superintendent continued. "We do intend to make an opening wide enough for trucks to get through, at all street intersections, though we do allow freight cars to stand on the road."

Chairman Noyes interrupted to inform the superintendent that the engineers making the survey found many cases where there were no openings and other cases where the openings were so narrow that trucks could not get through.

"I will agree that possibly we are a public nuisance, but we are a necessity," Superintendent Connolly retorted. "If we have the interests of Boston at heart we must all work in co-operation. Business is booming. Embargoes have been lifted on certain freight and a great volume is piling up in Boston. Why, this morning we had thirty-three cars of eggs which we were obliged to leave on a Boston & Albany siding. We are handling dead freight, to be sure, and the business houses must be taken care of just as well as those with perishable freight. But so far as a car standing seven or more days on Atlantic avenue, we must deny the assertion. It is out of the question to allow such a thing. Our limit is twenty-four hours."

Chairman Noyes, in pursuing this line of inquiry, read the numbers of certain cars, one of which was found to have been parked five days in succession; another four and one half days and the third three days. Superintendent Connolly replied that the company handles hundreds of cars a month and his office would be pleased to give the Street

Commissioners all the facts possible about the cars. The only thing for him to do was to present his books.

Chairman Noyes and Commissioner Harding asked several times if there was any place that the Union Freight road could find for the storage of cars, and the superintendent replied that he knew of none. He remarked that May and June are particularly busy months and that there is bound to be more or less confusion, but there was no reason why cars should be found on Atlantic avenue more than twenty-four hours at a time. He said New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore are anxious to get the business which Boston is handling from abroad, and it was the duty of all citizens of Boston to be interested in keeping the business here.

Asked if it were not possible for the Union road to keep the cars off Atlantic avenue, Superintendent Connolly said it was not possible and do business. He remarked that, while he could not supervise the operation of the trains all the time, there were men who did.

Lieutenant Laffey of the Traffic Squad said there is not a street in Boston where traffic has increased as it has on Atlantic avenue. There was no denying the fact that freight cars do park there. Trains are not broken up as they should be, but Superintendent Connolly had always been ready to assist the police. If the freight cars could be kept off the avenue in the day time, and the fast moving vehicles be permitted to take the center of the street, a remedy would be found for present conditions, but Superintendent Connolly said it could not be done.

Day Baker, representing the Massachusetts Automobile Dealers and Garage Association, said he realized that it was necessary to bring freight into Boston, but he could see no reason for the choking of Atlantic avenue by standing freight cars. His association had tried to get the motor trucks to use outside streets, and there is general complaint that Atlantic avenue is inaccessible. He had asked Captain Hoppe to limit parking on Atlantic avenue and would like to see freight car parking stopped.

C. H. Brownell of the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange admitted that the problem was a large one, but that taking the cars off the avenue would not solve it. The main thing was to get business to expand. The market district is bottled up and there are very high charges for handling freight all of which must be borne by the consumers. The Board would make a serious mistake if it passed regulations to hamper the Union Freight line.

District Fire Chiefs Caulfield and O'Brien confirmed what Chief Taber had said as to traffic blocks on Atlantic avenue, saying that the freight cars often cause the firemen serious delay in getting at their hydrants.

O. C. Mackey, manager of the Quincy Market Cold Storage Warehouse Company, explained the limited facilities at his plant for the handling of freight cars, only seven at a time being admitted to the siding, and said that business would be greatly delayed if the company had to unload from trucks instead of freight cars.

In response to questions from Commissioner Harding, whether the Union Freight Railroad intended to co-operate with city departments in relieving the situation, Superintendent Connolly said that he would do so in every possible way.

The final speaker was Judge Charles J. Brown, representing an Atlantic avenue client, who declared that no cars should be permitted to stand in the avenue for more than twenty-four hours.

MUNICIPAL BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS.

Mayor Curley transmitted to the City Council upon the 30th ultimo a loan order for $1,000,000 outside the debt limit, for a new police headquarters building on the present site, and a $500,000 loan, within the debt limit, for the new fire alarm headquarters in the Fens. In making the announcement the Mayor said that he expected court action by the Peter C. Brooks estate over damages from the taking of the necessary land in Pemberton square.

When the police headquarters bill was argued before the Committee on Municipal Finance, Arthur Dehon Hill, representing the Brooks estate, said that the trustees had no disposition to stand in the way of a necessary municipal improvement, but would insist on heavy damages, in view of the fact that the entire estate, fronting on Tremont row, had been kept intact for many years with the view to improving it as a whole. To take three parcels of land in Pemberton square would seriously interfere with a large development of the property.

The City of Boston is anxious to have the land taken by eminent domain at once so that there shall be no delay in having plans drawn and construction started. It will take several months to draw the plans, but the Mayor is confident that operations may be started in the fall. For a year or so police headquarters must remain in temporary headquarters. For the past thirty-seven years it has been located on the present site in buildings that have an assessed valuation of only $7,000. The land upon which the buildings stand is assessed for $200,000.

The fire alarm headquarters building will be located on the southerly side of Boylston street, just beyond Ipswich street, in the Fens, an ideal location so far as remoteness from fire hazard is concerned. James Ball, the fire department architect, has already prepared the plans, so that construction may start soon after a contractor is secured.

NEAR EAST RELIEF.

Mayor Curley opened all fire houses and police stations in Boston to receive clothing in the Near East relief campaign.

Cast-off clothing is equivalent to currency in the Caucasus region. To hand the Near East last winter's coat or a pair of shoes is equivalent to a cash contribution.

James A. Blyth of New York, a member of the national committee of the Near East Relief, is in Boston conducting the campaign. The first thing in opening the campaign he received a bundle of clothing from Mayor Curley and his little boy, George.

Discarded winter toggery is especially what is needed by the miserable refugees huddling on the bleak shores of the Aegean Sea, slowly dying of exposure.

MAYOR ASKS SUGAR BOYCOTT.

Mayor Curley on Monday, April 30, issued the following proclamation:

Fellow Citizens of Boston:

A nation-wide conspiracy exists to plunder the American people by artificially raising the price of sugar. The national administration has signally failed to do its duty by prosecuting the promoters and plunderers; one of the cabinet is openly accused of aiding the speculators; there is no shortage of sugar or likelihood of shortage; and the remedy for this campaign of plunder is to refuse to use sugar in any form, except as an absolute necessity for children and invalids.

I ask therefore that a rigid boycott against the use of sugar be maintained in Boston until the price of sugar is driven back to its normal level.

In union there is strength and safety from the interests who have already robbed the Nation of hundreds of millions. The refusal of all to buy or use sugar alone can save us. It is the duty of the federal administration to begin prosecutions now, as one speculator in jail is worth a thousand investigators round a table.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

CLOSING OF MARKETS.

Faneuil Hall and Quincy Markets will close Saturday evenings at 6 p. m. through the months of June, July and August annually hereafter, the City Council in special session May 1 having unanimously approved an ordinance amendment submitted by Mayor Curley legalizing such action.

The proposal originated with the marketmen themselves, seventy-four out of the eighty-five proprietors and managers of stalls in both markets having signed the petition for the amendment to the ordinance.

Under the old rule stalls were kept open until nine o'clock on Saturday evenings through the three months named. Saturday was one of the most exacting days for the 800-odd employees, many of whom reported very early in the morning.

So as to determine the wish of customers in the matter, the Council gave a public hearing on the proposed amendment. The opposition was negligible; hence the Council's final action.

The custom of five o'clock closings on other evenings of the week through the three months named will be maintained.

MAYOR CURLEY GIVES RESUME OF NATIONAL BANKS TAX CASE.

Mayor Curley gave a resume of the National banks tax case before the Mayor's Club of Massachusetts at their dinner at the Parker House Saturday, April 28. He spoke as follows:

Now that both parties to the controversy over the taxes on national bank shares have presented their views to the Legislature, the people are enabled for the first time to see clearly the true inwardness of the banks' scheme. They can see the selfishness of the banks and their total disregard of the interests of the general taxpayers. I was given opportunity to address the Legislative Committee on Ways and Means and I made some remarks which excited the indignation of the representatives of the banks. Everything I said, however, was proved not merely by the speakers on our side, but also by the speakers on the banks' side. It was clearly proved that the banks' program is unfair to the general taxpayers; that it was a raid on the public treasury; that it was not justified by any actual need of a reduction in taxes; and that the entire matter resolved itself into a contest between the money power and the people. All of these charges were proved abundantly at the hearing.

I said that the scheme was unfair to the general taxpayer, that he would have to make up any deficiency caused by a reduction in the banks' taxes, and that he was already overburdened with taxes and could stand no more. Not a single representative of the banks challenged the statement that the general taxpayer is already taxed on his real estate and tangible personal property up to the limit of his capacity. They did not challenge it because they could not. On the other hand, not a single bank representative submitted any facts or figures to show that the banks had not made enough money to pay all their expenses and taxes, to pay large dividends to the stockholders and also to carry a large amount to the account of surplus and undivided profits, in addition. The unfairness of reducing the taxes on the banks in order to further tax the owners of homes was clearly demonstrated.

Only one bank representative suggested any way by which the bank taxes could be reduced without injuring the owners of real estate. He suggested that the deficiency caused by reducing the bank taxes could be made up by increasing the income tax rate on business income from 1½ per cent to 2 per cent. The committee did not seem to welcome this suggestion. Such an increase would fall on all professional men, salaried men, wage earners, and all unincorporated business firms; and no doubt such an increase would be resisted by the professional men and the business men of the state. That suggestion did, however, show some consideration for the people who own their own homes but own no other taxable property.

None of the other bank representatives denied our statement that the persons who are now taxed on real estate and tangible personal property would have to make up the deficiency in public revenue caused by reduction in bank taxes. They all seem perfectly content with the plan to tax the home for the benefit of the bank.

I said the banks were making a raid on the public treasury and was criticized for saying it. But the banks themselves proved this charge for me at the hearing. They demanded a reduction in taxes to the basis on which domestic business corporations are taxed, a reduction of about four-fifths. The national banks demanded this reduction not only for themselves but for the trust companies. The two great branches of the banking business who do practically all of the banking business of the state united in demanding this reduction. If a demand by the money power of the state for a reduction of four-fifths in their taxes is not a raid on the public treasury, I would like to know what it is.

I said the banks did not need any reduction of taxes. At the hearing the banks did not claim that they needed it, although they insisted that they wanted it. No doubt everybody else in the state would like a reduction in taxes, but that is far from showing that they need a reduction. No representative of a national bank or trust company claimed that if the shares continued to be taxed at the local property rates the dividends of the stockholders would have to be reduced or that these dividends were not as large a return on the investment as the average return on other kinds of investments. No one appeared as a stockholder to complain that the bank shares are now taxed too high or to request any reduction whatever in the tax on such shares.

I said that this was a contest between the money power and the people. The banks themselves proved that at the hearing. The vice president of the Old Colony Trust Company spoke for the Massachusetts Bankers' Association, stating that he represented the national banks, the trust companies and the savings bank. He demanded a reduction for both national banks and trust companies and he failed to point out any way to protect the general taxpayers from being obliged to pay increased taxes in order to reduce the bank taxes. This makes out a clear case, on the banks' own testimony, of the money power arraying itself against the people.

We believe the plain citizens should be dealt with fairly. We believe a new tax burden should not be put upon the poor in order to take tax burdens off the rich. That process was never justifiable at any time in the world's history, but at the present time it is not only unjust, but it is exceedingly unwise. In this particular juncture of the world's affairs, we should do everything possible to quench the fires of Bolshevism instead of adding fresh fuel to the flames.

Mayors of Massachusetts: You are the guardians of the public interests in your several cities. Those interests are menaced by the demands of the banks. They have huge sums at their disposal in this contest. You cannot raise funds to meet them. But you have the duty of protecting the people and you can reach the people by personal appeals. The public must be aroused to the necessity of protecting itself. Ask the people to urge their senators and representatives to protect them against the money power—to protect their homes, to protect the tenants, to protect the wage earners of the Commonwealth. If you enter promptly upon this work, if you "Carry On" with vigor and enthusiasm, there can be no doubt of the triumph of the people's cause.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 33.

I. VACATIONS.

1. During the vacation season permission will be granted by the District Chiefs to members of the department to exchange such days off with other members so as to have one day off fall before and one day off fall after the fourteen days' vacation. The privilege of exchanging days off is extended up to and including the first day of a man's vacation. For example: If a man's vacation starts on his day off, or if his day off is the second day previous to his vacation, District Chiefs will grant permission to exchange these days off with another member so that the man may go on day off the day previous to his vacation.

2. Members on a day off the day before a vacation begins need not report for duty at 9 a. m., the first day of their vacation.

3. Members on a day off the day after the vacation ends need not report for duty until 9 a. m. the day following such day off.

4. So much of rule No. 412, rules and regulations of the department, which conflicts with the application of the foregoing order is hereby suspended for 1923.

II. DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME.

1. Sunday, April 29, 1923, is the date required by law to make a change in clock time. In order to conform with the law, clocks in department stations will be set ahead one hour at 2 a. m. (the official time for the change) and all tower clocks maintained by this department will be set ahead one hour at 6 a. m., or as soon thereafter as is practical, by men who are assigned to wind these clocks.

III. CONTRIBUTION, BOSTON FIREMEN'S RELIEF FUND.

1. The Fire Commissioner is in receipt of the following letter from D. & L. Slade Company, 189 and 191 State street, Boston:

"Dear Sir,—We wish to congratulate your department upon the excellent manner the fire at the Kelly Peanut Company, 185 and 187 State street, Boston.

There was an excellent chance for a rapid spread of this fire in the adjoining building, but by the mastery way your department worked, the fire was confined to that building.

We enclose check for $50 for the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund.

Very truly yours,

D. & L. SLADE COMPANY,
GEO. H. CARTER,
Treasurer."

2. The check referred to has been turned over to the Treasurer of the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund.

By order of the Fire Commissioner.

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

General Order No. 34.

REV. DENNIS J. LYNCH.

It is with deep regret and sorrow that the Fire Commissioner announces to the department the death of Rev. Dennis J. Lynch, of St. Leo's Church, Dorchester, on Saturday, April 28, 1923.

When informed of the death of Father Lynch the Fire Commissioner made the following statement, which undoubtedly expresses the sentiment of the entire department:

"The Boston Fire Department has lost a most beloved friend, Father Lynch. There is no official chaplain in the Fire Department, but for many years he has been a friend and counselor to every man in the service, Catholic and non-Catholic. Today the brave members of our fire force are broken-hearted because Father Lynch is gone.

Officially and personally, I wish to extend to the bereaved family of Father Lynch the profound sympathy of Boston and ask that we may be allowed to show our grief."

The body of Father Lynch will be moved to St. Leo's Church at 4 p. m., on Monday, April 30, 1923, where he will lie in state until 10 a. m. Tuesday, May 1, 1923. A voluntary guard of honor representing the Fire Department will be in constant attendance at the church.

Requiem services will be held in St. Leo's Church, Esmond street, Dorchester, at 10 a. m., Tuesday, May 1, 1923.

An invitation has been received for members of this department who may wish to do so to participate in the funeral. Therefore all members of the department on vacation or day off are invited to form an escort to Father Lynch. Commanding officers will so arrange their meal periods that members of the department on day off who intend to join the escort may leave quarters about eight o'clock and not impair the efficiency of the department.

The escort will form at the quarters of Engine Company 18, Harvard street, under command of Deputy Chief Walter M. McLean. The escort will leave the fire station for the church at 9.30 a. m., and report to the funeral director for assignment. Sack coats and white gloves will be worn by the escort from the Fire Department.

While the funeral procession is leaving St. Leo's Church, after the services, the Fire Alarm Branch will toll the bells at all the houses of the department at intervals of one half minute until forty blows have been sounded.

By order of the Fire Commissioner.

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 277.

It is hereby ordered that vacations for members of the force for 1923 shall begin June 19 and end December 8, and that not more than one twelfth of the whole number attached to any division shall be absent on vacation at the same time.

Members of the Traffic Division will have their regular days of relief except on October 12.

No days of relief will be allowed to other members of the force on July 3 and 4, September 3 and October 12. Members entitled to a day of relief on any of these days may take their day off either before or after the regular time by arrangement with and at the discretion of their division commander.

Patrolmen appointed in 1923, previous to March 1, will be allowed two weeks' vacation.

Patrolmen appointed after March 1, 1923, and up to June 1, 1923, will be allowed one week, to be taken at such times as the commanding officers of divisions shall designate.

Patrolmen appointed after June 1, 1923, will not receive any vacation.

The time for each vacation will be determined by lot in the usual way, Tuesday, May 1, 1923.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 278.

My attention has been called several times to a practice among certain members of this department of requesting a loan of automobiles for private purposes from automobile agents, garage owners or individuals on their respective routes or with whom they are doing or have done police business.

Such practice shows not only bad taste on the part on the borrower, but in addition gives to persons outside the department a wrong impression of the great majority of the members of the force, who do not indulge in such petty practice. It is in fact a violation of the rules and regulations of the Police Department to thus accept gifts without having received the proper permission.

Inasmuch as the attention of the department has previously been called to this matter by the superintendent's order dated January 10, 1921, without apparent effect, I order the immediate discontinuance of this habit.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 279.

The commanding officer of Division 12 has called to my attention the following piece of meritorious police work performed by Patrolman Ernest W. Robertson of that division.

Early in the afternoon of Friday, April 20, a fourteen-year old boy who had been swimming off the bulkhead at Carson Beach suddenly sank beneath the water and did not reappear. A bystander noticed the boy sink, and called for assistance from Patrolman Robertson who was in that vicinity. After diving several times, the boy was brought to the surface by the citizen and they were both assisted to the shore by Patrolman Robertson.

While waiting for the arrival of the ambulance and while in the ambulance on the way to the hospital, Patrolman Robertson used the Schaefer or prone method of resuscitation, and although unconscious the boy was still living when he arrived at the hospital; but he was too much exhausted by his long immersion to respond to the treatment given him and died later on the same afternoon.

I am gratified to learn of this excellent police work on the part of Patrolman Robertson, who labored long and diligently to save the boy's life and was in no way responsible for the unfortunate outcome; and I warmly commend him for the courage, humanity and perseverance which he exhibited in connection therewith.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 280.

The following transfer is hereby ordered to take effect Monday, April 30, 1923, at 7:45 o'clock a. m.:

Patrolman Robert Priestly, from Division 17 to Division 13.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 281.

The commanding officer of Division 6 has called to my attention a meritorious piece of police work performed by Patrolmen Thomas J. O'Connor and Joseph P. O'Handley of that division.

On the morning of April 17, a man apparently with the intention of committing suicide, jumped into the Fort Point Channel at the Broadway Bridge. He was rescued in an unconscious condition by two citizens and laid upon the pier, whereupon Patrolmen O'Connor and O'Handley immediately used the Schaefer or prone method of resuscitation on him with such success that in about twenty minutes he had regained consciousness. The officers continued their work on the man while in the ambulance on the way to the hospital and it is evident from the statements of persons present that the man's life was saved by the immediate and continued application of the Schaefer method by these two officers.

It is gratifying to learn of such excellent police work on the part of Patrolmen O'Connor and O'Handley, more particularly as it shows an intelligent understanding of the method of life saving taught to them in the department, and I warmly commend them for their promptness and perseverance in the application of this method, thereby saving a human life.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 282.

A trial board, consisting of Captains Driscoll, Dailey and Mason, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Andrew E. Connelly of Division 10, charging him with neglect of duty, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman Andrew E. Connelly perform twenty hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

MUNICIPAL SPRING CLEANING.

By FRANCIS X. MAHONEY, Health Commissioner.

A city is an accumulation of homes and as is the cleanliness of the individual home so is the cleanliness of the city. The efficient housewife is the model of municipal cleanliness. Observe her when the first warm days of spring come. Her daily routine for the past winter has been that of scrupulous cleanliness throughout the household, yet now our thrifty housewife proceeds systematically to clean house, as the saying is, from "cellar to garret." Here is the pride of accomplishment, a sense of thoroughness, of nothing left undone; and this is the model we now extol, all the more so this year because we have just passed through an unusually severe winter where conditions have conspired to prevent that daily disposal of household wastes which is so necessary to the public health of the city.

During the past winter the perpetual blanket of snow has covered up refuse matter that otherwise might properly have been removed, and which with the coming of the first warm days of spring leave the yards and alleys so unsightly and unhealthful. These, with the cellars, demand our first attention. In the removal of waste deposits, bear in mind the rules governing the city collecting agencies and you will find the work proceeding smoothly for all hands. Following is a brief summary of these rules:

Gather all the waste material that may have accumulated in your yard, or cellar, and place it in receptacles that will be removed by the city collecting agencies. If you are careful not to mix garbage or other household offal, with rubbish and ashes, you will find that there will be less danger of failure to remove the receptacles. Garbage and other household offal should be placed in separate, water-tight, tightly covered receptacles. Ashes should be placed in metallic receptacles that should not be filled more than four inches from the top. Rubbish, such as old paper, bottles, tin cans, pieces of rubber, leather, pieces of wood, rags, and other similar wastes, should be placed in a metallic receptacle separate from either ashes or garbage. If you have large accumulations of old papers, or large pieces of cardboard that do not readily permit their being tossed out to a receptacle but are bunched, be sure that you tie these bundles securely so that they will not be blown or strewn about by the wind or hurried or careless handling. If there is a private way connected with your premises which needs cleaning, it will add greatly to its appearance and to the appearance of your premises generally if you will clean this private way, too, while engaged in the cleaning of the yard or cellar.

While engaged in cleaning up your premises, it should not be the practice to utilize a vacant lot that may happen to be nearby as a depository for the wastes that you have collected from your premises. This method of disposal is convenient, it is admitted, but it will be readily seen that is only temporary at best, and eventually will result in the existence of an unsightly outlook from your premises if others use such a vacant lot as a dumping place, also. Do not forget also that such unpermitted dumping on vacant lots is a violation of law. Aside from a desire not to violate the law, you will have sufficient pride in the appearance of the community in which you live not to be tempted by the opportunity to get rid of your immediate burden of refuse by depositing it upon a place that is apt to become a public depository and a consequent community eyesore.

You may have had difficulty in getting regular collections of household wastes during the winter and they have accumulated on your premises, but you will not use that as an excuse for allowing your premises to remain disorderly and unsightly, or carelessly kept. The very reason that the municipal collection of wastes may have been irregular during the winter months perhaps because of conditions that are difficult, if not impossible, to control or regulate, is an added incentive to the institution and maintenance of regular collection of wastes from households and other premises when the conditions that have heretofore caused the irregularity have either disappeared, or been entirely remedied. Let it be said of you that you have done your part toward maintaining the cleanliness of the community in which you live, by keeping your own premises clean and orderly. Besides the satisfaction of duty done you will benefit by the enhanced value of your property for dwelling purposes because of its freedom from flies and mosquitoes, rats and other obnoxious vermin and rodents.

Clean the yard or cellar or private way connected with your premises; place the wastes thus gathered in proper, separate receptacles; do not deposit such accumulated wastes in convenient nearby vacant lots. You will thus prevent the breeding of flies, mosquitoes, and other insects that are a source of discomfort and which have a disease breeding influence; and also prevents a means to be discovered by rats where they may be sheltered and fed and multiply to the possible economic damage of your property.

MAYOR ENTERTAINS SOLDIERS.

Mayor Curley and members of the Boston Lodge of Elks, with members of the theatrical profession, journeyed out to West Roxbury upon the 30th ultimo and entertained the boys at the Veterans Hospital.

Mayor Curley promised to take the disabled veterans on two or three excursions upon the steamer "Michael J. Perkins" this summer, and told of the rose bed being laid at Franklin Park and how he would carry the soldiers there to see it.

BUDGET APPROVAL.

Mayor Curley's budget for the new fiscal year will be approved by the City Council at next Monday's meeting and the Mayor will be invited to submit a second supplementary budget.

On Councilor Brickley's motion the Council committee reversed its decision and voted back into the budget a $125,000 item for motors which they had cut out of the Fire Department budget as the nucleus for the sum necessary to give certain wage increases.

The appended table tells the budget's story at a glimpse:

From Taxes:
For City Purposes within the Tax Limit	$25,578,841 54
City Debt Requirements	5,905,045 37
		$31,483,886 91
County of Suffolk:
General Purposes	$2,551,907 80
Debt Requirements	139,634 51
		2,691,542 31
City and County total.....		$34,175,429 22
From Revenue:
Printing Department	398,513 73
City Record, publication of	27,157 96
Public Works Department, Water Service	$1,353,223 61
Collecting Department, Water Division	46,123 86
Water Service Debt Requirements	41,534 00
Service Mains and Relaying Mains	165,000 00
High Pressure Fire System Extension	200,000 00
		1,805,881 47
Grand total		$36,107,182 88

The Mayor's first supplementary budget, which is sure of approval on Monday, carries a sum of $147,600 additional to this grand total. This will be divided as follows: City Planning Board activities, $25,000; Public Works Department, $50,000 for extra snow removal bills, $30,000 for motor street sweepers and for eight spotlights for traffic police use; $13,000 for establishment of receiving stations in connection with operation of Spectacle Island garbage disposal process; $3,000 to Park Department for establishment of an amateur league for juvenile players in twilight ball games on public grounds.

Chairman Watson proposed that the Mayor be informed, when the Council votes on the budget next Monday, that the Council would like to have the $50,000 item for granolithic sidewalks increased to $100,000.

VACATION OF POLICEMEN.

Vacations for members of the Boston Police Department will start on June 19 and end December 8. Men who entered the department previous to March 1 of this year are allowed a two weeks' vacation, and those appointed after March 1 and up to June 1 will be allowed one week. Persons joining the department after June 1 will not be given any vacation this year.

CONTRACT AMENDED.

The contract of Cobo & Griffin for the erection and completion of the courthouse, Forest Hills, has been amended by changing the date of completion as appears on page 19 of the contract to read "April 28, 1923," instead of "January 15, 1923."

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Subject to confirmation by your honorable body, I appoint the following-named persons to be Constables of the City of Boston for the term of one year beginning with the first day of May, 1923:
James B. Cushing, Levi P. Fernald, Michael W. Ober, Corrado Palladino, Charles B. Palmer, Reddick J. Royster, Jeremiah J. Twomey, Harry Van Dam, John F. Welch, Frank Yennaco.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Severally laid over under the law.

POLICE HEADQUARTERS.

The following was received:

City of Boston.

Office of the Mayor, April 30, 1923.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—Under chapter 289 of the Acts of 1923 provision was made for the purchase of a site and the erection thereon of a police headquarters at a cost not in excess of $1,000,000.

The present headquarters have been for many years not only inadequate but disgraceful, and it is desirable that favorable action be taken at an early date upon the accompanying orders which I here recommend for adoption.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That chapter 289 of the Acts of 1923, entitled "An Act Authorizing the City of Boston to Incur Indebtedness for the Purchase of a Site and the Erection of Police Headquarters," be and the same hereby is accepted.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 289 of the Acts of 1923 the sum of one million dollars ($1,000,000) be and the same is hereby appropriated to be expended by the Superintendent of Public Buildings for the establishment of a police headquarters, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount, the same to be issued outside the limit of indebtedness.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

FIRE ALARM SIGNAL STATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston.

Office of the Mayor, April 30, 1923.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—A change in the location of the Fire Alarm Signal Station has been considered and recommended at various times during the past ten years. The present location in the lumber area of Boston is in such a fire hazard section as to render it advisable to locate in some portion of Boston where greater protection will be afforded this most important branch of fire protection service.

Under the provisions of chapter 309 of the Acts of 1923, approved by the Legislature and his Excellency the Governor, authority is granted for the location of the Fire Alarm Signal Station within the limits of the Back Bay Fens, and in view of the fact that the loss by fire of the Fire Alarm Signal Station would leave the city without protection, it is imperative that early and favorable action be taken by the Council upon the order here presented and recommended for adoption.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 309, Acts of 1923, the Mayor and City Council of the City of Boston hereby determine that a Fire Alarm Signal Station be erected and maintained within the limits of the Back Bay Fens, the location of said station to be subject to the approval of the Park Commission.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 309 of the Acts of 1923, the sum of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) be and the same is hereby appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Fire Commissioner for the establishment of Fire Alarm Signal Station within the limits of the Back Bay Fens, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

SALE OF LAND.

The following was received:

City of Boston.

Office of the Mayor, April 30, 1923.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the chairman of the Park Commission setting forth the title that certain land taken by the Park Commission for park purposes in the North End of Boston is no longer required.

I accordingly recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Park Department, April 30, 1923.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The following described parcels of land, which were taken for playground purposes under order of the Board of Street Commissioners, dated October 2, 1922, and approved by your Honor on October 5, 1922, are no longer required for public purposes and we respectfully recommend that your Honor transmit this communication to the City Council and request that said land be sold in compliance with the provisions of section 15 of chapter 40 of the General Laws.

Said land is fully described in said order of taking of the Board of Street Commissioners and shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Baldwin Place, North Margin Street, Boston Proper, September 5, 1922, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and includes two parcels designated respectively on said plan "Congregation Beth Israel, 12,495 square feet; Mary Murphy, 928 square feet."

Respectfully yours,

JAMES B. SHEA,

MYRON P. LEWIS,

Park Commissioners.

City of Boston, in City Council.

Whereas the Board of Street Commissioners, having control of the premises hereinafter described, has given written notice that the same are no longer needed for public purposes:

Whereas an advantageous offer has been made for the purchase of said premises for the sum of $62,850 by the trustees of the fund, and the management of the fund, and the disbursement of the income thereof, which fund was created under the Fourteenth Clause of the Will of George Robert White, deceased, late of Boston:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor in the name and behalf of the city be and he is hereby authorized to convey and transfer to the City of Boston in its capacity as trustee under the Fourteenth Clause of the Will of the said George Robert White, by a deed of conveyance, a payment of not less than $62,850, the following described premises which were taken by the city for playground purposes by an order of the Board of Street Commissioners dated October 2, 1922, approved by his Honor the Mayor on October 5, 1922, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, October 7, 1922, which premises are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Baldwin Place, North Margin Street, Boston Proper, September 5, 1922, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and include two parcels of land designated on said plan "Congregation Beth Israel, 12,495 square feet; Mary Murphy, 928 square feet."

Referred to the Executive Committee.

PETITIONS REFERRED.

The following petitions were received and severally referred to the committees named:

BATHS IN MUNICIPAL BUILDING,
CHARLESTOWN.

Coun. HEALEY offered a order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to include in the budget the sum of ten thousand dollars for repairing baths in the Municipal Building.

Coun. HEALEY—Mr. President, I ask a suspension of the rule so that the order may be put upon its passage. The Mayor promised to do this, but through an oversight the item was not included in the budget. It is passed this afternoon we might send away very badly off in Boston. I think it is so that it may be included in the budget. I think that the Mayor has promised to do this. The rule was suspended and the order was passed.

Coun. LANE in the chair.

OFFICIAL SONG FOR CITY.

Coun. BRICKLEY offered an order—That the City Council, on behalf of the City of Boston, accept as the official song of the city until otherwise ordered the song "Dear Old Boston" and that the same be ordered sung and played at all public and patriotic occasions, or celebrated in the City of Boston.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

LOCATIONS IN WEST END FOR MUNICIPAL BUILDING.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Mayor be requested to make a study and report to the City Council as to what location in the West End would be most suitable for a municipal building.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, this is merely an order asking for information at this particular time and not committing the City Council to anything. The Mayor has a suspension of the rule, so that the order may be put upon its passage.

Coun. BRICKLEY in the chair.

REVISION OF TAXI SCHEDULE.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the City Council be requested to make a study and report to the City Council as to what location in the West End would be most suitable for a municipal building.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, the order is merely an order asking for information at this particular time and not committing the City Council to anything. The Mayor has a suspension of the rule, so that the order may be put upon its passage.

himself was not well versed in exact conditions pertaining either to the taxi service or the rates, it was quite clear to him that he was being guided very largely by a lieutenant of police who sat at his elbow and instructed and advised with him, and it was equally evident that that particular individual was hostile to the work which is being done in this body to revise the taxi rate schedule in Boston. That naturally suggests the thought, Why is this man hostile? Why should any man be hostile to the thought of simply giving the Boston public advantages that are obtaining in other parts of the country? There must be a reason, and there probably is a reason. It is my purpose at a later date to ascertain what that reason is. It was an understood part of the agreement that the commissioner would leave here the material from which he read, so that I and others who might be interested might have an opportunity to read it and digest it. I had supposed that that article was left here, but our official stenographer informed me later that when he tried to obtain the document from this particular police lieutenant it was withheld. The result was that we don't know now anything except what he read to us except as he might have reflected that. But I did gather this, that the commissioner through his advisers was of the opinion that Boston compared favorably with other cities on taxi rate service, and I remember that in the city of Detroit, if my memory serves me right, the figures quoted were considerable in excess of the price here. The commissioner also, in commenting upon what he read, certainly did give color to the thought that he believed we were very badly off in Boston. I think the rates were more favorable than we thought, and that Boston did not suffer in comparison with other cities. It was truly unfortunate that the city which the commissioner had in the material I had sent for had not arrived, and I could not answer, because I did not have the facts. I had to make the best of a bad bargain on that day. But the day after that hearing I got the figures, the official list of the taxicab operators' organization. All the large companies doing a taxi business in Boston, as well as in other parts of the country, are united in an organization, and publish and print an official price list. I have read over the price list, and I think the benefit of any doubting Thomas who may be here I want to say that Boston is sixteenth on the list in the United States; that there are fifteen cities with lower taxi rates than we have here. The cheapest taxi rate service in Boston is 30 cents for one third of a mile; in Buffalo the price is 25 cents for one third of a mile; in Chicago the price is 20 cents for one half mile; in Cleveland the price is 25 cents for one third of a mile; in Dayton, Ohio, the price is 25 cents for one third of a mile; in Detroit, where I was led to believe that the prices are higher than in Boston, to my surprise, taking the official record, the rate is 20 cents for a third of a mile, the same as our Elevated service here in Boston. In Milwaukee the rate is 20 cents for a third of a mile; in Newark, 25 cents for a third of a mile; in New Orleans, 20 cents for a half mile; in New York, 20 cents for a third of a mile; in Philadelphia, 25 cents for two fifths of a mile; in Pittsburgh, 30 cents for a quarter of a mile; in St. Louis, 30 cents for one half a mile; in Washington, D. C., 25 cents for two fifths of a mile; in Worcester, in our own Commonwealth, 25 cents for a half a mile—as against 30 cents for a third of a mile in Boston. In Youngstown, Ohio, the price is 25 cents for a third of a mile. So there are fifteen cities here which have a lower taxicab rate than the City of Boston, and, strangely enough, the same company that operates in Boston in charging the excessive rate is operating in these other cities on a lower rate, which proves that they can operate in other cities for less money and pay dividends to the interest of the city. The fact is that they are coming out of the Boston public and which is detrimental to the interest of the City of Boston, besides giving a bad impression to visitors who come here and have to pay the excessive rates. I am going to get a copy of these published figures to the stenographer and ask that the figures, with the order, be sent to the Police Commissioner, simply requesting that he agree with the figures which are official figures, as against the figures which he presented here, which I am afraid I will have to designate as "phony" figures. At least that is what I agree with the official figures. Let me repeat, Mr. Chairman, that the order in question simply calls upon the commissioner to revise the price schedule in Boston so as to compare favorably with other cities.

Coun. LANE—Mr. Chairman, in defence of the Police Commissioner's statement here as to prices charged in the different cities, I would say that it appeared from the commissioner's statement that he has written to the different cities, and that he has found that ordinance rates were, what they were allowed to charge. That is what he brought in here and stated, and he probably did not know what they actually charged. I am going to give you an instance, that in New York they were allowed to charge 40 cents for half a mile, 10 cents for each successive quarter of a mile, making 60 cents for the mile, and 20 cents for each mile thereafter, and 20 cents for each passenger in excess of one. As a matter of fact, some charge 20 cents state rate for half of a mile, 10 cents for each additional third, making 50 cents for the first mile, and 30 cents for each successive mile, and 10 cents for each extra passenger. So the rates actually charged are under the rates which they are allowed to charge. They are allowed to charge more than they do charge for a passenger, and they are also allowed to charge for extra passengers, which they usually do not do. So you have an apparent difference right there. Each licensed cab in New York makes a charge, as a matter of fact, a tariff, that is under what it is allowed to charge. The tariff is put up in the cab. They could charge more, but they do not. I am going to give you, as desired, charge for extra passengers, but they do not do it. So, as I say, what the Police Commissioner stated when he addressed us in connection with Coun. Healey's order was what they are allowed to charge in certain places, although as a matter of fact they do not charge the amount that seems to be a misapprehension on the part of Coun. Haglan as to what the commissioner stated, to the effect that he stated what they actually do charge. He did not state what they are allowed to charge. He did not state what they do charge, because he did not know, as I understand it.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, I think the confusion lies in Coun. Lane's mind. In these other cities, most of them, the taxicab rates are regulated by city ordinance. I believe we did here have a regulation, but through the order we now have no control whatever, because of the fact that some former City Council delegated that work to the then Police Commissioner. The Police Commissioner at that time was not, I understand, a state official.

Coun. WATSON—That is not correct. You are putting the cart before the horse. Coun. HAGAN—That is correct, but I think not. The point, however, that I am trying to impress upon Coun. Lane is that we have no right to control taxi rates here by ordinance, and that is what we are trying to do to that effect. I have found that we have no right as a body to control the matter by ordinance, but that the city council has the rates and that there is no ordinance rate in Boston. So this order is simply calling upon the Police Commissioner to revise the price schedule in Boston so as to compare favorably with other cities. That is the only way that we can do it. We cannot do it here by ordinance or otherwise. So, if the Police Commissioner cannot do it, we must ask him. That is the object of the order. Otherwise, if we would offer an ordinance in the City Council to regulate the taxicab fares so as to compare favorably with other cities.

Coun. LANE—Mr. Chairman, I am perfectly aware of the fact that the city council has the rates and cannot pass an ordinance regulating the taxicab fares. But even now I don't think Coun. Haglan gets my idea in the matter. The Police Commissioner cannot do it, because it is that the Detroit ordinance made the taxicab rates higher than in Boston. Coun. Haglan tells that the rates in Detroit are lower. That is perfectly true. But they could charge more there than they do. We can go on having the same regulation that the Police Commissioner has today, and the taxicab companies in Boston would not have to charge that price. They could charge less than they do charge. There is a law in the city of New York, and in New York and some of these other cities, but they do not go up to that limit. That is true in New York, Chicago, Detroit, Buffalo, and other cities. The rates in those cities are not up to the point that the taxicab men were allowed to charge. Here in Boston the result would be that the taxicab men would be allowed to charge. Here in Boston the result would be that the taxicab men would be allowed to charge.

Coun. WATSON—Isn't it true that, while the rates in the city of New York are higher than the rates in the taxicab companies are charging less?

Coun. LANE—Yes. In these other cities they are charging less than they are allowed to charge by ordinance, and much less than is charged here in Boston. But that does not represent the charge that they are allowed to make.

Coun. HAGAN—It is a fact, however, that the ordinance requirements in other cities are higher than the rates established by the companies themselves. In other words, they get less than they are allowed to get under the ordinance requirement, because of competition. That has entered into it and has brought down the price. Here, as I understand it, they are really working up to the scale as set down by the commissioner or pretty close to it. The result is that the Boston public must suffer. I don't know that this is the right or the best way of doing the matter, but I know that the Police Commissioner is the sole authority and that we must rely for his action, and he can't and he can't revise the top price downward, so that the taxicab companies here will work for less money than they do, getting a price comparable with the price charged in other cities. I haven't any question that the Police Commissioner is fair minded in the matter and will do what he can if the influence of others is not too burdensome to him. Knowing that he is the sole authority and the only court where we have any refuge at all, I am approaching the thing in this way, simply asking him to revise the price. Now he either will or will not. If he does, we have accomplished the purpose that we have in mind. If he does not, it will give us some good reason why he does not. The matter can then perhaps be approached from some other angle.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask the gentleman how his order reads—whether to revise upwards or downwards? I was not in the chamber when the order was read.

Coun. HAGAN—Of course, the question that the gentleman asks is a foolish one.

Coun. WATSON—Well, I expect a foolish answer!

Coun. HAGAN—Having argued for revision downward, it does seem as though it might have entered the gentleman's cranium that I am talking about a downward revision of prices. But he does not seem to have grasped the situation. So, for his benefit, let me say that I have asked that the prices in Boston be revised so as to compare favorably with those in other cities, and the prices in the other cities are lower.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. Chairman, the gentleman has penetrated somewhat, and perhaps now I can penetrate a bit more. There are cities that are charging more than Boston, somewhere, and when he speaks about prices here being revised so that they will compare favorably with prices in other cities, he has also have such cities in mind. I think the gentleman might at least draw his orders or have them drawn so that they will be more specific. Therefore, I think it might be wise to amend the order so that it will be clear that it is proposed to revise the prices downward, if there is any doubt in anybody's mind. Perhaps that would penetrate some skull not as thick as mine.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, there is only one city in the list with a higher price than Boston. I did not think it worthy of consideration to have the order read in that way, but I will follow the suggestion of the gentleman on the left and suggest that the order read "to revise the price schedule for Boston downward, to compare favorably with other cities."

Coun. WATSON—I think that would be a good revision.

Coun. HAGAN—There is no harm in it, and I am willing to have that amendment adopted.

Coun. WATSON—I am glad of that.

The order was read and by inserting the word "downward" after the words "to revise the price schedule for Boston," so that it read "to revise the price schedule for Boston downward, to compare favorably with other cities."

Coun. HAGAN submitted the following list of taxicab fares charged in Boston:

Baltimore: Lowest price, one third mile, 30 cents; highest price, one third mile, 30 cents; highest price, one mile, 50 cents; lowest price, one mile, 50 cents.

Boston: Lowest price, one third mile, 30 cents; highest price, one half mile, 40 cents; highest price, one mile, 60 cents; lowest price, one mile, 60 cents.

Buffalo: Lowest price, two thirds mile, 25 cents; highest price, one third mile, 30 cents; highest price, one mile, 50 cents; lowest price, one mile, 35 cents.

Chicago: Lowest price, one half mile, 20 cents; highest price, one half mile, 20 cents; highest price, one mile, 30 cents; lowest price, one mile, 30 cents.

Cincinnati: Lowest price, one third mile, 40 cents; highest price, one third mile, 40 cents; highest price, one mile, 60 cents; lowest price, one mile, 60 cents.

Cleveland: Lowest price, one third mile, 25 cents; highest price, one third mile, 25 cents; highest price, one mile, 45 cents; lowest price, one mile, 45 cents.

Dayton: Lowest price, one third mile, 25 cents; highest price, one third mile, 25 cents; highest price, one mile, 45 cents; lowest price, one mile, 45 cents.

Detroit: Lowest price, one third mile, 10 cents; highest price, two thirds mile, 25 cents; highest price, one mile, 35 cents; lowest price, one mile, 30 cents.

Milwaukee: Lowest price, one third mile, 20 cents; highest price, one half mile, 30 cents; highest price, one mile, 40 cents; lowest price, one mile, 40 cents.

Newark: Lowest price, one third mile, 25 cents; highest price, one third mile, 25 cents; highest price, one mile, 45 cents; lowest price, one mile, 45 cents.

New Orleans: Lowest price, one half mile, 20 cents; highest price, one mile, 40 cents; highest price, one mile, 40 cents; lowest price, one mile, 40 cents.

New York: Lowest price, one third mile, 20 cents; highest price, one third mile, 30 cents; highest price, one mile, 40 cents; lowest price, one mile, 40 cents (three persons).

Philadelphia: Lowest price, two fifths mile, 25 cents; highest price, two fifths mile, 25 cents; highest price, one mile, 40 cents; lowest price, one mile, 40 cents.

Pittsburgh: Lowest price, one fourth mile, 25 cents; highest price, one half mile, 30 cents; highest price, one mile, 40 cents; lowest price, one mile, 40 cents.

St. Louis: Lowest price, one half mile, 60 cents; highest price, one third mile, 60 cents; highest price, one mile, 80 cents; lowest price, one mile, 40 cents.

Washington, D. C.: Lowest price, two fifths mile, 25 cents; highest price, one half mile, 30 cents; highest price, one mile, 50 cents; lowest price, one mile, 40 cents.

Worcester: Lowest price, one half mile, 30 cents; highest price, one half mile, 30 cents; highest price, one mile, 50 cents; lowest price, one mile, 50 cents.

Yonkers: Lowest price, one third mile, 25 cents; highest price, one third mile, 30 cents; highest price, one mile, 45 cents; lowest price, one mile, 45 cents.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

PLAYGROUND, PLEASANT AND POND STREETS.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the chairman of the Park Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to inform the City Council if he intends to develop for playground purposes the plot of land situated at Pleasant and Pond streets, Dorchester, Mass.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

DEVELOPMENT OF LAND FOR PLAYGROUND PURPOSES.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to inform the City Council whether he will agree to use the land and the development for playground purposes of the land owned by the city at Massachusetts avenue and East Cottage street, formerly the site of the old house plot.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, I would ask a suspension of the rule so that the order may go upon its passage, if there is no objection. This is simply a request that the Mayor consider the advisability of so using as a playground that lot of land which has been abandoned by the city. It was originally the old hot house plant, and has been abandoned for that purpose. The grounds are large and an ideal location for playground purposes. There are no playgrounds in the immediate vicinity nearer than the Strand—playground in South Boston, which is quite a distance away. I think the sentiment which I have heard expressed by some members of the body here is to the effect that that land might well be utilized for playground purposes, and at this time, before anything is done with it, I thought I would like to bring the thing to the attention of the Mayor and see if he cannot focus his attention upon it and, if it meets with his viewpoint the development of the land for playground purposes might be considered later.

The rule was suspended and the order was passed.

GRANOLITHIC SIDEWALKS, DORCHESTER.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Commissioners of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to inform the City Council if it is going to be possible this summer to put in granolithic sidewalks on Dorchester avenue, between Savin Hill avenue and Freeport street, Dorchester, and likewise the City Council know if he can and will have Pleasant street, resurfaced between Savin Hill avenue and Hancock street, Dorchester.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

PROHIBITION OF TRUCKS, ETC.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Street Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to consider the advisability of prohibiting all motor trucks or horse-drawn vehicles on Tremont street, between Boylston street and Scollay square, and on Boylston street, between Tremont street and Copley square, and on Washington street, between Boylston street and Dock square, between the hours of 11 a. m. to 5 p. m., unless the trucks or vehicles are actually receiving or delivering within the restricted area.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, an order similar to this was introduced in the Council, and I think was passed, some weeks ago. In the opinion of some of the order was a little less drastic, and any order, whether presented by myself or anybody else, can be amended, subject to future or more mature consideration. I have not advised the Council that order since it was passed by the body, but I gathered from what I read in the newspapers that the Mayor was looking somewhat in favor of the order as presented. I read, however, that the truckmen's association, an organization of truckmen in Boston, had waited on the Council, and had advised that the Council should not go into effect but that the truckmen's association was advising the members of the organization to keep out of Boylston, Washington and Tremont streets, unless they had business there. The chairman of the Street Commissioners, I think, here now stated when he was before the body that 75 per cent of the trucks now going through this area really have no business there. If we can eliminate the 75 per cent that have no business there, and permit anybody who has business there to go there, it would seem to me that we had accomplished something of worth while. The order I have presented is to meet with the suggestion made by the truckmen's association, that they would ask their drivers to keep out of these areas unless they have business there. Of course, that is merely a request made by the truckmen, and it is not a law. If it is not needed, if no attention is paid to it, it is a waste of time and effort to give utterance to it. As a matter of fact, that is the rule. The men have paid no attention to the request. It seems to me that if the Street Commission would make this a part of the city ordinance or regulations, in connection with the traffic rules, the traffic officers would see that it was enforced. I have shortened the hours, ten to five, as I am giving a little more leeway, and not shutting out trucks or vehicles actually receiving or delivering in the restricted area. They are permitted to go there when they have business there. This order, if it meets with the favorable consideration of the Street Commissioners and the Mayor, will result in carrying out the very thing that the truckmen themselves have tried to do, by the authority that they exercise over their keep. If, however, moral suasion will keep them out, I believe the Street Commissioners should make it a matter of law that they must stay out, unless they have business there. If they have business there, it is up to the traffic officers to let them go there.

Coun. LANE—Mr. President, I would like to ask the councilor opposite how the traffic officers are doing in keeping them out. They have business within those limits within those hours or not, unless he stops the truck or the horse-drawn vehicle, or until they get going. In some case the resulting congestion might perhaps be worse than it is now?

Coun. HAGAN—Some time ago, I think, the Street Commissioners attempted to check this abuse, and some good was accomplished. I am told that that was the case. I don't know whether it is right or not, but I have heard some commissioner so state, and I believe it did not have a bad effect. I will agree that if this were going on every month in the year, and if every truck attempting to go into the restricted area was to be held up by the traffic officers, it would be a nuisance and would be annoying to the officers. But it does seem to me that after such a law had been passed and had been in operation for some time or so, and the truckmen would become aware of the fact that they would be asked this question, and that they would meet the requirements of the law, that the duty in the matter was under the ordinance and would observe it, as they do today in the matter of one-way streets and otherwise. The traffic officers would not have to tell them after a short period of time. They would know that they had no business in the restricted area unless they were delivering or receiving commodities. If they have business there, they don't want to interfere with the progress of business. I have no desire to do anything that will impede traffic. I have a special interest in the business streets, not only of trucks but of passenger cars as well. It has become a very serious menace to the prosperity of the town.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. Mayor, I believe if the councilor on the other side is as sincere as he says he is, if he wants to get quick action, as a citizen of Boston, the best way for him to get quick action on the order is to file his application with the Street Commission. The Street Commissioners will then advertise and set a day for a hearing, which will result in quicker action than will be obtained by introducing orders of this kind into the City Council. Of course, by introducing or filing a petition to the Street Commissioners, you don't get on the front page, and by introducing orders here and having the reporters present you do get on the front page. If I remember aright, Monday morning the Post got a nice front page, the whole front page of the Post. If tomorrow is not a particularly busy day in the matter of news, may get the front page of the Post again tomorrow. I want to say, Mr. President, that I am going to vote against this order. I think, if we are going to do business in this town, we must have the business that is within our power. If any member of the Council desires to go outside of our duties and rights, let him go to the department and file a petition for what he desires. What are we going to do in this matter? Are you going to try to make a man who drives a truck and who accidentally gets into the wholesale and retail district, and who is to be expected to tell a lie, that it is there because he is going to deliver or receive within that area? If he is going to drive a team, a truck, or the chauffeur of a pleasure automobile, are entitled to some consideration. What does this mean? It means that this district is for those who the men who unfortunately drive teams and trucks in this district will have to work after six o'clock at night. The Street Commissioners are going to get into the matter of this order, and because we are either fortunate or unfortunate enough to be elected as members of this body we should not be considered as interfering in matters outside of our scope than any other citizen. If any other citizen had the same thing in mind that the councilor on the other side has, his mind would have to go to the Street Commission and file his petition. Because we have been elected to the Council, do we have any right than the individual citizen in matters that concern the Street Commission? Why should any of us employ the Mayor as a messenger boy to send orders to the Street Commission, a matter that concerns it? Why should we not go individually to them, the same as any citizen would go to them in a matter in which he was interested? Is there anything to make any brief for the Street Commissioners, and I intend to say nothing about the resolve that was made enough to go to the Street Commission closer to the Street Commissioners' office than any other member of this Board. But if I had a petition in mind that concerned the Street Commissioners, I could file it in the office of the Street Commissioners, and then I would have my individual fight with them if the thing did not go along as I thought it should. But I could not believe in introducing here such orders as this, which in my estimation do not mean a thing. Even if he got a favorable report from the Street Commissioners on the proposition, that does not mean that the Street Commissioners have got to go through with it. Some one would have to file a petition with the Street Commissioners, and the Street Commission, which had previously had petition to the Street Commission, have a public hearing on it, and then we can get the order that we desired.

Coun. MORIARTY—Do you think that if they are going to eliminate the trucks on these streets they should eliminate the pleasure cars that go over them every hour of the day? I don't think so. Let us take the pleasure cars off, also, if you are going to stop the trucks from going through the streets. I don't think it is interfering with the business district, it is going to injure the people who have voted for us as members of this Council, and I don't think it is interfering with the business that is done after hours. The cost of the order, if the order is to be high to be put on the ground, and I don't think it is possible to raise the prices of the retail stores located on the streets named in this order. But, of course, I suppose you can get the committee to raise the prices of this kind introduced here until after next December, and after the terms of Coun. Lane, Hagan and myself have expired, I suppose there will be three other members trying to get on the front page next year. I don't think it is about time that we stopped kidding the public which, in my opinion, is all that can be done by these orders which have been offered by the member, who should go directly to the department and receive his information direct from that department. I cannot understand why he should want to continue to kid the public by introducing these orders here and taking up our time.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, it is extremely difficult to please the gentleman opposite. There is no one who can do it, and the world who can accomplish that result. Therefore, you can see how hopeless it is for me to think of getting very far. The gentleman seems to lay considerable stress upon the fact that these orders are introduced for the sole purpose of getting on the front page of the newspapers. At every opportunity he springs that, as if it hurt. He seems to be rightfully jealous that I should get on the front page of the newspapers, but I am not at all jealous. I don't care how often he gets there. And let me assure the gentleman that the order was not presented so that it would get on the front page of the newspapers. I am not seeking publicity. I don't want any publicity other than what I am willing to pay for in the advertising columns of the newspapers. I am seeking publicity is concerned, if I were to seek re-election to the office of city councilor, the gentleman knows as well as I do that I need a good line of publicity for next December. If I were a candidate for the office, it is as good a bet as any human being can make in this town that I would be re-elected. I don't have the least shadow of doubt of that, myself. Therefore, I am not seeking publicity that that thought in mind, and I am sure the gentleman knows the sincerity that the order is presented in good faith, in order that we may try to do our little bit as servants of the people, for at the present time we have no interest whatever of being a candidate for the City Council next December. So I am not seeking publicity in that direction, and there is no need of elaborating my position. I am not a competitor of himself in seeking re-election to the body, as at the present moment I have no intention of being a candidate. Let me say, then, that the order is presented in good faith, and it is perfectly harmless in character. I have simply requested the Street Commissioners to consider the advantages of the order. I don't approve of it; perhaps they will not approve of it in any form. Perhaps they will agree with the gentleman opposite and they will mean to repeal the order to this body and that will be the end of it. But we will have done our part in trying to do something to relieve conditions. I am led to believe in taking the gentleman's argument, that he thinks the present condition a very happy one, one that ought to continue to time immemorial. I have seen those conditions in my mind when people tried to take the stage coaches off the streets of Boston and put on horse-drawn cars. They were advanced again when it was proposed to substitute electric cars for the horse cars, by people without vision people who had no wish to progress, people who wanted to let things alone as they always had been and to continue on in their old-fashioned way. But there happened to be some people in Boston with some thought of the future, looking beyond the immediate present, and immediately present is big enough to stir up every man in public life in the city today to do what he can to advance the situation. I don't know what I am trying to do, no matter what ulterior motives the gentleman may ascribe to my action.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. Chairman, the gentleman says that when he wants to get publicity he pays for it. Perhaps if he were not so good an advertiser, as he is, he could not get such front page write-ups. I don't think he is a very good advertiser. He is undoubtedly giving a lot more consideration than others. In so far as being satisfied with conditions I am concerned, I want to say that I have been very satisfied and am not satisfied with the tactics carried on by the honorable member on the other side. He has gotten away with it, and he is getting white. When he says, as he says, or not, is of course, for other people to believe. I don't believe him when he says that he is sincere. In this matter, I am sure he is in telling him in regard to not being a candidate next fall I think I heard him tell that story three years ago. I heard him say another man was going to fight for the office, and he was going to be a candidate, and then after the other man did take out papers, he was there twenty minutes later. He said that he was going to go down and know him at least, I think I do. I don't like to mention names, and I am not going to. Of course, as one of the members on the other side said, he has no intention of being a candidate now. Of course nobody has any intention now, but we all know what we will happen next December.

Coun. WATSON—We may be dead, then. Coun. MORIARTY—But do say again, if he is sincere, he will not be a candidate next up to the Street Commissioners, those who officially have charge of the matter, as to whether the order will be passed or not. Well, he speaks of people without vision. Well, the same people, the storekeepers along Tremont street, those who are interested in this matter, were the ones who got these orders. The tracks were taken off Tremont street. That was the position they took then. Today they want the trucks taken off, because they want to allow the pleasure cars to come there and stop, so that people riding in pleasure cars can do business in the retail stores. Of course, our honorable councilor runs a store in the retail district. He is a member of the retail board of the Chamber of Commerce. I believe the drivers are as much entitled to drive their trucks on Tremont street as persons from Brookline and other places are entitled to come there with their pleasure cars, just as much as people are entitled to come from Newton with their pleasure cars, and just as much as people from other surrounding cities and towns are entitled to come in here and drive their cars through the streets and park them. Go down on Charles street and see the parking situation. The gentleman says that I am opposed to trying to relieve traffic conditions, but he has been as keen on improvement of traffic conditions in the city as he is, but there are three men who under the charter have a right to attend to that sort of thing. One of them is paid $4,000, and the other two $3,500 each, and I believe they are the men to whom they should go. As I stated in my previous remarks, if we desire as individuals to have any traffic regulation we should go to the Street Commissioners and present a petition in that form, and if we have a petition, it will readily be granted to us. That is the way to get at the situation, instead of introducing orders in this body concerning matters with which we have no connection. The gentleman says that his order is a harmless one. Well, if it is a harmless order it cannot be any good. My cranium may be just as hard as steel as that of the councilor who could not understand the taxi rate situation, who was not so clear on the matter as the bright man with the vision on the other side of the Chamber. He says in public that he likes me. Of course, I can be kidded by some people, but not by him.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, this thing has resolved itself into one of two things. We either have sufficient power to compel the Street Commissioners to do something that we think ought to be done, or they are absolutely incompetent. If the Street Commissioners are incompetent and unable to cope with the transit and traffic situation in Boston, we ought to have the power to do so, if they are not doing their duty, that a resolution calling on the Mayor to remove them would be a proper thing, rather than to continue the introduction of orders of this nature. Other orders, just as ridiculous, are going to follow this order. I am going to vote against it. If the City Council and the business it is to handle such situations, do not see the necessity of remedying conditions on Washington and Tremont streets, I don't think any order passed or not passed will have any effect. I am going to vote against the order.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

LIGHTING OF FENWAY.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Street Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to provide a better night lighting system and to have the same installed from the Dental School to Westland avenue, and from Westland avenue to Peterboro street.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

PARKING OF CARS ON CHARLES STREET.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Street Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to issue a public official order to compel all who park cars on Charles street, on both sides of the street, to park closer to the next car, so as to permit of more cars being parked in that area, or to consider the advisability of erecting stake posts and chains to compel closer parking and use that parking space to full capacity.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, the Council some year or two ago asked the Park Commissioners to permit of parking on the Public Garden side of Charles street. That was allowed, and advantage was taken of it by the public. Later on a request was made to have the same thing done on the Common side. That also has been done. The result is that the entire area of Charles street on both sides, from Park street to Beacon street, is thickly filled with cars parking during the day time at the present time, showing the great need of parking space and showing how quickly the public will take advantage of the opportunity when it is offered. The public, however, are not careful in their use of the street for parking, permitting too great a space between the cars. In other words, a third more cars could be parked there than are parked there this afternoon. If there could be some measure adopted for the marking out of the space by the Park Commissioners, having stakes and ropes or chained off in some such way as their judgment might suggest, there would be sufficient area to park a much larger number of cars than are parked there at the present time.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I think the order is rather crudely drawn. In the first place, the Park Department has no authority over the highway on Charles street. The matter should come either to the Executive Commissioners or the Public Works Department, and I think it should be the Street Commissioners. Therefore, I hope the order will be referred to the Executive Committee. In the second place, if such an order is to go into effect money will have to be provided to handle it, and I think that also is a matter that should be considered.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

ACCEPTANCE OF CHAPTER 308.

Coun. HEALEY offered an order—That chapter 308 of the Acts of 1923, an act entitled "Relative to the Transfer of Certain Lands in East Boston from Park Department to the School Committee" of the City of Boston be and the same hereby is accepted.

Accompanying the order was copy of the act, as follows:

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
In the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-three.

An Act Relative to the Transfer of Certain Lands in East Boston from the Park Department to the School Committee of the City of Boston.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Section 1. The William Amerena playground, formerly Cottage street playground, and the Eagle Hill playground, formerly White street reservoir, in the East Boston district of the city of Boston, shall hereafter be devoted to school purposes and shall be under the control of the school committee of the city of Boston; provided that the school committee of said city appropriates the sum of fifty thousand dollars to be transferred to its park department to be used in acquiring or developing other land for parks or playgrounds in said East Boston district.

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon its acceptance by the mayor and city council and the school committee of the city of Boston.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

NAMING OF MAURICE RINES SQUARE.

Coun. HEALEY offered an order—That the space at the junction of Porter and Chelsea streets, East Boston, be named Maurice Rines Square in memory of said Rines who died in United States service during the World War and the said space be suitably marked with signs.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT OF MONEY TO FATHER OF HENRY C. GROTE.

Coun. MORIARTY offered an order—That the City Council of Boston favors legislation that the City of Boston be authorized to pay a sum of money to the father of Henry C. Grote.

Passed.

CLEVELAND CIRCLE.

Coun. WALSH offered the following:

City of Boston.
In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-three.

An Ordinance Concerning Cleveland Circle. Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Cleveland circle, Ward 25, being the junction of Chestnut Hill avenue, Beacon street and Sutherland road, is hereby placed under the care, control and custody of the park commissioners, and all rules, regulations or ordinances, now in force or hereafter adopted, relating to parks or parkways shall apply to said Cleveland circle.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

LIGHTING OF HARVARD AVENUE, BRIGHTON.

Coun. WALSH offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to locate and maintain street lights of the boulevard type on Harvard avenue, Brighton, from Commonwealth avenue to the Alton station.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENTS.

Notice was received of appointment of Thomas Allen as Art Commissioner and Thomas K. Reynolds as member of Board of Examiners, certified copies of same having been delivered to the Commissioners of Civil Service April 24, 1923.
Placed on file.

CONTROL OF PAISLEY PARK.

Coun. GILBODY offered an order—That control of Paisley park, Dorchester, be transferred from the Public Works Department to the Park Department.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

PAYMENT TO JOHN JOSEPH KELLEY.

Coun. MORIARTY offered the following: Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 277 of the Acts of 1923, the sum of $1,907.50 be allowed and paid, for the benefit of John Joseph Kelley, a minor, to John H. Kelley and Mary Kelley, his parents, upon either or both of said parents being duly appointed by law guardian or guardians of said minor; said sum being the unpaid balance of the total amount of the payment authorized by chapter 277 of the Acts of 1922, and to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

Chairman BRICKLEY called up unfinished business, No. 1, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 23, 1923, of William H. Kenney, John H. French, Robert B. Hopkins, Samuel C. Mandulstam and Paul V. DiCicco, to be Constables.

The question came on confirmation. Committee—Coun. Gilbody and Walsh. Whole number of ballot cast 9, yeas 1, and the appointments were confirmed.

RECESS TAKEN.

On motion of Coun. WATSON, the Council voted at 1:25 p. m., to take a recess subject to the call of the chair.

The Council reassembled in the Council Chamber at 5:45 p. m., and was called to order by Chairman HAGAN.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. WATSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted reports as follows:

1. Reports on petitions (severally referred today) for permits for children under fifteen years of age to appear at various places of amusement, viz.:

College of the Spoken Word, at Jordan Hall, May 7.

Miss M. Knowles, at Elizabeth Peabody Hall on evenings of May 2 and 4.

Nellie Ferguson, at Jordan Hall, May 23.

Mrs. M. S. Butler, at Mechanics Building, May 12.

Reports severally accepted; permits granted on the usual conditions.

2. Report on message from the Mayor and order (referred April 23) appropriating the sum of $33,000 from the income of the Parkman Fund for maintenance and improvement of the Common and parks—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, yeas 9, nays 0.

3. Report on communication from the Mayor and ordinance (referred April 16) concerning hours for closing Faneuil Hall market—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed.

4. Report on message of Mayor and orders (referred today) relative to erection of fire alarm signal station within limits of Back Bay Fens—that said order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed; yeas 7, nays 2.

Coun. Hagan and Lane voting nay.

5. Report on message of Mayor and orders (referred today) in regard to purchase of site and erection of police headquarters—that the same ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the question came on giving the order its first reading and passage.

Coun. HEALEY—Mr. President, I desire to go on record, of course, as in favor of building such a police station, but as against borrowing the money for it outside of the debt limit. I think the same ought to be a survey of the votes that the order is going to pass, and voting against it is like butting my head against a brick wall. I make this statement, therefore, putting myself on record against appropriating money for such a purpose outside the debt limit but not in opposition to the construction of such a police station or police headquarters.

The report was accepted and the order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 7, nays 2.

Coun. Hagan and Healey voting nay.

6. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today, April 23) that the sum of $560,000 be appropriated for making of highways—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted and said order given its first reading, yeas 9, nays 0. The order will come up for its second reading and passage in not less than fourteen days.

7. Report on order (referred today) that price schedule for taxis be revised—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

8. Report on order (referred today) that cars parked on Charles street be parked closer—that no further action is necessary.

Report accepted.

9. Report on order (referred today) that song "Dear Old Boston" be accepted as city's official song—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. WATSON moved a general reconsideration of all business transacted at the meeting today, hoping that the same would not prevail. Lost.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. BRICKLEY, at 5:52 p. m., to meet on Monday, May 7, at 2 o'clock p. m.

HIGH PRESSURE FIRE SERVICE, PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Work completed to February 1, 1922, including the old salt water fireboat line installed in 1898, a total of 116.3 miles, comprising 13,081 feet 12-inch and 28,808 feet 16-inch and 19,512 feet 20-inch pipe, with 310 hydrants, all of which are ready for use, being supplied by domestic high service at Tremont street, near West, from a 16-inch gated connection.

Total mileage of system to be 18.89, covering the business district in Ward 5 and a part of Ward 8; two pumping stations, located on Commercial street, corner Battery, and on Atlantic avenue, opposite Pearl street, are now in use.

Total loan appropriations authorized $1,000,000, all of which had been expended by 1920, when an additional appropriation of $300,000 (from Tax Levy) was provided for building pumping stations. After the expenditure of the latter, another loan, viz. $120,000, was issued in 1921 for completing the stations and other unfinished work.

SOME OF THE PURPOSES FOR WHICH THE CONVENTION IS TO BE HELD.

To renew the old-time foreign trading spirit in New England, and arouse manufacturers and merchants to the possibilities in foreign trade which the present and the future offer.

To demonstrate to manufacturers that exports can assure great and consistent profits, with advantages that extend over a long period of years.

To stimulate interest among manufacturers who have exportable products, but who are not exporting at present.

To show those who have been disappointed in obtaining profitable export business why they have failed, and how others have succeeded.

To acquaint foreign traders, and prospective foreign traders, with the services offered by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce and the Foreign Trade Bureau of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

To give the smaller manufacturer, as well as the larger, an opportunity to share in export business.

To give potential exporters, by conference and contact with export leaders, a practical introduction to foreign trade methods.

To pave the way for the National Foreign Trade Convention in Boston in 1924, should Boston's invitation be accepted.

To help keep New England's industries busy and prosperous.

To encourage New England manufacturers to ship their goods through New England ports.

THE HEIGHT OF BUILDINGS.

Governor Cox has appointed a commission of five members to consider and report immediately on the bill now before the Legislature providing for an increase from 125 to 155 feet in the limit of height of buildings in the City of Boston.

The Governor's commission is made up of Homer Loring, chairman of the State Commission on Administration and Finance; J. Lovell Little, president of the Boston Society of Architects; Frederic H. Fay, chairman of the Boston Planning Board; Police Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson, who was for several years Building Commissioner of this city, and John H. Mahony, the present Building Commissioner.

The Governor explains his position in a statement in which he says in part:

"I have returned House bill No. 1411, entitled 'An Act Relative to the Building Laws of the City of Boston,' to the General Court, recommending that it be amended to permit moving a few wooden structures within the building limits for which permits have already been granted. My action in doing so does not mean that I shall necessarily give my approval to the bill, if so amended.

"Since the bill reached my desk I have given it continuous study and have carefully read the large number of communications addressed to me.

"For some thirty years Boston has limited the height of buildings to 125 feet, in fact it was the first large city to fix such a limit. Some years ago the city was divided into building districts and from time to time several sections of the city have been especially restricted. There is a background of building regulations in Boston which have come as the result of investigation which is not true of other cities. I believe all the necessary data are available and that it is possible to have a study of the proposed legislation.

"The sentiment as it has come to me has been quite generally in favor of permitting a reasonable increase in the height of Boston buildings, provided that the area is properly defined and restricted. It is urged that such an increase will give impulse to new building. It is my belief that this may be done in a safe way with full protection of the interests of the city as a whole and that action may be taken this year."

BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED MAY 3 TO MAY 9.

PUBLIC LIBRARY ACTIVITIES
DURING APRIL.

Librarian Charles F. D. Belden has submitted to the Mayor the following report of activities for the Public Library for the month of April:

During the month there have been received and accessioned for the library 5,730 books; during the same period 5,702 have been ordered. In addition to the volumes 1,379 periodicals have been received and recorded. Gifts of 1,728 volumes and 767 serials were received during the month and acknowledged to 654 donors. Eight foreign invoices have been received, four from England, one from France, two from Germany, and one from Italy. Four auction catalogues and one sales catalogue have been examined.

Exhibitions.—During the month of April the following exhibitions were shown at the Central Library: (a.) Reproductions of drawing of old masters. (b.) Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, designs submitted in a poster competition. (c.) American Merchant Marine Library Association, competitive designs for a bookplate. (d.) McGreevy collection of baseball photographs. (e.) Original paintings for book illustrations by N. C. Wyeth accompanied by the library's collection of books illustrated by Mr. Wyeth and mounted plates of his paintings drawn from the picture collection. (f.) Shakespeare folios and quartos from the library's Shakespeare collection in commemoration of the three hundredth anniversary of the publication of the first folio. This year, for the first time, small exhibits have been held in the Children's Room at the Central Library of material sent on deposit from the Children's Museum.

The Central Library was visited by a group of seventy boys from the Miles Standish Prevocational School on April 6, and by the graduate class of the Simmons College Library School on April 26. Two groups from the Salem Normal School also visited the library. In each case the library and its activities were explained and then, under guidance of the various departments of the library were visited. An outline of the work of the Extension Service Committee was prepared for exhibit at the American Library Association's conference at Hot Springs. This exhibit consisted of twenty-one selected sheets including a full week of the calendar of free coming events. This calendar has been developing steadily under the devoted care of Mrs. Chamberlain, a volunteer worker, and has proved an important addition to the information service given by the library.

The outstanding events of the branch work during the past month have consisted of a detailed study of the registration in the different city wards, a study of the use of branch libraries by workers in factories throughout the city, the opening of an extension to the Roxbury Crossing Reading Room, and the circulation of 8,286 more books through the branches than during the corresponding month of last year.

Appended may be found the usual reports, lists of publications, copies of which are inclosed, and a list of the lectures and classes that occupied the Lecture Hall of the Central Library. Three meetings, one on a Thursday and two on Sunday afternoons were planned by the Conservation Bureau. While most attractive program was prepared for these meetings and a moving picture machine temporarily installed, the attendance was hardly sufficient to justify their continuance. Whether the advent of spring, outside attractions, the fact that the indoor lecture season had practically come to an end, had anything to do with the small attendance, it is difficult to state. It would be interesting to try out similar programs in the fall.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES F. BELDEN,
Librarian.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

MY DEAR MAYOR,—We deeply appreciate the sentiment of your letter to Mr. Lothian indorsing our Actors' Fund benefit given in Boston on the 27th of April.

It is most encouraging in our work to have a busy man of affairs like you take the time to express, and so cordially, his feelings toward our charity.

Gratefully yours,

OLIVER JONES,
Financial Secretary.

CELERY CONDEMNED.

Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, Commissioner of the Health Department, seized and destroyed two carloads of Florida celery consigned to the agent of the American Fruit Growers' Association in Boston and rejected by him.

The celery, in a wilted condition and becoming wormy, had been sprayed with arsenical oil. To some extent this chemical is poisonous, and was probably applied while the celery was growing in order to destroy parasites.

THE NATIONAL BANK TAX.

A largely attended hearing upon the validation of national bank taxes was held in the Gardner Auditorium at the State House before the Joint Ways and Means and the Taxation Committees upon the 8th instant.

Senator Walter E. McLean presided and there was a large attendance of the members of both the committees. The sentiment of all the speakers for the cities and towns was that some plan must be devised to validate the millions of dollars in bank taxes collected from the national banks since the passage of the state income tax law in 1916 and now claimed to be illegal and returnable to the banks.

Hon. John A. Sullivan, who is serving the City of Boston as special counsel in this matter, opened the speaking for the municipalities, briefly reviewing the history of the national bank tax and the present situation arising from the passage of the Massachusetts State income tax, affecting all other property except national bank shares, and giving opportunity for the present claim of illegal discrimination.

"When Mr. Sullivan had said that the tax on national bank shares had not been changed for fifty years "and no complaint had been made until recently," Chairman Shattuck of the House Committee on Ways and Means inquired if there ever had been cause for complaint in previous years, in view of the fact that up to 1917, when the state income tax went into effect, there had been no inequality in the taxes on the bank shares and other moneyed capital in competition with the banks. Mr. Sullivan admitted that this was true, but said he had mentioned the absence of previous protest against the system of taxing national bank shares merely to show that they "had grown to maturity and had prospered" under this tax.

"I want to say," said Mr. Sullivan, "that we do not concede that the First National Bank of Boston, which was first to start these proceedings, or any other of the banks have won their case. We shall continue to fight to the last ditch."

Mr. Sullivan said that his side claims an investor who buys securities for his own purposes is not a competitor with the national banks. The courts, he said, probably never would hold that individual investors' funds are "competing money capital" with national banks. Such alleged competition Mr. Sullivan characterized as a "fake." Mr. Jones, who buys and locks in his safe a $1,000 bond, is not a banker or investor in the sense of being in those businesses.

Congress, he said, intended to protect the banks against persons engaged in the banking business, and meant to read individual investors out of the law's effects.

Under the federal law, said Mr. Sullivan, the cities contend Congress gave the right to tax national banks by three methods: On the shares, on the bank's income or on the dividends. Mr. Sullivan said that Attorney-General Benton suggested taxing on the shares, although he did not recommend that course.

A deficit in public revenues will result unless the validation plan is adopted, said Mr. Sullivan, and the burden will fall on real estate owners. He said the Legislature will not pass a law increasing the state income tax on intangibles, so tangible property will suffer.

Private bankers, said Mr. Sullivan, do most of their business on "O. P."—other people's money—so would not be so hard hit as they claim, if the Curley bill is passed and the tax on "competing moneyed capital" is made retroactive. He said that private bankers also would be entitled to a refund for their payments under the state income tax since 1916.

Mr. Sullivan called attention to the fact that the money the Commonwealth will have to refund, unless the back taxes are validated so that they may be retained, will have to be put into the state tax, and will be collected from the municipalities in general and without regard to whether they all shared in the taxes collected from national banks since 1916.

Mr. Shattuck inquired whether Mr. Sullivan would be willing to state how he would differentiate between the capital the investment bankers use for investment and for banking. Mr. Sullivan said he did not believe money put into investments could rightly be claimed as competing capital from the national bank viewpoint.

Mr. Shattuck wanted to know if national banks have not in recent years been authorized to serve as trustees, make investments for estates and individuals. Mr. Sullivan said that this was true, but these features could not seriously be considered as banking. He said a bank might sell lobsters but would not by this act make selling lobsters a part of the banking business.

Edward Clark, town counsel of Framingham, who served in the municipalities case in Washington, said that the argument in favor of heavier taxes on J. P. Morgan & Co and Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and other great international bankers, if the national bank taxes were to be validated, greatly impressed Congress. This was because it was felt that these great banking houses had escaped with very small taxes, whereas many national banks, particularly some of the smaller ones, had been heavily taxed. The purpose of the Curley bill, said Mr. Clark, had faults, but on the whole was a good bill. The bill offered on behalf of the banks, he said, contained clauses which he considered unworkable and illegal, and, as a whole, the bill was intended to get around the wishes of Congress. "Preposterous," said Mr. Clark, in characterizing the bill offered by the banks.

Philip Nichols of Newton argued that the alleged discrimination brought about by the state income tax was "a pure legal fiction," claiming that, while there might appear to be some difference the net result was practically the same. He said national banks always had paid more taxes and should continue to be classed with real estate and other property which furnishes the great bulk of the tax income in this Commonwealth.

If bankers, public and private, are put in a class by themselves, he said, there will be no violation of the constitution. He would put private bankers and investors in the class with the national banks, for tax purposes. He admitted it would be very hard to draw the line as to where to tax some—or even some parts of the capital of some concerns and individuals under the state income law or the proposed law if such an idea prevailed. The witness was asked if he could suggest some definite plan to follow in framing a tax law that would let people know how they were to be taxed. He said he could not do this without due consideration.

William C. Mellich of Worcester said the city government of Worcester had requested him to favor a bill endeavoring to validate bank taxes and provide a future method of taxing national banks. He suggested the banks had put in a bill which goes the limit in the hope of later

"Do you approve of back taxing these people (private bankers) for six years?" asked Mr. Shattuck.

"No, sir," said Mr. Mellich, "I do not favor back taxing as a principle. But, in this case, I would favor it because we would have made an attempt to validate these national bank taxes."

Representatives of Cambridge, Brockton and Springfield recorded themselves in favor of the Mayor Curley bill or some other measure to validate the back taxes. Mr. Sullivan then read the names of several other municipalities that were for the Curley bill; Lawrence, Peabody, Everett, Fall River, Somerville, Quincy, Melrose, Malden, New Bedford, Lynn, also several towns.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ACTIVITIES.

Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn has submitted to the Mayor the following report of activities of the Fire Department for the month of May:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I submit below a report of the activities of the Fire Department for the month of April, 1923:

High pressure station No. 1 was in operation during the month for three hours and three minutes, the pumps having been started in response to eleven alarms.

High pressure station No. 2 was in operation during the month for twelve hours and ten minutes, the pumps having been started in response to thirteen alarms.

The department drill school for probationers for 1923 was organized and commenced on Wednesday, April 4, 1923. Two classes are held daily, one in the morning and one in the afternoon.

In accordance with a suggestion from your Honor an order was issued to the department regulating the speed of motor fire apparatus in the city. By this order the speed of apparatus in the congested sections of the city has been limited to twenty miles per hour, and in the outlying sections to twenty-five miles per hour.

Six new members were appointed to the department and assigned to companies to fill vacancies caused by deaths, retirements and promotions, thereby strengthening the fire fighting force.

A new form of permit for setting and increasing fires in the open air, i. e., for the burning of rubbish, etc., has been drawn up and issued. The new permit incorporates strict regulations governing these fires with a view to limiting and reducing the number of fires caused from this source.

Plans have been made to co-operate with the Clean-up Committee in the conduct of the Clean-up Campaign during the month of May. The regular inspection force has been augmented, and thorough inspections will be made of the yards, cellars, roofs and stairways of apartment houses, stores and dwelling houses of three or more families. By this co-operation on the part of the Fire Department it is hoped to cause the removal of considerable fire breeding and disease breeding rubbish and other material which has accumulated during the severe winter through which we have just passed.

On April 21, 1923, information was received at this office that apparatus and implements were being sold and manufactured in this city which could be used for incendiary fires, and, in fact, for the purpose of causing a conflagration. Through the vigilance of this department the manufacture and sale of these articles was traced to one Charles Blanford at 1413 Washington street, city. When sufficient information and evidence had been accumulated by this department the matter was reported to the Police Department and a warrant was obtained to search the premises and arrest any persons found violating the law. On April 24 police officers with two members of this department entered the premises No. 1413 Washington street, and found conditions which warranted the arrest of Charles Blanford, who later appeared in the Municipal Court and was held under bonds totaling $8,000 for further investigation. This office also had information that literature of an anarchistic nature was being disseminated from the same location.

Considerable literature was found on the premises which has aroused the interest of the Department of Justice officials who are giving their attention to the case. In my opinion the action of the Fire Department in this case has resulted in intercepting a business which, if allowed to continue, might result in serious consequences not only in Boston but throughout the country.

The Wire Division issued 1,478 permits for interior electrical construction, and thirty-eight grants for underground conduits were passed on and approved. Fees amounting to $5,227.55 were collected by the Wire Division during the past month. Three fires due to electrical causes were investigated.

During the month the repair shop mechanics performed 515 repair jobs on motor and horse-drawn apparatus in the shop, and the emergency crews performed 95 repair jobs outside the shop. The emergency crews responded to 431 calls.

In addition to the work on apparatus 450 miscellaneous jobs were performed by repair shop mechanics. There were 351 inspections of motor apparatus and equipment by the engineer of motor apparatus. The condition and maintenance of the various fire stations has been under constant supervision, and repairs, painting, etc., have been effected where needed.

During the month the department responded to 959 alarms of fire, 378 of which were box alarms, 559 still alarms, 21 automatic alarms, and 1 special call from Chelsea.

The various branches of the department have performed their duties in a satisfactory manner.

Yours very truly,

THEODORE A. GLYNN,
Fire Commissioner.

TREE PLANTING.

The Park Department planted 268 trees on Thursday, May 10, on Huntington avenue and other streets throughout the city. The type of tree to be used is the European linden. The reason for using this type is that it is practically immune from all insect pests, grows very rapidly, will stand considerable abuse and has a beautiful compact head. It is the best type of tree for street tree planting.

The pits have been prepared in the streets and the trees are all nursery grown from 14 to 20 feet high.

There is no reason why the streets upon which these trees are to be planted will not receive shade, and the residents will appreciate the beauty of same within a period of five years.

DEMOLITION OF BUILDINGS.

TYPHOID FEVER.—BE IMMUNIZED NOW.

By FRANCIS X. MAHONEY, M. D.,
Health Commissioner.

Typhoid fever has greatly decreased in prevalence in this part of the country, but it has by no means disappeared.

Moreover it has a way of appearing in the form of sudden local outbreaks which are decidedly disconcerting to health officials. A generation or two ago a considerable proportion of the adult population had had typhoid fever at some time in their lives and were consequently immune for that reason. Now we must consider practically the entire young adult population as susceptible.

Boston's typhoid fever is almost all imported. For some reason not yet satisfactorily explained cases apparently of local origin occur from time to time in association with the Italian population, but otherwise for many years there has been in almost every case a clear history of infection outside the city.

Imported cases appeared steadily in Boston all through last summer and autumn and are now beginning to appear again at a much earlier season of the year than is usual. In the meantime local outbreaks of typhoid fever are being reported here and there in New England as well as in other parts of the country and in Canada.

The Health Department's investigation of the cases of typhoid fever reported in the city serves constantly to emphasize the fact that typhoid fever still constitutes a real danger to anyone who has occasion to travel about even here in New England, whether for business or pleasure, and is a disease to which one is likely to find himself exposed when he least expects it. It is for reasons above mentioned that the Boston Health Department would urge everyone intending to leave the city during the year to get vaccinated against typhoid fever now and insure himself and his family against the financial loss and trouble which would result from an attack of the disease. The procedure is simple and inexpensive. It simply means three small hypodermic injections. It may mean feeling sick for a few hours after an injection or it may not result in any discomfort at all. It is not likely to cause one to feel sick enough to stop work. It means no open wound or sore to heal as in vaccination against smallpox. As two weeks should be allowed for the three injections, vaccination against typhoid fever cannot be left until just before one is ready to leave home. The time to vaccinate against typhoid fever to secure protection for this season is now.

UNEMPLOYMENT DECREASING.

The figures at the Public Employment Office Department of Labor and Industries, for the month of April make a very satisfactory showing. The number of people called for by employers was 2,154, an increase of 14 per cent over the previous month and the number of positions reported filled was 1,539, an increase of 11 per cent. The attendance of applicants for employment during the month was 21,241, an increase of 3 per cent was 21,241, an increase of 3 per cent over the previous month. A comparison with the business transacted in April a year ago shows an increase this year of 791, or 58 per cent, in the number of people wanted by employers, also an increase of 523, or 51 per cent, in the number of positions reported filled, while the attendance of applicants for employment decreased 5,435, or 23 per cent, from last year.

Although there were 11 per cent less service men visiting the office looking for employment than in March, our figures show an increase of 10 per cent in the number of positions reported filled. The attendance this month was 1,449 (975 soldiers, 474 sailors). Of this number 279 (182 soldiers, 97 sailors) were given introduction cards to firms and 191 (136 soldiers, 55 sailors) secured positions.

Males.—The business in the men's skilled department was principally in metal trades mechanics. Nearly every branch of that industry called for competent workmen especially in the machine shops. The supply which was good at the beginning of the month has been considerably reduced and some delay in securing competent men for positions resulted in a number of instances. The demand for building trade mechanics has been very slow with only occasional calls for painters, plumbers, carpenters and roofers, while the attendance of applicants for employment in these trades has been very small also. The printing industry has been fairly active. Orders were filled but with some delay in cases of compositors and pressfeeders. The demand for mechanics in shipbuilding, United States Arsenal and the Navy Yard, is and has been very heavy with only a small number of applicants.

The demand for able-bodied laborers for all kinds of work has been very heavy during the entire month with only a fair supply of applicants.

Females.—The demand for women workers in factories and workshops has fallen off considerably but the demand for summer hotel help has begun in earnest. The demand for waitresses in hotels and restaurants both in and out of the city has been very good with much difficulty in filling out-of-town jobs. There is a strong demand from the state institutions for attendants, nurses and culinary workers with a poor supply of suitable applicants. Housework girls are very scarce and the number of applicants does not begin to meet the demand. The office has done a good business on day workers, office and building cleaners. Culinary workers are in good demand with only a fair supply.

FIRE DEPARTMENT BUSY.

During the month of April there were 959 alarms, of which 378 were box alarms, 559 were still alarms, 21 were automatic alarms and one was a special call from the city of Chelsea. The estimated fire loss for the month was $320,000. This announcement was made by Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn in a report to the Mayor.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 283.

A trial board, consisting of Captains Watkins, Rooney and Kneeland, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Enoch Goldberg of Division 10, charging him with conduct unbecoming an officer and untruthfulness, reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which the said Patrolman Enoch Goldberg was on April 16, 1923, dismissed from the Police Department.

Due notice of such dismissal with the reasons therefor was duly and specifically given in writing on April 16, 1923, to the said Enoch Goldberg.

On the eighteenth day of April, 1923, the said Enoch Goldberg requested in writing a hearing as provided by the General Laws and the Police Commissioner set down Thursday, April 26, 1923, at eleven o'clock a. m., at the office of the Police Commissioner, as the time and place for said hearing and duly notified Enoch Goldberg.

Said Enoch Goldberg was present at said time and place with counsel and was heard with his witnesses, the said case being continued to and completed on Monday, April 30, 1923. Whereupon, after hearing the case, the Police Commissioner found the said Enoch Goldberg guilty as charged, and further found that the said Enoch Goldberg should stand dismissed from the Police Department of the City of Boston.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 284.

A Trial Board consisting of Captains Driscoll, Dailey and Mason, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Joseph Sullivan of Division 20, charging him with conduct unbecoming an officer, has reported to the commissioner a finding of not guilty. In accordance with which, it is hereby ordered that the complaint against the said Patrolman Joseph Sullivan be dismissed.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 285.

The rules for hawkers and peddlers, as established December 17, 1907, and amended to July 6, 1921, are hereby further amended in the first unnumbered section by striking out in the ninth line the words "board of aldermen," and inserting in place thereof "city council," and by striking out in the tenth line, the words "board of health" and inserting in place thereof "health department," so that as amended said unnumbered section will read as follows:

In accordance with the provisions of section 9, chapter 584, Acts of 1907, I hereby designate the streets, parts of streets, and sections of the city of Boston, wherein and not elsewhere in said city, it shall be lawful for hawkers and peddlers to stop or stand for the purpose of selling merchandise; provided, that such hawkers or peddlers carry on their business in conformity with the laws of the Commonwealth, the ordinances of the city, and the regulations of the city council and of the health department of the city of Boston not inconsistent with such laws or with the following rules hereby established under their authority.

Section 1 of said rules for hawkers and peddlers is hereby amended by striking out in the fifteenth and seventeenth lines the word "Eliot," and inserting in place thereof the word "Stuart," so that the same may read as follows:

1. For the purposes of these rules the area comprised within the following streets and squares and all others included within them as boundaries shall be called the "Business Section":

Haymarket square, Canal street, Causeway street, between Canal and Portland streets; Portland street, between Causeway and Chardon streets; Chardon street, Bowdoin square, Court street, Pemberton square, Somerset street, between Pemberton square and Ashburton place; Ashburton place, Bowdoin street, between Ashburton place and Beacon street; Beacon street, between Bowdoin and Park streets; Park street, Tremont street, between Park and Boylston streets; Boylston street, between Tremont and Dartmouth streets; Tremont street, between Boylston and Stuart streets; Stuart street, between Tremont and Washington streets; Washington street, between Stuart and Essex streets; Essex street, Atlantic avenue, between Essex and Clinton streets; Clinton street, between Atlantic avenue and Blackstone street; Blackstone street, between Clinton street and Haymarket square.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

TO CHECK AUTO PARKING.

Chairman John H. L. Noyes of the Street Commission is considering the question of prohibiting the parking of vehicles in the down-town district in the interest of the public.

For several months Chairman Noyes has made an intimate study of street conditions, with the aid of several assistants, and he declares that congestion is now at its height. Moreover business men of the retail and wholesale districts, Mr. Noyes finds, are fast awakening to the fact that radical measures must be adopted if business is to continue within its restricted territory.

"Parking in the business district is a most important consideration," Chairman Noyes declared. "A survey made by our office on April 16, between the hours of 11 a. m. and noon, showed 2,517 pleasure cars parked and 855 commercial vehicles in the district bounded by Boylston and Charles streets, Haymarket square and Atlantic avenue. Allowing seventy square feet for each car, we find a total of 236,040 square feet of street space thus occupied.

"This notation is particularly interesting if one reflects on the Mayor's highway widening and extension program submitted to the Legislature this year, at a total estimated expense of $18,500,000. If all that work had been authorized, a total of 240,000 square feet of highway would have been added to the space already in use, or slightly in excess of the space occupied by parking vehicles on the day the survey was made. If parking could be prevented we should gain a great amount of space just where space is needed for the convenient transaction of Boston's business.

"Another problem is that of the operation of the Union Freight Railroad. There is no doubt that the standing of these freight cars on Atlantic avenue has materially showed down traffic movement over a wide area. We are extremely hopeful that regulations can be framed so that the trouble will be stopped. If Atlantic avenue is made reasonably clear to general traffic it will be a great help in relieving the tension throughout the business district.

"Therefore we have three specific propositions. We must see to it that commercial vehicles keep off crowded highways, that Atlantic avenue is relieved of the Union Freight burden and that parking is eliminated. These considerations give us the remedy for downtown traffic congestion, and if they are adopted there will be no immediate need for thinking of eliminating pleasure vehicles from the district. They must be adopted sooner or later.

"The prospective widening of Cambridge and Court streets will materially help in the solving of this problem. With a 100-foot thoroughfare virtually from the heart of the business district to the Charles river there will be little excuse for commercial and pleasure vehicles taking the smaller and crowded highways.

"It is significant that all the men now studying traffic conditions in Boston for a scientific journal are of the unanimous opinion that the most important of all traffic remedies for Boston is the elimination of parking downtown."

MAYOR SENDS CONGRATULATIONS.

Mayor Curley Thursday evening telegraphed to Honorable John W. Davis, former Ambassador to England under the administration of President Wilson, requesting his congratulation and good wishes be extended to General and Mrs. Ballington Booth upon the occasion of the observance of the ceremonies incident to the twenty-seventh anniversary of the Volunteers of America at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York. Mayor Curley and former Ambassador Davis of West Virginia are old friends, having served in the 62d and 63d Congress together.

The telegram forwarded by Mayor Curley was as follows:

HON. JOHN W. DAVIS, Chairman, Twenty-Seventh Anniversary, Volunteers of America, Metropolitan Opera House, New York, N. Y.:

I pray you will extend to General and Mrs. Ballington Booth an assurance of my hearty congratulations upon the observance of the twenty-seventh anniversary of the Volunteers of America at the Metropolitan Opera House this evening. The service of the members of the Volunteers of America in Boston in the relief and prevention of human suffering, the extension of immediate aid to thousands of deserving persons, especially those who have met sudden and unexpected misfortunes, embraces the finest service to humanity that has been known in the history of our city. I rejoice in the splendid success that attends this worthy organization. The cause of the Volunteers of America deserves the undivided support of everyone who appreciates unselfish service in behalf of the unfortunate and I regret immeasurably that I cannot be with you and lend my voice in behalf of this righteous labor.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

LIBRARY EXHIBITIONS.

In the Exhibition Room of the Boston Public Library there may be seen during the engagement of the Moscow Art Theatre Company the recent series of etchings, "The Russian Players" by Bernhardt Wall, supplemented by a collection of photogravures and colored prints showing these distinguished and extraordinarily picturesque players in the repertory which they are now presenting in this city.

As a part of the world-wide celebration of the 100th birthday of "Home, Sweet Home," the exhibition at the Boston Public Library is of timely interest. If few songs have had such an interesting origin, still fewer in epitome so adequately present the story in pictures as this.

Here are assembled facsimiles of the original melody for which John Howard Payne wrote his immortal text; of the score of the opera "Clari" showing the musical score of Sir Henry Bishop; pictures of Maria Tree, who first sent the song on its winged way, and of other singers who have carried it over the wide world; Anna Bishop, Jenny Lind, Patti. Here is the libretto of the ballet pantomime which gave Payne the idea of his play. Composed by Milon, the first choreographer of his day, several of the characters are seen in costume, especially Bigottini, who created the part of Clari in the ballet and who is seen in her original costume. Pictures of Samuel Richardson whose novel, "Pamela," is believed to have been the origin of "Clari"; of Goldoni who dramatized it in Italian; an autograph manuscript of Farnelli's Pamela Maritata which Bishop and Milon may have known; a manuscript of Kreutzer, who wrote the music for Milon's ballet are included together with pictures of notable memorials to Payne.

A gracious tribute to the famous song was paid by the members of the library staff choristers who gathered on the main staircase at noon Tuesday and sang the familiar strains.

The original oil paintings of Mr. N. C. Wyeth, supplemented by many colored prints from books illustrated by this artist, are still to be seen. The pictures have attracted many visitors and it is hoped that many more will embrace the opportunity of seeing them before the exhibition closes on Monday next.

CLAIMS DISAPPROVED.

The Law Department has disapproved eighteen claims against the city, aggregating $5,692.46, classified as follows:

Against the Hospital Department, one, amounting to $44.46; against the Public Works Department, seventeen, amounting to $5,648.

MASSACHUSETTS CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

The Massachusetts Civil Service Commission announce examinations for desirable positions open in the Boston and Metropolitan districts as follows:

DENTISTS, May 16, 1923.

This examination is for the service of the state, all cities in the state, and such towns as are classified under civil service. From the eligible list established as a result of this examination, names will be certified to fill vacancies in institutions, schools, and other positions as they occur. The salaries range from $1,000 to $1,400 per year. There is a vacancy in the Northampton School Department at a salary of $85 a month.

Applicants are required to be registered to practice dentistry under the Board of Dental Examiners, Department of Civil Service and Registration.

The examination will consist of the filing of a statement of training and experience. The mark given on experience will be combined with the mark given applicants by the State Board of Dental Examiners, and an average will be taken to determine their standing on the list.

Successful applicants will also be given a physical examination.

GASFITTING INSPECTOR, BOSTON BUILDING DEPARTMENT, MAY 17, 1923.

The salary is $2,000 per year. According to section 5, chapter 265, Acts of 1897, inspectors shall be practical gasfitters, of at least five years' continued practical experience. Applicants should possess a gasfitter's license. The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 5; report, 1; practical questions, 4, total, 10.

In this examination applicants are required to obtain at least 65 per cent in training and experience in order to become eligible.

Successful applicants will be required to file a certificate from a reputable physician as to their physical fitness for the position.

PATHOLOGICAL TECHNICIAN (FEMALE), BOSTON INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT, LONG ISLAND HOSPITAL, MAY 23, 1923.

The salary is $800 per year and maintenance.

Applicants must be at least twenty-one years of age at the time of filing application. A certificate of date of birth must be filed with the application.

It is desirable that applicants hold an A. B., A. M., or B. S. degree. Preferably the major portion of this university work should have been in one of the allied medical branches, such as hygiene. Applicants should be competent to do pathological "tissue work" and prepare autopsy protocols from notes taken at autopsies, and should have some knowledge of X-ray laboratory work. It is desirable that applicants should have had at least three years' actual work in clinic-pathological, bacteriological, serological, or pathological laboratories.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 3; practical questions on the duties of the position, 2; total, 5.

Applicants are required to obtain at least 65 per cent in training and experience in order to become eligible.

Successful applicants will be required to file a certificate from a reputable physician as to their physical fitness for the position.

JANITORS, MAY 25, 1923.

This examination will be held for the service of the state and all cities and such towns in the state as are classified under civil service. There are several vacancies at the present time.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Experience, 5; special questions on the duties of the position, 5; total, 10. Applicants are required to obtain a mark of at least 50 per cent in practical questions. Successful applicants will also be given a physical examination.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

PROPOSALS FOR REPAIRING HULL OF FERRYBOAT "LIEUTENANT FLATTERY."

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, office 508 City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for repairing hull, etc., of ferryboat "Lieutenant Flattery." A bond will be required for doing the work of a surety company approved by the Commissioner in the sum of fifteen hundred ($1,500) dollars, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Forms of proposals may be obtained at Room 508, City Hall Annex, before 12 m. of Thursday, May 17, 1923, with a certified check for five hundred ($500) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.
Boston, May 10, 1923. (May 12.)

MAYOR'S TREE PLANTING ADDRESS.

BOSTON'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE DELIVERS ORATORICAL GEM
AT CEREMONIES AT LINCOLN MEMORIAL IN WASHINGTON.

The following brief address was made by the Hon. James M. Curley, Mayor of the City of Boston, at the tree-planting ceremonies at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, May 4, 1923.

The capital city of New England, Boston, has perpetuated in enduring bronze and stone the memory of the author of that sentiment which so aptly applies to him in whose honor we this day assemble—"A nation's greatness lies in men not acres; one master mind is worth a million hands."

The master mind whom we honor was one of the men whom in an hour of the world's travail the Almighty God designated as the instrument for the consummation of his mysterious designs.

America has ever been the object of divine favor, a constant factor in the divine scheme of human betterment. As in that darkest hour when we were most weak, He sent a Washington to lead us, so in the day when it seemed that the fruits of nearly nineteen centuries of struggle and sacrifice for human rights and the blessings of liberty and equality were about to be lost, He sent us a servant—Lincoln.

Lincoln, a man of sorrows! Lincoln, whose childhood typified poverty, whose boyhood incarnated privation! Lincoln, who until his young manhood, was never privileged to look within the covers of but six books! Lincoln, product of a rude cabin that had neither window nor door!

Lincoln, who united the North; who saved the nation without the loss of a state from the Union, or a star from the flag, and who emancipated a race!

At the base of this shrine, made possible by the love, the gratitude and the generosity of the great-hearted American people, Massachusetts humbly lays her offering.

Upon another occasion, Massachusetts, responsive to the call of Lincoln, gave of her sons. Today she gives that which God alone can create—a tree; for, as Joyce Kilmer the poet has said with beautiful humility:

Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

To you, O Lincoln, given by God to America, we plant here a memorial not fashioned by the hand of man, but one instinct with life and growth and beauty, that only God can create; one worthy of him through whose God-given leadership a nation was preserved and a race liberated. Down through the unborn years the breezes will whisper in the leafage of this our offering of trees, the praises of the martyred leader; and their graceful branches, swinging and swaying and reaching toward the sun will carry to high heaven our love and affection and gratitude for that Lincoln whose steadfast courage, unflinching patience and unconquerable charity, have made him the comfort of all who are heavy laden; and the hope and inspiration of them who work and walk in the shadow of oppression.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 12 the Mayor approved a contract with the Nicholas-Egan Company for furnishing finish hardware for the John Lathrop Motley School addition. A communication from Thomas P. Glynn, chairman of the Schoolhouse Commission, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 8, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR:—There was but one bid submitted to the Schoolhouse Commissioners and opened on May 1, in response to advertisement of the Board inserted in the City Record of April 21, 1923, for proposals for furnishing finish hardware required or necessary for the John Lathrop Motley School addition. This was from the Nicholas-Egan Company, in the sum of $1,848.93. The Nicholas-Egan Company has done considerable work for the department in the past, and its work has been satisfactory. The Board has therefore voted, subject to the approval of your Honor, to award the contract to Nichols-Egan Company, 7 Water street, in the sum of $1,848.93.

Respectfully yours,

THOMAS P. GLYNN, Chairman.

Incident to the award of the contract

Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department made the following statement:

"Permission is respectfully requested to award the contract to the Springfield Motor Sweeper Company for two of these street sweeping machines. This department originally advertised for four of these machines. The Commissioner of Public Works has decided that for the present two machines will be sufficient to meet the needs of his department. I have seen these machines in operation, with the Commissioner of Public Works, and feel that the best interest of the city will be served by awarding this contract as recommended."

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 11 the Mayor approved a contract with Thomas O'Connor & Co. to make alterations and repairs on the Dover Street Bath House. A communication from James B. Shea, chairman of the Park Commission, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 1, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—I ask your approval to let a contract for over $1,000 to Thomas O'Connor & Co., 218 Main street, Cambridge, to make alterations and repairs on the Dover Street Bath House. The amount involved is difficult to estimate, according to the report of the architects, O'Connell & Shaw.

It will be difficult to make a specific contract, and the urgent need for the use of the building is such that work should be started immediately. I recommend, therefore, that the work be done on a cost plus 10 per cent basis. This, I am advised by the architect, is the only way in which the work can be done intelligently.

Very respectfully yours,
JAMES B. SHEA, Chairman.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon May 11 the Mayor approved a contract with Bond Brothers for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 4, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Bond Brothers, 35 Revere street, Everett, Mass., is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,
JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 11 the Mayor approved a contract with Owen W. Flannery for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 8, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Owen W. Flannery, 25 Taylor street, Winthrop, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,
JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 11 the Mayor approved a contract with George M. Crowell for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 3, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to George M. Crowell, 28 Fairmount avenue, West Somerville, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 11 the Mayor approved a contract with M. Williams for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 3, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to M. Williams, 22 Wall street, city proper, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 11 the Mayor approved a contract with the White Construction Company for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 1, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to the White Construction Company, 166 Rosseter street, Dorchester, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 11 the Mayor approved a contract with D. McBride for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 11, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to D. McBride, 62 Jefferson street, Newton, Mass., is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 12 the Mayor approved a contract with B. F. Hanrahan for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works was as follows:

BOSTON, May 12, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to B. F. Hanrahan, 190 Paris street, East Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 12 the Mayor approved a contract with M. Setetto for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 10, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to M. Setetto, 3 Tremont row, city proper, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Water Service).

Upon May 14 the Mayor approved a contract with the Pitometer Company for conducting a waste water survey of the low service system in Brighton. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Department of Public Works was as follows:

BOSTON, May 3, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request authority to award a contract to the Pitometer Company, without inviting proposals therefor by advertisement, for conducting a waste water survey of the low service system in Brighton and the high service system in Hyde Park, Sections 10 and 12 of the Pitometer plan, completing the survey of Boston, at an estimated cost of $13,050.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 11 the Mayor approved a contract with the Linscott Motor Company for furnishing one Reo speed wagon equipped with express body, full canopy top, seats and back step. A communication from Frank P. Rock, Purchasing Agent, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 8, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Linscott Motor Company for furnishing one Reo speed wagon equipped with express body, full canopy top, seats and back step, at a price of $1,565 delivered at Stamford, Conn.

This truck is to be used in connection with the valve operating mechanism of the Payne Dean, Ltd., of Stamford, Conn., which the Water Service, Public Works Department, is now using, and as the attachment work will be done at the Stamford plant, we have secured a price f. o. b. Stamford, Conn.

Yours respectfully,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon May 11 the Mayor approved a contract with the Ingersoll Rand Company of New England for furnishing to the Public Works Department, Water Service, one Ingersoll Rand portable compressor mounted on Ford truck. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 11, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Ingersoll Rand Company of New England for furnishing to the Public Works Department, Water Service, one Ingersoll Rand portable compressor mounted on Ford truck for the sum of $2,883 complete.

This type of compressor is now being used successfully by various corporations in and around Boston, and I feel that the best interests of the city will be served by purchasing this type of compressor.

Trusting that the permission requested will be granted, I am,

Yours respectfully,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon May 11 the Mayor approved a contract with the Boston Buick Company for furnishing six 1923 four-cylinder Buick chassis equipped with inclosed cab with vestibule front. A communication from Frank P. Rock, Purchasing Agent, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 8, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without publicly advertising the same, to the Boston Buick Company for furnishing six 1923 four-cylinder Buick chassis equipped with inclosed cab with vestibule front at $960 each, $5,760; allowance on six Fords at $100 each, $600. Total amount of contract, $5,160.

These cars are to be used in the Sealer of Weights and Measures Department, and I feel that this make of machine, which this department has already standardized on, will best meet the needs of the department.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

Vozella & Capone have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for building sewerage works in Bowditch road, Cedarwood road and outlet in private land, West Roxbury. Items ordered: Pumping and water due to leak in water main and hydrant; labor on trench which caved in due to leak in hydrant; labor picking frost due to change in line of sewer trench to avoid water pipe—the estimated cost of extra work being $166.90.

The Frank E. Ross Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for masonry settings for new boilers at Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester, Mass. Items ordered: Put up drip pans; ground under column footings; corbel in walls on account of superheaters; change and increase brickwork on account of placing hand stokers—the estimated cost of extra work being $430.

The C. & R. Construction Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for laying high service pipes in South street, High street, Oliver street, Milk street, McKinley square. Items ordered: Labor cutting by acetylene torch and removing 300 linear feet steam heat pipe in Milk street; hauling and moving inspector's shanty; relocating 12-inch pipes in State street, at Custom House square, and at Milk and Oliver streets—the estimated cost of extra work being $325.

The Gibby Engineering Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for hand stokers for three 350 horse power Geary type water tube boilers for Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester, Mass. Items ordered: Furnish and place six cast-iron boxes and twelve shims for dead plate supports; plane dead plates; set dead plates and boxes and remove same and place in storage; remove gravel from ash pits—the estimated cost of extra work being $325.

A. Grande has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for laying and relaying water pipes in Billings street, Gould street, Hamilton street, La Grange street, Oakmere street, Potomac street, Prospect street and Yorktown street, West Roxbury. Items ordered: Place cradle under 16-inch water pipe in western avenue and under 10-inch water pipe in Everett street at agreed price of $10 each—the estimated cost of extra work being $20.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of contract made with the C. & R. Construction Company to complete the Christopher J. Lee locker building, 60 days.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Bridge Service).

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with the Boston Bridge Works, Inc., for rebuilding Cambridge Street Bridge, Allston, from December 30, 1922, to September 1, 1923. This extension is requested, owing to embargoes on material, the contractor having been unable to obtain the necessary steel until very recently.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with DeSisto Company for building sewerage works in River street, from Perkins avenue, about 360 feet northeast, Hyde Park, from May 1, 1923, to May 26, 1923. This extension is in addition to a previous extension making a total of 206 days, and is occasioned on account of the lateness of the open weather so that bituminous macadam pavement could not be laid.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with Petroleum Heating and Power Company for complete oil-burnt installation for sewerage pumping station at Calf Pasture, Dorchester, from April 1, 1923, to June 30, 1923 (sixty days). This extension is occasioned by waiting for the completion of boiler settings, piping, etc., by other contractors.

An extension of the time has been granted for completion of the contract made with John Guarino & Co. for building sewerage works in Public Alley No. 925, between Jersey and Kilmarnock streets, Roxbury, from April 2, 1923, to May 1, 1923 (twenty-nine days). This extension of time is occasioned by the shortage of labor.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of contract made with V. Barletta for constructing sewerage works in Allston street, Boulevard terrace and Commonwealth terrace, Brighton, from May 1, 1923, to May 15, 1923 (fourteen days). This extension is due to delay caused by weather conditions.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Water Service).

A further extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with Coffin Valve Company, Neponset, for assembling 8-inch, 10-inch and 12-inch gates, from May 1, to July 1, 1923. This request is asked because the contractor was delayed for necessary parts to assemble.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has approved, upon request of Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke, of the Public Works Department, the following construction work:

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch earthen pipe and a surface drain of 10-inch and 12-inch earthen pipe in Montana street, between Georgia street and Cheney street in the Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $3,584.

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch earthen pipe in Lincoln road, between Leslie street and a point 240 feet west, in the Dorchester district, at an estimated cost of $1,700.

MAYOR ENTERTAINS NOTED ZIONIST.

Mayor Curley, in behalf of the City of Boston, entertained distinguished company at breakfast in honor of Dr. Chaim Weizmann of Grodno, Russia, president of the world Zionist organization, noted scholar, scientist and statesman, who made researches in the study of chemistry which attracted international attention prior to his acceptance of the presidency of the greatest Jewish organization in the world.

Doctor Weizmann has recently returned from Palestine where an immense labor is being performed to make a permanent home for the Jewish people who in Europe for hundreds of years have been driven from pillar to post without a national home for members of the Jewish race.

Mayor Curley's breakfast was served in the salon of the Copley-Plaza, Wednesday morning, May 16 at 8.45 a. m.

Invitations were extended Boston leaders of the Zionist movement, as well as prominent military, naval and civic officials.

The Mayor delivered a brief address in behalf of the great movement for the establishment of a national home for Jews in Palestine and which has been indorsed by the greatest economic scholars of the world.

Guests at the head table were: Hon. James M. Curley, Dr. Chaim Weizmann, Hon. John D. McLaughlin, Superior Court; Col. Arthur T. Marix, commanding United States Marine Corps; Hon. Abraham C. Webber, Hon. Frederick Lawton, Superior Court; Hon. Marcus Morton, Superior Court; Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, Mr. Max Shoolman, Hon. Thomas C. O'Brien, Mr. Nathan H. Gordon, Judge David A. Lourie, Judge A. K. Cohen, Mr. Alexander Brin, Mr. Isaac Harris, Dr. Leon S. Medelia, Mr. Jacob Rabinowitz, Mr. Robert Silverman.

STREET WIDENING HEARING.

Mayor Curley addressed the hearing which the House Ways and Means Committee gave on the Cambridge and Court street widening matters at the State House upon the 16th instant.

All the testimony was in favor of immediate action by the Legislature in making possible this great street improvement, business organizations joining with city officials, and declaring the improvement imperative.

Mayor Curley declared he and the Street Commissioners had conferred and had agreed that Cambridge street should be one hundred feet wide all the way, thus amending the tentative plan which called for a ninety-six-foot widening for a block near North Russell street. This change would cost from $75,000 to $100,000. The Mayor pointed out that the present city and state authorities are only temporary agents of the public and that all that is accomplished today in public matters should look to the future. The street should be laid out regardless of cost, in view of the great benefit which would accrue to the city.

Mayor Curley discussed real estate values in the West End compared with those in South Boston. In the latter place there had been an increase of $30,000,000 in the last five years, while in the West End there had been absolute stagnation. Furthermore, the entire market and department store districts were feeling the blight which a large street artery to the north would relieve.

"I venture to say," the Mayor remarked, "that if a department store located in Park square, or even as far away as Massachusetts avenue, with such easy and adequate means of approach as those localities afford, the city's revenue from department-store property downtown would be seriously impaired. People want to go where they can go with reasonable comfort.

"Talk about pecuniary benefit to politicians or real estate speculators from the building of the street, why I don't know of any proposal of this kind that is purely altruistic in any city. But, so far as I know, nobody connected with the city's business, or anybody else, will benefit in dollars and cents by the land takings."

When Chairman Shattuck asked the Mayor if he had any objection to the submission of private land settlement cases to the Finance Commission before payments were made, the Mayor replied that he assumed the question was predicated on the settlements in the Stuart street improvement.

"Not at all," was the chairman's reply. "Well," said the Mayor, we had a reform administration in power when Stuart street was put through, notwithstanding the fact that the Finance Commission has the power under the statute to request the withholding of payments in all such cases, former Mayor Matthews was allowed to collect as land damages an amount of 50 per cent in excess of the assessed values. There was nothing for us to do with the disputed cases that held over, following the Matthews precedent, but to settle upon higher awards."

Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston warned the committee to go slow in casting insinuations at the city administration in any provision that it might incorporate in the bill. He admonished the committee to leave the executive authority of the city free to carry on business as the charter provided. Suggested amendment would be an unmerited rebuke. There could be no objection to the bill's stating a definite width for the street, and as for the participation of the City Planning Board it was perfectly agreeable.

Representing the Boston Chamber of Commerce Attorney Claude Allen told the committee that the West End improvement had been a crying need for many years, and, with the possible exception of Stuart street, constitutes the most important demand in his memory. He thought the street widening would offer a real solution to the traffic congestion, for it would not only serve the people to the north of Boston but offer a most convenient inlet and outlet for people of Watertown, Newton, Winchester, Woburn and other places. The Chamber of Commerce, he said, believes it to be unwise to postpone action. There was no objection to the City Planning Board idea, or as to the fixing of a definite width.

Repeating a conversation he had with the late City Engineer Jackson at the time the Cambridge Bridge was built in 1907, Daniel J. Kiley entered into a more or less elaborate discussion of traffic problems. He said Mr. Jackson asked: "Where are we going from here?" as he looked up Cambridge street, and suggested that the improvement be continued to Scollay square or to the North Station. "Mr. Jackson thought a street the width of the bridge should be constructed to Scollay square," Mr. Kiley said.

Corporation Counsel Sullivan directed the committee's attention to four sections in the city charter relating to the power of the Finance Commission to demand information as to the city's business, and he remarked that so far as he knew the requests had never been refused.

Brief remarks were made in favor of immediate action on the bill by George L. DeBlois representing the Boston Real Estate Exchange, who remarked that any amendment which would delay action was to be deplored; by W. Franklin Burnham, president of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange, who said that "the greatest safeguard that the committee might adopt is immediate enactment"; Alton E. Briggs, secretary of the Fruit and Produce Exchange, who reported the organization as unanimous in favor of the bill; Daniel P. Sweeney, for thirty-five years in the fruit business in the market district; William C. Codman, representing the Beacon Hill Associates, who told the committee that it need not fear settlements; F. E. Cabot, secretary of the Boston Board of Fire Underwriters, who said that his board is in favor of immediate action and Arthur T. Morley, secretary of the Kendall Square Manufacturers' Association.

CLAIMS.

The Mayor has approved, with the indorsement of the Corporation Counsel, the following claims:

Bertha Harvey, in the amount of $150, as compensation for personal injuries caused by fall on sidewalk near 8 Park street, caused by a defect and by snow and ice, December 22, 1922.

Alice H. Hancock, in the amount of $7, as compensation for damage to clothing and personal injuries caused by falling in mud where the water had washed filling away from water shut-off, October 23, 1922.

Margaret Doherty, in the amount of $200, as compensation for personal injuries caused by fall due to a hole in the street, March 19, 1922.

Bessie Lipman, in the amount of $150, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in sidewalk at 30 Lowell street, November 16, 1922.

Bertha Jacobson, in the amount of $110, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in sidewalk at 9 Compton street, November 14, 1922.

Agnes O'Connell, in the amount of $200, as compensation for personal injuries caused by defective sidewalk under bridge on Dorchester avenue, near Field's Corner, December 21, 1922.

Savoy Importing and Exporting Company, in the amount of $150, as compensation for damage to property and merchandise caused by break in Water Service pipe, December 9, 1922.

Nicholas Sacco, in the amount of $50, as compensation for personal injuries caused by defect in steps from Charter street to Commercial street, August 29, 1922.

Maurice Zeeman, in the amount of $75, as compensation for damage to automobile caused by hole in street in front of Beacon Theatre, February 10, 1923.

Max Bornstein, in the amount of $35, as compensation for damage to automobile caused by hole in Milford street, March 6, 1922.

Royal Jobbing Company, in the amount of $200, as compensation for damage to property caused by blocking of sewer and back flow into cellar at 100 Essex street, July 9 and 10, 1921.

Ida Spegal, in the amount of $200, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in street opposite 57 Leverett street, September 25, 1922.

Winifred Sinnott, in the amount of $60, as compensation for damage to realty caused by sewer back flow at 70 Bernard street, September 4, 1922.

Luther R. Harris, in the amount of $200, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in street at 70 Blackstone street, September 15, 1922.

Mary Blanchard, in the amount of $200, as compensation for personal injuries caused by hole in sidewalk at 122 Tremont street, August 28, 1922.

Alice L. Shields, in the amount of $300, as compensation for personal injuries caused by depression in sidewalk at 1106 Boylston street, March 4, 1922.

Myron Cronin, in the amount of $200, as compensation for personal injuries caused by bursting of water main at 2 Imrie road, Allston, May 20, 1922.

Joseph and Nora Joyce, in the amount of $200, as compensation for damage to property caused by filling in of vacant land adjoining said property, 1923.

Rose V. Hartnett, Emily A. Brady, Helen E. Brady, Arthur J. Brady and Walter H. Brady have accepted the sum of $8,831.25 as full payment for all damages to their estate on Chelsea street by the relocation of Chelsea street under the order of the Board of Street Commissioners of October 9, 1922.

Dora Smith, care of David Mancovitz, has accepted the sum of $7,771.80 as full payment for all damages to her estate on Chelsea street by the widening and construction of said street under the Street Commissioners order of October 9, 1922.

WILL DELIVER ORATION.

Mayor Curley has accepted an invitation to serve as Flag Day orator at Quincy, the exercises to be held June 14 in Alpha Hall at 8 p. m.

Quincy Lodge of Elks will be hosts to Mayor Curley.

It is expected that all of the fraternal and civic organizations within the jurisdiction of Quincy Lodge will be represented. The committee in charge, headed by Exalted Ruler Lawrence Trainer, has planned an attractive program.

BOOKS FOR SEAMEN.

Many contributions are being received at the Public Library according to the report of the American Merchant Marine Library Association.

To the Editor:

It is a very real satisfaction to report that over thirty-five thousand books and several tons of magazines have thus far been received at the Boston Public Library as a result of the recent book drive for the American Merchant Marine Library Association. The books for the most part have been carefully selected and constitute an exceptionally high-grade collection, a large number having been newly bought. Over three hundred cities and towns in Massachusetts have contributed to date, and books and periodicals continue to be received daily. Greater Boston has made a most creditable showing in spite of the many drives and rummage sales that depleted the number of books otherwise available.

The thanks of the association are especially due to the press and to the club women and librarians throughout the Commonwealth, to the leaders of the special drives in the suburbs of Boston and in the Back Bay, to Mrs. Margaret Deland in broadcasting the appeal, in which the Shepard Stores kindly assisted, and to Mr. Carl W. Shattuck, the efficient agent of the association for the Port of Boston.

The hope is expressed that suitable books and magazines may continue to be sent to the Boston Public Library, marked for the association, as the need for an interest in the sailor at sea is a continuing one. This note is sent as a means of answering many inquiries and to inform the numerous friends of the American Merchant Marine Library Association of the result of their generous work.

MRS. I. TUCKER BURR,
Chairman Book Drive Committee.
CHARLES F. D. BELDEN,
Chairman Boston Committee.

PRESENTS BATTALION COLORS.

In behalf of the City of Boston, Mayor Curley presented a set of the National colors to the Second Separate Battalion of Infantry, Massachusetts National Guard, in the South Armory, South End, Wednesday night, the 16th instant.

The Mayor praised the gallantry colored troops have shown on the field of battle, especially in the Civil and World Wars, and said they form an important and integral part of the military establishment of the United States, also that they can always be depended upon in times of need to sacrifice their personal interests to the welfare of the nation.

Maj. Thomas E. Morris of the battalion received the colors and thanked the Mayor. Following the presentation an exhibition drill was held. Capt. L. H. Hewitt was in command of Company A, Capt. W. H. Simmons of Company B, Capt. H. R. Gould of Company C and Capt. O. L. Hewitt of Company D.

FRANKLIN FOUNDATION.

The following officers were re-elected at the annual meeting of the Franklin Foundation:

President, Nathan Matthews; vice president, John A. Sullivan; secretary, Rev. Charles E. Park; treasurer, James J. Storrow.

THE NATIONAL BANK TAX CASE.

Mayor Curley again led the municipalities of the State at the session of the Legislative Committees on Ways and Means and Taxation, sitting jointly in the Gardner Auditorium, upon the 15th instant, and urged the joint committee to find some way to enact a bill that will validate the national bank taxes collected since January 1, 1917, and amounting to more than $14,000,000, in order to overcome the banks' claim that they were illegally assessed and a large part of this amount must be repaid.

The Mayor started the hearing for the cities and towns by declaring that while the new bill prepared by a subcommittee of the joint committees was along the line he favored, it failed by not providing for validating back taxes. To repay these back taxes in one year, he said, would bring the Boston tax rate up to $30. Real estate, already overburdened, the Mayor declared, would have still more to bear and he suggested that the load would be so heavy as to force the municipalities into the housing business, because private interests would not find it profitable.

Mayor Curley and most of the speakers who followed him during the presentation of the municipalities' side laid special emphasis on the need for settling the validation question before the Legislature adjourns, rather than leaving it to be taken up by a special recess committee, as was intimated might be the plan. The same old questions were raised as at previous sessions as to just where the line might be drawn in deciding who should be taxed as having "competing moneyed capital," the federal law specifying that all such capital must be taxed equally with national bank shares.

Mayor Curley who he was pleased to find the committee had provided a bill along the lines advocated by his side for a year but said it does not go far enough. He said a definite policy should be fixed for the future, also a plan for validation of taxes collected and distributed to the state, cities and towns since 1916.

There is no reason, said Mayor Curley, why real estate should bear the cost of government. Whenever opportunity offers, he said, invested capital seeks to shift the burden to real estate. After referring to the Boston City Council voting for building tenement houses with apartments to rent for around $35 a month, the Mayor said such tenements no longer are being constructed in this country. "What are you going to do to house the workers in the future?" inquired Mayor Curley. "Are you going to have them living in tents? Something must be done to provide suitable tenements for our workers."

"The bill drawn by the committee," Mayor Curley declared, "is a recognition of the principle that the whole should not be taxed for the benefit of the banks. A true principle of taxation is to tax according to ability to pay." He pointed to the Federal and other trust companies changing into national banks and said that did not look as if they felt the national bank tax was a hardship. The Mayor also called attention to the Fourth Atlantic National Bank calling a stockholders' meeting to approve a plan for a fifty per cent stock dividend, to increase the capital from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000, out of earnings.

No class of securities, said the Mayor, has proved so attractive as national bank stocks.

Chairman McLane said the committee had endeavored to secure a bill for a single year, then let the Legislature take up the matter again. The Mayor said he did not blame the committee for this course and that he felt sure if the committee's plan were adopted for one year it would be followed permanently. At the same time the Mayor asked that the committee take some step on validation of the back taxes in order to save the great burden that otherwise would fall on real estate owners. Even a small addition to the real estate tax would, he said, afford greedy landlords opportunity to jump rents far out of proportion.

House Chairman Shattuck wanted to know (referring to investment bankers) if the Mayor felt it fair to call upon them, after they had paid all that had been asked of them during the past six years, now to go back and to pay more for those years. The Mayor said he would answer by asking if Mr. Shattuck believed it fair to ask the overburdened real estate taxpayers to pay still more.

Mr. Shattuck asked if there was any limit to back taxing as a matter of justice. The Mayor said the only principle he recognized was justice and that he "felt the national banks should pay their fair share of the burden of government." Otherwise, the Mayor said, real estate would, in effect, be forced to pay back taxes.

"Either we're going to validate," said Mayor Curley, "or we're going to impose the burden of $14,300,000 on real estate."

John A. Sullivan, the special counsel for the City of Boston, said the bill suggested by the banks, in his opinion, was "both impracticable and illegal," and unfair. About $10,000,000 of the back taxes is in litigation and at least $9,000,000 of this would be involved by the time the case was fought out in the courts. The interest on these back taxes, said Mr. Sullivan, would amount to more than $1,000,000 in Boston alone.

"There is nothing in the question of validation," said Mr. Sullivan, "that is not as well understood today as it will be three of four months hence."

Mr. Sullivan said that Congress left to the states the means by which they should validate the back taxes on the national banks, having in mind back taxing private bankers whose capital competes with the national banks. He said the Massachusetts national banks had continued to prosper since 1916; some of their stocks have sold for two, three or four times their par value.

The First National of Boston, Mr. Sullivan said, was the most stubborn contender "against the public interest" in this tax matter, yet it had gained faster than the average in deposits—from $107,000,000 in 1917 to $154,000,000 in 1920, against $282,000,000 in 1917 and $331,000,000 in 1920 for all Boston National banks. The price of the First National's stock on the market in 1906 was $291, against a book value of $213, in 1913 the price was $485 and the book value $323, and in 1920 the market value was $340 and the book value was $246. "All of which," said Mr. Sullivan, "shows the bank is very prosperous." During the period covered by his figures the capital was twice increased—from $5,000,000 to $7,500,000, then from $7,500,000 to $15,000,000.

Mr. Sullivan said that no stockholder in a national bank had appeared before the committee to protest the proposed validation, which, he claimed, showed that the stockholders were well satisfied.

Philip Nichols of Newton, counsel for Fall River, claimed that it now rests with the Legislature to decide which classes of property shall be taxed on an income basis and which on a general property tax based on valuation. On this basis, he argued, the Legislature may now put moneyed capital back on the general property tax basis instead of the income basis, to which it was shifted under the state income tax which went into effect on January 1, 1917. National bank stocks are, as they have been for half a century taxed on the property tax basis. This would eliminate the inequality objection by the federal statutes, meant to safeguard national banks from unfair state taxes.

R. D. Danforth, representing Ipswich, said the "question of constitutionality is all poppycock" and declared that it will cost Ipswich $56,000, or $7.84 per capita, if the taxes have to be repaid.

Representatives of Swampscott, which would have to refund $122,000 without validation: Fair Haven, which would be forced to refund $20,000; Hingham, Waltham, Worcester, Methuen, Natick, Amesbury, Cambridge, Athol, Rockport, Orange, Danvers, Spencer, Wareham, Shirley, Ayer, New Bedford, Marion, Provincetown, Milford, Yarmouth, Somerville, were recorded in favor of either the committee's or the Curley bill and for validation of the back taxes.

Edward Clark, for Framingham, said there was no question before the Legislature that interests so many people throughout Massachusetts and urged that a validation measure be passed before adjournment some two weeks or more hence. Mr. Clark said he wanted the validation measure drawn by friends of the committee's bill.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Schoolhouse Commissioners for the taking of land by eminent domain, upon request of the Board of Street Commissioners to take the estate of Alice J. Whittemore on Florence street, West Roxbury district, adjoining the Florence School, containing approximately 27,892 square feet, in West Roxbury, bounded and described as follows:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Alice J. Whittemore, bounded:

North by Florence street, one hundred forty-three and 82-100 feet; northeast by land of the City of Boston (Florence School), one hundred eighty and 30-100 feet; southeast by land of the City of Boston, one hundred thirty-nine and 76-100 feet; and southwest by land supposed to belong to Murray, to Massachusetts Housing Corporation, DiGregorio et al., and to Cobligh, two hundred twenty and 36-100 feet; containing twenty-seven thousand eight hundred and ninety-two square feet, more or less.

Said parcel is shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Hawthorne Street and Poplar Street, West Roxbury, November 8, 1920, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

Voted, That this Board determines that the under-mentioned estate sustains damages by the taking made for school purposes on Florence street, West Roxbury district, under the order of the Board of even date herewith, in the amount hereinafter set against it, and awards said amount therefor.

Alice J. Whittemore, 27,892 square feet and buildings.....	$18,500

REPORT OF FRANKLIN FOUNDATION.

The Franklin Foundation, Boston, Mass.:

GENTLEMEN.—In accordance with Article III of the by-laws, I beg leave to submit the following report:

If each endowed school or public charity were obliged at stated intervals either to prove in terms of present-day needs and accomplishments its right to further existence and continued public support, or, failing this, to wind up its affairs, the result would be a smaller number of such institutions and an improvement in operation of those surviving the test. It is certainly fitting and beneficial for each institution, particularly those of long standing, to assume such a challenge and to state frankly the reasons for claiming a continuance of public confidence and loyalty.

The bequest which built the Franklin Union dates its beginning to the eighteenth century, the building and its purpose are products of the twentieth century. First opened to students in 1908, it is not too soon to take at least a partial inventory of results, to briefly analyze the field occupied, and to hazard a prediction as to the needs of the immediate future.

The objects of Franklin Union are, first, by its evening classes, to further train men (and women) already employed by supplying the necessary technical, industrial or engineering knowledge to supplement their daily work and thereby increase their efficiency and earning power; and second, by its day classes, to prepare those seventeen years of age and older to fit more readily into the increasing number of industrial openings which require technical skill.

The tangible results are the men receive increases in pay, are promoted to better jobs, are advanced from temporary to permanent positions, are made more efficient in their daily occupations, and, in some cases, are enabled to shift from misfit vocations to those congenial to temperament and talents. Employers are benefited by expert advice in working out engineering problems connected with their organizations. Students bring these difficulties to class, where an expert instructing staff direct their discussion and solution. Back of all and underlying all the training is the true democracy of adult classes, whether day or evening, the mutual helpfulness and interchange of ideas, and the contagious spirit of teachers who enjoy their work because they are making, first, men, and second, more skillful technicians, engineers or chemists.

The registration for the school year has been satisfactory as far as the quality of the students is concerned. In some subjects classes have been filled to capacity while in others larger numbers could be handled. This variation, particularly in the evening classes, is indicative of the conditions in local industries. The day classes have numbered six hundred eighty-five (685) disabled men from the United States Veterans' Bureau; seven (7) sent by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; two (2) disabled men sent by insurance companies and forty-eight (48) other day students—a total of seven hundred and forty-two (742) day students. The evening registration has been fourteen hundred and ninety-two (1,492) different individuals, making a total of both day and evening classes of twenty-two hundred and thirty-four (2,234) different students. Out of this number there are sixteen women.

Proof that Franklin Union is filling a definite need is shown most emphatically by the reception and co-operation which it has had in this the oldest educational center of the new world. There are daily evidences of team work with long established universities and engineering schools and with more recently organized technical institutes and state boards. Advice is interchanged on the purchase of equipment, unnecessary duplication of courses is avoided, and exchange visits of students are proving mutually beneficial. The same co-operation exists with industrial and operating companies, and with the various engineering and industrial groups whose enumeration would be too long for inclusion.

A glance at present industrial conditions shows conclusively that Franklin Union should not only continue its work but should expand to a reasonable extent its present courses of study. The replacement of manual work by machinery goes on daily. The design, construction and maintenance of new machinery is requiring supplemental technical knowledge on the part of many workers. There is an unprecedented introduction of engineering processes into long established industries. Manufacturing methods are undergoing constant improvement. Recent research has developed new lines of production, which require more exacting specifications. The industrial chemist has become a necessity, and soon there will be few plants without at least one employee versed in the chemistry of the particular product manufactured at that plant.

The field of training occupied by Franklin Union is not that of the public school preparatory school or college. It is larger than that filled by any of these. It deals with youth and young manhood of college age and older. The engineering college with its well defined courses of study occupies one corner of this zone, which may otherwise be termed the unstandardized field of training. The combined efforts of technical institutes, professional schools, corporation schools, evening classes and extension classes have thus far reached comparatively few young men and women of this age, the large majority of whom never see engineering college or university.

Engineering colleges render a definite service. Organized at the time of the Civil War, the policies are well crystallized and the courses of study standardized. They aim to turn out men trained to become engineers. To each engineer required by industry there are needed a large number of subordinate men, each with some knowledge of engineering. The colleges do not and cannot, to any extent, supply the subordinates. They are already loaded to the limit in grappling with these standardized four and five year courses. They often render valuable help by evening or extension courses and by popular lectures, but their staffs, equipment and traditions all center, and rightly so, around the highly trained engineer.

University and other extension courses are rendering practical assistance. These courses, however, are often short and are sometimes handicapped because, to some extent, limited to correspondence methods. Where local classes are possible, such instruction is usually restricted to classroom or lectures and does not generally offer practical laboratory work, which is invaluable in producing the best results.

The public schools can do but little in solving this problem. They must necessarily deal with large groups, and cannot give the individual attention required for specialized vocational training. Public evening classes in technical subjects are a real contribution, but public schools are built and equipped primarily to train children and are not adapted to adult needs. The methods and policy of the public school have always lagged far behind progress in industry. The public schools may be said to follow, but do not lead, while training for industry must keep pace with the times and must even anticipate the needs of the worker.

Leadership in this field falls to such technical institutes as Franklin Union, with instructing staffs drawn partly from the ranks of the leading manufacturing and operating companies and partly from among the highly trained engineers, with courses flexible enough to fit men of varied qualifications and to fit them into jobs of varied character, with instruction strong on laboratory practice, with classes limited sufficiently in size to insure efficient work, and with training that fits directly into the present industrial progression.

Changing industrial conditions soon made impossible the specific benefits which Franklin anticipated during the accumulation of his fund. It remained for those who administered his trust, over one hundred years later, to translate Franklin's final provisions into modern terms, and, as the late Richard Olney once said, "Through its evening and other vocational courses for day workers the Franklin Union is rendering that exact service and may thus claim to be doing just what Franklin would have desired to be done could he have anticipated the conditions we are today confronted with."

Additional maintenance funds would enable Franklin Union to organize permanent day courses extending over a single season of eight months for men seventeen years or over, which would enable them to enter directly such positions as junior draughtsmen in architectural or structural offices, or assistant chemists; courses which would lay the technical foundation for easy entrance into telephone work, electrical maintenance or automobile repair. Such courses would form an ideal connecting link from high school into the present complex industrial world, and would also prove a valuable help to those who have started work too early and realize the need of more training. The present Franklin Union day staff, which was recruited to train disabled men, is exceptionally suited to handle the proposed courses, both as to its personnel and organization. As the number of disabled men decreases, the disbanding of this organization will be inevitable unless funds are forthcoming sufficient to permit day tuition charges low enough to attract young men who would be prepared for the instruction. As a matter of positive social and economic value to the industrial community, the day teaching staff should be maintained intact and the present unequaled class and laboratory equipment at Franklin Union should be fully utilized throughout the day, as well as in the evening, in assisting young men into industry.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER B. RUSSELL,
Director.

TO RESURFACE STREET.

The Mayor, upon request of Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department, has granted permission to resurface with asphalt macadam and regulate Carruth street, from Ashmont street to Beaumont street, with division forces, without inviting proposals, the estimated cost being $2,000.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a taking of land for sewerage works in Stimson street, West Roxbury.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Margaret T. Hickey, bounded:

North by Stimson street, thirteen and 68-100 feet; east by land supposed to belong to Rose K. Kern and to Joseph Kern, two hundred forty and 50-100 feet; southwest by land hereinafter described as taken from Allendorff et al., sixteen and 72-100 feet; and west by other land of said Hickey, two hundred twenty-five and 43-100 feet: containing twenty-eight hundred and fifty-six square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Albert A. Allendorff, Elizabeth Maher and Gottlieb Karcher, bounded:

Northeast by land hereinafter described as taken from Hickey, sixteen and 72-100 feet; east by land supposed to belong to Joseph Kern, eighty-seven and 26-100 feet; southeast by land hereinafter described as taken from Kern, fourteen and 89-100 feet; and west by other land of said Allendorff et al., one hundred seven and 72-100 feet: containing eleven hundred seventy square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Joseph Kern, bounded:

Northwest by land hereinafter described as taken from Allendorff et al., fourteen and 89-100 feet; east by land supposed to belong to Kern, thirty-three and 78-100 feet; southwest by land hereinafter described as taken from Reichel, twenty and 27-100 feet; and west by land supposed to belong to Kern, eight and 63-100 feet: containing two hundred fifty-four square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Katherine Reichel, bounded:

Northeast by land hereinafter described as taken from Joseph Kern, and by land supposed to belong to Kern, ninety-three and 5-100 feet; southeast by land hereinafter described as taken from Zapf, twelve feet; southwest by other land of said Reichel, seventy-six and 71-100 feet; and west by the same, twenty and 27-100 feet: containing ten hundred and nineteen square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Richard Zapf, bounded:

Northeast by land supposed to belong to Kern, one hundred feet; southeast by land hereinafter described as taken from O'Leary et al., twelve feet; southwest by other land of said Zapf, one hundred feet; northwest by land hereinafter described as taken from Reichel, twelve feet; containing twelve hundred square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Daniel J. O'Leary and Theresa J. O'Leary, bounded:

Northwest by land hereinbefore described as taken from Zapfi, twelve feet; northeast by land supposed to belong to Kern, fifty feet; southeast by land hereinafter described as taken from Albrecht et al., twelve feet; southwest by other land of said O'Leary et al., fifty feet; and northwest by land hereinbefore described as taken from Zapfi, twelve feet: containing six hundred square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Conrad H. Albrecht and Martha L. Albrecht, bounded:

Northwest by land hereinbefore described as taken from O'Leary et al., twelve feet; northeast by land supposed to belong to Kern, forty-five and 78-100 feet; east by Grove street, five and 52-100 feet; southeast by land hereinafter described as taken from Cronin heirs, eight and 48-100 feet; and southwest by other land of said Albrecht et al., fifty feet: containing five hundred ninety-three square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Richard Cronin heirs, bounded:

Northwest by land hereinbefore described as taken from Albrecht et al., eight and 48-100 feet; east by Grove street, thirteen and 27-100 feet; and southwest by other land of said Cronin heirs, ten and 24-100 feet: containing forty-three square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 645 linear feet of 3-foot 3-inch and 2-foot 6-inch concrete surface drain, in the above described premises, being private land between Stimson street and Grove street.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

CALLS FOR SUGAR FASTING.

Mayor Curley issued the following proclamation on Monday, the 14th instant:

PROCLAMATION.

The speculative increase in the price of sugar is as unwarranted as wicked.

There is no shortage of sugar; the speculators in sugar are public enemies who are plundering the cupboards of rich and poor alike; but their greed falls heaviest on the poor and their families. The Federal Government has made a move to stop the plunder, but it is only a meaningless gesture, without vigor or intent to remedy the evil.

It is apparently useless to depend upon the Department of Justice; it is as helpless in this sugar crisis as in the coal question; and the people must take the action the government cannot or will not take.

Therefore, as Mayor of Boston, I ask the citizens of this city to refrain from the use of sugar entirely on each and every Wednesday hereafter until the unsold accumulations of sugar will compel the speculators and the banks upholding them to abandon their campaign of robbery.

The conscience of the sugar speculator is in his pocket; strike him there and compel him to adopt honesty or face bankruptcy.

JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

CHARTER COMMISSION.

Governor Cox signed upon the 15th instant the bill establishing a special commission to revise the charter of the City of Boston, which will report its recommended changes to the Legislature next year. Under the terms of the measure the commission will consist of thirteen members, two senators, five representatives, four to be appointed by the Governor and two to be appointed by the Mayor.

SCHOOL WALL REPAIRED.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Schoolhouse Commissioners to pay the bill of O'Sullivan & Co., contractors, $1,903.39, for repair of wall at the Comins School, done without contract.

This wall was found by the department to be in a condition dangerous to life and property, and it was therefore necessary to proceed immediately to repair it.

NEAR EAST RELIEF THANKS
MAYOR.

Mayor Curley has received the following letter from James A. Blyth, of the National Office of the Near East Relief:

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—I have just been able at this late date to get a somewhat sketchy report of the results of the great "Bundle Day" that has just been completed in Greater Boston, thanks to your wonderful co-operation. I will say that the Fire and Police Departments have co-operated in the most unselfish and gratifying manner. I personally have made the rounds and found that everyone was more than glad to co-operate in this needy cause.

Through your letter of introduction I was able to make Mr. George B. Johnson of R. H. White Company so enthusiastic that he turned over to us all the clearing house parcel delivery trucks to collect the many depositaries. Up to date we have over 120 tons of clothing in view, most of which is collected and is in the process of being baled at the Paine Furniture Company and Adalian Brothers Rug Company on Boylston street. We have secured through the courtesy of the Metropolitan Steamship Company free transportation to our army base in New York City. All this, Mr. Curley, is truly wonderful. It is twenty tons more than what we thought ought to come from Boston. I will say that in no other city, and I have been in many, have I received the wonderful co-operation I have in Boston. You set the ball rolling and are directly responsible for the great and wonderful success that we have achieved.

I want to thank you officially as representative of the National Office of the Near East Relief in New York and personally for the many courtesies you have shown me.

Most sincerely yours.

JAMES A. BLYTH,
National Office, Near East Relief.

LAND-TAKING IN ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Schoolhouse Commissioners for the taking of land by eminent domain, upon request of the Board of Street Commissioners, for school purposes, as follows:

The estate on the westerly side of Hemenway street, Roxbury district, supposed to belong to Ralph H. White, adjoining Public Alley No. 901, containing approximately 12,000 square feet, described as follows:

A parcel of land supposed to belong to Charles W. Rowell, bounded:

Northerly by Public Alley No. 901; easterly by Hemenway street, one hundred twenty-five feet; southerly by land of the City of Boston (Back Bay Fens), ninety-six feet; westerly by land of the City of Boston (Back Bay Fens) and land supposed to belong to John L. Grandin, one hundred twenty-five feet, more or less.

Said parcel is shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Hemenway street, Roxbury, April 16, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street-Laying-Out Department," on file in the office of said department.

The Board determines that the under-mentioned estate sustains damages by the taking made for school purposes on the westerly side of Hemenway street, Roxbury district, under the order of the Board, in the amount hereinafter set against it, and awards said amount therefor.

	Amount.

LAND-TAKING IN ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Schoolhouse Commissioners for a taking of land by eminent domain, upon request of the Board of Street Commissioners, to take for school purposes the estate now or formerly of John D. Williams and Moses Williams, trustees, on the northwesterly side of Warren street and the southwesterly side of Townsend street, and land, owners unknown, known as Harrihof street, between Humboldt avenue and Warren street, Roxbury district, described as follows:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to John D. Williams et al., trustees under will of David W. Williams, bounded:

Easterly by Warren street, by two measurements, one hundred thirteen and 7-100 feet, and two hundred six and 4-100 feet southwesterly by the northerly line of Harrihof street, eight hundred seventy-two and 14-100 feet; westerly by land supposed to belong to Nathan Block and Benion Moskow, one hundred ten feet; northerly by land supposed to belong to Max Simons and Annie R. Somers, one hundred twenty feet; again westerly by land supposed to belong to Annie R. Somers, one hundred ten and 14-100 feet; again northwesterly by Townsend street, seven and 25-100 feet; northwesterly by Townsend street, by two measurements, one hundred fifteen and 86-100 feet on a curve of one hundred and ninety feet radius, and by a straight line one hundred thirty-seven and 83-100 feet; again northerly by Townsend street, twenty-eight and 29-100 feet on a curve of fifty feet radius, and by a straight line four hundred sixty-eight and 35-100 feet; northeasterly by Townsend street, fifteen and 36-100 feet on a curve of ten feet radius; containing two hundred forty-one thousand four hundred and eighty square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to person or persons unknown, bounded:

Northerly by the northerly line of Harrihof street, nine hundred seventy-six and 39-100 feet; easterly by Warren street, forty and 4-100 feet; southerly by the southerly line of Harrihof street, nine hundred eighty-two and 42-100 feet; westerly by Humboldt avenue, forty and 22-100 feet; containing thirty-nine thousand one hundred seventy-three square feet, more or less.

This parcel is taken with the reservation to the owners, their heirs and assigns, of the land abutting thereon to use said land in accordance with their legal rights.

Said parcels are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Warren Street, Townsend Street, Harrihof Street, Roxbury, January 19, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

That this Board determines that the undermentioned estates sustain damages by the taking made for school purposes on the northwesterly side of Warren street and the southwesterly side of Townsend street, and on Harrihof street, between Humboldt avenue and Warren street, Roxbury district, under the order of the Board of even date herewith, in the amount hereinafter set against them, and awards said amount therefor.

BOSTON AIRSHIP HOME BASE.

The Mayor has sent the following communication to the Secretary of the Navy:

Boston, May 14, 1923.

HON. EDWIN DENBY, Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D. C.

DEAR MR. DENBY,—I beg to advise that Prof. Edward P. Warner, chairman of the Municipal Air Board, and associated with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is very desirous that the aircraft carrier "Langley," the first ship of this type built by the United States Navy, may have Boston as her home base.

The opening of the air port will make it easily possible to use this landing field for the navy airplane, while the harbor facilities and the waters of Massachusetts Bay are open for the service of the carrier.

Experts who have made careful inquiry in this matter declare there is no locality known in New England that provides better opportunity from a field placed very close to a navy yard and open water.

With the air port soon to be opened, the City of Boston is now anxious to see it utilized to the utmost, and I sincerely trust that, after due consideration and review, your approval may be secured in behalf of the making the City of Boston the home base for the "Langley."

I sincerely trust that, before the final decision is made in this case, Boston may have opportunity to further present her claims in this regard.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR REPLIES TO FINANCE COMMISSION.

Mayor Curley sent the following reply to the Finance Commission on the 11th instant:

HON. MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN, Chairman, Finance Commission, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your report this day and regret to find that it is simply a re-hash of three previous reports submitted by your commission and contains, in the opinion of the Public Works Commissioner, no information of value in connection with the construction of highways.

As pointed out to your Board under date of April 30, I have absolute confidence in the judgment of the Public Works Commissioner and the Park Commission in the conduct of the activities of their departments and their abilities to determine the character of construction which is best for the City of Boston.

Upon bids opened April 25, 1923, the Commissioner of Public Works recommended the award of contract to the S. J. Tomasello Company, the second lowest bidder, for the reason that in his opinion work performed by the Rowe Contracting Company, the lowest bidder, during the administration of my predecessor was unsatisfactory. I have examined the work in question and while I admit that my knowledge of road construction is extremely meagre, perhaps on a par with the engineer of your commission, Mr. Emerson, yet, nevertheless, the construction of the greater portion of Centre street, from Montebello road to the Parkway, represents an absolute steal on the part of the contracting company. In fact the work is of such inferior character that regardless of the bids submitted by the company in question it is not my purpose to approve an award to that company in future.

The award by the Park Department for bitulithic pavement on Commonwealth avenue at an advance of $397 in excess of the price submitted by the lowest bidder has my hearty approval for the reason that the bitulithic road constructed by the Warren Brothers, to whom the award has been made, on Columbia road and on Commonwealth avenue, from Massachusetts avenue to Arlington street, both of which have been subject to continuous traffic, is such that in a period of more than seven years it has been unnecessary to spend a single dollar for maintenance.

The Public Works Commissioner informs me that the "Warrenite" bitulithic type of pavement laid during the past five years is generally acknowledged to be superior to the older type laid prior to 1918.

I am further informed by the Commissioner of Public Works that the Warren Brothers pavement laid during the administration of my predecessor escaped any criticism and that despite the photographs which your commission has submitted, the total of road surface it has been necessary to repair has been $\frac{1}{10}$ of 1 per cent and this applies to all streets upon which the five-year guarantee is still in force.

Boston has had sufficient experience with fly-by-night contractors and has lost too much through them. Dorchester has suffered materially during the last winter because of an award made a year ago on the collection of ashes and garbage which was $35,000 below the amount paid during the preceding year.

It was necessary for the city, at an expense of $39,000 and the bonding company at an expense of $18,000, to complete the work which the low bidder contractor was financially unable to complete.

The experience of the city with the Holbrook Company, the lowest bidder for construction on Dudley street, where the contractor failed because of inability to perform the work at the price submitted by him, the failure of the Bermudez Company to complete work awarded the company upon Prince and Salem streets, not only retard the progress of work in the Public Works Department but makes it essential as a matter of sound business policy to award contracts to concerns of standing and whose work has proven satisfactory, regardless of the pin sticking proclivities of your commission or the desire of the consulting engineer of the Finance Commission that favored contractors in whom he may be personally interested be given consideration.

The recent winter, in the opinion of well informed citizens, has been the most severe in a half century. Yet despite this fact, it has been necessary to replace but thirty yards out of a total of 42,000 yards of bitulithic pavement laid on Blue Hill avenue.

I am forwarding you a few photographs taken by the Public Works Department of "Topeka" paving, long favored by the engineer of your commission, so that your photographic files may be complete.

I beg to state further that some forty streets, laid by the Bermudez Company under the administration of my predecessor and upon which the guarantee is still in force, are today in need of repairs. The Public Works Commissioner is experiencing difficulty in inducing early action by the bonding companies. This is an example of the fallacy of awarding to either low or irresponsible bidders.

The Warrens have been in the road construction business for nearly a half century and so far as I have been able to ascertain have never defaulted upon a guarantee or other obligation.

My experience as Mayor convinces me that it is neither economical nor is it good business to award contracts either for inferior materials or to irresponsible concerns, despite the fact that they may be the lowest bidders and, regardless, of the position which your commission takes upon this matter, it is not my purpose to alter my views.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

REPORT ON BINET SCHOOLS.

Miss Ada M. Fitts, director of special classes, Boston School Department, has made the following report to the School Committee on her recent visit to the Binet Schools in Newark:

Boston, May 4, 1923.

MR. JEREMIAH E. BURKE, Superintendent of Public Schools, Boston, Mass.

MY DEAR MR. BURKE,—I herewith present my report on my recent visit to the Binet Schools in Newark, N. J.

The director of the Newark classes speaks of the aim of these schools as twofold: "First, to train the backward child better how to live, and second, to train him to be, if not of great usefulness, at least less of an economic burden on society than he would have been without this special training."

There are in Newark four Binet Schools, housing twenty-six classes and also two classes each in two regular graded school buildings. I visited eighteen of the thirty classes and found them organized as "low grade," "departmental" and "trade" classes.

In the low grade classes the children are chronologically from seven to fourteen years and mentally from five to six years.

The mental age is not the only factor that enters into the grading—manual ability, length of time in school, behavior and probability of improvement are also considered. When a child is ready for promotion he is placed in the departmental group, but if after a reasonable trial he is unable to make progress he is excused from further attendance in school and the teacher co-operates with the parents in getting the child cared for in an institution. If the parents refuse to do this the child remains at home.

In the departmental classes the pupils are carefully graded as follows: In the first and second classes are the children who are five to seven years old mentally and from eight to thirteen years chronologically; in the third and fourth classes are the pupils who are six to eight years mentally and nine to fourteen years chronologically. As they complete the departmental work they are placed in trade classes where the work is especially adapted to their needs for adult life.

One is impressed by the adequate equipment to carry out the aim in view. The buildings are comparatively modern and are provided with a kitchen having equipment for cooking and laundry work. Here the noon lunch for all who wish to remain is prepared by the children, and the 6 cents paid covers the cost of the food. This work gives the girls the best possible training for after-life. There is a gymnasium which is also used as an assembly room. The industrial rooms have large looms, sewing machines, work benches, materials for cane seating, brushmaking and the usual manual activities. There are academic rooms furnished with tables and chairs instead of the usual school furniture. Running water, both hot and cold, is in such rooms.

Newark has a carefully formulated plan for the education of its backward children. In order to determine his ability, the child is carefully tested so that the teachers may know what is possible in the way of training, the curriculum gives suggestions for the necessary academic, manual and physical work, and through the efforts of a corps of excellent teachers each child is given the instruction which is suitable for his mental attainments.

I greatly appreciate the opportunity that was given me to see the excellent work being done at Newark.

Very truly yours,

ADA M. FITTS,
Director of Special Classes.

ACCEPTS MAYOR'S INVITATION.

Mayor Curley received the following telegram Tuesday:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

Am pleased to advise that the Executive Committee of the National Foreign Trade Council has decided to hold their next convention in Boston in the latter part of May, 1924. This gathering of manufacturers, bankers and business men interested in foreign trade should prove of great benefit to the Port of Boston as well as to New England business generally, as it will draw the advantages of the Port of Boston to the immediate attention of the two thousand or more delegates who will be in attendance from all parts of the country.

JAMES A. FARRELL.

MASSACHUSETTS CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

The Massachusetts Civil Service Commission announce examinations for desirable positions open in the Boston and Metropolitan districts as follows:

Successful applicants will be required to file a certificate from a reputable physician as to their physical fitness for the position.

VISITOR (MALE), DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WELFARE, JUNE 1, 1923.

The salary is $2,000 per year. This position is for a visitor to city and town planning boards. The duties of the department are given in General Laws, chapter 121, sections 23 and 26, that is, to investigate defective housing, the evils resulting therefrom and the work being done in the Commonwealth and elsewhere to remedy them, to study the operation of building laws and laws relating to tenement houses, encourage the creation of local planning boards, gather information relating to town planning for the use of such boards, etc. Applicants should be familiar with the technical details of housing as to safety of construction, sanitation, light and ventilation, and over-crowding, and should be familiar with the state laws and model building regulations concerning the subject of housing. In regard to town planning the visitor should be familiar with the principles of zoning, lot subdivision, street planning, traffic provisions, park and playground necessities, and schoolhouse location. He should be familiar with the best examples of town planning especially in Massachusetts, and of the kind of survey which has recently been made for Newton and Fall River.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 4; practical questions on the duties of the position, 3; personality and fitness, as determined by an oral interview, 3; total, 10.

Applicants will be required to obtain a mark of at least 65 per cent in training and experience and in the oral interview, and at least 50 per cent on practical questions to become eligible.

Successful applicants will be required to file a certificate from a reputable physician as to their physical fitness for the position.

STATIONARY ENGINEERS, STATIONARY FIREMEN, MARINE ENGINEERS, MARINE FIREMEN, AND OILERS, JUNE 1, 1923.

This examination will be held for the service of the state and all cities and such towns in the state as are classified under civil service.

The examination for each kind of position will include a statement of training and experience, a physical examination, and the possession of a license, either (a) as first, second, or third class stationary engineer; (b) as first or second class stationary fireman; (c) as chief, first assistant or second assistant marine engineer. Oilers and marine firemen are not required to have a license.

The date given above is not the actual examination date, but the date on which, as nearly as possible, applicants who have filed applications will be given a physical examination.

ASSISTANT OPERATOR, FIRE DEPARTMENT, JUNE 4, 1923.

The salary is $1,400 per year.

Applicants must be not less than twenty-two nor over thirty-five years of age at the time of filing application.

A certificate of date of birth must be filed with the application.

Applicants should know the Morse code and be able to transmit and receive messages at the rate of twelve to fifteen words a minute; should know the definition of common electrical terms and at least the primary principles of elementary electricity. It is desirable that they be familiar with the different parts of Boston geographically.

The subjects of examination with their respective weights will be as follows: Training and experience, 4; special questions on common electrical terms and elementary electricity, 3; practical tests in telegraphy, 3; total, 10.

Successful applicants will also be given a physical examination.

RODMEN, JUNE 5, 1923.

(In the Service of the State, all Cities, and such Towns as are Classified under Civil Service.)

Rodmen are in Grade A of the civil engineering classification. The salary is not less than $720 nor more than $1,200 a year.

General Order No. 38.

1. ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

The family of the late Rev. Dennis J. Lynch has asked the Fire Commissioner to extend to all the members of this department its sincere thanks and appreciation for the attention and tributes paid to Father Lynch in his illness and in his death. Father Lynch's sister has informed the Fire Commissioner that the open manifestation of love and esteem in which he was held by the members of the Fire Department will ever be remembered by those near and dear to him.

The Fire Commissioner also wishes to thank the men for the splendid manner in which they responded to the invitation to participate in the funeral services for Father Lynch. Not only was the demonstration of love and respect commented upon by countless citizens, but the clergy of the archdiocese were impressed with the outward display of genuine sympathy and affection on the part of the members of this department who loved Father Lynch no less than he loved them.

II. MOTOR APPARATUS.

On May 5, 1923, tractor-drawn steam fire engine No. 122 T. was placed in service in the quarters of Engine Company 8. Tractor-drawn engine 105 T. was placed in reserve at the quarters of Engine Company 8.

III. DRILL SCHOOL.

A session of the Department Drill School for probationary members of the department will commence on Monday, May 14, 1923. There will be one session of the school. The school will be in command of Lieut. Daniel W. Baker, executive officer of the Fire College and drill master. He will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

Company commanders will have the following-named men report to the drill master, at the quarters of Water Tower 2, Bristol street, at 10 a. m., Monday, May 14, 1923, and at such other times as the drill master may direct:

William F. Walsh, Engine 53; Joachim J. Testa, Engine 34; William J. Condon, Engine 17; Frank A. Doyle, Ladder 25; Thomas J. Clark, Engine 5; John V. Beard, Engine 51; Gustave A. Amsler, Engine 9; William J. McCarthy, Engine 29; Joseph W. Stanney, Engine 49; John J. Scanlan, Ladder 29; Frank E. Williams, Engine 30; Michael J. Goggin, Engine 24; Arthur F. Ryan, Chemical 7.

By order of the Fire Commissioner.

JOHN O. TABER,

Chief of Department.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 286.

Copies of the amendments to the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department have been printed in the form of two sheets, gummed on the back, ready to be pasted in the police manuals, and will be sent to the various divisions Saturday, May 12, 1923. Commanding officers must see that copies are distributed to every member of the force with instructions that they be pasted, each in its appropriate place, in the manuals forthwith.

Division commanders will see that this order is fully complied with.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 287.

A Trial Board consisting of Captains Driscoll, Dailey and Mason, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman James T. Hall of Division 10, charging him with neglect of duty, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which, it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman James T. Hall perform twenty hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 288.

On February 27, 1923, Patrolman William B. F. Lee of Division 5 was found guilty, by a trial board consisting of Captains Goodwin, McConnell and McDevitt, of conduct unbecoming an officer and was ordered to perform thirty-five hours' punishment duty.

On March 23 Patrolman Lee, while arresting an insane colored man, was attacked by him with a knife and was badly cut about the face and on his right hand, necessitating his removal to the City Hospital and absence from duty for a number of weeks, he having returned to his station only on the first of this month. He has suffered much and in addition will bear scars, as a result of the knife wounds, for the remainder of his life.

The commissioner warmly commends Patrolman Lee for the zeal and courage shown by him in connection with this case and sympathizes with him in the unfortunate outcome; and as a fitting expression of appreciation of his excellent police work under trying circumstances, it is hereby ordered that the penalty of thirty-five hours' punishment duty imposed upon Patrolman William B. F. Lee by General Order No. 223 be remitted.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

STREET LOCATIONS.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Street Commissioners for the locations, directions, widths and grades of the private ways, in Boston, designated as Necco street, from Binford street to Melcher street; Binford street, from A street to Necco street.

PORT OF BOSTON.

New Commonwealth Pier, No. 1, East Boston, 900 feet long, costing State $764,600 for site and about $345,000 for construction. New dry dock at South Boston (probably the largest in world), completed in 1919, 1,200 feet long and 120 wide, costing over $3,000,000 and taken by U. S. Government at total cost of same to State. Islands in Boston Harbor over 3 acres in area, 17, with total area of 965 acres; Long Island the largest, or 215.5 acres. Owned by United States, 392 acres; by City of Boston, 334 acres. Number of wharves, 143, of which 8 are owned by the City. There are 24 foreign steamship lines with regular sailings to and from Boston and 19 coastwise lines (5 to Pacific ports). In 1915 a revision of the harbor lines was made and the project undertaken whereby 600 acres of flats between Governor's Island and Jeffries Pt., E. Boston, will be filled in and used for extensive commercial developments under State control.

In April, 1918, the Government decided to establish its Army Supply Base on a portion of the Commonwealth lands in South Boston. About 57.6 acres were purchased of the State, the price being $1,317,510, quickly followed by the construction of two pier sheds, each 920 feet long, a wharf shed and other buildings, including one of the largest storehouses in the world, built on reinforced concrete, eight stories high, 1638 feet long, 126 feet wide and with floor space of over 1,650,000 square feet. The total outlay for the plant was $26,000,000.

Total Federal expenditure for improvement of Boston Harbor from 1790 to June 30, 1918, $12,525,981; total expended and provided for by State, $18,364,947 since 1859.

IMMIGRANT ALIENS ARRIVED IN YEAR 1921.

Total number of trans-Atlantic immigrants landed at Boston, 43,558 (i. e., 21,584 or 98.2 per cent more than in 1920), of which 4,809 or 11.04 per cent stated Massachusetts as their destination. Of said total, 17,999 were South Italians, 11,212 Hebrews, 1979 Germans, 1,702 Poles, 1,599 North Italians, 923 Portuguese, 917 Greeks, 673 English, 523 Scandinavians, 232 Dutch, 127 Irish, 114 Finnish, 104 Russians, 83 Scotch and 5,367 others. Total arrivals in 1919 were only 5,572; in 1918, 1,344; in 1917, 6,527. Total in the five years, 1917-1921, 78,975. South Italians 52.5 per cent of same.

IMMIGRANTS FROM ALL COUNTRIES TO UNITED STATES IN ONE HUNDRED YEARS.

According to Commissioner of Immigration the figures are: Total, 34,417,820. Ranking from highest number, principal countries (approx.): British Isles, 8,333,000; Germany, 5,500,000; Italy, 4,218,000; Austria-Hungary, 4,078,500; Russia, 3,319,000; Scandinavia (i. e. Norway, Sweden, Denmark), 2,171,000; British North America, 1,000,000; France, 542,000; Greece, 393,000; Poland, 379,000; Turkey in Asia, 330,000; Mexico, 300,000; China, 297,000; West Indies, 271,000; Switzerland, 268,000; Japan, 242,000; Holland, 226,000; Portugal, 194,000. Under the Immigration Restriction Law of 1921, the number of aliens admissible in the year ending June 30, 1922, was limited to 356,995, or 3 per cent of the foreign-born residents as shown by U. S. Census of 1910, but the number actually admitted was 243,953, or 68.3 per cent of legal quota. The total of immigrant aliens admitted in year ending June 30, 1921, was 805,228, or 87.3 per cent more than in year preceding and 448,233 in excess of the said limit for 1921-22.

PROPOSALS FOR CATCH-BASINS, MANHOLES AND MINOR DRAINS IN BOSTON.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, office 508 City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for catch-basins, manholes and minor drains in Boston. A bond will be required for doing the work of a surety company approved by the Commissioner, in the sum of fourteen hundred ($1,400) dollars, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Plans and proposals may be obtained at Room 508, City Hall Annex. Each proposal should be inclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposals for Catch-basins, etc.," and left at Room 508, fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 12 m. on Friday, May 25, 1923, with a certified check for three hundred ($300) dollars, payable to the City of Boston, or to the order of the City, and to become the property of the City if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the proposals. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.
Boston, May 17, 1923. (May 19.)

Coun. GILBODY in the chair.

OPEN COMMITTEE MEETINGS.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That all meetings of every committee of the City Council, when the Council is sitting as a committee on the whole, shall be held always open to the public, and the public invited to attend.

Coun. HAGAN, who has been the custom in this Council for a period of some years to hold all committee meetings with the Council sitting as a committee of the whole in open session, where the public can see and hear what transpires. At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee, when one of the most important functions of this body was under consideration—the budget involving the appropriation of some $30,000,000 odd, that committee, sitting as a committee of the whole, voted to go into executive session, which was a secret session, and the public were excluded. This matter was agitated some few years ago before the Committee on Appropriations, when the budget was up for consideration. When they went into executive or secret session at that time there was an earnest protest, particularly from the labor organizations, who said that the public had a right to see and hear secret or executive sessions held in the Council of that year. A few years ago the women's organization, which has petitioned the Council, and of the Executive Committee meetings, and that was granted by the Council. Yet of a sudden we have gone into secret session again, and judging from the arguments which I heard advanced at the time when we did so I am rather inclined to think that that is going to perpetuate itself. The object of this order, Mr. Chairman, is to make it a standing rule of the Boston City Council to hold all its sessions for committee work, when the entire Council is seated as committee of the whole or when the entire Council membership are members of the committee, so that the public will not be excluded from these sessions, but in fact will be invited to be present. I have been opposed and will continue to be opposed to any star chamber proceedings in this body or anywhere else. I know the arguments that will be advanced as to why we should have executive or secret sessions, and they make no appeal to me. One of the arguments I have heard is that a private board of directors would hold its sessions in secret, and that is quite true, but those private boards of directors are meeting on affairs of interest to their particular organizations and for profit of those organizations, with eventual profit to the individuals. The Boston City Council do not meet for profit; they meet on public work to transact public business, and the public has a right to know where the public may know what we are doing here. Another argument that has been advanced is that the various committees of the Legislature when they sit down to seriously consider subjects and come to a conclusion, hold executive sessions. That is true. My answer to that is that that does not make a right. If it is wrong to do it here I think it is wrong to do it there, and the very fact that it is in existence there signifies that there has been no organized effort to change that custom, which as we know is the worst of all. I want to see this body, if possible, go on record as having public meetings of all committees of the Council, where we are sitting as a committee, at least, where we will not only be glad to see the public present to some extent but are willing to invite them. We love to say that we are servants of the people here and that if we are servants of the people let us cease to be their masters. Let us raise our hands to order them away from the Boston City Hall, which is not their property, but which is public property, owned in part by every citizen of Boston. Let the citizens of Boston have the right and privilege at all times of coming here. It is their right and privilege, and it is not for us to deny that right and privilege. I ask a suspension of the rule for the passage of the order at this time. I have no objection to the objection, I am willing that it should go to the committee.

(The order was read for information of Coun. Watson.)

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I did not hear all the remarks of the gentleman who preceded me on this order, but from what I heard I believe the scene of the groups of which we are a member, he, in my opinion, judging by the expressions he uttered, was satisfied that we did the proper thing in going into executive session on the budget. I will not repeat the expression of the utterances or statements concerning the matter, because it would be a breach of faith, and I don't desire to enter into any personalities. I am not sure the order does not mean anything. We hold all our meetings in public. The public are admitted. He may have said I don't come in, but he did not say so. I was here. I was here. I was here. The rule was on the budget recently. That meeting, Mr. President, was not a star chamber proceeding. The public were invited and were present, and heard everything that went on. The gentleman knows that the meeting was not in star chamber session. The only reason he wanted it public was to make an order of his "continuing in our next" speeches. Of course, he is not doing that for any purpose other than the interest of the people. Mr. President, he is in a position to back up and goaded on by a certain little clique in this city that cannot control enough votes to manage the situation, but can throw a monkey wrench into the machinery when they wish to do so. I know that the gentleman will come back in his sarcastic and cunning way and say something that does not mean anything, but I am not going to let him do it. It does mean something. I have not sought any controversy or trouble with the gentleman since the first of the year. I have kept out of joint debates with him. But when he comes back with some of this plausible bunkum, stuff that may seem to look all right on the surface but has nothing behind it, it is a little more than I can begin to boil, and I am compelled to say something. The gentleman has been making a contest for a little self-advertising, and because so. Today again he puts in an order that does no were going to ride into office the big banking interests of State street. They thought that James J. Morrow was going to be elected Mayor, and that he was going to sit there for four years unhampered. But the morning after election they found out that the voters had decided differently. That is why we have had a charter fought upon us. But during all the time that the budget has been brought before us, this being my sixth year here, there has been no change in the procedure. There wasn't any fight during the Peters administration by the Good Government régime here to cut any money out of the budget. No, nothing doing then. What are they trying to do now? Are they trying to foister two years hence another ride into the Mayor's chair for four years? Of course, my course, my course, my course. Watson, says that Hagan is the last 'pol' in here. I agree with him, absolutely agree with him. And he is, of course, he is not a politician. If he can hold the budget up for a month or six weeks, that will bring it nearer to December. He has put more orders in here in the last month than he has in the last six months. There is something in the air. What is it I don't know. But if they have any thought of doing what they seem to want to do today, there should have been a bill into the Legislature for a change in the charter of the City of Boston, so as to give some power to the members of this Council. The first time I was elected, I was $125,000 from the Fire Department, after we had cut it out we could spend it for the benefit of the citizens of Boston in any department where it was desired. But I have been in office for five years, why try to kid ourselves and to kid the laborers, to the effect that if we do cut it they are going to get it. There isn't a man in this city who has with himself who will say that if we cut the $250,000 out of the budget which it will cost to give the laborers and mechanics, and the men who work for any assurance whatever, with the Mayor taking the position he takes today, that one cent of it, let alone all of it, will go to the labor force. But if we had the power, as we had in 1890, to take from the City Council to cut out from the budget and assign appropriations to places where they really belong, so that they could be used for the benefit of the people, for instance, I don't suppose there is a member of the Council who would care to vote against it, where the real responsibility is on his shoulders. This is the seventh year of the segregated budget, and during my six years it has got worse every year. It certainly has got no better, and it does not look as though it is going to get better. It looks as though it has been a failure, in so far as the budget is concerned. In my time I have had four years under a reform government, and I have called reform government, and two years under a progressive government, and in the four years under a reform government there was more juggling of the budget than in the four years under a progressive government. I remember that by a majority vote we struck out of the budget an appropriation for the Linotype Printing Department. But of course you know after the 1st of December the Mayor and heads of departments have a right to transfer anything they desire, and they have been doing so after the 1st of December. The result was that, although the linotype machines had been taken out, and the money had been taken out of the Council is concerned we never voted to appropriate the money, yet under a reform government those machines went in there and I didn't hear a word from the Council. I don't know what the Mayor said, but that Coun. Donoghue was chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, and the man who then was head of the department called me on the telephone and asked me to get Coun. Donoghue to call a special meeting. I said that he was chairman of the committee, and could do as he pleased, that I as president of the Council had no say in it, and that he had charge of the meeting. The desire was to attempt to get those machines back out of the budget. After the 1st of December, however, what was done, but down in the Printing Department they got the five linotype machines, and the Mayor of Boston, who is a man of great connection, with the limited power we have here in so far as hearings on the budget are concerned, we only waste the time of the heads of departments and our own time in having them come in and say to the Edison Company for light that we should not pay for. We take up a lot of time, and after we get through we find that we have not changed a thing. "Yes" or "No" on the budget. To go back to either the first or the second year of the Peters' administration, when the same member here presented $50,000 for the benefit of the laborers, that I would go through the entire year voting against the entire budget, if we could not otherwise get what we wanted out of the budget for the laborers. But, no, that was going to the extreme; he didn't want to do that. But we have gone three or four years farther along in the civilization of the world, and he is a kind of a chure of heart. He doesn't want to give them $5 now. He wants to give them only $1.50. Why the compromise? The cost of living has been so high that it was in 1918, higher than it was in 1919, and still he does not feel himself to be in a position to give them as much today as he did in 1918 or 1919. The fact is that they went through department after department, A, B, C, D, E and F, and the first one where they raised a question was the Fire Department, and there was a question as to whether we were to have B-39 and C-4. As far as the rest of the entire budget is concerned nothing was attempted. So there is no sincerity to it. If there was sincerity, the member would not be coming in here now and taking the position he does, saying that he is going to ride into office for four years, and then for twenty-four hours, going over the items of the budget, and then passing the budget. A month ago was the time to take the twenty-four hours and do that sort of thing, or twenty-four days or longer, if necessary. The budget has been in here for at least a month, and we are now coming in here to do that sort of thing. I am making the suggestion that we put in twenty-four hours, if it will take that time. If anybody can tell me that there is a man in this city who would like to be shown, for one, I cannot see it.

Coun. HILGIBLY.—Question.
Coun. WATSON.—Mr. President, I don't know as I can cut any more out of the proposition because I doubt if there are more than two votes against the budget. I don't know that there will be a majority vote against any item of the budget. But I cannot help speaking at this time, because I am chairman of the committee reporting the matter, and it might be said that I did not know what I was doing when I reported it. I do not say something. Therefore, I will be very brief, simply saying a word or two concerning the budget. If we should simply go in and cut from the budget so as to take care of the things we think ought to be done, while I might do just exactly as Coun. Hagan would do, I might cut out a great many things, axing, cutting down some item that looks large, if it was larger than last year or the year before, if I should be willing to do that independently of the budget, I might do it. I don't know if there is an increase, that would be one thing. But we should know the reasons for increases in items, not only the items, but the reasons for the increases. They were last year. We have not inquired into the budget thoroughly in any direction. Coun. Hagan is cutting down the Fire Department appropriation, not cutting down the item in one specific item, motor apparatus. I wonder if he would be as active in decreasing the item for motor apparatus as he is in decreasing the item for supplying the motor apparatus of the city or the Robinson or the Christy people? One company supplies the motor apparatus of the city, and then another company comes in and the next year the city goes down, the presumption being that the new company coming in furnishes better apparatus than the one that has been in. I don't know if the LaFrance people came in the councilor did not seem to become so active. He then became active in cutting down the item for the purchase of motor apparatus, in order to increase the laborers' pay. Of course, I do not accuse the gentleman of being influenced by any improper motive, but I do think that there is something in it. But the fact remains that we cannot increase the laborers' pay this year. We have already done that. I don't know if we can do it again. If we appropriate this money for the motor apparatus for the Fire Department this year, however, the Fire Department will get 100 per cent motorized; next year there will be no more need of any new motor apparatus, no money required except for upkeep and other things that have to do with the apparatus, and the time will come when the mechanics will then come. The adoption of this item this year will mean 100 per cent motorized for the Fire Department. The appropriation of $100,000 or $200,000 for motor apparatus, that sum can go towards an increase in the pay of the laborers and mechanics of 50 cents a day, to the Mayor. It is a matter of record, it is a matter of public record if he is alive a year from today, guaranteeing the laborers and mechanics 50 cents a day increase at that time. Coun. Moriarty brought out something that I had overlooked. Coun. Hagan is as brave as a lion, has lots of courage, both genuine and political. He has a physical courage, but I don't know if he has the courage, but I, with Coun. Moriarty, failed to hear him ask one question of the Mayor. When we were in the Fire Department, we were asked a question over concerning the budget. Coun. Hagan sat there during the entire meal, and certainly while I was in there, and he never asked a question. I don't have that information, not alone at the dinner, and I asked a question in regard to the matter, as well as Coun. Glibody. I asked whether or not the Mayor was coming to the councilor to ask the question, and he would not answer. Coun. Glibody's order. Coun. Hagan did not ask the question, was not seeking light. The councilor had told me that he would not ask the question, he couldn't change a vote. Well, I know that he changed three. He had three last week and he doesn't have them now. He changed the vote of them last week by the vote of the councilor. Of course, I don't want the members to take to mind seriously what I said about Coun. Hagan's possible change of vote. I don't know if the LaFrance and Christy people, going out of business, and the LaFrance coming in. He is not interested in fire apparatus or motor apparatus, but he is interested in him. But there is a whole lot of propaganda in this thing. It is whispered in your ear. Of course, you are the business man of the Council, and you are the man who knows the city. I am the one who has an interest in the public, the only one who knows about finance. The rest of us are interested in the city, but we are not interested in finance. If we change the charter and change the body, we might as well make this a one-man body and have Coun. Hagan appointed for life. Everything then would be all right. The other departments would be conducted 100 per cent efficiently and a little more, and all you will have to do will be to come in here, introduce an order, pass it, and persuade yourself that it is all right. Everything will then be 100 plus efficient and no money will be wasted. The laborers will receive $10.50 a day, except those who work for you. There will be no limit to the pay received by the laborers or anybody else. You may be liberal with your own help, but I don't know if we are usually as liberal with our own than with others. I am going to vote for the budget in its entirety, and the councilor opposite can act in accordance with the dictates of his conscience, but he is to be human, and he plays the game. Of course, he is not a candidate now. We understand that. I hope he will not be a candidate. I don't know whether it is so or not. But I am willing to take the word of the trustees and the superintendent in charge. If we cannot trust heads of departments and boards of trustees and directors in the city, who can we trust? I think they are trying to do an honest job, and I hope we will not go to work and try to prune this budget with an axe.

Coun. HAGAN.—Mr. President, it is always difficult to try to talk sense to somebody who does not understand. I am going to proceed to the point at least to make the effort. In standing here and making a motion looking to the pruning of the budget, I am assuming that I am going to assume one one-ninth of the responsibility of this body, and that I am ready to go through the budget, and the old proposition, the other eighth ninths are willing to do their share. I am going to have items here listed and made out, and I am ready to take them up one at a time. I did speak of the great expense of the purchase of motor apparatus, but I knew it was a waste of time, that if I lost out from the first I was destined to lose out on all. I want to say to you, gentlemen, that I am going to public at large the fact that we have had the practice established after serious thought of appropriating $100,000 for new apparatus each year, and that that amount is not the amount to spend under that item in any one fiscal year. It has become almost a settled policy on the part of the city government to appropriate $100,000 each year, though this year there has been a propaganda demand for 100 per cent motorization. From whom has this propaganda come? From the Mayor and from the head of the department. Do they represent the entire sentiment, business and otherwise, in this community? No. They represent the sentiment of the city government. Do they clamor from any other direction. There are other departments also that can be cut. Now for this item, the purchase of motor apparatus, the head of the department here has stated to you that no deliveries could be made for at least six months. If there was $100,000 worth of fire apparatus ordered today it would not be delivered until the end of this fiscal year, and $283,000 worth of apparatus would not be delivered until the end of the next year. I don't know if this item should be considered by the Council, and if a reasonable amount is provided this year the item can then be finished up next year. There are certainly no more satisfaction no object in appropriating the full amount in the budget for this year, because you are then usurping the authority of the Council to make a delivery of apparatus. The appropriation of next year's item, to follow the ordinary item for this year. There can be no object in doing that. I don't know if it is wise or not for other purposes. I claim that it is unwise and in bad business judgment to appropriate money too far in advance, when there is no human possibility of getting the apparatus delivered by the end of the winter months of 1924. If this motor apparatus were being built by different concerns, distributed around the city, it would be possible to have the apparatus delivered. But that is not the policy of this administration. It has not been the policy of this administration to make a great deal of reflection on my part of this administration. The gentleman has insinuated in his own way that I was interested in some manner in the Seabridge case, that I was making a deal with the Seabridge people. I don't know anybody connected with it, don't know anybody who is connected with fire apparatus, and I don't know anybody who is connected with the Seabridge case. I want to call attention to the fact that in the first administration of Mayor Curley all motor apparatus was obtained from getting this apparatus advertised by the Boston Union. Every bit of apparatus went to that concern. With a change of mayors here, suddenly that concern dropped out of the picture, and was efficient to a cipher, and some other concern arose from the cipher to 100 per cent, and the new apparatus was obtained from the American LaFrance company. I did start to get on my feet to start something, but I was so busy that I couldn't get on my feet, the situation, and somebody kicked my shins and I knew enough to sit down at that time. I now understand that that was the only way to get on my feet in this situation. The contracts are still going to the American LaFrance Company. So there is only one company going to get this delivery, and the other company is going to get the delivery of $283,000 worth of motor apparatus in this fiscal year, which we are considering. A great deal of comment has been made here because East Boston,

Coun. LANE in the chair.

Coun. HAZAN's motion to reduce item C-4 of the Fire Department appropriation by cutting out the salary of the last man on the list. The motion was doubted the vote and asked for the year and says. The motion was lost, yeas 2, nays 7.

Nays—Coun. Bradley, Donoghue, Gildroy, Healey, Moriarty, Walsh, Watson—7.

Coun. HAZAN's bill, Chapter 1, 1st, of course, that my motion would be defeated on the first item, and that the bill will not result on every other item. I do want to call attention, however, before the body passes the bill, to the fact that the Public Works Department. Heretofore the daily wages of the laborers to some extent have been paid out of loans. Where money was borrowed for a certain public work, I let out on contract, the laborers were paid out of that loan. That policy is being discontinued this year, and the entire wage scale for every day in the fiscal year as being appropriated in Schedule A of the Public Works Department and likewise in the Park Department. I believe, but, anyway, in the Public Works Department. In appropriating the amount of money that they have to defray the necessary expenses of the Public Works Department, I am convinced that they have not taken care not to slack, so called, from this item. We all know that laborers and mechanics are out more or less, and we all know that the Public Works Department, when they are sick they lose their daily wage. Therefore an item is being appropriated here in excess of what will be required, giving an opportunity for transfers from the department throughout the year. I am therefore going to move that we strike 5 per cent from A-1, per cent employees of the Public Works Department, that 5 per cent, in my opinion, representing slack that can easily be taken out, the money so taken being used for some other purpose.

Coun. HEALEY—I would like to make an inquiry. Does that mean permanent employees? Does striking 5 per cent from that item mean that we are striking 5 per cent from the personal wage roll of each employee? Should I not mean, rather, if 5 per cent is to be stricken out at all, that it should be stricken from the amount to be provided in this department, going to contract work rather than to day work? I understand that the contract work has been increased, to the exclusion of the work of the various men in the various services. I don't like to interfere with the policy the gentleman outlines, but it strikes me that in one case he asks for a reduction in the Fire Department appropriation, and the case of increasing wages in the Public Works Department, and at the same time makes a motion that to all intents and purposes means a reduction in the wages of some of the men employed in the Central Office and some of the men who get laborers' wages.

Coun. HAZAN—Mr. Chairman, the gentleman evidently did not follow me in my remarks. I do not mean to reduce anybody's wages. My attitude in that matter is well known here. But I do say, when it comes to appropriating this total amount, wage scale for the present year, many men during the year are going to be out sick and are not going to draw down any pay and, therefore, the amount that would be saved in that way may be what we would call slack. While, of course, it is a question what the percentage would amount to—3, 4, 5 or 7 per cent—instead of trying to figure the thing out closely I am satisfied that the slack has not been deducted and that 5 per cent is a conservative amount to deduct for that purpose. Therefore, I trust that that amount will be taken out and used for some other purpose, together with other amounts that I would hope to have reduced, which I can point out in the appropriation bill.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask the gentleman if, renders, for instance, are getting $1,300 a year, if he cuts out a day or striking $130 from their salary, or, rather, $65?

Coun. HAZAN—Mr. Chairman, the gentleman knows better than that. He knows that I am not talking about individual items or about individuals connected with the service, that I am not here trying to reduce anybody's wages. I am simply trying to save money in a legitimate way, not reducing anyone's wages. This would simply be slack that in the natural course of events will occur. He knows that I am talking about the lump sum appropriation and that it does not apply to any individual case at all.

Coun. HAZAN's motion to reduce the appropriation for A-1, Public Works Department, by 5 per cent was declared lost. Coun. HAZAN doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

The motion was lost, yeas 1, nays 8.

Nays—Coun. Bradley, Donoghue, Gildroy, Healey, Lane, Moriarty, Walsh, Watson—8.

Coun. WATSON—You have lost another vote.

Coun. HAZAN—Mr. Chairman, I could follow up with various other items in the appropriation bill, but I would come out pretty nearly the same as I have already pictured. There isn't any use in further wasting your time. The budget is wanted to you by the Mayor is to be passed and sent back to the Mayor without the crossing of a "t" or the dotting of an "i". It is going back to the Mayor just as it came here. It might just as well go back now as a week from now.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I want to say that the last statement of the council is absolutely not, and he knows it is not so. The budget has been amended. There have been requests by different members of the Council, arising out of the questions to heads of departments, and changes have been made. So the budget is not returned to the Mayor without the dotting of an "i" or the crossing of a "t". There have been increases to individuals. I want to say that seventy-five inspectors who were not in excess in this. That is one item that has been increased. There have been changes in many departments. The question came of the passage of the order. The order as reported by the committee were passed, yeas 7, nays 1.

Nays—Coun. Bradley, Donoghue, Healey, Lane, Moriarty, Walsh, Watson—7.

Nays—Coun. HAZAN—1.

POSTPONEMENT OF CITY EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered an order—That the Boston Retirement Board be requested to postpone the retirement of the employees of the city to the proposed minimum of $480, until definite and final action is taken on the question by the Legislature.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I want to say in support of this order that his Honor the Mayor has submitted an amendment to the present pension plan, increasing the minimum retirement allowance of laborers after a certain number of years from $360 to $480 a year. As yet final action has not been taken on the matter by the Legislature, and until such action as final action is taken our order merely asks that the Retirement Board refrain from retiring any of those who would come within the scope of that bill, because if we are not to be retired at the present time they would be retired at the $360 figure, whereas if the Legislature increases the amount to $480 there would be an appreciable increase in their retirement allowance. I hope the order will pass.

The order was passed.

RECESS TAKEN.

The Council voted at 5:11 o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. WALSH, to take a recess subject to the call of the President.

The members of the Council reassembled in the chamber and were called to order by the President at 6:19 o'clock p. m.

This amount was equal to 22.93 per cent of the entire real estate valuation subject to tax. No figures for exempt personality are available except for charitable and other institutions, that amount being $48,376,490 in 1918.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT OR "GREATER BOSTON."

Consists in the most inclusive sense of 40 municipalities, including Boston, or 14 cities and 26 towns, all within 15 miles of the State House. The 7 cities in the first zone, i. e., adjacent to Boston, are these, viz., Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Newton, Quincy, Revere and Somerville; the 6 cities in the second zone, not adjacent, are Lynn, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Waltham and Woburn. The 6 adjacent towns are Brookline, Dedham, Milton, Needham, Watertown and Wintthrop; the 20 other towns are Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Canton, Cohasset, Dover, Hingham, Hull, Lexington, Nahant, Reading, Saugus, Stoneham, Swampscott, Wakefield, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth and Winchester. North and northwest of Boston are situated 11 of the cities and 12 of the towns; south and southwest, 2 cities and 14 towns. Area of Northern Division, 150.8 square miles and population in 1920, 699,685, or a density of 4,619 per square mile; Southern Division, 214.8 square miles and 211,191 population, or density of only 983 per square mile, in the whole Metropolitan District, 4,051 per square mile. In percentages Boston shows 10.5 per cent of District's area and 45.09 per cent of population; Northern Division, 36.2 of area and 42.18 of population; Southern Division, 53.3 of area and 12.73 of population. In the period 1919-1920, increase of population 34,798 larger in Northern than in Southern Division.

Total land area of District, 409.5 square miles; population by census of 1920, 1,658,936 or 4.08 per cent increase over that of 1915. Of the total population of the State "Greater Boston" has 43.06 per cent; of total valuation, 51.23 per cent; of total value of manufactures, 32.21 per cent.

Total valuation of taxable property in District on April 1, 1921, $2,804,878,415, i. e., for realty and tangible personalty, including bank stock, intangible personalty being exempt from taxation (except income therefrom) in 1917 and thereafter. The said total exceeds the 1920 valuation by $67,289,413, a gain of 2.46 per cent. Of said total 56.9 per cent was in Boston and 43.1 per cent outside. The four organized Metropolitan Districts existing for the purpose of constructing and maintaining certain extensive systems of public works under State control are as follows: Metropolitan Park District, established by chapter 407, Acts of 1893, including all the cities and towns except Lexington, and managed by a State Board of five commissioners; Metropolitan Water District, established by chapter 488, Acts of 1895, including 10 cities and 9 towns, and covering an area of 175 square miles; Metropolitan Sewerage District, established by chapter 439, Acts of 1889, consisting of the North System and South System, including 17 cities and towns in the former system and 8 in the latter, and covering an area of 225 square miles; the last two districts managed by a single State board of three commissioners; Charles River Basin District, established by chapter 465, Acts of 1903, including all the cities and towns except Cohasset and Lexington, and in charge of the Metropolitan Park Commission. By Chapter 350, General Acts of 1919, the two Metropolitan boards were abolished and a single Metropolitan Commission of five members was established.

Another Metropolitan District, viz., the Fire Prevention District, was organized in 1914 by the enactment of chapter 795. In this district are the 14 cities of "Greater Boston," but only 10 of the towns, to which were added Reading and Rockland, a total of 26 municipalities. The District is in charge of a single commissioner, assisted by a deputy commissioner, both appointed for a term of three years. This office was also abolished by said Chapter 350, the work of same being transferred to Department of Public Safety.

Total gross Metropolitan debt for water, parks, sewers and Charles River Basin improvements on July 1, 1921, $77,118,112; sinking funds, $29,289,224; net debt, $47,828,888 or $2,200,476 less than in 1920. The division of this net debt was water supply, $25,230,831; sewers, $11,749,717; parks, boulevards, etc., $7,662,641; Charles River Basin, $3,185,699. Of the latter, $1,094,885 is payable by Boston alone, i. e., $640,117 for Boston Embankment, and $454,768 for Charles River Bridge. Of 1921 tax rates, the highest of the cities was Revere's ($37.20) and the highest among the towns, that of Saugus and of Reading ($37.00); the lowest among the cities was Newton's ($24.00) and among the towns, that of Dover and of Weston ($14.50). Mean tax rate of the 13 cities in the District outside of Boston, $31.48 or $2.38 more than in 1920 and $5.67 more than in 1919. Mean tax rate of the 26 towns, $26.56 or $1.95 more than in 1920 and $5.82 more than in 1919. There were in the District in 1919, 5,185 manufacturing establishments, value of product, $1,351,637,243; capital invested, $894,048,325; value of stock and materials used, $755,350,609; total wages paid, $247,431,450; average number of wage earners, 216,727; increase over 1918 product, 9.00 per cent. Rank, 1 to 12 in value of products; (1) Boston, $618,921,962; (2) Lynn, $160,905,792; (3) Cambridge, $127,864,901; (4) Somerville, $99,558,513; (5) Quincy, $68,535,406; (6) Watertown, $47,267,519; (7) Everett, $35,775,728; (8) Chelsea, $32,536,518; (9) Malden, $22,077,624; (10) Waltham, $20,878,515; (11) Weymouth, $16,836,997; (12) Newton, $15,524,567. Boston's total product value was 45.8 per cent of the Metropolitan District's.

THE MESSAGE OF ZION.

ADDRESS OF HON. JAMES M. CURLEY, MAYOR OF BOSTON, IN GREETING DR. CHAIM WEIZMANN OF GRODNO, RUSSIA, PRESIDENT OF THE WORLD ZIONIST ORGANIZATION, DELIVERED AT THE BOSTON OPERA HOUSE, WEDNESDAY, MAY 16, 1923.

The coming to Boston today of Dr. Weizmann, the president of the World Zionist organization, is a reminder to us that the battle of the Jew against the forces of oppression and persecution has been won. While the noise and shouting of the retreating enemies of freedom and justice may still be heard as they scatter and fall back, the decision for righteousness and humanity has been made. The cycle of the centuries has been completed.

The people driven into exile to suffer humiliation and obloquy among strangers in strange lands, to feel the edge of the sword and the sting of the lash, stand erect and unafraid all round the world today; and the fatherland of the race, conquered and wrested from them by the legions of imperial Rome, is once more theirs, to rule and restore and take its place among the free lands of earth.

Well may the children of Israel acclaim the day and say with England's singer, Byron,

Sound the loud timbrel o'er Egypt's dark sea,
Jehovah hath triumphed, his people are free.

Imperial Rome is but a memory; only the ruins of her temples and the dust of her dead cities remain as monuments of her vanquished might. Israel remains, stronger and more numerous than ever, intact, imperishable, indestructible. The conquerors and kings, the persecutors and plunderers have passed. The Jew remains scarred but serene, the tragedy of the centuries reflected in his eyes, the futility of hate written in his heart, the might and mercy, the power and patience of an all-wise God incised upon his brain.

How has the Jew survived the conquests and calamities, the wars and wastings, that seemed to overwhelm and plow him under? What has enabled him to emerge to light and life from the wreck of empires to stand ever as a "gnomon raised by time to count his centuries," when the storm has passed?

Has it been his wonderful capacity for adaptation to circumstances? Was it his remarkable talent for trade and traffic; his genius for finance and productive industry; his ability to organize and direct material enterprises? No! These are not his exclusivities; these are the faculties and gifts of all the races of all the ages.

These are material things, the things that pass and perish and crumble into dust; the things of the flesh, of the world. True, they are needful in the daily and physical life of the world, but "Man does not live by bread alone, but by every word that cometh from the mouth of God."

Material pursuits have kept the Jew alive; but they are not the things that made the race survive the tempests and tragedies of the ages, that made Israel a vital force in all the centuries; a leaven in a world of hate and violence, struggling to cast off the heritage of primeval brutality.

A dreamer lives forever, but a toiler dies in a day.

Because the Jew dreamed amid his bitter toils, because he kept the promises of his God burning like a living flame in his brain, because the teachings and tradition of his singers and his prophets were as music in his heart, and because he believed the faith and truth that had guided and guarded his fathers and preserved them in the darkness of Egypt, the dangers of the desert, the desolation of Babylon and the destruction of Rome, could preserve him against the might and materialism of this world, he preserves the soul of his race.

The spirituality not the materialism of the Jew has been the preservative; and it will continue to preserve him as long as he keeps its flame burning as on an altar in his being. Only when men and races remember God and obey his law, and refuse to profane his altars, do they survive.

The Jew all down the ages has seen the sons of Jacob eat the bitter bread of Ishmael and drink of the bitter waters of the Marah, while the children of Ishmael, rejecting the faith of the fathers, abandoning God and conscience for glory and conquest, have achieved material things, but the heritage of Ishmael has turned to ashes in the mouth of his children; while the heritage of Jacob, guarded with courage, patience, fidelity and tenacity, has brought to his sons the glory that is not of earth.

The solidarity and fidelity of the Jew have not been in vain. He stands today liberated, restored to an equality of freedom and honor with all men, master in his own house, ruler in his own fatherlands. He has stood the trials of adversity and persecution; he must now face the harder tests of prosperity and liberty. Here in this land of great wealth and abounding materialism and an age of religious laxity and moral indifference the Jew faces his greatest trial and temptation. His future depends upon himself. If, taking up the burdens and responsibilities of American citizenship, he remembers the God of his fathers and the spiritual and moral obligations that have preserved him, he will endure, to help the world about him by his example. If he forgets, then the seed of Jacob will perish as ignobly as the sons of Ishmael; and should he fail he must expect to be judged in this land of the exile by his worst not his best, and to be renewed on American soil the evils of the old world—for though flags and governments change, the human nature of the world never changes.

Out of the east comes light. With the new glory of Zion shining on the hills of Judea, with a new alignment of the nations, with opportunity knocking on the door of Israel, the future is yours to make or mar.

MAYOR WINS JUSTICE FOR PENSIONERS.

Approval by his Excellency the Governor of the amendment to the Boston Retirement Pension Bill providing for a minimum of $480 per year after fifteen years of service for employees of the City of Boston, in place of $360, the amount provided under the original Curley Pension Bill adopted in 1911, will be welcome news to all of the lower paid employees of the city.

Under the provisions of the Boston Retirement Pension Act, laborers and women employed as cleaners in public buildings instead of enjoying the old rate of $360 would in the case of practically everyone employed for a less period than fifteen years receive but $200 per year. When the question of adoption of the Boston Retirement Act was under consideration the injustice that would result to the lower paid employees, over 3,700 in number, was pointed out, but the merit of the act in general was such that it was approved with the understanding that it would be amended so as to properly provide for the lower paid employees.

Few measures of legislation have had such a tortuous or uncertain journey as the amendment to the Boston Retirement Pension Act, it having been defeated at three different stages, once on the floor of the House, once in the Senate and once by the Committee on Counties. Its final approval by the Governor will be hailed by those who will benefit by its adoption.

THE SCHICK TOXIN-ANTITOXIN ACTIVITIES UNDER DIRECTION OF THE BOSTON HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

ADDRESS DELIVERED BY DR. JOHN A. CECONI, EPIDEMIOLOGIST, AT MEETING OF THE MAYORS' CLUB, YOUNG'S HOTEL, BOSTON, MAY 26, 1923.

Mr. Mayor, and the Honorable Mayors of the Cities of Massachusetts, here assembled:

By direction of his Honor, James M. Curley, I have the privilege of appearing before you to present the facts and progress in the campaign, inaugurated under the present municipal administration, to conserve the health and save the lives of Boston's children in so far as they may be menaced by the disease diphtheria. In other words, I am to present for your consideration in an understandable form as possible, the inception of the work, the progress made, the results obtained, and the difficulty encountered and overcome in Boston's so-called, "Schick Campaign."

You are all, of course, familiar with the disease diphtheria; you know its insidious onset, its mode of transmission, its treacherous character, its withering sequelae, its toll in lives, the economic burden it places on each and every municipality; you are all only too familiar with these.

You know, too, as every well informed official knows, that the disease is curable by the use of antitoxin in direct ratio to the promptitude of diagnosis and administration. You know that the death rate in your community has fallen on pari passu as it has in Boston from 38 per cent to 4.7 per cent under the intelligent use of this curative agent. This then cures sick cases; and these figures prove definitely its value as a curative agent; but can we say as much for it as a means of prevention? Every one knows that when a physician is called to treat a case of diphtheria in a household he immunizes the other members with antitoxin. This prevents infection at the time, but it has been definitely shown that this immunity or protection is very fleeting, lasting but ten days or two weeks, and further observations showed that re-injections at the end of that period established immunity not for another period of equal length, but for only five or six days.

Owing to this very brief immunity one would therefore have to receive numerous injections in order to acquire even a transient protection and this necessarily would indicate that the disease would never be eradicated. This is a matter of paramount consideration both from an urban and a suburban point of view. Hospitals, asylums and other institutions harboring children are a necessity, and all of these are constantly exposed to reinfection from an ever changing institutional population of which a certain percentage are very often carriers of diphtheria.

In addition to this there is the enormous financial aspect which is an economic disadvantage, and although while it may be an insignificant matter in the individual case financially; in the aggregate it is of much greater importance to the city or town which must in the final analysis assume the great financial responsibility that necessarily ensues in the care and treatment of large numbers.

And so, gentlemen, this is where the diphtheria situation stood over a period of some years; medical science could cure given cases of diphtheria, and over a one-year, or better still, a five-year period, influence, decidedly for the better, the mortality rate, but had as yet failed in any appreciable degree to influence the morbidity rates. However, the matter was still the subject of both extensive and intensive investigation and experimentation in different medical centres of the world, when in 1913 Schick, of Vienna, discovered and published the results of his work which will probably prove one of the most noteworthy contributions to preventive medicine of all time.

What then is the Schick test? How is it done? What does it do? The Schick test is a simple, painless, harmless injection between the layers of the skin of about one drop of diluted diphtheria toxin—not antitoxin, the amount injected represents one fiftieth of the amount that will kill a guinea pig weighing 250 grams, or in other words about the size of the average human fist; the result of this application determines whether one is susceptible or immune to diphtheria; for instance, if an irritant action in the layers of the skin ensues the individual is susceptible to the disease; if no reaction takes place, the individual is immune. (To relieve any misapprehension it may be stated that the word toxin used medically means poison; antitoxin means against poison) in the Schick method antitoxin, which is the curative agent used in the treatment of the disease, plays no part.

I have just described to you the use of toxin and its skin reaction, that is, the irritation caused in susceptible cases by its application. These cases showing this reaction, as stated above, are susceptible to diphtheria, and these individuals are known as Schick positive reactors. Negative cases denote natural immunity; positive cases must be immunized. This immunization is conferred in approximately 90 per cent by the use of three successive applications of toxin-antitoxin. Reducing the thing to the simplest possible terms, the whole procedure requires one injection to determine susceptibility, or natural immunity, and three subsequent applications to immunize those previously determined to be susceptible.

From a study on hundreds of thousands of children, it has been demonstrated that the toxin-antitoxin mixture is a most efficient means of developing a lasting immunity against diphtheria.

Health officials everywhere are convinced that a thorough application of these two methods is the best means at hand for the control of diphtheria, and they feel by the adoption of the Schick and toxin-antitoxin procedure this disease will be eliminated just as surely as vaccination has largely eradicated smallpox.

These facts were well known to well informed people for several years; in fact New York in a larger measure, and Chicago and Philadelphia in a smaller measure, has been Schicking their children for some five or six years, but in Boston nothing was done until immediately following the induction into office of our present Mayor, Hon. James M. Curley.

The Boston Health Department takes no pride in the fact that it was not among the first to undertake this most beneficent procedure for the common health, but in fairness it may be said was not the last. It is sufficient to say that the intrinsic worth and compelling necessity for the Schick adoption were promptly recognized by the chief executive of Boston and the present Health Commissioner. I take advantage of this opportunity to state emphatically that the inauguration of the present policy for diphtheria control in this city is due to the intelligent comprehension of his Honor, Mayor James M. Curley, and to the zeal and enthusiasm of Health Commissioner Francis X. Mahoney and it is through their broad vision and fixed determination that the children of Boston are now not denied their rights, co-equal with those of the children of other large cities.

Briefly then:—in May, 1922, the work was begun. Naturally our beginnings were on a small scale, but the numbers have increased in a very gratifying manner. Our gross figures to date show that we have tested 38,640, and out of this number we have read 36,159, and nearly 50 per cent were found susceptible. Of the total number of the positive reactors, or those susceptible to the disease, 14,204 have received their first injection of toxin-antitoxin; 12,794 their second and 11,643 their third. It will be noted that since the work began in May, 1922, the usual interval has not elapsed for our complete retest and only one negative report at this time can be made. A summary of the retesting to date shows the following figures: Retests, 8,388; readings, 7,973; positives, 1,29; negatives, 6,684;—which means that of the 7,973 children who were susceptible to diphtheria six months ago, 6,684 of these children are now protected against the disease; therefore, we have produced by active immunization with toxin-antitoxin in less than six months on the first injection a total immunity of 86 per cent.

Any one familiar with diphtheria appreciates that the age of susceptibility to the disease is greatest in pre-school life. The Boston Health Department appreciates that fact also, but in its endeavor to establish the Schick test in Boston it felt that the most propitious way would be through the school children, feeling that they were the ones to bring the proper lesson home to the parents. Our major portion of the time has been spent in an endeavor to accomplish this purpose, and also to instruct physicians and local health boards, so very little opportunity has presented itself for the immunization of pre-school age children. Nevertheless, we are wishful at this time to state that we have given 333 first injections; 282 second injections and 260 third injections of toxin-antitoxin to children of pre-school age, and it is our intention after the retests in the institutions and parochial schools are finished to wage as active, if not a more active campaign for the protection of the children at this age than we have waged in the Schick control of school life.

As in any public health measure, we took into consideration the psychology of the public, especially in regard to dangers real or imaginary. The skin punctures necessary for the test and for the subsequent immunization are surgical procedures, and the dangers from infection must not be overlooked, but eliminated as far as possible. The writer does not feel that this is the time or place to enter into any discussion as to the relative merits of our technique as compared to that of other authorities, but feels that it might be emiss if no mention was made of the fact that in over one hundred and twenty thousand skin injections we have not had a single infection.

For much for the test. What have been the practical results? From December 1, 1922, to today, May 26 1923, there have been reported 1,400 cases of diphtheria, and every one of these has been investigated by the physicians and nurses on the Schick staff. Of these cases not one occurred in an individual who had been demonstrated by the Schick test to have a natural immunity; 28 of these cases occurred in individuals who had been positive with the Schick test; of these 28 cases 10 had received no toxin-antitoxin; 3 had received one injection; 3 had received two injections; and 12 had received three injections. Whereas the length of time considered to be necessary for a full immunity after three injections of toxin-antitoxin is six months, in none of these cases have we more than four months elapse since the injection. In the households of the remaining cases there were 150 contacts who previously were Schick tests; of this number were positive Schick reactors; 2 of these had one injection of toxin-antitoxin; 7 had two injections and 66 had three injections—none of these developed diphtheria. The remainder, 70 contacts, were originally Schick negative reactors, and likewise none of these developed the disease.

In passing, it might be neglectful if I made no comment on the following facts: The last census shows over 231,000 children under eighteen years of age in Boston. I have given the gross figure of 38,640 Schick tests and 11,643 immunizations performed by the Boston Health Department. In other words, we have shown by the Schick test that we have in Boston nearly 15,000 children immune to diphtheria and we have protected 11,643 children who were formerly susceptible to the disease. This makes a total of over 26,000 who we feel are now immune, which is over 11 per cent of the total number—231,000 in the city. Now wouldn't it be reasonable to expect, if the Schick test and immunizations were not valuable in the control of diphtheria, that of the 1,400 cases of diphtheria reported since December 1, that at least 11 per cent, or over 150, of these cases should be among those we have Schicked and immunized? Yes, it would be reasonable to expect this, if the Schick test and toxin-antitoxin immunization were negligible factors in diphtheria control. As a matter of fact, we have had only one case reported and this was merely a mild bacteriological case.

Now, gentlemen, it seems to me that certain fundamental truths must be fairly admitted. From time immemorial curative rather than preventive medicine has obtained, and when one understands the marked difference between the two systems one wonders that there should be any question on the part of state, city or people as to the necessity of adopting everything possible along preventive lines:—curative medicine deals with the patient after—preventive medicine, before he becomes ill, the scope of the latter—preventing his becoming so. Physical incapacity with loss of one's income, which is paramount to a great many families, is the result of one system, plus the employment of the services of physicians, nurses, medicine, and sick room supplies, and in addition to these burdens the patient not only suffers physically, but, alas, too often he is called upon to sacrifice his life. Even if he survives he goes through a tedious period of convalescence with no guarantee that he will ever regain his former well-being; some sequel remains which denotes the fact that a battle has been waged and he has come out of it—defeated.

This is the usual heritage to the patient and his family, but the suffering to the community, state or city, from a financial and educational standpoint has not even been considered; for everyone who is invalidated means deprivation of output, no matter whatever his occupation may be, and when attacked by a communicable disease like diphtheria, the opportunity of infecting others is great and when contact infection occurs the contacts likewise are common sufferers.

In Boston there have been in the past ten years 1,807 deaths from diphtheria; this represents nearly 2 per cent of all deaths of the city. It is impossible for one to give a correct valuation of a single life, but if its value be taken as an average of only $5,000 this would entail an annual loss of nearly a million dollars to a city, and accompanying this loss, a further waste, both financially, educationally and otherwise is shown as follows: The average quarantine period of each case is about two weeks; there have been over 25,000 cases of diphtheria in this city for the past ten years; now the annual loss of time alone for these cases would amount to about eighty years; a great number of these cases are children of school age, this represents an annual educational loss of about forty years. A further educational loss obtains in regard to the other children in the families, for they also suffer exclusion from school at the same time as the patient; and to this loss of time there is an additional amount that is impossible to accurately calculate, but is, nevertheless, serious, for whenever there is a sharp outbreak of an infectious disease in any institution the educational functions necessarily become disorganized and the scope of the curriculum falls to a very low grade.

The remaining cases belong to the adult group and to their loss of time necessarily is added that of the other adults who are quarantined as attendants on the sick of all ages, and when the patient is removed to the City Hospital the expense falls directly on the taxpayers.

Now, gentlemen, if these preceding observations can be accepted by you as chief executive officers of municipalities with anything like the unanimity with which they are accepted in the best informed medical circles, it seems imperative that this work must go on, that its field must be enlarged, and that the child everywhere throughout this Commonwealth must be protected in his inalienable right—the right to live. But admitting these conclusions, it must be said in all fairness that the work begun in these beliefs is but poorly started; it seems that no definite progress was ever made in all this world unless the pioneers in such work were reviled and reproached by a certain set of reactionaries, who considered everybody's business their own particular concern.

You are all familiar with the annual propaganda of the anti-vaccinationists in this Commonwealth, but you are probably very little familiar with the activities of a well-organized, well-financed, ill-informed menace, a so-called organization which has risen up in its righteousness (God bless the mark!) to protect the child from his enemy—the physician.

Backed apparently by unlimited means; well advised legally by presumably well paid legal advisors; well informed apparently in advance of the plans of the protagonists of preventive medicine, these misguided, zealous, untiring antagonists of progress pursue their venomous way and spread their misleading propaganda in the most insidious but altogether effective manner.

These propagandists or fanatics, call them what you will, leave no stone unturned to obstruct the path of preventive medicine—they have a system too, and they follow their floods of literature with personal appeals to the mothers—that they save the little victims from the "Poison Squad of the Boston Health Department." Well, to their everlasting credit, this "Poison Squad," be it said, despite this major and misdirected effort, not to speak of minor and well directed efforts, have come through big—and they stood alone. They fought the fight against great odds and if they were quitters they would have quit long ago.

Now it would seem in all fairness that those upon whom devolves the duty of carrying out the wholly professional and highly technical aspect of this medical procedure should not be those who are forced to also combat these lay fanatics and their Hessianized physicians; so that if there appears to be anything wrong while to the saving of the child's life per se, if to you, as chief executives of your respective cities the economic value of the life of a child of each and every citizen counts largely in your thoughts and achievements, it seems to me that some provision should be made through your legal departments or, otherwise to take over the defensive action against destructive criticism furnished by ill informed and misdirected lay critics, to the end that medical men who seek the greatest good for the greatest number might function to the best advantage. After all there is nothing new in this; every advance in medical science has been predicated upon fanatical opposition. Always there were those, from the time of St. Thomas to the present day, who do not believe, and every advance in human attainment carried on its back its coterie of unbelievers.

You must be prepared for that, you have been advised and warned, and must be prepared against that. I purposely bring these facts out because I feel that you, as mayors of your cities, should be acquainted with certain obstacles that your health departments may meet or have met (especially Worcester) in their endeavors to protect the health of your communities. I present the facts with only one motive, and that—a plea to lend your help to your health officers in the fight against this persistent, insistent and obstructive propaganda. If this address shall have done nothing but this, this in itself will be a record of accomplishment.

If my work in the control of diphtheria in Boston is comparable to the work of the health officers of your own locality, I feel that you will agree with me if I express the opinion that to justify a successful end there must be unity, not only among subordinates, but also among superiors. Not only has my superior officer, Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, given his entire unstinted approval of the work, but the Mayor of this city, Hon. James M. Curley (an enthusiast in all matters pertaining to public health), has in published word and public statement given his unqualified indorsement to this undertaking.

Perhaps this address will appear somewhat stilted, but if you appreciate my difficulty in trying to present a highly technical problem to so many administrative minds, you will understand my preparedness to function in any useful capacity by endeavoring to answer any and all questions that may be offered.

Now, gentlemen, permit me to express my appreciation of your courtesy and thoughtful consideration, and at the same time to call sharply to your attention the vital need of an intelligent united front, in all matters pertaining to public health which have long since emerged from the maze of scientific experimentation, and rest securely upon their merits. That diphtheria control by the Schick and toxin-antitoxin method is one of these—these great accomplishments in preventive medicine there can be no doubt—no doubt can exist also that those who benefit largely by its administration are helpless little ones, who in the very nature of things cannot think for themselves but must needs depend for their lives on the intelligence and thoughtfulness of others in their belief. The responsibility of those in executive offices cannot be gained, vaccination and equivocation are equally guilty—guilty of doing nothing when there is so much to be done.

Let us, then, away with these policies of inactivity, executive inertia, let us rather take for our slogan that "public health is purchasable," that it ranks as an investment of the highest grade, and that those who march under its banner will reap their rewards in the undying gratitude of innumerable parents and in the usefulness of children whose living has been made possible by you.

In doing this you will be doing nothing new, merely emulating the spirit of The Great Master Himself, who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Gentlemen, I thank you.

IMPROVING MEMORIAL PARK.

Extensive improvements are to be made this summer at World War Memorial Park, East Boston. Plans have been drawn by Arthur A. Shurtleff, landscape architect of the Park Department, which call for an expenditure of $100,000. The work will not only correct all the disadvantages which this attractive reservation has suffered since it was laid out, but will furnish the maximum facilities for enjoyment.

The plan calls for a rearrangement of the ball field so that the diamonds may be constructed with adequate bleachers to accommodate from 2,000 to 3,000 persons. Around this field a substantial wire fence will be erected, similar to those used elsewhere in the park system, and strong backstops will be provided. The present field will be regraded and drained to provide a good playing surface. In addition, the tennis courts will be removed to a position within the oval.

Bathing has been unsatisfactory at Wood Island Park for years. The final unbearable feature was caused by silting from the filling operations on neighboring land. Present plans call for a new beach, some distance away, and for a bathhouse opposite the ball field. The grass field for soccer football will be widened and a parking space provided for automobiles near the end of Neptune avenue. The footbridge at the southerly end of the park will be repaired.

Mayor Curley believes that when the work is completed East Boston will have one of the finest playgrounds in the country.

FINANCE COMMISSION LETTER.

BOSTON, May 24, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor:

SIR,—Under date of January 6, 1923, your Honor sent a public letter to the chairman of the Finance Commission containing in substance the following allegations:

1. That the manner in which the award of $392,117 was paid to Nathan Matthews on November 16, 1921, for his property taken in connection with the Stuart street widening, was illegal.
2. That men were let up on the highways and byways and on threats to sell all property for unpaid taxes money was forced into the treasurer's office to pay Nathan Matthews the amount of damages awarded him.
3. That for the first time in its history the treasurer's office was kept open after hours, or until five o'clock, in order that sufficient money might be raised to pay the damages award d Nathan Matthews.
4. That the payment of $392,117 on November 16, 1921, to Nathan Matthews was illegal, because a sufficient amount of bonds of the Stuart street loan had not been issued on that date.
5. That this payment to Mr. Matthews on November 16, 1921, was not legalized until fifteen days after it was made.

During the Finance Commission's investigation of the Stuart street widening it has been unable to find any evidence to support these allegations. Will your Honor kindly furnish the Finance Commission with the evidence on which you based these allegations?

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
 by MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

ADVISES FINANCE COMMISSION CONSULT FORMER MAYOR.

Mayor Curley sent the following reply to the Finance Commission May 24, in answer to their letter of this date:

HON. MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN, Chairman,
Boston Finance Commission, Boston,
Mass.

DEAR SIR—I beg to acknowledge receipt this day of your communication relating to the transactions of city business under the administration of my predecessor, Hon. Andrew J. Peters, and would suggest that your commission consult him with reference to the interrogatories directed to me.

Respectfully yours,
 JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

THANKS MAYOR FOR HONOR.

Mayor Curley was very pleased to receive a letter from Mr. Denis Barry, Dunmanway, County Cork, Ireland, father of the late William J. Barry, in whose honor the playground at Charlestown was named. Mr. Barry expressed to Mayor Curley his deep appreciation for the extension of the Barry Playground and the resulting improvements. The letter of Mr. Barry was as follows:

DEAR MAYOR CURLEY,—I write to thank you for all you have done in helping the improvement of the W. J. Barry Playground. I can assure you I deeply appreciate the smallest bit done to help to keep green the memory of my late son, William J. Barry.

Again thanking you for all you have done to make it a success, I remain,
 Yours respectfully,
 DENIS BARRY.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendation of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 17 the Mayor approved a contract with the Colonial Scale Company for furnishing weighing machines in the convenience stations and buildings of the Park Department for a period of one year. Bids for the supply, opened March 22, were as follows:

Auto Sales Corporation, $750 a year; Colonial Scale Company, $775 a year.

Upon May 22 the Mayor approved a contract with J. A. Singarella for constructing a concrete platform and repairs to wooden buildings at the L Street Bath House, South Boston. Bids for the work, opened May 10, were as follows:

M. S. Kelleher, $3,887.50; R. A. Bossi Company, $3,224; W. H. Murtfeldt Company, $3,136.00; Engineering Service Construction Company, $3,067; J. A. Singarella, $2,611.25.

Upon May 22 the Mayor approved a contract with J. C. Coleman & Sons Company for the construction of concrete bleachers, etc., at John J. Connolly Playground. Bids for the work, opened May 10, were as follows:

A. G. Tomasello, $48,005; John MacDonald Construction Company, $46,435.95; Carmine Antonellis, $42,348.50; J. C. Coleman & Sons Company, $37,240; J. A. Singarella, $29,142.50.

Incident to the award Daniel J. Byrne, secretary of the Board, made the following statement:

Mr. Singarella notified the Board that he had made a serious error in figuring his bid for concrete foundation and that, under the circumstances, he did not want to take the contract, as it meant a financial loss to him.

The Board believes that Mr. Singarella could not give a satisfactory result at the prices submitted, and therefore it was voted that the contract be awarded to the second lowest bidder, the J. C. Coleman & Sons Company, 1620 Tremont street, Roxbury, for the approximate sum of $37,240, same to be charged to the special appropriation. "Improvements, etc., William Eustis, William E. Carter and John J. Connolly Playgrounds."

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 19 the Mayor approved a contract with the Dewell Company for preparation of poll tax bills. A communication from Edward Kelly of the Assessing Department was as follows:

Boston, May 14, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURELY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—We desire your permission to make a contract with M. A. Dewell, known as the Dewell Company, in the preparation of poll tax bills, including detail on the bills of veterans of the World War, permitting the inclosure of an abatement application with each bill.

The limited time between the earliest delivery of the completed lists and the date when the bills must be issued renders the operation within the department liable to seriously interfere with the work of property assessments. The Dewell Company have done work of a similar character in the past and their familiarity with our books and forms make it desirable to have them do the work.

From the figures submitted by other concerns competent to do the work I am unable to find anyone who is willing to do it at a less cost.

For these reasons permission is requested to make the contract, without advertising, at a price of 1 cent per item—the total cost to be approximately $2,500.

Respectfully,

EDWARD T. KELLY,
Chairman.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon May 22 the Mayor approved a contract with Christian A. Zappe for construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

Boston, May 19, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURELY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Christian A. Zappe, 5 Linsdale avenue, Dedham, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

PARK DEPARTMENT.

Carmine Antonellis has been permitted to do the following additional work on his contract for Jamaicaaway improvements: Build three catch-basins, lay approximately 200 linear feet of 8-inch drain pipe, connecting same with existing manholes, and remove existing tree in lawn space, all to be paid for under Article 8, the cost of labor plus 10 per cent, and the cost of materials, at an estimated cost of $500.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Ferry Service).

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with Rudolph Jurgenson Company, for foundations for ferry bridges for the South Ferry, from March 1, 1923, to June 1, 1923. This extension covers only the completion of the work on the Boston side, and is requested because of poor tidal and weather conditions during the past winter.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

Antony Baruffoldi Company have been granted an extension of time for completion of contract for building sewerage works in Maverick street, from 500 feet southeast of Jeffries street to Lamson street, East Boston, from May 5, 1923, to May 12, 1923 seven days. This extension is due to delay in restoring bituminous macadam pavement over refilled trenches on account of weather conditions.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

J. P. Dwyer Company have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for piping and other equipment for new boilers at Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester. Items ordered: Change blow-off connections by insertion of 45-degree elbows and short nipples to correct errors of alignment; raise safety valves on super heater outlets and tie them black to columns with rods; change method of supporting structural work on engine room wall to avoid interference with soil pipe and to avoid cutting pockets in stonework; replace two straight risers with bent pipe to give offset, one 3½-inch and one 6-inch size (this is to avoid interference with existing masonry); fasten side buckstays on boilers with iron clips and cinch bolts—the estimated cost of extra work being $450.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has approved, upon request of Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department, the following construction work:

A 12-inch pipe surface drain in Lincoln road, between Leslie street and a point 240 feet westerly, in the Dorchester district, at an estimated cost of $480.

CONTRACTS AMENDED.

The contract of M. Seretto for the erection and completion of Police Station No. 8 and Fire Station No. 31 has been amended by changing the date of completion as appears on page 40 of the contract to read "July 1, 1923," instead of "April 1, 1923."

The contract of Joseph Rugo for erecting and completing an elementary school in the Henry L. Pierce District, Dorchester, on Bailey street, has been amended by striking out the words and figures, "November 2, 1922," on page 12, Section 3, and substituting the words and figures, "June 15, 1923," so that the beginning of the last paragraph shall read: "The work is to be commenced on or about August 2, 1922, and is to be completed on or about June 15, 1923."

WORK AUTHORIZED.

The Mayor has granted the request of Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department:

To relay granite block paving with cement grout joints in Norfolk avenue, from Marshfield street to East Cottage street, with division forces, without inviting proposals by advertisement, the estimated cost for labor and material being $4,500, because in the opinion of the Public Works Commissioner, this is maintenance work and can be done as advantageously by day labor methods as any work now necessary.

To repave Ferry street, city proper, from Fulton street to North street, with granite block pavement, grout joints on a gravel base, without inviting proposals by advertisement, the estimated cost for labor and material being $2,000.

GERMANY APPEALS TO MAYOR.

Mayor Curley received a communication from Hugo Seeber, secretary of the Post Office Department, Zellaneckis, Germany, who lost his property during the war, with the exception of his home. This is located 700 feet above the sea level near Oberhof, the famous German bathing place, which during the summer months is frequented by thousands of foreigners, including many Americans.

Mr. Seeber's wife was killed by an explosion during the war, and he is left with three children, the eldest a boy of eleven years. Master Seeber has been an exemplary scholar, is a boy of excellent character, and has the ambition to become a technical engineer.

Mr. Seeber feels that in order that his son may have due opportunity for a preliminary education for the engineering profession, the child's journey to America is imperative. He offers to extend a home at the famous watering place of Oberhof to any person and for the period of the summer months, calling particular attention to the healthful location 700 feet above sea level, who will defray the expenses of the child by a loan sufficient to enable him to secure passage to America and enjoy a term of study and in return Mr. Seeber will provide the free occupancy of his home, food and entertainment at the famous bathing place throughout the summer season.

Mayor Curley referred Mr. Seeber's letter to Mr. E. B. Mero, secretary of the Boston Conservation Bureau, 465 Stuart street, Boston, with whom any charitable person desiring to aid this boy may communicate.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

BOSTON, May 17, 1923.

To the Honorable the Mayor and City Council:

GENTLEMEN:—In May, 1898, the City of Boston by a written agreement with the Boston Belting Company settled the basis of claims for damages which the Boston Belting Company had against the city for diverting the water supply of Stony brook from the premises and use of the Boston Belting Company.

For the future loss to the Boston Belting Company of the water supply of Stony brook the City of Boston agreed to furnish without charge to the Boston Belting Company not over 3,000,000 gallons of water per day, or 400,000 gallons in any one hour; as well as the necessary drainage and sewerage facilities to dispose of the used water, for the term of twenty-five years and as much longer as the city desired, in the discretion of the mayor of the city.

If at any time after January 1, 1923, the City of Boston, in the discretion of the mayor of the city, decided to discontinue this free supply of water, it might do so by giving the Boston Belting Company six months' notice of its intention; after which, upon the demand of the company, the city would pay to the company the sum of $387,666.67.

In 1916 the control of the Boston Belting Company was obtained by George F. Willett. This control was lost by him in 1918, but in 1919 he purchased all the common stock of the Boston Belting Company for the sum of $100,000. Mr. Willett testified before the Finance Commission that he originally purchased this company because of the large amount of water that the company was entitled to without charge from the City of Boston. When he repurchased the Boston Belting Company in 1919 this water privilege was carried on the books at $150,000.

Mr. Willett further testified that in April, 1922, he called upon Mayor Curley and informed the Mayor that the Boston Belting Company intended to engage in the business of wood scumming because of the profits that could be made, due to the large amount of free water that the company was entitled to from the City of Boston, but before doing so he desired to know from the Mayor whether the city was going to exercise its option to discontinue the use of free water to the company and pay it the sum of $387,666.67 after January 1, 1923.

The Mayor suggested that the Boston Belting Company would probably prefer a cash settlement, according to the testimony of Mr. Willett, and requested that the matter be put in writing, which was done in the form of a letter to the Mayor under date of April 10, 1922. This letter was referred to the Corporation Counsel.

At a conference between the Corporation Counsel and Mr. Gill, the assistant treasurer of the Boston Belting Company, in May, 1922, the Corporation Counsel requested the assistant treasurer of the Boston Belting Company to obtain figures which could be used as a basis for a decision by the Mayor. On June 2, in a letter from the Boston Belting Company to the Corporation Counsel, the following statement appears:

After our confidential figures were received, we endeavored to obtain the figures which would be used as a basis for a decision by the Honorable the Mayor. It was found necessary in getting accurate figures, inasmuch as the Water Department figures are naturally reluctant to divulge information regarding a matter which is being handled by the city Law Department.

The one factor in the situation which can be figured accurately is the annual cost to the city of terminating the contract. On a 4 per cent interest basis the cost to the city for borrowing the amount necessary to terminate the contract would be approximately $15,000 a year.

Assuming that the city did not exercise its right to terminate the agreement and the Boston Belting Company took full advantage of the contract, I am informed that the city would be obliged to pay the Metropolitan District Commission an increased assessment of over $50,000 a year.

This statement that the city would be obliged to pay an "increased assessment of over $50,000 a year" is not true.

The engineer of the Finance Commission has determined after investigation that it will cost the city not over $10,000 a year to furnish the additional 3,000,000 gallons of water a day to the Boston Belting Company. The commission caused these figures, arrived at by its own engineer, to be reviewed by Mr. William E. Foss, chief engineer and director of the Metropolitan District Commission, Mr. X. H. Goodnough, chief engineer and director of the State Department of Public Health, and Mr. Frank A. McInnes, late division engineer of the Water Service of the City of Boston. All of these gentlemen agreed that the method used by the commission's consulting engineer is the correct one and that the cost to the City of Boston of furnishing 3,000,000 gallons a day in addition to the amount now used by the city would not exceed $10,000 a year.

The Finance Commission has been unable to find that either the Mayor or the Corporation Counsel had the cost to the city of furnishing the additional water under the contract determined by any competent person with full knowledge of the contract provisions. The Corporation Counsel inquired verbally of Mr. Goodnough, engineer in the State Department of Public Health, the cost to the City of Boston of a million gallons of water per day. Mr. Goodnough did not have before him the full terms of the contract of the city with the Boston Belting Company concerning which the inquiry was made. The Finance Commission could find no evidence that any written report of the cost of supplying this additional water was made, or caused to be made, by the city authorities.

Mr. Willett testified that the negotiations of himself and his assistant treasurer Mr. Gill, with the Corporation Counsel, lasting during the spring and summer, were without result and that the Corporation Counsel regarded the activities and representations of him and his company as a bluff. Early in the autumn Mr. Willett advised with his associates and decided to employ Hon. Thomas P. Riley as counsel, because he believed that the case needed a political lawyer, one in touch with the city people.

When Mr. Riley was employed it was agreed that he should receive 10 per cent of the amount collected from the city. Later the sum that Mr. Riley was to receive was fixed at $25,000. On October 18, 1922, Judge Riley wrote a letter to the Corporation Counsel, entering his appearance for the Boston Belting Company, and referred to the letter of the company of June 2, 1922, for a general statement of the company's case and abstracts of the agreement which were attached to his letter, and stated further:

It seems to me, under all the circumstances in this case, that there can be no question, but that, first, the City of Boston should be desirous of terminating this contract and thereby eliminate the liability of an expense that would amount to some fifty thousand to one hundred thousand dollars a year by the expenditure of finance, that would not cost more than $15,000 a year.

To this letter the Corporation Counsel replied on October 27, as follows:

October 27, 1922.

HON. THOMAS P. RILEY, 9 Pleasant street, Malden, Mass.

Re Stony Brook and Boston Belting Company.
MY DEAR JUDGE:—Your letter of October 18, addressed to his Honor the Mayor and to myself, presumably delivered at the office of the Mayor of this city, has been forwarded to me for my consideration and reply.

There is probably very little doubt that the city will be willing to terminate the present agreement between itself and your client, the Boston Belting Company, and I can conceive of our arriving at some basis of settlement that will be mutually advantageous to both our firms. When this matter was first brought to the attention of this administration, the Mayor felt that the budget for the fiscal year having been taken up, the amount that would probably be required to terminate this agreement was too large to be considered at this time. In view of the fact that there are many trading elements in the present situation, I would suggest the possibility of your client being willing for a cash settlement to take something less than the very considerable sum mentioned in the agreement, which was $387,666.67. At your honor's convenience I will be very glad to take up this entire matter in person with you.

Very truly yours,

E. MARK SULLIVAN,
Corporation Counsel.

Although this unusual contract was under discussion for more than a year, the first notice to the public came in an announcement by the Mayor in a public address on April 29, 1923, that he had settled with the Boston Belting Company for $300,000.

No suit was brought or could be brought in any court against the City of Boston by the Boston Belting Company. The single question for the Mayor to decide was whether it was more to the interest of the City of Boston to allow the contract that had been in effect for twenty-five years to continue than to terminate it and pay a large sum of money for so doing. The facts on which he could make a decision were all within his own control, that is, within the city departments, and they could easily be verified or reviewed by reference to the state agencies that lay the assessment upon the City of Boston for its use of water.

The Mayor could have established in a way that would have left no doubt that the facilities for delivering this water to the Boston Belting Company are sufficient; that the sewerage facilities for taking away the waste water are sufficient; and that the cost of this additional water to the City of Boston would not exceed $10,000 a year. Moreover, the probability of the Boston Belting Company ever equipping its plant to enable it to use 3,000,000 gallons of water a day and building up the necessary organization to handle the proposed business is remote, in the opinion of the Finance Commission, because of the location of its plant, its lack of spur track facilities and its inability to get them, and because when such a business as the company proposes is finally established it could be rendered admittedly profitless in six months' time by the city serving notice of the withdrawal of its free water supply. But even if the company carried out its proposal the city would still be able to furnish the water at less cost than the interest on the $300,000.

The Finance Commission believes that the termination of this contract by the Mayor at this time and the agreement to pay the sum of $300,000 is unwarranted and not in the interest of the city.

The Finance Commission recommends that the city withdraw from this reported settlement, if it can now do so legally.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

MAYOR SCORES FINANCE COMMISSION.

REFUSES RECOMMENDATION Re BOSTON BELTING COMPANY CONTRACT THAT WOULD BRING SHAME TO CITY AND RENDER CONTRACTUAL OBLIGATIONS VALUELESS—SAVES CITY MONEY AND HONOR.

Mayor Curley sent the following reply to the Finance Commission today in answer to their report on the claim of the Boston Belting Company against the City of Boston:

HON. MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN, Chairman, Finance Commission, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIR,—Acknowledging the receipt of your communication re the Boston Belting Company claim, I beg to submit herewith report of the Corporation Counsel covering legal proceedings in the matter of the Boston Belting Company vs. the City of Boston caused by improvements in Stony brook under the Acts of 1874, chapter 196. I beg to submit further the report of the Commissioner of Public Works relative to the advisability of terminating the contract made in 1898 by the then Mayor of Boston, Hon. Josiah Quincy.

I concur in the recommendation of the Commissioner of Public Works and likewise the opinion and recommendation of the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, whose judgment in these matters must in the last analysis be the basis for final action by the Mayor of Boston. The settlement arrived at, in my opinion, represents an exceptionally good business transaction from the standpoint of the city's best interests. The contract in force since 1898 provided that the City of Boston should furnish 3,000,000 gallons of water each day in perpetuity to the Boston Belting Company or in lieu of a release of this contract pay to the Boston Belting Company the sum of $387,666.67.

Two very important and most essential points are entirely disregarded in the conclusions reached by your commission, first, that the city as a chartered corporation is not a temporary institution and that its tenure of existence is permanent and such being the case if the basis of water costs were as presented by the Public Works Commissioner of Boston, namely, $57,000 per annum for water delivered, it would be possible to write off the entire obligation in a little more than five years as based on the compromise agreement arrived at by the Corporation Counsel and the officials of the Boston Belting Company; if, on the other hand the basis for settlement were the fictitious figure of $10,000 per year named by the Finance Commission the obligation would be discharged in a period of thirty years, so that any settlement the basis of which is less than the terms of the original contract made in 1898 during the administration of former Mayor Josiah Quincy represents an actual saving to the municipality and in this case the actual saving as a result of the adoption of the compromise agreement is $87,666.67.

It is unfortunate that the moral standards upon which the conclusions of the Finance Commission are invariably based are not of a more honorable order. Upon page six of the Finance Commission's report the suggestion that the city after the Boston Belting Company had equipped its plant for the use of the water which under the contract the city is required to furnish, could by serving notice of the withdrawal of this water supply, render the investment of the Boston Belting Company profitless is a recommendation so base in character, so ignoble in purpose as to result in the event of its adoption in rendering it difficult for the city to convey the impression that its contractual obligations were other than valueless.

I beg to state that as Mayor of Boston I have this day signed the agreement terminating the contract entered into in 1898 by the Hon. Josiah Quincy and the termination of which represents an actual saving to the City of Boston of $87,666.67. It is a pleasure in conclusion to state that this saving has been effected by the city without the loss in any measure of that which is far more important than the financial gain, namely the city's honor as a responsible contractual party to obligations incurred in the past.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a taking of land for sewerage works in Lincoln road, Dorchester.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings, or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston known as Dorchester, and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Lincoln road, bounded:

Westerly by another part of Lincoln road, eight feet; northerly by another part of Lincoln road, two hundred twenty-eight and 37-100 feet; southeasterly by Leslie street, nine and 21-100 feet; southerly by another part of Lincoln road, two hundred twenty-three and 81-100 feet; containing eighteen hundred nine square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Leslie street, bounded:

Northwesterly by Lincoln road, nine and 21-100 feet; northerly by another part of Leslie street, twenty-seven and 63-100 feet; southeasterly by another part of Leslie street, nine and 21-100 feet; southerly by another part of Leslie street, twenty-seven and 63-100 feet; containing two hundred and twenty-one square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 240 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer, and 216 linear feet of 12-inch pipe surface drain, in the above described lands, being parts of the private ways known as Lincoln road and Leslie street.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easements and construction of said sewerage works, and awards no damages therefor.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of land abutting on both sides of Lincoln road for a distance of approximately 230 feet westerly from Leslie street will receive benefit or advantage, other than the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement ordered herein, each of the particular lots to the amount respectively set against it herein; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 503, Sewerage Works, Lincoln Road, Dorchester, April 18, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department" on file in the office of said department.

BAY STATE EXECUTIVES PLEDGE SUPPORT TO MAYOR CURLEY IN BANK TAX FIGHT.

At a meeting of the mayors and selectmen, held at City Hall, Boston, Tuesday, May 22, the following resolutions were adopted:

"At a meeting of the mayors and selectmen of the cities and towns of Massachusetts, held at City Hall, Boston, Massachusetts, this twenty-second day of May, it was resolved that they will support legislation imposing a tax of not less than 12 1/2 per cent upon the net income of national banks, provided that the legislation relieves the cities and towns of the Commonwealth of all obligation to repay, directly or indirectly, any portion of the tax assessed on national banks during the years 1917-22, inclusive.

"The mayors of all the Massachusetts cities and selectmen and representatives of many of the towns, today assembled to consider the national bank tax situation, hereby tender to the Hon. James M. Curley, Mayor of Boston, their appreciation of his untiring efforts in behalf of all the municipalities of the Commonwealth, which will result in a saving of practically ten million dollars to the taxpayers."

These resolutions were unanimously adopted by the following representatives of cities and towns:

Mayor of Boston, Mayor of New Bedford,

Mayor of Somerville, Mayor of Fall River, Mayor of Pittsfield, Mayor of Peabody, City Solicitor of Springfield, representative of Selectmen of Methuen, Town Clerk of Framingham, Chairman of the Selectmen of Newbury, Chairmen of the Selectmen of Rowley, Brookfield, Rockport, Wilmington, Berlin, Mansfield, Mayor Mahoney of Lawrence, Chairman of Selectmen of Duxbury, Littleton, Danvers, Wenham, Rockland, Acushnet, Wintthrop, City Solicitor of Newton, Chairmen of Selectmen of Uxbridge, Hamilton, Belmont, Mayor of Lynn, Mayor of Newburyport, Chairmen of Selectmen of Athol, Braintree, Orange, Milford, Kingston, Marblehead, Groton, Mayors of Cambridge and Beverly, Chairmen of Selectmen of Millbury, Southbridge, Scituate, Sharon, City Solicitor of Brockton, Mayor of Malden, Chairmen of Selectmen of Milton, Easton, Amesbury, City Solicitors of Lowell and Worcester, Town Counsel of Hingham, Selectmen of Pembroke, Town Counsel of Stoneham, City Solicitor of Melrose, City Solicitor of Everett, Mayor of Waltham, Town Counsel of Reading, Selectmen of Holliston, Westwood, Fairhaven, Great Barrington, Mayors of Leominster, Westfield and Fitchburg.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 40.

I. PROMOTION.

The following promotion, which took effect April 20, 1923, is hereby announced: Capt. William H. McCorkle to District Chief in charge of the Bureau of Supplies and Repairs.

II. CHANGES IN APPARATUS ASSIGNMENT.

The following changes in apparatus assignment are hereby announced to take effect at 9 a. m., Friday, May 18, 1923:

Boxes 1532, 1538 and 1548.

First alarm: Drop Engine 35, add Engine 26.

Third alarm: Reponse, drop Engine 26, add Engine 37. Covering, drop Engine 50 to Engine 26, add Engine 41 to Engine 33, add Engine 51 to Engine 41.

Fourth alarm: Reponse, drop Engine 37, add Engine 1. Covering, drop Engine 9 to Engine 26, drop Engine 41 to Engine 33, drop Engine 51 to Engine 41, add Engine 9 to Engine 7.

Sixth alarm: Response, drop Engine 12. Covering, drop Engine 40 to Engine 26, add Engine 40 to Engine 7.

Commanding officers will see that these changes are made in assignment cards.

By order of the Fire Commissioner,

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

General Order No. 41.

I. UNIFORM COMMITTEE.

The committee on uniforms established by General Order No. 35, series 1920, paragraph IV, having performed its duties in a capable and satisfactory manner, is hereby discharged.

II. TEMPORARY FIRE ALARM BOX.

A fire alarm box, No. 7126, has been installed at the Commonwealth Dry

Dock, South Boston, for temporary service. The running card will be the same as for Box 7123, and the box is connected into circuit No. 32. Commanding officers will see that proper record is made of this additional box at once.

III. INSIGNIA, CAP DEVICES AND BADGES.

Officers' cap devices must be attached to the front center of the cap, with top of device touching a point about one quarter of an inch below the welt or upper seam. It has been observed that many of these devices have been attached to caps in a careless manner.

Commanding officers will see that all badges, cap devices and insignia are kept well polished and not allowed to be worn in a tarnished state. This order applies to the badges, etc., worn by all officers and members of the department.

By order of the Fire Commissioner.

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

FOR LISTING EMPLOYEES.

The Mayor has issued the following circular letter to the heads of departments:

MAYOR'S OFFICE.
BOSTON, May 17, 1923.

To the Heads of City and County Departments:

GENTLEMEN,—Section 27 of chapter 486 of the Acts of Massachusetts Legislature of 1909 as amended, provides that every officer and Board in charge of a department of the city or county shall on or before the sixth day of June in each year prepare and furnish to the City Auditor a list of the officials and employees under said officer or Board and paid by the city or county on the first day of June, preceding, giving the name, residence by street and ward, designation, compensation and date of election or appointment of each of said officials and employees, and the date when each first entered the employ of the city or county.

In order to facilitate compliance with the provisions of this law the City Auditor has prepared uniform blanks to be used by every department making a return, and you are directed to obtain these forms and to use them in making the return required.

The preparation of these lists is a matter of considerable importance and should command your personal attention.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

FOR MILITARY TRAINING.

The Mayor has issued the following circular letter to the heads of departments granting leave of absence to employees for military training:

MAYOR'S OFFICE.
BOSTON, May 18, 1923.

To the Heads of Departments:

GENTLEMEN,—You are hereby directed to grant leave of absence, without loss of pay, to employees in your department who are members of the Army Reserve Corps, the Naval Reserve Force, the National Guard, or the United States Citizens Training Camp, to attend the annual tour of duty or service school.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 289.

The commanding officer of Division 3 has called to my attention the following meritorious piece of police work performed by Patrolmen William P. Hayes, John A. Russell and John D. Holmes of that division.

Late in the forenoon of May 5, as Patrolman Hayes was patrolling his route in Sudbury street, near Hawkins street, he heard loud outcries from a man who was pursuing two young men through Hawkins street. Patrolman Hayes immediately joined in the chase and soon captured one of the young men who, as he ran, had thrown away a loaded revolver. It was learned at the time that he and his companion, who had escaped, had just held up and attempted to rob, in the hallway of 33 Hawkins street, a young woman who was carrying a substantial sum of money, the pay roll of the firm by which she is employed and whose place of business is in that building.

The young man who escaped having been identified, Patrolmen Hayes, Russell and Holmes went to his apartment about four o'clock p. m. and waited there until he returned in the early evening, when they arrested him, and later they arrested a third young man, an employee of the firm, who had arranged with the other two for the seizure of the pay roll. All three of the young men were held in $15,000 bail each for the Grand Jury.

I am highly gratified with this excellent piece of police work on the part of Patrolmen Hayes, Russell and Holmes, and I warmly commend them for the alertness, intelligence and perseverance they displayed in effecting the arrest of these criminals.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 290.

The commanding officer of Division 6 has called to my attention the following recent and successful application of the Schaefer method of resuscitation by Patrolmen Ralph I. Bailey, Ralph A. Coté and Joseph P. O'Hendley of that division.

On the evening of May 5, 1923, a middle-aged man attempted to commit suicide by jumping from the Broadway Bridge into the Fort Point Channel and was rescued in an unconscious condition by a citizen. Patrolman Bailey, who was in the vicinity, telephoned for the station ambulance and then made immediate application of the Schaefer method of resuscitation to the rescued man, who was apparently dead. On the arrival of the ambulance Patrolmen Coté and O'Hendley who were in charge, went to the assistance of Patrolman Bailey and after they had continued the treatment for several minutes the man recovered sufficiently to give his name. He was then taken in the ambulance to the City Hospital. Patrolmen Coté and O'Hendley, who accompanied him, continuing the treatment on the way, and on their arrival at the hospital the man was pronounced out of danger as a result of the immediate and continued treatment given to him.

This is a most excellent piece of police work, and I take pleasure in commending Patrolmen Bailey, Coté and O'Hendley for their intelligent understanding and diligent application of the Schaefer or prone method of resuscitation, which enabled them to save the life of an unfortunate fellow citizen.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 291.

A trial board consisting of Captains Driscoll, Dailey and Mason having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman James A. Jameson of Division 3, charging him with conduct unbecoming an officer, reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which the said Patrolman James A. Jameson was on May 16, 1923, dismissed from the Police Department.

Due notice of such dismissal with the reason therefor was duly and specifically given in writing on May 16, 1923, to the said James A. Jameson.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 293.

Capt. William L. Devitt of headquarters having arrived at the age of sixty-nine and three-twelfths years and having performed faithful service in the Police Department for forty-three years, it is hereby Ordered, his Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that the said Capt. William L. Devitt be retired from active service and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate of seventeen hundred and fifty (1,750) dollars per annum, said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired; to take effect Friday, May 25, 1923, at 7.45 o'clock a. m.

The greater part of Captain Devitt's long service in the Police Department has been devoted to the investigation of claims against the City of Boston in co-operation with the Committee on Claims of the City Council and the Law Department, and his careful and conscientious services in these matters have not only saved the City of Boston many thousands of dollars but have merited for him the respect and esteem of all who have come in contact with him on official matters. The Police Department desires to extend to Capt. William L. Devitt on his retirement the expression of its appreciation of his long and valuable service to the City of Boston.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

CONVENTION FOR BOSTON.

Louis Papp, president of the Boston Linen Club, has assured Mayor Curley that the convention of the National Linen Supply Association will be held in Boston during the year 1924 upon a date to be selected later. Mayor Curley, upon request of Mr. Papp, extended a very cordial invitation to the members of the National Linen Supply Association to assemble here next year. The convention is of vital importance in the matter of the extension of the commercial and industrial linen interests of both Boston and New England.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a taking of land for sewerage works in Rosindale avenue, West Roxbury.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in tress, buildings, or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston known as West Roxbury, and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Rosindale avenue, bounded:

Southwesterly by Cornell street, twelve feet; northwesterly by another part of Rosindale avenue, two hundred twelve and 71-100 feet; easterly by Bellevue avenue, sixteen and 97-100 feet; southeasterly by another part of Rosindale avenue, two hundred thirty-one and 31-100 feet; containing twenty-four hundred eighty square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Bellevue avenue, bounded:

Westerly by Rosindale avenue, sixteen and 97-100 feet; northwesterly by another part of Bellevue avenue, thirty-one and 11-100 feet; easterly by the westerly line of an easement taken for sewerage purposes by the City of Boston in Bellevue avenue, November 29, 1898, sixteen and 97-100 feet; southeasterly by another part of Rosindale avenue, thirty-one and 11-100 feet; containing three hundred seventy-three square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 200 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer, 35 linear feet of 18-inch pipe and 842 linear feet of 15-inch pipe surface drain in the above described premises, being parts of the private ways known as Rosindale and Bellevue avenues.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of improvements ordered herein.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easements and construction of said sewerage works, and awards no damages therefor.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of land supposed to belong to Elizabeth M. Rauch and Augustus Meyers located on the northwesterly side of said Rosindale avenue, between Cornell street and Bellevue avenue, will receive benefit or advantage, other than the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement ordered herein, each of the particular lots to the amount respectively set against it herein; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 490, Sewerage Works, Rosindale Avenue, West Roxbury, March 12, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," on file in the office of said department.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a taking of land for sewerage works in Prospect street, West Roxbury.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings, or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston known as West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Prospect street, bounded:

Southwesterly by the northeast line of Baker street, ten feet; northwesterly by another part of Prospect street, four hundred sixty-six and 33-100 feet; westerly by another part of Prospect street, one hundred twenty-seven and 19-100 feet; southwesterly by another part of Prospect street, six and 5-100 feet; northwesterly by another part of Prospect street, ten feet; northwesterly by another part of Prospect street, five and 54-100 feet; easterly by land of the Boston and Providence Railroad Corporation, eighteen and 77-100 feet; again easterly by another part of Prospect street, one hundred nineteen and 86-100 feet; southeasterly by another part of Prospect street, four hundred sixty-nine and 23-100 feet; containing six thousand and forty square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 615 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer and 35 linear feet of 30-inch double strength pipe surface drain in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Prospect street.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the improvement ordered herein.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works, and awards no damages therefor.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of land abutting on the northwesterly side of Prospect street for a distance of approximately 580 feet, and the lots of land abutting on the southeasterly side of Prospect street for a distance of approximately 263 feet, exclusive of the lot at the corner of Prospect and Baker streets, will receive benefit or advantage other than the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement ordered herein; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 495, Sewerage Works, Prospect Street, West Roxbury, March 21, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," on file in the office of said department.

ENGINEERS THANK MAYOR.

His Honor the Mayor is in receipt of the following letter:

May 17, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—We note with gratification that your Honor has recently approved salary advancement in the various grades of the engineering service of the City of Boston.

On behalf of the engineering profession our committee assures you of our appreciation of your action in their case.

We fully understand that there are many city employees besides the engineers who are deserving of increases and that everything cannot be done at once, but may we express the hope that in the not too far distant future conditions will justify bringing the salaries of all city employees, including the engineers, fully up to modern standards.

Very sincerely,

LEWIS E. MOORE,
Chairman, Welfare Committee,
Boston Society of Civil Engineers.

CLAIMS.

The Mayor has approved, with the indorsement of the Corporation Counsel, the following claims:

FINANCE COMMISSION.

BOSTON, May 17, 1923.

To the Honorable the Mayor and the City Council of the City of Boston:

GENTLEMEN.—On May 14 your Honor transmitted to the City Council, and recommended the adoption of the following order:

Ordered, That the expenses incurred by the commission by the appointment by the mayor of the proposed Statler Hotel, not to exceed $2,000, be charged to the Reserve Fund.

The commission understands that this order covers the cost of a proposed trip of a committee consisting of your Honor and certain members of the City Council to attend the dedication exercises of the Statler Hotel in Buffalo on May 19.

The commission believes that the expenditure of money for the purpose stated in your Honor's message and in the order is an illegal use of the city's funds.

Section 49 of the charter amendments is as follows:

Section 49. Each member of the city council shall be paid an annual salary of fifteen hundred dollars; and no other sum shall be paid from the city treasury for or on account of any personal expenses directly or indirectly incurred by or in behalf of any member of said council.

The Finance Commission is sending a copy of this report to the City Treasurer and City Auditor.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

CHARGES FINANCE COMMISSION INJURES BOSTON.

The following statement was issued by Mayor Curley in reply to the Finance Commission report relative to the order passed by the City Council appropriating $2,000 to defray the expenses of a committee to attend the dedication exercises of the new Statler Hotel in Buffalo:

HON. MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN, Chairman, Boston Finance Commission:

DEAR SIR.—The objections made to the order presented under date of May 14, providing for an appropriation of $2,000 to defray the expenses of a committee to present the greetings, good wishes and assurance of co-operation of official Boston to the E. M. Statler representatives, who propose shortly to erect a nine million dollar hotel in this city, is ample proof that the Finance Commission has not risen above the pin-sticking substrata in which it has been immersed for the past eighteen months.

During the administration of my predecessor the City Council visited a number of western cities at the expense of Boston and no objection was raised by the Finance Commission.

It is regrettable that the Finance Commission, in its desires to destroy the Mayor of Boston, should, by its action, cast reflection upon a project of such value to the city as the proposed nine million dollar Statler Hotel.

I have conferred with their local representative and have been assured by him that it was not the purpose of the Statler Company in the extending of an invitation to official Boston to be represented at the opening of the Statler Hotel in Buffalo that any portion of the expense be borne either by the citizens or the official representatives of the municipality to whom invitations have been extended.

It is indeed unfortunate that the policy of the Finance Commission should be dictated by a combination of Irish Heap, as represented by the chairman, and Micawber, always seeking for something to turn up, in the person of the secretary of the commission, since communications such as that received today are impossible of accomplishing any useful purpose and cannot prove other than injurious to the fair name of the city.

At the hearing on the Cambridge street widening on May 16 a member of the Finance Commission, Mr. Charles Carr, stated he was of the opinion that I did not read the reports which your commission from time to time submitted to me and that he believed it was my custom to put them in the waste basket. Despite the fact that the reports submitted by your commission as a rule are both light and uninteresting reading, it has been my policy to scan them, but I confess that unless the Finance Commission abandons its pin-sticking, gutter ward politics, which deceives no one and disgusts everyone, it would appear that the proper disposition of communications similar to the one received this day should be the waste basket.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR TO HONOR DEAD HEROES.

Mayor Curley has decided that every Boston young man who gave his life for his country in the World War will be honored by a linden tree to be planted in or near the place where he lived at the time of going into service. Each tree will be marked by a tablet bearing name, birthplace and place of death of the man commemorated.

A canvass shows that in the city proper 571 heroes will be thus honored. A special appropriation will be provided for each year's Park Department budget for caring for the trees. Among the thoroughfares along which plantings have already been planned are Huntington avenue from Gainsborough street to Longwood avenue, Columbia road, Blue Hill avenue, the Strandway, South Boston, and various places in West Roxbury.

TELLS OF SCHOOL COSTS.

Boston was ably represented at the Twelfth Annual Meeting of the National Association of Public School Business Officials at St. Louis, Tuesday, May 15, where James J. Mahar, Schoolhouse Commissioner of this city gave an address on "An Analysis of the Cost of the Heating and Ventilating System for a School Building."

His address was as follows:

During the first fifteen years of its existence the Schoolhouse Commission of the City of Boston compiled and published valuable data on construction costs of its school buildings. During this period, which was one of stable prices of labor and material, it was possible from this data and the experience of the Board to estimate with a high degree of accuracy the approximate cost of any proposed building. It is most interesting now to analyze the data gathered then and to find how closely preliminary estimates, based on a cost per cubic foot, checked with the actual cost of construction of the building when finally completed.

Further analysis of the total cost of each of sixty-four school buildings built by the commission during this period reveals the fact that a definite and fixed ratio existed between the total cost of the completed building and the separate costs of the general construction, heating, plumbing and electrical contracts. This ratio expressed in percentages is clearly shown in the following table:

	Per Cent.
General construction contract.....	*80 80
Heating contract.....	*10 47
Plumbing contract.....	*4 95
Electrical contract.....	*3 60

* Of total cost of building.

In the designing and preparing for construction of school buildings in Boston, great importance was attached to the careful consideration of the two factors named, cost per cubic foot and relative percentages of the four divisions of the work, which proved most valuable to the commission in the following:

1. In furnishing preliminary estimates for proposed buildings, making it possible to ask for definite accurate appropriations based on these estimates;

2. In avoiding wasteful and extravagant design, which might cause the cost of building to exceed the appropriation;

3. In detecting evidences of collusion in bidding;

4. In preserving standards of construction;

5. In standardizing of construction costs.

The commission having knowledge of the educational requirements of any proposed building, could estimate very closely, not only the final total cost of the work, but also the cost of each of the four subdivisions named—general construction, heating, plumbing and electrical work.

The data gathered during these years was quickly cast aside as no longer usable during the period of the World War. Construction costs of school buildings began to soar, because of the rapid rise in labor and material, and the building of schools throughout the country was greatly curtailed or temporarily abandoned. The cost per cubic foot in Boston increased from 23 cents to 73 cents. Contractors were not enthusiastic for contracts at fixed amounts, but preferred doing work on a cost plus basis, and, like other cities, Boston had to pay the price or suspend the building of schools.

While the peak of high prices is passed, we are still building in a period of very high costs, which will unquestionably last for some time. There is also considerable fluctuation in the costs of construction of buildings of the same size and requirements and similar in design. It is during this period, when the demand for school accommodations is greater than ever, when prices of construction are extremely high, that, in justice to the taxpayers—who are responding so generously to school needs—the officials in charge of the building of schools should exercise the greatest care to save every dollar possible, by the closest scrutiny of all bids received for schoolhouse construction. Not only should the cost per cubic foot be carefully considered, but a minute analysis should be made of all the subdivisions of the contracts which go to make up the total cost of the building.

It is with this idea in mind that I shall endeavor to give you the experience of Boston in the method used in the analysis of one of the subdivisions of cost, namely, the heating, and to give data which will show such analysis, and which has served as a valuable check in keeping the cost of this portion of the work within reasonable limits. Recently I noticed two school buildings (not in Boston) which were estimated at certain costs per cubic foot. Bids were received which were slightly in excess of the estimated cost measured on the cubic foot basis, the contracts were let, and the buildings are now being erected. If a careful analysis had been made of the subbids, it would have been found that in each of the buildings in question, the cost of the heating system was excessive and entirely out of proportion to the total cost. These two cases are sufficient to show that failure to make such an analysis resulted in the unnecessary expenditure of several thousands of dollars.

While we all feel, and know that it is generally understood, that the cost per cubic foot is the only method which can be relied on with any degree of accuracy in estimating the probable total cost of a building, we should never lose sight of this fact—that only a slight variance between the estimated cost per cubic foot and the actual cost per cubic foot means a difference of thousands of dollars, especially if the building is of the junior or senior high school type.

Let us take a supposititious case. A senior high school, to contain 2,500,000 cubic feet is estimated to cost 52 cents per cubic foot. Bids are received, and the actual cost per cubic foot amounts to 55 cents, or a difference of 3 cents per cubic foot, which in dollars and cents means a difference of $75,000. Such a great difference should prompt the official in charge of the building of schools to locate for himself by careful analysis the cause of this difference, and determine whether it is due to a material rise in the cost of labor and materials or to wasteful and extravagant design in any or all of the four subdivisions of the work.

What then is the best method for the school building official to use in analyzing the bids received for the installation of a heating and ventilating system in a school building, and what is the proper basis for determining whether the cost of the system is in proper proportion to the total cost of the building? Many here will say a quantity survey, which, of course, is accurate, and is one which the contractor uses in making up his bid. For the school building official, however, this method is laborious and long drawn out, and estimates of special apparatus, such as boilers, pumps, valves, etc., which go to make up a heating system, are difficult at times to obtain, and those obtained by him are usually much higher than those obtained by the contractor when the building is being figured in the open market.

Several other methods have been advanced, the merits of a few of which I will discuss as follows:

1. Cost per pupil.
2. Cost per classroom.
3. Cost of heating per cubic foot.
4. Cost based on relative percentage to total cost of building.
5. Cost per square foot of equivalent direct radiation.

Cost per Pupil.—This method, applied to heating or any other costs which go to make up the total, gives misleading and indefinite results. The number of pupils to occupy a building varies under different conditions, depending on the particular use of the building and on educational standards.

Cost per Classroom.—Costs considered on this basis are also unsatisfactory in a modern building, which may demand in addition to classrooms various smaller rooms, such as master's office, teachers' room, nurse's room, store, book and locker rooms, together with gymnasium and assembly hall. It is extremely difficult to divide a building of this kind into classroom units for the purpose of figuring construction or heating costs. This method, therefore, should not be used except possibly for comparing buildings containing classrooms only, and which are of the same type and construction and built in the same locality.

Cost of Heating per Cubic Foot.—This method of figuring will give varying results in comparing cost of heating and ventilating systems for buildings located in different places. Heating requirements are different for different sections of the country, depending on climate, exposure, etc. Further, different localities have different laws and regulations in regard to heating and ventilating systems. This is, however, a fair method of checking costs if the comparison is between two buildings of the same type of construction in the same locality, with the same climatic conditions and the same laws governing heating and ventilating installation.

Cost Based on Relative Percentage to the Total Cost of the Building.—As already stated, this method was used extensively in Boston prior to the World War, and could be relied upon to be very accurate in making a preliminary estimate or checking an actual cost of a heating and ventilating system. Data gathered on recent buildings show that there is a greater variance in the relative percentage costs of heating than in the buildings constructed in the period preceding the war. This may be accounted for by the fact that prices of heating and ventilating material have not advanced in the same proportion as prices of material used in other lines of work.

As will be shown later, this method of estimating does not give as close results as cost of heating per cubic foot. Whenever this method is used as a means of comparing heating costs on two buildings, the buildings compared must necessarily be of the same type of construction, because it must be understood that the percentage cost of heating on second-class constructed buildings is always higher than on first-class constructed buildings, other things being equal.

Cost per Square Foot of Equivalent Direct Radiation.—It has been my experience that this method of estimating or checking heating costs gives better results than any of the other methods discussed. Its results approach more nearly those obtained by a quantity survey. It is as definite, as applied to a heating and ventilating system, as the cost per cubic foot as applied to the building. While, like the cost per cubic foot applied to buildings, it varies in different localities, to my mind it is the best and most accurate method available for use of school building officials in estimating or checking heating and ventilating costs.

Below is given a table, which shows the cost of heating per cubic foot, the relative percentage cost of heating, and the cost per square foot of direct radiation on five schools just completed or in process of completion. All of the schools are in Boston, except the Adams junior high. The buildings contain the same type of design of heating and ventilating system, namely, vacuum low pressure systems of heating and plenum systems of ventilation. The fresh air for the various classrooms, which amounts to 30 cubic feet per minute per pupil, is heated by means of primary radiators located in the basement. The desired temperature of the air leaving the primary chamber is obtained by mixing dampers controlled automatically by a graduated acting thermostat located in the main ventilating duct. The various rooms are heated by direct radiators of the wall type placed directly under the windows. The desired temperature of the classroom is maintained by a positive thermostat located directly in the classroom which opens and closes the automatic control valve.

By averaging the three columns in the above table, three factors are obtained which can be considered as fairly representing in Boston today the cost of a heating and ventilating system as described above. These figures were used in the checking of the heating and ventilating bid on one of the latest buildings in Boston, namely, the Dorchester High School for Boys. The contracts on this building have just been let, and the work has started. The building is a senior high school, first-class construction, and contains a heating and ventilating system similar to that described.

The three averages shown in the first table were actually used in checking the cost of the heating in this building, and they serve as a concrete example in illustrating the three methods of estimating, viz., (a) cost of heating per cubic foot, (b) relative percentage cost of heating to total cost, and (c) cost per square foot equivalent direct radiation. The results are as follows:

(a)	2,502,981 by $0 0360.....	$80,107
(b)	$1,094,876 by $0 0770.....	$4,305
(c)	44,000 by $1.70.....	74,800

It will be noticed that quite a difference exists in the results obtained by the three methods of figuring, but these results indicate that the cost per square foot of equivalent direct radiation method gives a closer estimate of the cost of the heating and ventilating system, since the actual heating contract price on this particular building was $72,300, or $2,500 less than estimated above. This method of figuring is being used in checking costs of heating on other school buildings, and gives results equally close.

After being assured that the contractor's bid on the heating and ventilation system is a correct one and in proper proportion, a further analysis can be made of the bid before the contract is approved and signed. It is the practice in Boston to ask the successful contractor to furnish a subdivision of his contract on a standard form furnished by the Schoolhouse Commission. This subdivision contains a list of the important items which are included in a heating and ventilating system. Beside these items he fills in the costs or the amounts on which he is to base his estimate for monthly payment. These amounts are carefully checked up, and their relative percentages of the total cost placed beside them. Such an analysis of the Dorchester High School contract is given in the above table.

It is the purpose of this paper then to emphasize the importance and necessity of a minute analysis of the cost of a heating and ventilating system in a school building. A method by which such an analysis can be made is suggested, and a practical application of it is shown. It is offered as a standard method of measurement by which school building officials may furnish preliminary estimates or check bids. It must not be understood, however, as an attempt to establish a uniform cost per square foot of direct radiation applicable to all localities. This is, of course, as impossible as it is to establish a uniform cost per cubic foot for all buildings. Each locality must determine for itself the cost per square foot of equivalent direct radiation.

The National Association of Public School Business Officials has already made a substantial contribution in bringing about a standard method of figuring the cubical contents of a school building. As a result of its efforts the cost per cubic foot today means something, and we feel assured, since its universal adoption throughout the country, that when the cost per cubic foot of a school building is quoted, the building has been figured according to the rules outlined by this association. I trust that the efforts of this association will be continued further, and that this paper will aid in arriving at a standard method which school building officials can use in making a minute analysis of the cost of building construction, heating, plumbing and electrical systems.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS STARTS.

Mayor Curley received the following communication from the Board of Election Commissioners relative to registration:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR.—On account of the police listing not being completed until last week we were unable to do any registration of voters for 1923.

Having now received the final installment of police listing, we have set apart Mondays of May 21 and 28, June 4, 11, 18, 25, as registration days, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

General registration opens Monday, July 2, and continues without interruption, Sundays and holidays excepted, until November 21, the last day for registration for the city election, so that this office will be open continuously for registration for more than four and one half months.

Ward registration will be held three days in each of the two places in each ward in the month of November.

Respectfully,

BOARD OF ELECTION COMMISSIONERS,
M. W. BERLEN, Chairman.

Mayor Curley also issued orders to the Election Department to have printed signs placed at entrances to halls and other places where people can see them, containing this information, and see that signs are printed rather than written, so anyone can read them.

STANDARDIZING CONSTRUCTION.

Mayor Curley has approved the School Committee's nomination of William W. Drummy to be architect in charge of the standardization of construction plans for school buildings of eight rooms and less, at a $3,500 salary for as long as the work requires.

This is a step proposed a year ago by Mayor Curley upon which he has frequently conferred with the School Committee, he said. By it, the prospect is that many hundreds of thousands of dollars in architects' fees can be saved yearly to the taxpayers. The Mayor believed that, on the present school-building program, $250,000 a year can be saved and devoted to construction of new school buildings rather than to architects' fees. The standardization principle has proved its worth in the business world and must as certainly do so in schoolhouse construction, it is urged.

Mr. Drummy is to consult with the Schoolhouse Commission, whose duty it is to supervise construction for the School Committee, and he will make such studies as the committee and the commission shall require, investigate activities along this line in other large cities, assemble cost statistics and make drawings and prepare specifications.

Under the old wasteful and obsolete policy, the practice was to advertise for new drawings for every new schoolhouse built. The architect's fee in each instance was six per cent of the construction cost. Architect Drummy will be required to draw two or three standardized plans for such structures, and the committee and commission will use the preferred one of these plans in a given case. Mr. Drummy will be expected to keep his standardized plans up to date, with approved methods of construction.

AGED MASONS MAYOR'S GUESTS.

Mayor Curley has received notification from W. L. Terhune, chairman of the Convention Committee of the Massachusetts Federation of Masonic Clubs, which will assemble in Boston, June 11 to 16, inclusive, that the parade of the 13th will pass City Hall at about 2.45 P. M.

Mayor Curley, immediately upon receipt of this information, gave instructions that opportunity should be provided for 350 to 400 aged and infirm Masons to occupy seats as Mayor Curley's guests in front of City Hall to review the parade.

Mayor Curley extended this invitation personally to Mr. Terhune, convention chairman, and the latter is making up a careful list of infirm Masons in all organizations of Greater Boston who will be added to the Mayor's personal list.

Hon. Frank Seiberlich, Election Commissioner, is also aiding in the preparation of a list which will provide that many Masons, too infirm to participate in the parade, may have an opportunity of witnessing the same under the best auspices as Mayor Curley's guests at City Hall.

MAYOR NAMES DELEGATES.

Mayor Curley has named as delegates to a conference of the National American Council to consider ways and means for the military training of civilians held in Washington, Thursday, M. Douglas Flattery, chairman of the Conservation Bureau and Addison L. Winship. As alternates the Mayor named Harry N. Guterman and Frank Leveroni, the latter of the city Americanization Committee. E. B. Mero, director of the Conservation Bureau, attended the conference.

The conference was addressed by President Harding, Gen. John J. Pershing, President-General Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cooke of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Commissioner of Education, J. J. Tigert and others. The President's topic was "The Platform of Democracy." Commissioner Tigert spoke on "The Federal Council of Citizenship Training." The main subject of the conference was consideration of ways and means to make effective the work of the Federal Council lately appointed by the President.

MAYOR'S KEY IN PARIS.

From Paris the news has reached Boston that the American Ambassador, Myron T. Herrick, presented the golden key sent by Mayor Curley through the American Goodwill Delegation to President and Mrs. Millerand at Elysee Palace. The ceremony was quite elaborate. The key was inclosed in a mahogany box and was a gift to President Millerand from the City of Boston.

Mrs. Buswell, head of the Boston delegation, made the presentation speech, telling the President that the hearts of Bostonians always had been open to the people of France, but the key was from his Honor the Mayor, as representing the citizens of Boston and was a particular symbol of President Millerand's ability to enter the city freely at all times.

Replying in the warmest terms, the President declared that only the soul of a poet could express France's gratitude for the work done by the American Committee for devastated France.

Mrs. A. M. Dike, president of the committee, and Miss Anne Morgan, vice-president, were with the delegation.

LIBRARY EXHIBITION.

In connection with the visit of the children from Czecho-Slovakia, there is showing this week and next in the Exhibition Room of the Central Library, Copley square, a loan collection of artistic handwork from the Czecho-Slovakian Republic. These objects are loaned by W. V. Slocum and others and comprise ceramic and wooden wares, decorated in color, interesting specimens of Bohemian glassware, lace and embroidery. The loan exhibit is supplemented by views of Czecho-Slovakian cities, especially Prague and Karlsbad, plates of peasant costumes, books with music and descriptions of folk dances, etc., from the library collections.

PUBLIC HOSPITALS IN BOSTON.

Number of patients admitted in year ending January 31, 1922, to City Hospital, its South Department and other branches, 22,564 or 2,256 more than in year next preceding. Daily average of patients in charge, 899; out-patients treated, 65,019; number of beds, 1,207 (797 in Main Hospital, 338 in South Department); average days' stay of patients, 14 in Main Hospital, 32 in South Department (for contagious diseases); daily average of officers and employees boarded, 713; of all patients discharged, 20 per cent were well and 63 per cent relieved. Total income from paying patients in year ending January 31, 1922, $188,488 or $21,479 more than in preceding year. This total is 15.3 per cent of the maintenance expenditures in 1921 or $1,232,172. The great majority of the patients plead inability to pay and are cared for free. Cost per day for each ward patient in Main Hospital, $3.68. In the past five years the total cost of the City Hospital has increased 54.3 per cent. Since its opening on June 1, 1864, 513,289 house patients and 1,955,271 out-patients had been cared for in the 56 years and 8 months ending Jan. 31, 1921. Boston Sanatorium (formerly Consumptives' Hospital) patients admitted at Mattapan in year ending Jan. 31, 1922, 585; 352 in charge previously; total cared for, 937, including 116 in Children's Ward; out-patients treated, 9,733; average daily number at Mattapan, 344; number of beds in Mattapan wards, 422. Total cost of maintenance for 1921-22, $367,795 or $16,527 more than in 1920. Receipts for board of patients and State allowance of $5.00 per week for those having tubercle bacilli, $70,391. Increase in cost of maintenance in past 5 years, 65 per cent.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 19,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

PROCEEDINGS OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

May 7, 1923.

A regular meeting of the School Committee of the City of Boston was held in the Administration Building, 15 Beacon Street, at 8:30 o'clock p. m., the Chairman presiding.

Present: Dr. Hogan, Miss Curtis, Messrs. Lane, O'Hare and Scannell.

AMENDMENT AND APPROVAL OF RECORDS

On motion, the minutes of previous meetings were amended as follows:

February 19, 1923, on page 8, to provide that the appointment from the eligible list of Marion W. Sheldon as assistant, Wendell Phillips District, shall read to take effect April 23, 1923, instead of "March 5, 1923."

April 2, 1923, on page 30, to provide that the appointment from the eligible list of Evelyn G. McNamara as assistant, Brighton High School, shall read to take effect April 30, 1923, instead of "April 23, 1923."

April 16, 1923, on page 33, to provide that the appointment from the eligible list of Agnes V. Scannell as assistant instructor, commercial branches, West Roxbury High School, shall read to take effect April 30, 1923, instead of "May 1, 1923."

April 16, 1923, on page 33, to provide that the appointment from the eligible list of Lillian A. Penell as assistant, Roger Wolcott District, shall read fifth year.

The reading of the records of the last meeting was omitted, the Board approving them as printed, as amended.

APPROVAL OF APPOINTMENTS AND TRANSFERS

The Chairman stated the question was on approving the appointments of a principal, an assistant director and teachers, and the transfers of principals, as reported by the Superintendent and laid over at the last meeting.

The appointments and transfers were approved.

WITHDRAWAL OF TRANSFER

A communication was received from the Superintendent, under date of May 7, 1923, reporting that he has withdrawn the transfer of Eliza D. Bean, assistant, Bowditch District, to the same position in the Bennett District, as reported at the meeting of April 16, 1923.

Placed on file and the transfer withdrawn.

DEATHS.

The Superintendent reported the deaths of the following-named principals emeritus, who had been retired on pension:

English High School—John F. Casey (Head Master Emeritus), May 2, 1923;

Agassiz District—John T. Gibson (Master Emeritus), Apr. 23, 1923.

Placed on file.

The Superintendent also reported the deaths of the following-named teachers and school nurses:

Dearborn District—M. Agnes Murphy, assistant, May 5, 1923.

Blackinton-John Cheverus District—Mary G. Kenney, school nurse, Apr. 18, 1923.

Placed on file.

RESIGNATIONS

The following resignations reported by the Superintendent, to take effect on the dates stated, were presented:

Agassiz District—Christine S. Chapin, assistant, kindergarten, Apr. 30, 1923.

Blackinton-John Cheverus District—Esther E. Crawford, assistant, Apr. 27, 1923.

Wells District—Charlotte M. White, assistant, Apr. 13, 1923.

Accepted.

RETIREMENTS

The Superintendent reported the retirement from active service of the following-named members of the Boston Retirement System, to take effect on the dates indicated:

Prince District—Frederic H. Ripley, master, Apr. 30, 1923.

Wendell Phillips District—Nellie M. Whitney, master's assistant, Mar. 31, 1923.

Placed on file.

The following appointments and transfers by the Superintendent, certified by him as being in accordance with the rules and regulations, to take effect on the dates stated were presented:

SPECIAL ASSISTANTS.

Abraham Lincoln District—Hannah D. Levy, Apr. 10, 1923 (one day); Sylvia S. Sedley, Apr. 11, 1923 (one day).

Agassiz District—Elizabeth Killroe, Apr. 27, 1923 (one-half day).

Blackinton-John Cheverus District—Constance Bartholomew, Apr. 30, 1923.

Cowdwin District—Christine M. Cole, special class, Apr. 2, 1923.

Chapman District—Margaret Lenahan, Apr. 9, 1923; Mary Quill, Apr. 23, 1923.

Charles Sumner District—Selma Berthold, kindergarten, Apr. 4, 1923.

Dillaway District—Margaret McElenev, kindergarten, Apr. 26, 1923 (one day).

Edward Everett District—Marcia Cook, Mar. 27, 1923 (one day).

Elihu Greenwood District—Annie Baum, kindergarten, Apr. 30, 1923.

Eliot District—Karin Sundelof, Apr. 23, 1923 (one-half day); Saul Seimiger, Apr. 25, 1923 (one day);

Walter McSwiney, Apr. 26 to 27, 1923 (two days); Francis Meade, Apr. 30, 1923.

Emerson District—Margaret Cahill, Apr. 9 to 10, 1923 (two days).

Franklin District—Margaret Campbell, Apr. 2 to 4, 1923 (three days).

George Putnam Intermediate District—Arthur W. Mohy, Apr. 2, 1923.

Hancock District—Mary L. Mahoney, Apr. 5, 1923 (one day); Olivia A. Keller, Apr. 9, 1923 (one day); Anna F. Lane, Apr. 30, 1923.

John Marshall District—Blanche B. Stone, Apr. 23, 1923; Hannah D. Levy, Apr. 27, 1923 (one day).

Lewis Intermediate District—Thomas Giles, Apr. 10 to 13, 1923 (four days);

Richard J. Crowley, Apr. 23, 1923.

Martin District—Margaret McElenev, kindergarten, Apr. 30, 1923.

Mather District—Ethel Birrell, Apr. 25, 1923 (one day); Agnes K. Skelton, Apr. 27, 1923.

Norcross District—Mary C. Rogers, Apr. 23 to 24, 1923 (two days).

Phillips Brooks District—Gertrud Viano, Apr. 3 to 3, 1923 (two days);

Marcella F. O'Neil, Apr. 4 to 6, 1923 (three days).

Prescott District—Bertha M. Winkler, Apr. 2, 1923 (one day); Mary J. Quill, Apr. 13, 1923 (one day).

Robert Gould Shaw District—Mary H. Lyons, Apr. 1923; Elizabeth T. Fowler, Apr. 5, 1923 (one day);

Clare C. Hendricks, kindergarten, Apr. 23, 1923.

Shewin District—Edward Madden, Apr. 3 to 6, 1923 (four days); Thomas F. Luby, Apr. 9, 1923.

Theodore Lyman District—Margaret A. Cahill, Apr. 23, 1923; Dorothy Conway, kindergarten, Apr. 30, 1923.

Thomas Gardiner District—Hannah Cone, Apr. 30, 1923.

Thomas N. Hart District—Consuelo M. Vincent, Apr. 4 to 13, 1923.

ANNUAL APPROPRIATION ORDER.

The Board took up for consideration the annual estimates and appropriation order, prepared and submitted by the Business Agent, in accordance with the rules, as follows:

BUDGET APPROPRIATIONS 1923-24

Office of the Business Agent of the School Committee, Tenth Floor, 15 Beacon Street, May 23, 1923.

To the School Committee:
In compliance with paragraph 2 of Section 99 of the Rules, I submit herewith the estimates and itemized appropriation order to cover the expenses of the public schools for the financial year February 1, 1923 to January 31, 1924, both included.

The average valuation of the city for the three years 1920, 1921 and 1922, with all abatements allowed up to December 31, 1922, as certified to His Honor the Mayor by the Board of Assessors, is $1,686,575,806.55. This is the sum upon which all appropriations by the City Council and the School Committee for the financial year 1923-24 are based.

The School Committee is authorized by law to appropriate the following sums:

(a) Six dollars and thirty cents upon each one thousand dollars of the valuation of the city for general school purposes. (Chapter 206 of the Special Acts of 1919, chapter 249 of the Special Acts of 1919, and chapter 641 of the Acts of 1920.)

(b) Sixty-eight cents upon each one thousand dollars of the valuation of the city for the construction and furnishing of new school buildings, both temporary and permanent, including the taking of land therefor, and for school yards and the preparing of school yards for use, and for the rent of hired school accommodations. (Chapter 206 of the Special Acts of 1919 and chapter 524 of the Acts of 1920.)

(c) Thirty-five cents upon each one thousand dollars of the valuation of the city for the alteration and repair of school buildings, and for the purchase of fixtures and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing school yards. (Chapter 206 of the Special Acts of 1919 and chapter 524 of the Acts of 1920.)

(d) Eleven cents upon each one thousand dollars of the valuation of the city for organizing and conducting physical training and exercises, athletics, sports, games and play, and for providing apparatus, equipment and facilities for the use of same in buildings, yards and playgrounds under the control of the School Committee, or upon any other land which the committee may have the right to use for this purpose, under the provisions of chapter 235 of the Acts of 1907. (Chapter 206 of the Special Acts of 1919, chapter 249 of the Special Acts of 1919, and chapter 641 of the Acts of 1920.)

(e) Nine cents upon each one thousand dollars of the valuation of the city for the employment of one supervising female nurse and so many district female nurses as may be required by said committee, are necessary in accordance with the provisions of chapter 357 of the Acts of 1907, and for the employment of a number of school physicians as, in the opinion of the School Committee, may be necessary, and for the care of the teeth of school children. (Chapter 206 of the Special Acts of 1919, chapter 249 of the Special Acts of 1919 and chapter 641 of the Acts of 1920.)

(f) Three cents upon each one thousand dollars of the valuation of the city for the purpose of conducting educational and recreative activities in and upon school property under the control of the School Committee, and the use thereof by individuals and associations in accordance with the provisions of chapter 355 of the Acts of 1912 and chapter 86 of the Special Acts of 1916. (Chapter 206 of the Special Acts of 1919 and chapter 641 of the Acts of 1920.)

(g) Seven cents upon each one thousand dollars of the valuation of the city for the payment of pensions to members of the teaching and supervising staff of the public schools of the city and to persons who were annuitants of the Boston Teachers' Retirement Fund at the time when chapter 559 of the acts of 1908 took effect, and other teachers who had retired prior to said time, in accordance with the provisions of said chapter 559, chapter 537 of the Acts of 1909, chapter 617 of the Acts of 1910, chapter 569 of the Acts of 1912, and in accordance with the provisions of the provisions of chapter 206 of the Special Acts of 1919. (Chapter 206 of the Special Acts of 1919.)

(h) Two cents upon each one thousand dollars of the valuation of the city for promoting the Americanization and better training for citizenship of foreign-born children. (Chapter 206 of the Special Acts of 1919.)

(i) Two cents upon each one thousand dollars of the valuation of the city for vocational guidance. (Chapter 206 of the Special Acts of 1919.)

(j) The unexpended balance for the financial year 1922-23.

(k) The excess of income, if any, for the financial year 1922-23 over that estimated.

(1) The estimated income for the financial year 1923-24.
(m) Estimated allotment, Smith-Hughes Fund, 1923-24.

Total Money Available 1923-24

Placed on file, and the Secretary directed to make requisition upon the Division of Civil Service accordingly.

REPORTS OF TRIAL BOARD.

A communication was received from the Trial Board, under date of Apr. 30, 1923, to whom was referred at the meeting of Apr. 2, 1923 (see p. 36), a report from the Schoolhouse Custodian of the dismissal of the Oak Square School and Portable on Thursday, Mar. 28, 1923, because of lack of heat, reporting that the Trial Board conducted a hearing in this matter on April 26, 1923, which was attended by representatives concerned, Neil J. Toland, and by the Schoolhouse Custodian. Mr. Nash, principal of the district, appeared before the Trial Board at the hearing previously appointed but not held, and made a brief statement with regard to the matter.

It appeared that not the entire school but merely two rooms were dismissed because they were insufficiently heated at the opening of the morning session. It was an extremely cold day; the custodian had been up all night because of the illness of his wife and in consequence did not arrive at the building as early as was his custom.

While, of course it is extremely regrettable to have the sessions of any class or classes suspended unnecessarily, in this particular case it does not seem, under the circumstances, that the custodian should be penalized for his failure to furnish heat in the building at the required time.

FINDING—That the session of part of the school was suspended because of failure of the custodian to arrive at the building sufficiently early.

RECOMMENDATION—That the custodian be not penalized and the matter placed on file.

Placed on file, and the recommendation contained therein adopted.

A communication was received from the Trial Board, under date of Apr. 30, 1923, to whom was referred at the meeting of Apr. 2, 1923 (see p. 36), a communication from the Schoolhouse Custodian reporting the custodian of the Chapman School-house for general inefficiency and failure properly to perform his duties, reporting that the Trial Board conducted a hearing in this matter on April 25, 1923 which was attended by the custodian concerned, Mr. Hobart, master of the district; and by the Schoolhouse Custodian.

It appeared by the evidence submitted that beginning as early as October 1, 1922, there were repeated instances, especially on Monday mornings, when the temperature in a considerable number of rooms in the Chapman School-house was below 50 degrees, and before 9 o'clock a.m., and that sufficient heat was not available for comfortable occupancy of these rooms until about 10 o'clock a.m. This was also true with respect to certain portable buildings connected with the Chapman School-house, but complaint on this was not pressed by the Schoolhouse Custodian. It was also alleged that the regulations with respect to cleaning the buildings were not strictly observed, with especial reference to the corridors and sanitariums.

Mr. Hobart testified that the previous service of the custodian had been entirely satisfactory and this was agreed to by the Schoolhouse Custodian, who had occasion some time ago to commend the service rendered by the custodian. Both of these witnesses, however, stated that the custodian had lately failed to attend to his duties as carefully and thoroughly as in the past and that some slackening of effort on his part had been distinctly observable.

The custodian asserted that he had continued to devote the same time and effort to the performance of his duties as formerly, and that the trouble was due entirely to the poor quality of fuel which he had been obliged to use, and his difficulty in obtaining satisfactory assistants who could be depended upon to perform the duties assigned to them.

Unfortunately, no report had reached the office of the Business Agent relative to the quality of the coal furnished in this particular building, and no such complaints had been made in respect to similar coal which had been furnished to other buildings in the vicinity. It is now too late to have any analysis of the coal made in order to determine whether the claim of the custodian is justified by the facts.

The custodian also testified that in operating the heating apparatus it was impossible properly to regulate the heat in certain rooms; that certain rooms had been made too hot, and heated and other rooms unavoidably remain at too low a temperature.

The evidence submitted to the Trial Board was not sufficiently clear and conclusive to enable it to arrive at a definite conclusion as to the extent to which the custodian should properly be held responsible for the failure to provide sufficient heat. It is of course to be observed that it is probable that the custodian, giving due weight to his assertions as to the quality of the fuel furnished him and the difficulties he says he experienced with respect to obtaining adequate assistants, has not of late given the same care and attention to the performance of his duties that he has previously exercised, and that he should have made more prompt and definite complaint of the quality of fuel furnished him if he should properly be relieved of responsibility for the failure to heat the building properly and regularly. He claims that he did make definite complaint of the claim was somewhat vague and does not appear to be supported by any report or other knowledge on the part of his superiors.

FINDING—That the custodian has not, during the period extending approximately from the early part of October, 1922, to April, 1923, rendered as careful and satisfactory service as he has in the past, and as he is capable of doing and should be expected to continue.

RECOMMENDATION—That the custodian be reprimanded for failure fully to perform the duties imposed upon him, especially with respect to obtaining adequate heat in the Chapman School-house and to follow in full the regulations with respect to its cleaning, and reminded that he, as well as all other custodians in the service, are expected and required to follow carefully and satisfactorily all the regulations established by the government, and in the event of their being unable to do so for reasons beyond their control to make prompt report of their failure to the proper channels if they are to relieve themselves from responsibility or criticism.

Placed on file, and the recommendation contained therein adopted.

ESTABLISHMENT OF NET COMPENSATION OF CERTAIN CUSTODIANS.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the Retirement Board be informed that the School Committee has fixed tentatively the net regular compensation of the following custodians at the rate specified in each case, such net regular compensation to be in effect for the purpose of making reservations from the date the custodian was appointed to the retirement system until such time as the School Committee may determine finally the net regular compensation of such custodians such final net regular compensation when fixed to be dated back to the date of admission of the custodian to the retirement system.

PAYMENT OF SALARIES OF TEACHERS DURING THE SUMMER.

A communication was received from the Boston Teachers Club, under date of May 5, 1923, requesting that the order passed in previous years, whereby provision was made for the payment of two-twelfths of the annual salaries due teachers and members of the supervising staff in June and one-twelfth as early in July as possible, be made effective for the current school year.

Placed on file.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the Business Agent is hereby directed to prepare the August pay roll of those teachers and members of the supervising staff paid under the twelve-payment plan as early as possible during the month of July after necessary adjustments have been made on account of absence during the month of June.

REPORT ON PENMANSHIP BY BOARD OF SUPERINTENDENTS

The following majority report was received from the Board of Superintendents relative to instruction in penmanship in the public schools, as required by a revised course of study for Grades I, II, and III: The Board of Superintendents has given careful and serious consideration to the request of the School Committee. It has sought the counsel of the Director of Penmanship, has held conferences with teachers of the primary grades of instruction, some of whom favored the present course of study, others of whom urged modifications thereof; and as a result of its deliberations the Board has arrived at the following conclusions: That in Grades I and II emphasis should be placed upon the formation of letters and the writing of words and simple sentences, rather than upon muscular movement. 2. That training in systematic muscular movement should not be required in the first and second grades, but should be begun in the third grade. 3. That in grade IV and in succeeding grades the character of the work in penmanship should remain unchanged. The Board of Superintendents therefore, approves and recommends for adoption in the first three grades of the elementary school the accompanying course of study which indicates:

- a.—The aim of the work in penmanship in these grades.
- b.—The distribution of time.
- c.—The balance between muscular movement and letter formation.
- d.—The relation of penmanship to the course of study in English.

GRADE I.

- 1.—Aim. To teach correct letter forms in order that the child may be able to express a thought to others in writing. The development of muscular movement writing is of secondary importance to correct formation of letters.
- 2.—Means.
 - a. Use of blackboard for letter forms and rapid free arm movement.
 - b. Sufficient practice at desk to start right habits in letter formation, and in posture and in fore arm movement, using either pen or pencil as the teacher may desire.
- 3.—Time Allotment. (See Minutes, Dec. 20, 1920) 30 minutes a day. At least three-quarters of the time allotment for each day should be used in letter formation and the writing of words and sentences. Muscular movement is not required in this grade.
- 4.—Minimum Requirement. All written work is to be directed. The child should be able—
 - a. To write and name forms of all small letters and of many capitals as necessary.
 - b. To write his given and surname; to use capitals in names of persons and at the beginning of sentences.
 - c. To write figures from one to ten.
 - d. To write the spelling words in the minimum list.
 - e. To write from dictation near the end of the year a few simple sentences relating to a story, a picture or an excursion.

GRADE II.

- 1.—Aim. To increase the child's skill in writing letters and figures with correctness of form and ease of movement. Emphasis should be placed upon mastery of correct letter forms rather than upon the technique of muscular movement.
- 2.—Means. Daily practice in writing, with specific attention to correctness in form of letters, correct posture and movement, using either pen or pencil. The use of the pen is preferred.
- 3.—Time Allotment. (See Minutes, Dec. 20, 1920.) Twenty minutes a day. At least three-quarters of the time allotment for each day should be used on letter formation and in the writing of words and sentences. Muscular movement is not required in this grade.
- 4.—Minimum requirement. All written work with letters, words and sentences is to be directed. The child should be able—
 - a. To write all small and capital letters and figures.
 - b. To copy dictation, and to know the meaning of which is known to him.
 - c. To write two sentences from dictation.
 - d. To write unaided at least two sentences on some given subject which is within his experience.
 - e. To write the words of the minimum spelling list.

GRADE III

- 1.—Aim.
To increase the child's skill in writing letters and figures, with correctness of form, and to develop power, ease, and rapidity in muscular movement writing.
- 2.—Means.
Daily practice in writing with pen with specific attention to correctness in form of letters, correct posture and movement, with muscular movement drills.
- 3.—Time Allotment.
(See Minutes, Dec. 20, 1920)
Eighteen minutes a day.
One-half of each day's allotment is to be used in letter formation and in the writing of words and sentences with muscular movement.
- 4.—Minimum Requirement.
The child should be able at the end of the year:
 - a.—To copy from eight to ten sentences or four sentences of two to four lines each, or one stanza of eight lines.
 - b.—To write at least three sentences from dictation.
 - c.—To write at least six original sentences on some subject.
 - d.—To write the words of the minimum spelling list.

Also the following minority report of Assistant Superintendent Rafter:

I dissent in part from the majority report.

Five years ago, as Assistant Superintendent in charge of penmanship, in complete agreement with the late Superintendent I advocated a unification of method and practice in writing from the first to the twelfth grade inclusive. Previous to that time muscular movement drills had been postponed until the fourth grade, with a result all too evident: the writing in the upper elementary grades and in the high schools—just where the system should flower and fruit—was lamentably poor, an ill-formed, scribbled, and movement scrawl. I do not claim that this condition was universal; the general opinion, however, of the upper grades was unsatisfactory and not improving. How could it be otherwise? A pupil habituated for the first three years of his earlier movement did not take kindly and readily to muscular movement in the fourth grade, nor did his teachers in the fourth and fifth grades believe the process that was supposed to establish for life the final handwriting of the pupil should be delayed for three years and that they should be obliged, not only to teach how but also to vastly more difficult to eradicate those already formed.

At a meeting called to inaugurate the unification of practice, the Superintendent, the Assistant Superintendent in Charge, and the Director of Penmanship all asked for an open mind and a suspension of judgment until time were given for a just estimate. Too much cannot be said in commendation of the teachers in the majority towards this subject. Let this statement stand as their tribute: Over 9990 graders and commercial graders (9674 of the total number teaching the subject) have qualified to teach muscular movement writing—an incomparable achievement. In seeking for open-mindedness I was conscious of the preconception the average critic would hold in judging results in the primary grades. With the finger movement very often the pupil wrote as well or even better in the third grade than above thereafter. It was found that the primary writing would not be as well controlled, well formed, as "pretty" as under previous conditions, but it was to be remembered that there are nine grades after the third, and that the culmination of writing should be nearer the twelfth than the third grade. Correct writing habits albeit power be deferred.

No complaint or criticism of results above the third grade has come to the Board of Superintendents; on the contrary, head masters, and heads of commercial departments assert that never before have pupils entered the high schools so uniformly well prepared in penmanship.

From competent sources within the school criticism has come to the Board of Superintendents that in the working out of this system in grades one and two, and diminishing so in the third, too much stress has been applied to movement and that letter formation has suffered. There has been countervailing testimony, plenty of it, but I frankly admit that I believe movement has been over-stressed to the detriment of letter formation in many instances.

This seems to be the crux in the minds of many: movement versus form. I do not agree. Movement and form all through the course. If movement is excluded from the early grades every competent person knows the finger movement will prevail in the writing situation. In the first three grades will become identical with that of five years ago.

I am in hearty accord with the following portion of the time schedule recommended in the majority report:—

3.—Time Allotment.
30 minutes a day.
"At least three-quarters of the time allotment for each day should be used in letter formation and the writing of words and sentences."

This delimits movement exercises which to my mind have been over-worked, and assigns three-fourths of the period to writing figures, letters, words and sentences. The child should be taught in the first grade to write his name. I entirely understand the mystification of parents when they have complained that pupils could not write their names. No amount of explanation or promise of "deferred power" could compensate for satisfy a parent for the lack of his child's signature. A clause in the proposed minimum requirement will obviate this objection.

In sum: I recommend

- (1) The continuance of the muscular movement writing in the grades in question with the distinct understanding that movement drills shall not displace but shall develop letter formation.
- (2) The minimum requirement of the majority report.
- (3) The time schedule of the majority report with the exception of the concluding sentence.

The majority report was accepted, the recommendations contained therein and the accompanying course of study adopted; the minority report was placed on file.

4. Patrick L. Mahoney, Custer street, Jamaica Plain, an Inspector of Pressed or Bundled Hay and Straw.

Severally laid over under the law.

TRANSFER FOR PUBLIC WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

The following were received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 14, 1923.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The Overseers of Public Welfare have requested a transfer with the incorporation for Overseering of the Public Welfare Department, Wayfarers Lodge, that appears sufficiently meritorious to justify a record of the Public Welfare Department, in favor of the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to make the following transfer in the appropriations for Overseering of the Public Welfare Department, Wayfarers Lodge:

From the appropriation for D-2, Food and Ice, $1,256, to the appropriation for D-2, Permanent Employees, Laborers, 1 at $4 per day, $1,256. Referred to the Executive Committee.

PLANTING OF SHADE TREES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 14, 1923.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—The Park Department, under date of April 28, have received an appropriation in the sum of $5,000 for the planting of shade trees on streets throughout the city.

The value of adopting a permanent program with reference to tree planting on public thoroughfares cannot be over-estimated.
Personally I believe there is no work, with the possible exception of health and education, that is of greater value to the people, and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, April 28, 1923.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—You are respectfully asked to include in the budget for 1924 the sum of $5,000 for the planting of street trees. This sum is needed to meet the many requests for this planting of trees throughout the city.

Very truly yours,
JAMES B. SHEA, Chairman.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1883 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $5,000, to the appropriation for Park Department, Street Trees, etc. $5,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

REPAIRS, ETC., COMMONWEALTH AVENUE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 14, 1923.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The Budget Commissioner, under date of May 14, has submitted a recommendation which has prompted the submission of the accompanying order, and which I sincerely trust will receive the approval of the City Council.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Budget Department, May 14, 1923.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The item Department subsequent to the Acts of 1883, for Commonwealth Avenue, is recommended by the Budget Commissioner to be $200,000 sufficient to cover the cost of repairs and reconstructing Commonwealth Avenue, from Harvard Avenue to the Newton line. After investigation it was agreed that $80,000 should be transferred from the Reserve Fund to cover the department's request. This addition was made in Schedule B of the appropriation bill (page 102, Document No. 32, 1923), and, although an over-estimate was omitted from Item F-12 in the budget of the department. In order to remedy this omission, I respectfully recommend that the attached transfer be presented to the Council for their approval.

Yours respectfully,
CHARLES J. FOX,
Budget Commissioner.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1883, the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $80,000, to the appropriation for F. Special Items, F-12, Contracts for construction where money is derived from taxes as per schedule B, $80,000, Commonwealth Avenue, permanent paving.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

ICE FOR DRINKING FOUNTAINS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 14, 1923.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—It is customary each year to secure an appropriation from the Reserve Fund for ice for drinking fountains throughout the city, and I respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be authorized to expend a sum not exceeding $5,000 for the purpose of furnishing ice for the public drinking fountains throughout the city, and said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

SALE OF RAINFORD ISLAND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 14, 1923.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—I submit herewith an order authorizing the sale of public auction, at an upset price of $100,000, of Rainford Island and the buildings thereon, formerly occupied by the Suffolk School for Boys.

I have been unable to discover any reasonable use to which this property could be put by the city, and its sale would result in the city receiving a revenue where it now is under considerable expense.

The land is assessed for $49,800 and the buildings for $95,500. The buildings are not of great value except for the particular use formerly made of them by the city.

If the Council, however, upon investigation desires to set a higher or lower upset price, I have no objection to an amendment to the order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Institutions Commissioner, with the approval of the Mayor, be hereby authorized to sell by public auction, at an upset price of $100,000, and on terms and conditions satisfactory to the Law Department, Rainford Island, in Boston Harbor.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

CITY HOUSING SITUATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 14, 1923.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith report presented by the City Planning Board with reference to the order adopted by the City Council under date of February 19, 1923.

I desire in addition to submit the opinion of the Corporation Council relative to the question involved in connection with the adoption of the order.

I agree both with the City Council and the City Planning Board that housing conditions are sufficiently acute to justify early and what might appear radical action by the city government. Mindful, however, of the fact that the city is not only a poor landlord from the standpoint of rent collections and administering of properties, it would in my opinion be advisable for the City Council to hold public hearings upon the proposition under consideration, with a view to enlisting the active co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce, the improvement associations, the insurance companies, the banking interests, and such other agencies or individuals as in the opinion of the Council would be of value in the determination of the program for the solution of a problem daily becoming more serious.

The real patriot in any land is the home owner. No individual ever enjoyed more secure a place for the landlord, either in America or elsewhere, particularly where the rental charged, even though the charges just, is, in addition, a check upon the necessities of the individual, due to limited income and large family, compels the occupancy as a place of habitation of quarters that are inadequate to meet the requirements which the protection of the health of his family demand.

From the standpoint of housing shortage, from the standpoint of lack of low rental property, and more than all else from the standpoint of conservation of health, low-price places of habitation are imperatively necessary for the well-being of the people.

The step, however, which you propose is, as I have set forth earlier in this communication, of such tremendous importance that protective machinery should be created before attempting to put in operation the order which your body has adopted.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
City Planning Board,
April 28, 1923.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—In accordance with the accompanying order, passed by the City Council at its meeting of February 19, 1923, the City Planning Board, in co-operation with the Building Commissioner and the Rent and Housing Commission, has made a careful survey of housing conditions which exist in Boston at the present time, particularly with reference to houses of low cost or moderate rental.

The result of these investigations has been to confirm the opinion expressed in the report. Hence, in introducing the order that new construction at the present time was confined entirely to houses with a rental value from $40 to $75 per month.

Furthermore, since it is estimated that new construction will cost from $1,000 to $1,200 per room, a lower rental value appears to be an economic impossibility so far as construction under ordinary conditions is concerned.

In the meantime there is evidence of distress due to inability to obtain housing accommodations, based about by the fact that the average wage earner in the City of Boston receives a weekly compensation estimated at from $28 to $30 per week. The vast number of people receiving less than the average have accordingly been obliged to double up in families, thus leading to congestion, to say the least.

It would be possible, through the administration of a fund from which profit charges have been eliminated, combined with wholesale construction and standardization of plans, to accomplish a material reduction in rental charges.

There is a still further possibility in the rehabilitation of old houses throughout the city, at present unoccupied, many of which, with the installation of a reasonable amount of modern conveniences, would be made entirely available, and at a much less expense than the cost of new construction.

With particular reference to the order passed by the City Council at its meeting April 19, returned herewith, and the legislation referred to in the opinion of the Corporation Council, be necessary since existing laws refer only to temporary shelter.

In view of the foregoing facts, therefore, the City Planning Board feels that the enactment of legislation along the lines suggested in the City Council order of April 16 is the only means now apparent for meeting the present critical situation.

Respectfully submitted,
FREDERIC H. FAY,
Chairman.

City of Boston,
Law Department, April 27, 1923.

Frederic H. Fay, Chairman, City Planning Board:
My dear Mr. Fay,—I have before me the letter of his Honor Mayor Curley, addressed to you under date of April 20, and the order of the City Council of April 16, forwarded to you by his Honor the Mayor, both of which were left with me this morning by the secretary of your Board.

The order of the City Council of April 16 is as follows: "That his Honor the Mayor be requested to petition the Legislature for authority to borrow five million dollars, out of which to hold, to build, to present acute emergency in the housing situation, and for such other legislation as may help to relieve the shortage of tenement houses in the City of Boston."

The Mayor's letter of April 20, above referred to, is as follows:

"The Council at a recent meeting adopted the inclosed order, and I would appreciate a report from your Board as to the advisable course with reference thereto."

In my opinion to your Board, under date of March 21, 1923, I gave consideration to the authority of the city to construct houses in times of emergency.

Article 43 of the Articles of Amendment to the State Constitution authorizes the Commonwealth to take and hold real estate, to hold, to build, to build upon and sell the same, for the purpose of relieving congestion of population and providing homes for citizens; provided, however, that this amendment shall not be deemed to authorize the sale of such land or buildings at less than the cost thereof.

The authority, under this amendment, is limited to the Commonwealth.

Article 47 of the Articles of Amendment to the State Constitution authorizes the Legislature to permit cities and towns to provide the necessities of life for their citizens under certain circumstances. This article reads as follows:

"The Commonwealth shall contribute at reasonable rates, during time of war, public exigency, emergency or distress, of a sufficient supply of food and other common necessities of life, and the providing of shelter, are public functions, and the Commonwealth and the cities and towns therein may take and may provide the same for their inhabitants in such manner as the general court shall determine."

The provisions of chapter 205, Acts of 1918, are not applicable to the present situation, for the purposes indicated by the order of the City Council, since this act authorizes "the temporary shelter" only and not the building of permanent houses.

The provisions of chapter 554, Acts of 1920, are not available to us because of section 4 thereof, which is as follows:

"No city or town shall acquire by purchase or take by eminent domain any property under the provisions of this act unless such purchase or taking is made prior to the first day of February in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-two."

Special legislation, therefore, must be had before the city could enter into contracts for building houses to relieve the alleged present emergency. If, after conference with the Mayor, you wish us to aid you in drafting an adequate bill, we shall be pleased to co-operate with you in every way.

Herewith I am returning to you the Mayor's letter and the order of the City Council referred to in the first paragraph of my letter.

Yours very truly,
E. MARK SULLIVAN,
Corporation Counsel.

Placed on file.

SALE OF OLD MATERIAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 14, 1923.

To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Institutions Commissioner, relative to the sale of certain old property, the property of the Institutions Department, and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Institutions Department, May 11, 1923.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Permission is respectfully requested to sell junk, at the House of Correction, Deer Island, amounting to approximately $200 in value.

Very truly yours,
DAVID J. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Supplies be and he is authorized to sell, after public advertisement, a quantity of miscellaneous junk estimated to be worth approximately $200, the same being the property of the Institutions Department.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

PETITIONS REFERRED.

SIDEWALK SCHEDULES.

Communications were received from the Commissioner of Public Works giving cost of constructing sidewalks on the following named streets, and recommending the passage of the following, viz.:

Ordered, That the persons named in the foregoing schedule be, and the sums set against their respective names as their proportionate parts of the cost of constructing sidewalks in front of their estates, and the same is ordered to be certified and notice given to the parties as aforesaid, viz.:

Westville street, Ward 18, $271.62.
Canterbury street, Ward 21, $760.80.
Morton street, Ward 21, $1,579.52.
The order was passed.

PAYMENT TO WILLIAM J. COPPELL.

Coun. LANE offered an order—That chapter 380 of the Acts of 1923, entitled "An Act Authorizing the City of Boston to Pay a Certain Sum of Money to William J. Coppel," be and the same hereby is accepted.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

PETER H. SMART SQUARE.

Coun. HEALEY offered an order—That the space at the junction of Arrow street and Washington streets and Rutherford avenue, Charlestown, be named Peter H. Smart Square, in memory of said Smart who was killed in the United States service during the World War.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ORDERS.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Southampton street at 48, Ward 12, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of new brick, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Southampton street at 48, Ward 12, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of new brick, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Hampden street, rear of 374 and 376 Dudley street, Ward 12, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Adams street, north side, from Hampden street to Crosby place, Ward 12, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

CLOSING OF FANEUIL HALL MARKET, JUNE 18.

Coun. WALSH presented a petition signed by W. H. Prior and many other lessees of Faneuil Hall Market asking that the market be closed on June 18.

In connection with the above Coun. WALSH offered an order—That Faneuil Hall Market be closed all day on Monday, June 18, 1923.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

USE OF GOLF LINKS BY CHILDREN.

Coun. GILBODY offered the following: Resolved, That the City Council favors the free use of the Franklin Park golf course by the school children of Boston, and the resolution be adopted in honor of the Mayor to direct the Park Commissioners to provide for the same.

Coun. GILBODY asked a suspension of the rule that the resolution might be put upon its passage.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, I think that ought to be referred to the Executive Committee, because the Park Department, in my opinion, ought to be sent for to give the Council reasons for putting a charge on the playing of golf at Franklin Park. I think they must have some reason for it, or else it would not have come into being. Without a knowledge of why they should do so, I think we would be acting rashly in suspending the rule and passing the order.

The resolution was referred to the Executive Committee.

BALLOTS FOR PRESIDENT.

Coun. LANE—Mr. President, I move that we now proceed to take a ballot for President of the Council for the year.

The motion was carried. The Clerk called the roll, with the following result:

For James T. Moriarty—Coun. Brickley, Moriarty, Walsh—3.
For John A. Donoghue—Coun. Donoghue—1.
For Daniel W. Lane—Coun. Gilbody, Hagan, Healey, Lane—4.

And there was no choice.

Coun. LANE—Mr. President, I move that we proceed to take a second ballot.

The motion was carried. The Clerk called the roll, with the following result:

For James T. Moriarty—Coun. Brickley, Moriarty, Walsh—3.

For John A. Donoghue—Coun. Donoghue—1.

For Henry E. Hagan—Coun. Gilbody, Hagan, Healey, Lane—4.

And there was no choice.

ASSISTANT CLERK, WEST ROXBURY COURT.

Coun. BRICKLEY offered an order—That chapter 314 of the Acts of 1923, entitled "An Act Establishing the Office of Second Assistant Clerk for the Municipal Court of the West Roxbury District of the City of Boston" be and the same hereby is accepted.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

Coun. LANE in the chair.

COMPETITIVE BIDS, MOTOR APPARATUS.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to inform the City Council why the City of Boston does not ask for competitive bids in the purchase of motor apparatus for the Fire Department, when New York and other cities do ask for competitive bids.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, the object of the order is to ascertain some real, good, substantial reason why Boston does not ask for competitive bids for motor apparatus, as do New York and other large cities. If they find it necessary to ask for competitive bids, they must be to the advantage of those cities, and I feel that Boston is negligent in not doing so. Again, it appears to me, as I understand the law, that under the charter requirements of the City of Boston, the City Council, yet, that has not been the case during the present administration or during the past administration, and during the last administration, when Mayor Curley. The custom has become a settled one, apparently, and I believe that as it goes on from time to time it is breaking the charter requirements, and nothing is being done to see whether or not Boston can get real competition in the purchase of motor apparatus. Spending, as we are going to do this year, $283,000 in this line, it seems to me a chance to bid ought to go out to more than one company, that at least we should find out there is no some company that can enter in competition and save money for the city. If there is no objection, I will ask a suspension of the rule and postpone the meeting to the 31st of May.

The rule was suspended and the order was passed.

PUBLIC COMMITTEE MEETINGS.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the rules of the City Council be amended to read that all committee meetings of the City Council, where the Council sits as a Committee of the Whole, shall be open to the public.

Coun. HAGAN, Mr. President, this order is somewhat similar to an order presented here last Monday and defeated by the City Council, although worded differently. In my opinion, nothing is ever settled until it is settled right, and convinced as I am, that all sessions of the City Council should be open meetings where the public are freely admitted and can see everything that transpires, I don't think this thing can be settled until it is settled with the understanding that the public are privileged to enter all meetings of committees, the same as meetings held otherwise by the Boston City Council. With that idea, I bring this order in, and I will continue to present it at every meeting of the City Council, if I am elected, during my term of service in this body. I am conscientiously of the belief that all meetings should be open, and, feeling that way, I am going to endeavor to obtain a majority vote of my colleagues here looking to that end. I hope some time to see this thing go through. If there is no objection, I will ask a suspension of the rule.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I would like to say a word in opposition to this order, advancing some amendments to the rule. The rule was advanced by me at the last meeting of the Council. I am sorry that it is necessary for me to again regard myself as having failed at the last meeting.

Hagan is still barking up the same tree, saying that we are trying to force the public from the meetings that we held in executive session, which is no use, not necessarily being a fair game, but giving a false impression. I want to recall to the attention of the members of the body the fact that at a meeting of the Committee on Appropriations I made the motion which resulted in an executive meeting of the committee. At that meeting of the mighty public, of the hundreds of thousands of people who reside in Boston, only two people appeared and were present when the motion was made, and those were the two men making the motion. I am sure, I think very doubtful if they were even citizens of Boston. The public would be led to believe by the proponents of this measure that we are attempting to block the public from our meetings. We are certainly not doing so, and certainly did not attempt to do so that afternoon, but for these two reasons—such an order would understand resided in Boston—there would have been nobody present when the motion was made by myself and passed. In holding executive sessions we are taking exactly the same position that is taken by committees of the Legislature, by the Governor's Council, by committees of all legislative bodies in all the cities and towns and city councils of cities—cities such as Quincy, Malden, Somerville, any other of the cities in the State. The ordinary legislative proceeding that there shall be executive meetings of committees. Legislative orders and bills are considered in executive session. It is considered the proper way to act by all legislative bodies, and I propose to vote against the order, for that reason.

MORIARTY—Mr. President, I rise to favor the order offered by Coun. Hagan. When anybody says that if we vote to go into executive session we are voting to keep the public out, I simply say that I cannot see it that way from that point of view. It means that the public has got to get out, whether it wants to do so or not, that the public has got to be in the chamber at that time we are in executive session. If that is not eliminating the public, preventing them from watching members of the city government carrying on their business, I don't know what it is. I don't know how it was in the chamber at the time that has been referred to, any to act by all legislative bodies who comes into the chamber or not. If we are holding an executive meeting, the doors have got to be closed and nobody can come in, and that is certainly object to that. If we go into executive session, I am going to try to have it an executive session. That means that there will only be present the members of the Council, and the members of the Council, and that is all. It means that the newspapers will be barred from our sessions. No making that you are in a regular executive session, if the words "executive session" mean anything they mean what they say. An executive session means the members of the Council and the attachés. So, if you are going into executive session, the newspapers are no more entitled to be represented here than the ordinary citizens of this city. So if we are going into executive session and are going to bar the public from coming in here, going to bar the citizens of Boston from coming in here, everybody should be barred, unless the motion that has been made here is changed. I stated at that meeting that I was here at the time appointed for the calling of the meeting. I was within the rooms allotted for the meeting of the City Council at the hour I appointed, the meeting was called to order, and I did not even know that the meeting was in session. There has been money spent for bells here to notify the members of the Council when a meeting goes into session. Those bells never rang that day, if I had been here at the time when the motion was made, I would not have gone through, because it would have been a tie vote. We wouldn't have gone into executive session. I think I was entitled to vote at the time the motion was made, I bring here at the hour for which the meeting was called and bring within easy reach at the time when it was called. I don't think I had any right to be here when I should have had to vote we would not have gone into executive session, because the motion to do so would have been lost by a tie vote. I feel that the public has a right to attend our sessions. When they say that we can deliberate better behind closed doors than in public, I say that I differ with those who make that statement, because I have sat here in executive sessions and in open sessions, and, in so far as business being done in executive sessions is concerned, I say that that assumption is not warranted by the facts. I don't think we have anything to be afraid of here, anything to hide, and I believe myself that we are really entitled to have open sessions. I am sorry to say that some of the newspapers do not give the protection that the public is entitled to. I don't think that is a different matter. I do not mean that there is any intention on their part not to properly represent this, but, of course, a newspaper man who observes our meetings writes from the point of his observation. He writes perhaps about what Coun. Donoghue thinks or about what I think, and he writes what he thinks. He does not know, of course, half the time whether he is right or wrong. Nevertheless, when you see certain things in headlines, in the papers some morning, you realize that the impression made by a newspaper man may not at all represent the situation as you know it to be. So, if we are going to have an executive session, let us make it an open session. Let us have either an executive session or an open session. If anybody is to be allowed here, let everybody who desires to come here be allowed to do so.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS TAKEN.

The Council voted at 3:04 o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. WALSH, to take a recess subject to the call of the President.

The members of the Council reassembled in the chamber and were called to order by the President at 5:23 o'clock p. m.

OPENING OF STATLER HOTEL, BUFFALO.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 14, 1923.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen, The E. M. Statler Company are to dedicate a new hotel in Buffalo, on Saturday May 19, 1923, and in view of the uncertainty relative to the erection of a similar hotel in Boston that at present obtains, I am desirous that a committee representing the City of Boston accept the invitation extended by Mr. Statler and attend the dedication exercises. The erection of the proposed hotel, in my opinion, is deemed to be a large measure upon three propositions: First, the adoption of the extension of the height of building law; second, the establishment of a settled policy with reference to trade conditions between building trades employers and employees; and third, a reasonable guarantee of co-operation between the city and the hotel project. It is the opinion of the city is concerned with the proponents of the hotel project for Boston.

It is needless for me to point out to the City Council the necessity for additional hotel accommodations in Boston. The simple fact that only one major hotel project has been carried through in Boston in a period of twenty years, and that the city is exceedingly difficult to induce large bodies to convene here, despite the historical and climatic attractions, makes it imperative that every possible effort be exercised to induce the erection of the contemplated nine million dollar hotel.

In view of the importance attached to this event I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the expenses incurred by the committee appointed by the Mayor, in the matter of the proposed Statler Hotel, be paid, to exceed $2,000, be charged to the Reserve Fund.

The rule was suspended, on motion of Coun. GILBODY, and the order was passed.

LOAN FOR HIGHWAYS, MAKING OF.

Coun. HAGAN called up No. 1, unfinished business, viz.:

1. Ordered, That the sum of $500,000 be and hereby is appropriated for Highways, Making of, under the provisions of chapter 393 of the Acts of 1900, and that to said appropriation the City Treasurer be and hereby is authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

On April 30, 1923, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 9.

Coun. HEALEY, Mr. President, I would like to read into the record a list of the streets that the Street Commissioners have submitted in connection with this order—not with the intention of preventing its passage or leading anybody to vote against it, but rather that it may be set out in our records as a matter of historical interest. We can then see where the streets are submitted and are going to follow as closely as they would indicate the list of streets herein set forth.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, is it consistent with the procedure of the rules of this Council to read that?

President HAGAN—Yes. It may be read into the record and become a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Coun. HEALEY—Mr. President, I simply desire to present a list of streets submitted by the Street Commissioners as the prospective list that they intend to follow—not absolutely, but as carefully as possible, with the understanding that there must be some exceptions, according to situations that may arise from time to time. I do think, because of the great hue and cry there has been in regard to the passage of this order for $500,000 million dollars, that something should be put on record from the Street Commissioners, setting forth at least a tentative list of streets. Feeling that way, I was obliged to plan for the order submitted, because no such list was submitted. But in conversation with the chairman of the commission, he has assured me that the list of streets submitted is a list that they intend to follow as closely as possible. I do not intend to hold them up to following it out in every particular. But we can at least watch progress under the plan for the next three months, or a year, and find out whether the streets referred to have in the main been attended to. If at the end of the next year we find that thirty-five or thirty streets on the list, that not more than two or three have been accepted by the Street commission, we may not arrive at the conclusion that the order was more or less of a hoax. I am therefore submitting this list, which has been sent to the City Council under date of March 19, for publication in our record, so that the public may progress made under the order having these streets in mind.

The communication referred to by Coun. Healey is as follows:

City of Boston,
Street Laying-Out Department, March 19, 1923.
To the Honorable the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am forwarding herewith, for the consideration of your honorable body, a list of streets which this bureau has found it expedient to improve during the current year. It is impossible to say that this list will be followed without variation as, in each instance, a public hearing must be given to determine whether or not there is sufficient demand for such improvement and, whether or not, owners are willing to pay the estimated assessments to which they are subject therefor.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN H. L. NOYES, Chairman.

LOAN FOR FIRE ALARM SIGNAL STATION.

Coun. HAGAN called up No. 2, unfinished business, viz.:

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 305 of the Acts of 1923 the sum of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) be and the same is hereby appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Fire Commissioner at the establishment of Fire Alarm Signal Station within the limits of the Back Bay Fens, and that to meet the appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount.

On April 30, 1923, the foregoing order was read once and passed, years 7, nays 2.

The order was given its final reading and passed, years 8, nays 1, Coun. HAGAN voting nay.

LOAN FOR POLICE HEADQUARTERS.

Coun. HAGAN called up No. 3, unfinished business, viz.:

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 285 of the Acts of 1923 the sum of one million dollars ($1,000,000) be and the same is hereby appropriated to be expended by the Superintendent of Public Buildings for the establishment of a police headquarters, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount, the same to be issued outside the limit of indebtedness.

On April 30, 1923, the foregoing order was read once and passed, years 7, nays 2.

The order was given its final reading and passed, years 9, nays 0.

Coun. LANE—Mr. President, in connection with this order number 3 on the calendar, last week I sent for the Corporation Counsel to come down here, as it had been brought to my attention that a piece of property which the city intends to take by eminent domain for the new police headquarters is owned by the same party who owns the Woolworth store on Tremont row. I believe the property on Tremont row assessed for something like $80 a foot,—that is hearsay on my part—and the property on Pemberton square is assessed for only $18 or $20 a foot. That property as a whole is worth a great deal more than if it did not extend it through, where it all belongs to the same party, and the question in my mind is if the city takes by eminent domain that part of it which will be required for the police station, whether it may not be subjected to a big damage suit by the owner of the property on the ground that it is ruining or taking away from the value of the property as a whole. If the property was owned by different individuals, the Pemberton square property by one person and the Tremont row property by another, the owner of the Pemberton square property could not get as big a damage suit. I expressed to the Corporation Counsel my doubt in regard to the matter, and he saw the position, that we did not desire to get the city into a lawsuit, and he promised to get the value of the property, perhaps having a large award made by the court. I also called up a gentleman who represents real estate interests in connection with that property and made an appointment for him to see the Corporation Counsel the following day. I have never heard about the result. The idea was that the property should be sold and we would out what the position of the property owners was. I think we ought to let the matter rest until our next meeting, and we will then hear from the Corporation Counsel and decide whether or not to pass it, because I didn't think we had time. I voted for the order in the first place. I believe we should have a new police headquarters, and I don't want to let us not get into a damage suit that may involve an award of $400,000 or $500,000 to property owners. That is my objection, and I don't want to let the matter rest until the next meeting.

It was voted that the matter lie over till the next meeting of the Council.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

1. Coun. WATSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following, viz.:

1. Reports on petitions (referred today) for permits for children under fifteen years of age to appear at various places of amusement—that permits be granted, viz.:

Amelia Burnham, Jordan Hall, May 21.

J. Jefferson Richards, Copley-Plaza, June 8.

Ruth B. Mitchell, South Boston Municipal Hall, May 17.

Josephine L. Pratt, Boston Arena, May 24.

Reports severally accepted; permits granted on the usual conditions.

2. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) relative to transfer of $1,000,000 appropriation for Public Welfare Department, Wayfare's Lodge—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, years 9, nays 0.

3. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred today) for appropriation of $5,000 for planting of street trees—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, years 9, nays 0.

4. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred today) for transfer of $80,000 for appropriation for Special Hens—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, years 9, nays 0.

5. Report on message of Mayor, communication, preambles and order (referred April 30) for transfer of land on Baldwin place to trustees of West Roxbury—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; preambles and order passed, years 9, nays 0.

6. Report on order (referred April 30) accepting in interest relative to transfer of certain lands in East Boston from the Park Department to the School Committee—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed.

7. Report on resolution (referred today) for free use of Franklin Park golf links by Boston children and order (referred today) to pass.

Report accepted; resolution passed.

8. Report on order (referred today) for closing of Faneuil Hall market on June 18—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed.

9. Report on communications from the Street Commissioners (referred April 23) concerning notices of hearings for permits to store and keep for sale gasoline at various locations—that the same be placed on file.

Report accepted; communications placed on file.

10. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred today) for sale of approximately $200 worth of Institutions Department junk—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed.

11. Report on message of Mayor, communication and order (referred today) for appropriation of $5,000 for ice for public drinking fountains—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, years 9, nays 0.

12. Report on order (referred April 16) for tax exemption on certain kinds of new dwelling houses—that no further action is necessary.

Report accepted.

13. Report on petition of Mr. Lebanon Cemetery Association (referred 1922) for land for burial purposes—recommending the passage of the following, viz.:

Ordered, That permission be granted to the Mr. Lebanon Cemetery Association to use land on Baker street for burial purposes, said land being bounded, viz.:

Northeasterly by Baker street eight hundred and sixty-nine and 6-10ths feet; southeasterly by the Brook Farm, now of the Association of the Evangelical Lutheran Church for Works of Mercy, five hundred and ninety-two and 7-10ths feet; westerly, by said Brook Farm, now of said Church, four hundred and thirty-two and 3-10ths feet; northeasterly, again, by said Brook Farm, now of said Church, twenty-three hundred and ninety-one and 7-10ths feet (2,396.7); southeasterly, again, by said Brook Farm now of said Church, six hundred and thirty-two and 3-10ths feet; and easterly, by said Brook Farm, now of said Church, under partition proceedings; northeasterly, by said land, set off to Smith and Orange, twenty-four hundred and fifty-five feet; southeasterly, again, by said land, set off to Smith and Orange eight hundred and eighteen (818) feet and said Baker street at point where said Brook Farm, now of said Church, owns land, containing fifty (50) acres more or less, being the same premises set off to Gottlieb F. Burkhardt by the City of Norfolk County, Probate Court, April 22, 1874, all of which is more particularly shown on plan by Whitman and Howard, Civil Engineers, dated March, 1910, hereto annexed.

Coun. HEALEY—Mr. President, I desire to offer an order—not as a substitute for the report, for I hardly think it would be in order to take that report; but yet in connection with the report, the President rules it out. I am going to make a motion that his Honor the Mayor petition the Legislature for an act to amend the laws of this Commonwealth subject of burying grounds, with the end in view of establishing in some part of greater Boston a reserve area for cemetery sites in which the members of the Council are in favor of that, and yet I don't want to go so far as to move that as a substitute for the action taken in accordance with the report of the Corporation Counsel. I am compelled to offer it as a substitute for the report of the Executive Committee.

President HAGAN—The vote must be taken on the report of the committee, and then the order can be considered on its merits following that. It is necessary, however, to take a report on the vote of the Executive Committee.

Coun. HEALEY—Well, Mr. President, I would move that this be offered as a substitute, and that the report of the Executive Committee be laid on the table. I would move it as a substitute order.

Coun. Healey's motion to substitute was lost by a show of hands, years 4, nays 1.

The question came on the acceptance of the report and the passage of the order.

Coun. LANE—Mr. President, I don't wish to take up the time of the Council on this matter, as it has been pretty thoroughly argued before the Executive Committee. But I do wish to state my position in voting for or against it. I don't think something that I think was not said before the Executive Committee. I personally have been out by a show of hands, years 4, nays 1. I don't think he was not familiar with it, had not seen it, and he doubted if other members of the Council had seen it. I personally took a trip over there and looked at it.

I don't blame the citizens of West Roxbury for coming here in a body and opposing the granting of another cemetery license in that district. They object to it on principle. If I were a resident of West Roxbury I should have been here myself to oppose the granting of the site, simply on the principle there are already twenty-four or twenty-five cemeteries there. But this particular site is not adapted for any other use. It is a very good site for a cemetery and it will never be used for building purposes, in my estimation. I don't think it will ever be used for manufacturing purposes. For that reason, I intend to vote against it. I am not sure of this particular site. I don't know of another site in West Roxbury where I would vote to allow this thing to be made. I don't know of any other site where there is other object on principle to having a permit for another cemetery granted there. But under the circumstances I feel that the Jewish people should have this permit, and I don't think it is hurting the district of West Roxbury. For that reason I am voting in favor.

President HAGAN—The question is on the acceptance of the report and the passage of the order. The Chair wishes to be recorded in opposition.

The report was accepted and the order was passed.

SALARIES OF PROBATION OFFICERS.

It was voted, on motion of Coun. MORTIARTY, that the communication from the Justice of the Roxbury Municipal Court (referred March 5) fixing salaries of second assistant probation officer and female probation officer be accepted, $2,370, respectively, be taken from said committee. The order was passed.

ORDINANCE CONCERNING AIRSHIPS.

Coun. MORTIARTY offered an order—That the Corporation Counsel be requested through his Honor the Mayor, to give his opinion as to the rights of the City Council passing an ordinance in regard to flying in airships or other craft over the city limits during the past few days airplanes, supposedly five in number, have engaged in advertising certain products for gain to the detriment to the lives and property of the citizens of Boston.

Coun. MORTIARTY—Mr. President, I have seen during the last four or five days these airplanes up in the air above our business district. They are there for advertising purposes. I understand that they are making a trip all over the country, that they have been in New York and in other cities, and are now coming to our city. I believe, if possible, that an ordinance should be passed to prohibit them from flying over our city. I believe such an ordinance will be in the interest of the safety of our people. I realize that the hour is getting late, but I would like to see the ordinance passed. I believe that it is certainly felt there is any possibility of putting a stop to this sort of thing, it should be done.

President HAGAN—The Chair would ask whether the councilor feels that we have any control over the air?

Coun. MORTIARTY—That is what I am after. I would like to get some information along that line, Mr. President.

The order was passed.

EDWARD COHEN SQUARE.

Coun. HEALEY offered an order—That the space at the junction of Gove and Paris streets, East Boston, be named Edward Cohen Square, in memory of said Cohen who died in the United States Service and who was a resident of that said space be suitably marked with signs.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

SURVEY OF BURIAL GROUND SUBJECT.

Coun. HEALEY offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested through his Honor the Corporation Counsel to cause to be made a survey of the whole subject of burial grounds, with the end in view of establishing in some part of Greater Boston a reserved area for cemetery sites.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. WALSH moved a general reconsideration on all business transacted at the meeting, hoping that the same would not prevail. Lost.

Adjourned at 5:32 o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. WALSH, to meet on Monday, May 28, at two o'clock p. m.

LOCAL LABOR UNIONS.

On January 1, 1922, number of local unions reporting, 348, with 114,883 members (14,480 less than in 1921) or 101,745 men and 13,138 women. Percentage of local union members unemployed on March 31, 1921, 30.3; on June 30, 23.1; on September 30, 20.0; December 31, 24.8.

CITIZENSHIP, BOTH SEXES, ALSO FAMILIES.

Native white citizens, 246,816; foreign born whites naturalized, 102,822; Negro citizens, 12,086; total citizens, 361,724. Foreign born whites remaining aliens, 118,214. Only 56.30 per cent of the citizens registered for voting purposes in 1920 (for City Election) and of the 203,666 who did register only 30.53 per cent voted. Coming to the final facts to be remembered, only 17.2 per cent of the citizens of Boston took part in electing the three members of the City Council and two members of the School Committee in 1920, these five did not take office at the will of only 8.3 per cent of the citizens, which was more than sufficient to elect. On the question of permitting Sunday Sports and Games, 10.9 per cent of the citizens voted in favor and 4.3 per cent against, 7.7 per cent being more than sufficient for a majority in favor. The City Election of 1920 reveals the most flagrant case of minority rule ever noted in Boston, not more than one-ninth of the women citizens being interested enough to vote.

Total families in 1920, 164,785 or 3,679 more than in 1915. As this shows a larger increase of families than of persons (i. e., 2,621) since 1915, here is another discrepancy that discredits the 1920 Census. As 4.63 represents the average number of persons to a family, 3,679 families would contain 17,034 persons. The U. S. Census of 1920 shows a net increase of only 2,621 persons since 1915.

CITY OF BOSTON.

BOSTON'S MOST AMBITIOUS STREET WIDENING PROJECT GETS UNDER WAY.

WIDENING OF CAMBRIDGE AND COURT STREETS TO MEET TRAFFIC CONDITIONS TO BENEFIT ALL CITY AND METROPOLITAN DISTRICT—COST $3,500,000.

Next week will see the beginning of the biggest and most important street improvement undertaken in recent years when work on Boston's new radial highway from east to west, along Cambridge and Court streets, will start. This work, which when completed will see Boston in possession of one of the largest downtown thoroughfares of any city in New England, will stand as a monument to the administration of Mayor Curley for all future generations. It is but one of the many achievements of his present administration, the street being 100 feet wide from beginning to end. The maximum width will be 155 feet.

The statistics of the project read something like this: The entire cost of the widening will be $3,500,000. There will be 130 pieces of land affected. Slices will be taken from buildings and land on Court street, Cambridge street, and from Court street and Cornhill to the Charles River. It is expected that about $1,000,000 will come back to the city in betterments. The work will be started and completed in the present administration. It will ease traffic jams on Harvard Bridge and in the Massachusetts avenue section. It will allow the Cambridge Bridge to be used to its fullest capacity and will provide a thoroughfare from the heart of Boston that will benefit all the metropolitan district. Benefits will accrue to every automobile user, every truck employer doing business from the north or south of the city, and to business generally.

Starting from the corner of Court street and Cornhill, the slicing will be along the right-hand side of Court street to Howard street, then the left-hand side to Bowdoin and Cambridge streets, then both sides of Cambridge street to Hancock street, and then on the right-hand side to the new square where the subway emerges. Beyond this the widening continues on the right-hand side to North Grove street, at which point widening on both sides begins again, continuing to West Cedar street, then the left-hand side to Charles street.

Among the estates affected are: North side of Court street, National Security Bank, 10 to 18 feet; Laurence Minot estate and the Crawford House, 18 to 32 feet; George A. Goddard property at the head of Court and Hanover streets, 32 to 40 feet; Alice B. Coleman estate, 97-99 Court street, a 40-foot strip; 92-96 Court street, a strip varying from 26 to 50 feet, affecting the estates of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Alfred Hemenway, Warren B. P. Weeks, Kitty O. Higgins, being the site of the old Higgins oyster house; the Union Institution for Savings, and Harry E. Converse; 2 Bulfinch street, an old swell-front brownstone dwelling, well known to the sporting fraternity, will be demolished, and a slice of the Revere House site will go into the new street; a strip 50 feet wide along the south side of Cambridge street, involving a number of small estates from Bowdoin square for the installing of wires and electrical apparatus within buildings in the City of Boston, and for the payment of fees incident to the granting of the privileges above named, and which must be paid in advance.

CITY'S CARS FOR CHILDREN.

Mayor Curley has addressed the following open letter to the various heads of departments, calling upon them to cooperate with the Boston Automobile Dealers Association, Inc., in entertaining the crippled and orphaned children of the city.

To the Heads of City Departments:

The Boston Automobile Dealers Association, Inc., have arranged to hold the annual outing for crippled and orphaned children of Greater Boston at Nantasket
Beach, upon Wednesday, June 13, 1923.
Hon. Chester I. Campbell, 5 Park square, executive secretary, advises that 600 automobiles will be required to provide transportation to Nantasket Beach for approximately 3,000 children.

To give the children of the congested districts of Greater Boston an opportunity to enjoy a delightful day at Nantasket
Beach is worthy of wholehearted support.
Kindly place the automobiles of the city which are within control of your department at the disposal of Mr. Campbell, advise him of this fact, and assist in the program in behalf of these unfortunate children. Either use the Boston street cars for the transportation of your department on June 13, or become a pedestrian, for it is vitally important that every city car be placed at the disposal of the children.

It would be advisable that you inform
Mr. Campbell not later than June 6, 1923, as to the number of cars you will furnish.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

CAMBRIDGE STREET WIDENING.

to Bowdoin street, and thence on triangular takings on both sides of Cambridge street, involving a 30-foot slice on the north side to Chambers street, and a 50-foot slice on the south side.

A group of small shops standing in what was the courtyard of the old Otis homestead, now the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities, will be demolished. There is a 45-foot taking here, and across Lynde street, through the yard of the West End Branch Library. Further along Cambridge street, toward the bridge, the takings vary from 1 foot to 25 feet in depth. The Massachusetts General Hospital will give up a strip from the northwest corner of North Grove street.
Near the bridge much of the property of the Elevated will be taken, where the Elevated emerges from the tunnel. At this point the extreme width of 155 feet will be reached.

Upon May 24 the Mayor approved a contract with Warren Brothers Company for bitulithic pavement in Gloucester street, from Beacon street to Boylston street, and in Hereford street, from Beacon street to Boylston street. Bids for the work, opened May 22, were as follows:

Warren Brothers Company, bitulithic, $29,921.85; Rowe Contracting Company, sheet asphalt, $30,958.60; Martino DeMatteo, sheet asphalt, $31,454.65.

Upon May 26 the Mayor approved a contract with M. F. Gaddis, the second lowest bidder for completing recut granite block pavement in Dudley street, from Blue Hill avenue to Magnolia street. The proposal of the lowest bidder, John McCourt Company, was rejected for the reason that this bidder is now engaged in executing large contracts in Revere which would be liable to delay his operations on this job, in the event of its being awarded to him. Bids for the work, opened May 16, were as follows:

John McCourt Company, $18,349; M. F. Gaddis, $18,473; B. E. Grant Company, $19,340.50; A. W. Loud & Co., $19,350.80; S. J. Tomasello, $19,375.50; J. T. Shea, Jr., $20,014.50; DeStefano Brothers, $20,620.50; M. DeMatteo, $21,691.25.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 23 the Mayor approved a contract with H. E. Fletcher Company for furnishing edgestone to the various city departments. Bids for the supply, opened May 11, were as follows:

Fifty Thousand Linear Feet Straight Edgestone—Cape Ann Granite Corporation, $169 per foot on street, $151 per foot on wharf; the Lombard Granite Corporation, $134 per foot on wharf; S. & R. J. Lombard, $159 per foot on street, $129 per foot on wharf; H. E. Fletcher Company, $170 per foot on street.

Four Thousand Linear Feet Circular Edgestone—Cape Ann Granite Corporation, $225 per foot on street, $205 per foot on wharf; S. & R. J. Lombard, $180 per foot on street; $180 per foot on wharf; H. E. Fletcher Company, $266 per foot on street.

Three Hundred Small Corners—Cape Ann Granite Corporation, $4 each on street; $4 each on wharf; S. & R. J. Lombard, $5.25 each on street, $5.25 each on wharf; H. E. Fletcher Company, $7.98 each on street.

Fifty Large Corners—Cape Ann Granite Corporation, $10 each on street, $9.75 each on wharf; S. & R. J. Lombard, $13 each on street; $13 each on wharf; H. E. Fletcher Company, $16 each on street.

Total—Cape Ann Granite Corporation, $95,200 on street, $81,287.50 on wharf; the Lombard Granite Corporation, $67,000 on wharf (on one item only); S. & R. J. Lombard, $88,925 on street, $73,925 on wharf; H. E. Fletcher Company, $98,834 on street.

Lowest prices March 6, 1923: Straight edgestone, $140 per linear foot on street, $125 per linear foot on wharf; circular edgestone, $175 per linear foot on street, $175 per linear foot on wharf; small corners, $5 each on street, $5 each on wharf; large corners, $10.50 each on street, $10 each on wharf.

Incident to the award of the contract Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department made the following statement:

"Permission is respectfully requested to award the contract to H. E. Fletcher Company at the prices indicated on the attached sheet. In the past considerable difficulty has been experienced in securing this edgestone from the S. & R. J. Lombard Company, and I believe the City of Boston has been the defendant in law suits arising from the delay in deliveries of edgestone to contractors in the City of Boston. I have personally inspected the different quarries, and in my opinion H. E. Fletcher Company are the best equipped to furnish this edgestone to the City of Boston.

"Bids were originally opened on edgestone on March 6, 1923, and the Pease Company of Nashua, N. H., was awarded the contract, but after they were sent to them for signature the Pease Company returned them to this department unsigned, and informed me that they would be unable to deliver the quality of edgestone called for in our specifications. Therefore this department was obliged to readvertise for same, and we are now holding their check, which was deposited at the time of the opening of the bids, on account of their failure to accept the contract awarded to them."

Upon May 23 the Mayor approved a contract with lowest bidders, as indicated, for furnishing gauze, absorbent cotton, Bellevue rolls and bandages to the various city departments. Bids for the supply, opened May 14, were as follows:

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 23 the Mayor approved a contract with John A. Gerrity for draining a court for building the foundation of the Curtis Hall Building. A communication from Fred J. Kneeland, Superintendent of Public Buildings, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 21, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I wish to advise you that we discovered water washing away the foundation of the Curtis Hall Building, which, of course, called for immediate attention. We find, as the contractor progresses with the work, that he has to go to a great depth in order to drain this spring in the proper manner.

This work will, in my opinion, exceed $1,000, and as time is the essence of this work, I respectfully request permission to award a contract to John A. Gerrity, in excess of $1,000, without the usual form of advertising.

Respectfully yours,

FRED J. KNEELAND,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon May 22 the Mayor approved a contract with C. W. Dolloff & Co. for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 22, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to C. W. Dolloff & Co., 12 Pearl street, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 29 the Mayor approved a contract with Domenick Gentile for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 28, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Domenick Gentile, 95 Leverett street, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 29 the Mayor approved a contract with Peter Fallabella for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 25, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Peter Fallabella, 308 Harrison avenue, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 31 the Mayor approved a contract with James I. Brooks for furnishing five horses to the Public Works Department at $350 each. A communication from Frank P. Rock, Purchasing Agent, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 29, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising the same, to James I. Brooks, for furnishing five horses to the Public Works Department at a price of $350 each.

The selection of these horses has been made by Doctor Cronin, veterinarian of the Public Works Department.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon May 31 the Mayor approved a contract with Henry Harris Sons Company for furnishing six horses to the Public Works Department. A communication from Frank P. Rock, Purchasing Agent, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 29, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Henry Harris Sons Company, for furnishing six horses to the Public Works Department at a price of $350 each.

The selection of these horses has been made by Doctor Cronin, veterinarian of the Public Works Department.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon May 31 the Mayor approved a contract with the Troy Laundry Machinery Company, Ltd., for furnishing one Henrici bronze washer and drier. A communication from Frank P. Rock, Purchasing Agent, was as follows:

BOSTON, May 29, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Troy Laundry Machinery Company, Ltd., for furnishing to the City Hospital one 42-inch by 72-inch B. J-2 Henrici bronze washer and drier, at a price of $2,600.

The Troy Laundry Machinery Company, Ltd., are the authorized agents for the Henrici type of machinery, and as the City Hospital has standardized on this type of equipment, I respectfully request that the permission asked for be granted.

Respectfully yours,
FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

ADDITIONS TO AND DEDUCTIONS FROM CONTRACTS.

The following additions to and deductions from contracts have been approved:

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

An addition, amounting to $430, on contract with the Frank E. Ross Company for masonry settings for new boilers at Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester, on account of putting up drip pans; grouting under column footings, changing and increasing brickwork on account of placing hand stokers; furnishing 700 octagon brick, etc. Original contract, $7,300; total additions, $1,082; contract as standing, $8,382.

An addition, amounting to $450, on contract with J. P. Dwyer Company for piping and other equipment for new boilers at Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester, on account of changing blow-off connections; raising safety valves on super-heater outlets and tying them back to columns with rods; changing method of supporting structural work on engine room wall; replacing two straight risers with bent pipe to give offset; and fastening side back stays on boilers with iron clips and cinch bolts. Original contract, $31,500; total addition, $450; contract as standing, $31,950.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with the B. E. Grant Company for recut granite block pavement in Dorchester avenue, from Summer street to bridge over Fort Point channel, from June 1, 1923, to August 1, 1923. This extension is requested for the reason that the contractor was unable to secure stone-cutters.

An extension of time has been granted for the completion of the contract made with John J. Lane for the laying of bitulithic pavement in Longwood avenue, from about 290 feet east of Vile street about 393 feet westerly, Roxbury, from June 1, 1923, to August 1, 1923. This extension is requested for the reason that the contractor has been delayed by the Boston Elevated Railway Company.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with Warren Brothers Company for laying bitulithic pavement in Centre street, between Washington street and Centre avenue; Centre avenue, from Centre street to Dorchester avenue; Gibson street, from Dorchester avenue to Adams street, and Victoria street, from Pleasant street to Dorchester avenue, Dorchester, from June 1, 1923, to September 1, 1923. Centre street, Centre avenue and Victoria street have been completed. This extension is requested for the reason that the contractor has been delayed by Boston Elevated Railway Company work in Gibson street.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with the Alco Contracting Company, Inc., for laying sheet asphalt pavement in Huntington avenue, southeast side, from Gainsborough street to Brookline line, from June 1, 1923, to August 1, 1923. This extension is requested for the reason that the contractor was delayed on account of weather conditions.

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with Samuel J. Tomasello for sheet asphalt pavement in Homes avenue, from Draper street to Mt. Ida road; Kingman road, from Westville street to Dakota street, and Pasadena road, from Normandy street to Columbia road, from June 1, 1923, to August 1, 1923. Homes avenue and Kingman road have been completed. The extension is requested for the reason that the contractor was delayed by weather conditions.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

An extension of time has been granted for completion of the contract made with the Frank E. Ross Company for masonry settings for new boilers at Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester, Mass., from April 30, 1923, to August 8, 1923, 100 days. This delay is required because of the necessity of waiting for the completion of other work by the city.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

An extension of time has been granted for deliveries on the contract of the Petroleum Heat and Power Company for furnishing fuel oil to the various city departments, from May 1, 1923, to October 1, 1923. This contract was awarded this concern on December 22, 1922, calling for delivery of approximately 1,900,000 gallons of fuel oil to the various city departments, but owing to the delay in the installation of fuel oil equipment at the Calf Pasture pumping station the number of gallons of oil actually delivered by May 1, 1923, was approximately one million gallons.

R. D. Wood & Company have been granted an extension of time for the completion of a contract for furnishing and delivering 1,125 tons of 12-inch and 16-inch high pressure fire pipe from March 15, 1923, to September 21, 1923. This extension is asked because, due to severe weather conditions and foundry troubles, it was impossible to conclude this contract on March 15, 1923.

EXTRA WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

L. Balboni has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for laying and relaying water pipes in Bellevue avenue, Brahms street, Haydn street, Schubert street and Washington street, West Roxbury. Items ordered: Removal of broken gate boxes, repairing gates, building brick gate chamber, plugging old service pipe connections, at an estimated cost of $350.

J. Edward Ogden Company has been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for two sets of ferry bridge gallowes frame and accompanying machinery for the South Ferry. Items ordered: Furnish and install castings and plates for the rolling log under the trusses for the ferry bridges—the estimated cost of extra work being $1,857.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a taking of land for an extension of Wren street, West Roxbury, from Oriole street southeasterly, bounded and described as follows:

The land, owners unknown, running southeasterly from Oriole street for a distance of approximately two hundred and ninety-four feet, and being an extension of Wren street as laid out to Oriole street November 5, 1894.

The highway named Wren street as hereby extended and ordered constructed, is bounded:

Northwesterly by Oriole street, forty feet; northeasterly by Wren street as hereby extended, two hundred and eighty-six feet; southeasterly by another part of Wren street, forty and 63-100 feet; southwesterly by Wren street as hereby extended, two hundred ninety-three and 18-100 feet.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid described land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvements.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of abutting land on both sides of Wren street, as hereby extended, to a depth not exceeding 100 feet, will receive benefit or advantage other than the general advantage to the community, from the improvement herein ordered, each of the particular lots within said limits to the amount respectively set against it herein; said lots and the supposed owners thereof are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Wren Street, West Roxbury, Assessment Plan, April 6, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," on file in the office of said department:

Ordered, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the making of the public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of an extension of Wren street, West Roxbury district, as a highway, from Oriole street southeasterly, under an order of the Board of even date herewith, and awards no damages therefor.

TO DECORATE FOR MASONS.

Mayor Curley has been requested by the Executive Committee in behalf of the National League of Masonic Clubs, who will assemble in Boston, June 11 to 16, 1923, inclusive, to request citizens of Boston to decorate their business establishments in honor of this national event, while it will be very gratifying if the private residences can also be decorated. It is especially desired that there shall be decorations along the line of march, which will include Arlington street, Commonwealth avenue, Boylston street, Tremont street, Temple place, Washington street, School street, Beacon street and Charles street. Visitors from every city in the United States will be present at the convention. The Mayor sincerely hopes that appropriate decorations may be made.

LAND-TAKING IN BRIGHTON.

The Mayor has approved an order of the Board of Street Commissioners for a taking of land for the laying out and construction of Colonial road, Brighton district, as a highway, from Melton road, northwesterly, with the name of Blenford road or some other distinctive name, bounded and described as follows:

The land, owners unknown, being part of the private way now known as Colonial road, running easterly for a distance of approximately one hundred and forty feet and westerly for a distance of approximately three hundred and fifty feet from the junction of Melton and Nottingham roads.

The highway hereby laid out and ordered constructed is bounded:

Easterly by the private way known as Colonial road, fifty and 42-100 feet; southerly by line of Nottingham road, one hundred thirty-seven and 1-100 feet on a curve of two hundred forty-three and 69-100 feet radius; southwest by Melton road, fifty feet; south-easterly by Melton road, forty-eight and 39-100 feet on a curve of two hundred ninety-three and 69-100 feet radius; westerly by the line of Blenford road, as hereby laid out, one hundred thirty-four and 75-100 feet on a curve of seventy feet radius; southwest by the line of Blenford road, as hereby laid out, one hundred sixty-one and 3-100 feet on a curve of nine hundred and ninety and 70-100 feet radius; southerly by the line of Blenford road, as hereby laid out, nineteen and 44-100 feet on a curve of fifteen feet radius; southwest by the private way known as Priscilla road, twenty-four and 84-100 feet; northwesterly by land supposed to belong to the City of Boston, fifty and 68-100 feet; northwesterly by the line of Blenford road, as hereby laid out, by three measurements, one hundred ninety-three and 72-100 feet on a curve of ten hundred forty and 70-100 feet radius, one hundred three and 63-100 feet on a curve of two hundred fifty feet radius, and sixty-four and 34-100 feet on a curve of sixty feet radius; northerly by the line of Blenford road, as hereby laid out, fifty-six and 57-100 feet on a curve of two hundred ninety-three and 69-100 feet radius.
